QUESTION:
"Why do so many funeral directors oppose immediate cremation and a memorial service at a later date?"
ANSWER:
This method of disposal is not a recent idea, as it has occasionally been requested for many years. Many funeral directors have witnessed the psychological suffering of too many families who requested this procedure.

The revolt had unmasked communism for what it really is — a sinister plot against worker, farmer, scholar. "Let us never forget it," Riordan concluded.

How soon will she marry?

Chances are, she'll marry younger than her mother married. And start raising a family sooner. Will she be ready for the responsibilities of marriage and motherhood? Unfortunately, many girls are not. And one sad reason, according to official reports, is that they have poor nutritional habits. And the result, too often, is lasting damage to young mother and child. Most lacking: Vitamin C and calcium.

Fresh milk, of course, is the richest source of calcium. So necessary for sound bones and teeth. It is essential to everyone's diet—male or female, young or old. But especially girls who may soon be mothers.

Indians In Grid Opener

Tecumseh opens its 1968 campaign here Friday night, hosting the Hillsdale Hornets in what the Indians hope will be a repeat of just one year ago.

Although Coach Tom Fagan lost some top players from the '67 squad, he will field experienced players at practically every position. Question marks figure to be quarterback and fullback — and they may have been erased when Tecumseh scrimmaged both Jackson and Saline here last Friday night.

Fagan was pleased with the work of John Kennedy at the quarterback slot, and the senior is slated to open here against the Hornets. In Friday's workout Kennedy not only handled the ball better than a week ago but hit on enough passes to make the Tecumseh aerial game respectable.

Two Indians are on the injured list and may miss the opener — 220-pound Jim Parros and Jim Hunt, who is expected to be one of the Indians' best running backs.

Hunt came out of the scrimmage with a sprained ankle, and Parros with a pulled hamstring muscle. If Hunt is unable to go, Frank Geisenhaver is a likely starter at the fullback post.

Tecumseh, scoring twice in each half last year on its way to a 26-13 victory, may find the going a bit rougher here Friday evening. The Hornets reportedly have looked impressive in recent scrimmages and rate as a far better club than the one which took it on the chin in 1967.

And, local fans will recall that Tecumseh was quite impressive in its opener only to slip — due to injuries — during the regular season.

Coach Fagan should have an eleven that will give away yardage rather grudgingly this fall. Jackson found some success via the pass route Friday, but overall, the Tecumseh defense should be tough.

The coaches were somewhat pleased with the way the Indians moved the ball and if the offense rolls — so will the Indians.

Size and speed wise, Tecumseh will be about the same this fall as in recent years. Offensively, the Indians will run about 178 pounds on the line and 160 in the backfield.

Defensively, Tecumseh will top 190 pounds with the front four, and the linebackers about 165. The defensive backfield will average 160.

Fagan's starting offensive lineup will include seven seniors and four juniors.

The varsity squad will have 16 seniors, 18 juniors and two sophomores.

Off The Top

By Christine Fairbanks'

Sometimes I think we should live next door to a 24-hour grocery and/or department store. I seem to have a lot of trouble keeping necessary supplies on hand, and find that I'm always out of certain items only when the stores are closed.

"How come we're out of coffee, when you just bought $40 worth of groceries Friday?" questions Hubby, and not too politely, either.

I've tried to explain how difficult it is to remember all the 200 or more grocery items most housewives have on hand, plus all the miscellaneous items as well. Lists are a great help, if you remember to put everything on the list, or if you don't leave the list home on the desk. I hate to admit to advancing senility already, at only 41, but I do seem to be having more trouble with remembering everything lately. Maybe it's because I have more things to remember now!

It can be pretty disturbing at times, such as when you are just sitting down to dinner with a table full of company, and Hubby says, "Where's the butter?" I look at him blankly, check the refrigerator, and sure enough, there's no butter. "I guess I forgot to get some," I weakly reply.

And last week I was hurrying to get a date cake made before church time. I had the sugar and shortening carefully measured out, the eggs cracked and beaten in, the dates soaking in boiling water. When it came time to measure the flour, lo and behold! there was less than a cupful in the bottom of the canister. Checking the cupboard for an extra sack, I found only two sacks of sugar. Now what—bother the neighbors again? I already owe one three eggs, and another six tablespoons of coffee. I checked the cupboard again, not wanting to throw away the cake I'd started, and finally made a choice between biscuit mix or pancake mix. I used the pancake mix, and it was pretty good, except the boys wanted to know why the cake tasted like breakfast.

I wonder if it's the same in other families, or if this is a problem I face alone? I keep extra bread in the freezer, but last Friday the last loaf was gone when I went to make our oldest son's lunch. I bet he was the only one at work that day with sandwiches made out of stale hot dog buns!

I find I'm out of floor wax after I've scrubbed the kitchen floor; the kids are out of notebook paper the very morning they're going to have an important test; and the last roll of bathroom paper is used up after store closing on Saturday night.

Even though we have 10-hour a day access to gas pumps at the garage, we may still notice we're driving on empty when about 20 miles from home. We're almost out of milk when the kids want cocoa for breakfast; and though we have brown, red, white and cordovan shoe polish on hand, we'll be out of black on Sunday morning when Hubby is getting suited up for church.

I still think it would be a good idea, if the time ever comes for us to move from our present home, to look for a house handy to a shopping center — preferably one that's open all day and night.

Women Plan Fall Events

BRITTON — Members of the Women's Fellowship met at the Congregational Christian Church Wednesday evening for their fall meeting. Plans were completed for several coming events.

A public turkey dinner will be served Sept. 10, beginning at 5 p.m. Members of the Priscilla and Sunshine Circles will prepare the dinner, and the dining room will be in charge of the Mary - Martha and Golden Rule members. Prices will remain at $1.75 for adults and 75c under 12.

The date for the Church Fair was set for Oct. 24.

Mrs. Gustav Hannevik announced that a regional meeting for women of the Congregational Churches will be held Sept. 26 in Lansing.

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. Joseph Hall, Mrs. Roger Gillespie and Mrs. Robert Bush was named to present a slate of officers for election at the next Fellowship meeting.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Gustav Hannevik.

Program chairman Mrs. Martin Ivan introduced Mrs. Ragnar Arnesen from the "Youth For Understanding" office in Ann Arbor, who gave an interesting talk on the background and workings of the student exchange program.

"It is not the purpose of the Youth For Understanding program to exchange students so that we might change them, but rather, to develop a closer relationship between the young people of different countries in order to promote a greater understanding of one another," related Mrs. Arnesen. The YFU program has grown from 30 exchange students in 1956 to 5,000 in 1968.

Also present with Mrs. Arnesen was Miss Alice Richard, a retired teacher from the Adrian schools now living in Ann Arbor, and working with the Youth For Understanding organization. She related many delightful personal experiences in working with the exchange students, both in America and in Europe.

Board Sets School Tax at 8 Mills

CLINTON — Members of the board of education of Clinton Community School officially adopted a total of 8 mills to be added to the December tax statements.

This represents an increase of 6 mills over last year and will include an additional two mills which previously had been in a building and site fund. The increase amounts to $6 per $1,000 property valuation.

The funds are to be used for the new high school building and for remodeling of the present buildings for use by lower grades.

Assessed valuation increased by $4.5 million in the school district.

Although no accurate count is yet available, it is known that this year's enrollment is up considerably from last year's total of 1,114.

New Industrial Plant South of Tecumseh

Tecumseh's first industrial plant since Tecumseh Corrugated Box, beginning operations here about six years ago, was given the go-ahead Monday night when Council approved sewer and water services.

Robert T. Hughes, president of the Robert T. Hughes Chemical Company in Detroit, and Al Finn, of Gera Manufacturing in Deerfield, announced to officials here that they plan to purchase 64 acres from Perry Satterthwaite and produce adhesives and coatings here.

The site is just south of Russell Rd., and bounded on the east and west by Raisin Center Hwy., and Mill Hwy. It is located just out of the city limits in Raisin Township.

Present plans call for a construction of 20,000 to 30,000 sq. ft. with an employment of about 30, and mostly men. Ultimately, the two owners anticipate a plant of 75,000 to 100,000 sq. ft., with 50 or more employees.

It's not certain when construction will begin, but probably will not start until next spring.

Mr. Hughes told Council that the operations would produce industrial coatings and adhesives, as used in the automotive field, and he is presently a supplier for the Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant.

He said that the operations would necessitate an ample water supply, primarily for use in the plant's sprinkler system. It would be the company's basic protection against fire; however, he said their product is highly inflammable and that city fire protection also would be sought.

Only a portion of the land would be used by Mr. Finn and Mr. Hughes, who had met previously with members of the Raisin Township Board and zoning committee.

It was suggested that a portion of the Satterthwaite property be zoned for light industry and the easternmost section, along Mill Hwy., be left agricultural.

Although annexation was discussed briefly, no firm plans were discussed nor was it assured that the property would ever be annexed.

Since the land to be developed is outside city limits, Council authorized City Manager Cal Zorn to work out a satisfactory agreement with Mr. Hughes and Mr. Finn.

J. W. "Pat" Meadows, president of United Savings Bank, introduced the two to Council and briefly summarized their plans here. They, in turn, explained their intentions and answered questions from city officials.

Mr. Finn, a member of the Tecumseh Country Club, says he will continue working in his laboratory for Gera at Deerfield, but hopes to eventually move to Tecumseh. He and Mrs. Finn have one son, who entered high school this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes live in Grosse Pointe and have a 15-year-old daughter.

In Detroit, he is president of his own company and plans to gradually phase out part of its operations. His plant covers about 50,000 square feet, but only about 25,000 square feet of it will be used in the future, and that primarily for warehousing, he said Monday evening.

Decisions Plague Board Members

Middle school or high school? This site or that site?

These problems continued to plague the School Board Monday night when members held lengthy discussions relative to future plans.

As of now, the Board plans to discuss — and perhaps reach decisions — on Oct. 7 as how the Tecumseh schools will grow in the future.

Earlier in Monday evening's session, the Board heard from all the principals — Mrs. Gordon Garlick, Mrs. Graham Fleming, Earl Green and David Dick — about the advantages and disadvantages of middle schools, a conventional junior high school (which Tecumseh now has), problems of installing a middle high school in the present high school building, and other related factors.

About the only decision reached — and it was not voted — was the general agreement among Board members that they do not want a conventional junior high. A middle school of grades six, seven and eight was favored.

Future school building sites came under discussion, and although the Board agreed to negotiate with the Tecumseh Products last spring for approximately 42 acres along River Raisin, just north of the Methodist Church, such a site is not certain, especially for a new high school.

Neville Hart, high school principal, expressed dissatisfaction with the site since it would not allow for future expansion. Supt. James McDowell displayed a sketch, prepared by architects, which showed the grounds rather crowded with a new building, parking lots, physical education areas and a new football stadium.

Supt. McDowell, who was only lukewarm to the site, said the site was now satisfactory since the schools could purchase nearly eight acres from the Kerby Heights subdivision. No price was announced, but it was learned that the particular area has about 15,000 in sewer construction on future lots.

Other possible building sites bordered Conklin Dr. and Occidental Drive, between W. Chicago and Conklin. Past sites included areas between Burt and Macon Rd., the Louis Caterina farm on N. Union St., and M-50 at Rogers Hwy.

Although no decision was reached as to a new middle school or new high school, Supt. McDowell told the board that architects had submitted some cost figures pertaining to future buildings and improvements.

He said to build a new middle school and remodel the high school for expansion there, that it would cost about $1 million more than it would to build a new high school and remodel for the middle school.

Regardless how the Board goes, any new Tecumseh school building — either middle or high school — is at least two years away. The time takes in the period for voters' approval, selling bonds, drawing up acceptable plans.

Levy Sought For Fire Barn

Raisin Township will be seeking a one-mill levy this fall for the construction and equipping of a new fire barn. Petitions for the new township levy are in the preparation stages.

No definite site for the new fire station has been announced, however, one location has been studied by the township. It is located in the vicinity of Sutton Rd. and Occidental Hwy.

The present barn is located in Holloway and a new location is expected to be centrally located in the township.

Barton Awarded

American Oil Company, represented locally by James Barton, was awarded the city's gasoline and fuel oil business for the next year.

It includes 33,000 gallons of gasoline and 12,000 gallons of fuel oil.

Bailey Moves

Keith Bailey has moved his Oldsmobile agency across W. Chicago Blvd. and into the former Ford agency building.

The building, recently redecorated inside and out, provides four to five times the space of the former Olds agency, the building and grounds which are now owned by Louis Schneider of Schneider Chevrolet-Buick.

TA School Is Robbed

Police are believed near a solution in the robbery over the weekend at the Tecumseh Acres Elementary School on Adrian St.

Three juveniles are suspected of entering the building and stealing microphones from seven tape recorders, $14 in cash from a teacher's desk, a case of soft drinks and taking coins from a vending machine.

Also stolen were felt marking pens, and officials believe the vandals used these pens to scribble on walls at the high school.

The youths were seen entering the building Saturday afternoon but when police arrived, they were gone. It is not known whether they came back later that day or entered the building on Sunday.

Limited News of TP Strike Now Probable

Neither the Company nor the Union would reveal Wednesday whether any progress had been made towards settling the Tecumseh Products' 19-day-old strike.

Since Federal and State mediators arrived Friday to help in bringing around a settlement, negotiations have been held but little information has been revealed.

Mediators from Lansing and Toledo met with the Union and Company Friday, Friday evening and Monday and Tuesday before adjourning negotiation sessions.

No bargaining was planned Wednesday and it was uncertain whether the two parties would meet Thursday. The mediators suggested that the Company and union recess, at least for Wednesday, and then reconvene, possibly Thursday or Friday, with the mediators scheduling the next session.

It's understood, and agreed to by the mediators, that the Company and Union would meet if they mutually felt such a session would be beneficial.

One outcome that has apparently resulted from meetings this week is a partial news blackout of proceedings.

Last Saturday, a news release from the Company stated that the Union's demands were fantastic, unreasonable, unacceptable and unrealistic. It also stated that the Company's offer was fair and comparable to settlements in larger industries.

The release was known to have provoked Ray Jackson, Union president, and the Union Board, which retaliated with a release Monday. The Union article refuted the Company's statements, both of which detailed several problems involved in the dispute.

If the Union and Company stick to present tentative plans to approve future news releases, further provocation and irritation by past news releases are unlikely.

Providded the partial news blackout remains in effect, further controversy of past news releases will be avoided.

Although neither party will comment about settlement, it is unlikely to be reached this week. At the present, attention is being devoted to contract language and paper work.

The mediators were called into the dispute by the Company last Thursday, and by law, are unbiased in their attempts to reach an agreement in labor disputes.

Repercussions Felt by Welfare Office

By BILL SANFORD

Economic effects of the Tecumseh Products strike is being felt in the county welfare office.

A number of Products employees have asked for surplus food which the county gives to those who qualify. The surplus food is administered by the United States Department of Agriculture and the county releases it to the recipients.

Mrs. Arlie Cooper, Lenawee director of the welfare office, said that a great number of workers from the Products had come into the office seeking aid.

Aid has also been asked in welfare payments for workers at the local plant. Appointments are being made starting this week which will give the office an opportunity to determine whether or not an applicant is eligible for direct aid assistance.

In order to qualify, other salaries in the family, ownership of property and other methods are used in making a final determination.

Mrs. Cooper also said that in order to qualify the applicants had to be registered for work at the local employment security office. In this qualifying rule it has become a problem that employees must accept work when given the opportunity. The potential employer of one of the strike idled workers asks that he sign a release from the Products, releasing any worker from his seniority at the Products. In refusing to do this, the worker thus disqualifies himself for direct aid assistance from welfare.

Veterans of World War II or the Korean conflict have sought aid through the Veterans' Trust Fund which is administered in Adrian through the Office of

Kemp, Weigle Semi-Finalists

Mark E. Kemp, son of Mrs. Jean Kemp, 714 Inner Dr., and William J. Weigle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Weigle, 608 Brook St., have been named semi-finalists in the 1968-69 National Merit Scholarship program. Principal Neville Hart of the Tecumseh High School made the announcement.

The 15,000 semi-finalists are among the nation's most intellectually-able high school seniors and will compete for some 3,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1969.

The semi-finalists were the highest scorers in their states on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, given last February in 17,500 schools nationwide. They constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States.

They show high promise for leadership in their adult careers, according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. "They have already demonstrated both high intellectual capacity and a readiness to develop their abilities," he said.

"These students deserve credit and honor. They bring honor to their families, who deserve much credit, as do their teachers and their communities. Their future success, however, will depend increasingly upon their ability to become productive at the high intellectual levels of which they are capable."

Curb Numbering Latest Project

Anyone who has ever hunted for a certain house in Tecumseh has been faced with a dilemma. House numbers are pretty hard to find and in many cases are non-existent.

This is a real nuisance for service repairmen, metermen and for guests, especially at night.

They hope to paint large, readable black numbers on white backgrounds on the curb before each house in the city. Permission has been granted by the city council for the project.

Householders will be asked to make a donation to the Jaycees for this service.

Funds raised by past Jaycee projects have been used for a wide range of community services, including Christmas activities for the children, little league football, baseball and relays, football field sound system and improvements, and approximately $4,000 for the Tecumseh Park entrance.

New Pontiacs Are Ordered for Police

Tecumseh police will enjoy the comforts of new patrol cars in November, but may have to wait a few months for the air conditioning feature.

Monday night, Council authorized a two-year contract with Underwood Chevrolet - Pontiac of Clinton for two new Pontiac Catalinas with air conditioning.

Bid was $415 per month, including only $7.50 per car for the extra feature.

John Underwood, dealer, was the low bidder for new police cars with an offer of $375 per month for Chevrolets. Council felt the bigger and heavier Pontiacs were worth the extra $25 per month.

Vote was five to one for Pontiacs with Mayor Harold Easton casting the negative ballot.

Other bidders were Les Dallas, George Underwood Ford and Buck's Fleet-Wing Service.

TRAVEL IN STYLE — Tecumseh students, including music and athletic teams, will travel in style with the School Board's recent purchase of this GM motor coach from Greyhound Bus Lines. This beauty, costing $13,500, will replace an antiquated 1948 model, one which has been operated for 14 years but has been expensive to maintain and operate in recent years. The new bus has rebuilt motor, transmissions, and was completely renovated before it was purchased.

WELFARE

Veteran's Affairs.

Mrs. Cooper could not make any determination as yet as to whether or not the applicants would or would not receive any benefits.

During the strike at Hoover Ball Bearing in Adrian, the office made a proposal that payments could be made to applicants on a pay-back basis. The disagreement between union and management resulted in a lockout by the company. It was neither a strike nor a layoff.

The reason for the pay back agreement stemmed from the position of the union to challenged Hoover's denial of unemployment compensation. If the test case which the union was preparing for the state courts had reached a decision wherein the workers would have received their benefits, the workers would refund the welfare assistance to the county. The disagreement ended before the case by the union reached the courts and no payments were made. Thus, indicating that consideration is given to workers idled by a strike. The surplus food did not enter into this.

Misunderstandings occurred last week over the distribution of the surplus commodities. Persons seeking the food were told that they needed to present their last four paycheck stubs to qualify. The office in Adrian is directed by the federal government to release the food to families or persons based on the monthly income of the family. What is actually needed is the proof of income over the past four weeks and not the last four check stubs the workers received when they were working.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stewart are living in Lansing where he is attending Michigan State University. They were married Sept. 7 by the Rev. Donald Porteous at the United Methodist Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Callihan, 205 W. Shawnee St. and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stewart of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Red Cross Efforts In Vietnam Told

Gerald F. Bennett of the Jackson Chapter of the American Red Cross and state volunteer public relations advisor, was the keynote speaker at the annual meeting of the Lenawee County Chapter Monday evening at the United Methodist Church.

He told of the work of the Red Cross from its inception through its present efforts in Vietnam to open channels of communications to prisoners.

He said that both North and South Vietnam signed the 1949 Geneva Convention relative to the treatment of prisoners of war, though the Viet Cong deny this. They will not allow inspection of prison camps by the International Committee of the Red Cross and ignore any direct appeal.

Nearly 60 attended the dinner served by ladies of the church with the Rev. Blair Bashore giving the invocation.

Dr. Robert Murray was elected chapter chairman.

$100 Reward Is Offered

School Board approved awarding $100 in the future for information which leads to the arrest and conviction of person or persons who illegally enter school buildings or do damage to school property.

During the summer, several local schools were hit by vandals, smashing windows with rocks or pellet guns, and breaking into the Board of Education office and Tecumseh Acres School.

When vandals broke into the Board's office, keys were taken and apparently used this past weekend to enter the Tecumseh Acres School on Adrian St.

Dam, Funds Still Under Study Here

City Manager Cal Zorn reported to Council Monday night that he is still investigating the possibility of obtaining Federal funds for replacing the Globe Mill Pond dam and other possible developments there.

He told officials that 50% of the cost could be obtained through the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, if the department approved the City plans.

He also said other estimates will be secured as to the cost of replacing the dam, washed out in the June flood.

An Ann Arbor engineering firm previously estimated replacement cost at $170,000. Some here believe a new dam could be constructed for considerably less.

Perry Satterthwaite, owner of the pond and some adjoining property, amounting to a total of about 60 acres, has offered to sell to the city for $15,000. Earlier this month, Mr. Zorn signed a 90-day option with him.

Other possibilities for the pond and area are being investigated, but officials have asked they not be publicized until further investigations are completed.

26" Rattlesnake Killed by Heroine With Garden Hoe

Mrs. Carl Bausman is the heroine of Green Hwy. She killed a 26" rattlesnake all by herself — with a hoe.

Mrs. Bausman spied the reptile, sunning itself, between the houses as she was returning home from her neighbor's residence where she had checked for burglary since they were vacationing.

The snake hissed at her and she decided then and there that she and her 16-year-old daughter, Debra, were not going to have "that" around and be afraid.

Firemen Decline MIS Invitation

Michigan International Speedway's request for volunteer help from the Tecumseh Fire Department was declined last Wednesday night at a special meeting of the firemen.

Wallace MacGeorge, fire chief, reports no volunteers and states the department does not have sufficient equipment to loan out.

Other departments in the county also were asked to supply men and equipment, and it's not known whether any volunteered. Most of the firemen would be able to see the race, but there would be no compensation to the men or to the departments.

Freshmen Victorious

Tecumseh Freshman football team opened its 1968 season Saturday afternoon with a 21-6 victory over Jackson Lumen Christe, formerly Jackson St. John's.

The passing combination of Rick Bunch to Sam Whitney accounted for all three Tecumseh touchdowns. Bunch hit Whitney with scoring tosses of 17, 19 and 24 yards. Roger Ashenfelter accounted for all three extra points.

Ashenfelter, aside from his extra points, suffered a frustrating afternoon at his running back position. He had touchdown runs of 71, 58 and 15 yards called back on clipping penalties.

Fullback Hugh Conklin and center Dave Whelan turned in the blocking gems of the afternoon for the "papooses." Linebacker Mike Tilton and John Merz along with defensive end Marc Graf, stood out in their defensive positions.

The next freshman game will be with Willow Run Thursday, Sept. 19, on the Tecumseh field at 7 p.m.

VOICE of THE HERALD

A Neutral Stand

We folks, all of us wanting the 19-day-old strike at the Tecumseh Products settled, hear all kinds of stories and rumors, and then we read relases from the Company and the Union.

Unfortunately, recent releases by both Company and Union have irritated each other; and have actually reported little information relative to the negotiations and to the progress being made.

One can't help but think that a news blackout of the bargaining sessions, or jointly approved statements would be a better method of giving news media any information about the strike.

The Herald has taken a neutral stand in the strike and will continue to do so. Your local paper is neither pro-Company nor pro-Union in any articles printed about the strike.

Any information, such as letters which could prove to be detrimental in settling the strike, will not be published. There is simply too much at stake — a Company stymied in manufacturing and producing a product and some 3,200 workers going without paychecks.

We simply hope that a contract, one fair to the Union and also fair to the Company, is negotiated and approved — and soon!

To Be Discussed

Livestock producers of three counties, Lenawee, Washtenaw and Monroe, will be attending a market outlook meeting Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the Tecumseh Community Center.

Specialists of the Michigan State University livestock departments will discuss market prospects and trends in feeding.

Bike Hits Car, Girl Injured

A seven-year-old Herrick Park girl was injured and three motorists were arrested in four accidents investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week.

Judy Hyde, 7, 603 Island Dr., suffered cuts and bruises to the face and legs Sunday when she rode her bicycle into the side of a pickup truck, being backed at the time by Jerry Barton.

Mr. Barton reported the mishap to the police who checked on the young girl's injuries at Herrick Hospital.

A resume of other accidents is:

Sept. 12 — Shirley Ann Lawson, 31, of 7221 Hendershot Rd., was cited for failure to yield the right of way after she started a left turn off S. Maumee into Mohawk St., and hit a car driven by Rodger D. Watson, 17, of 8803 Ridge Rd. The Watson car was towed away by a wrecker.

Sept. 14 — Dale C. Mehring, 59, Toledo, O., was arrested for improper passing when he collided with Susan J. McKee, 18, of 9771 Matthews Hwy., on W. Chicago Blvd., near Occidental.

Sept. 14 — Edward Medvecz, 40, of 602 N. Union, was charged with failure to yield the right of way and for no proof of insurance after a mishap with Leroy E. Williams, 62, of 9503 Clinton Rd. Medvecz was traveling east on W. Shawnee and failed to yield at the street's intersection with N. Pearl.

RACKY

Frightened, its wing broken, the bird was clinging to a rail when Tod found it. He brought it home, and "Racky" became its name.

Days passed and the bird mended quickly.

"Racky's getting well," the six-year old informed me one day. "Will he fly away?" I nodded.

"But I want him to stay here! I'll feed him, and let him sleep in his box-house, and take care of him—an' everything!"

"But he might want to be with his friends," I said. There was silence as the boy pondered the idea.

"All right," he finally said. "I'll let him go. But I bet he'd be happier here with me!"

We, too, would be happier if we knew where we belong in the complex pattern of life. God helps us discover ourselves and our place in His universe through His Church.

The child didn't know any better.

Do you?

Buy $95,500 Court; Here Come Da Judge

By BILL SANFORD

The county has put the house before the tenants, and necessarily so. Last week the Lenawee County Board of Supervisors voted to purchase the former Miller Ice Cream parlor at the corner of N. Main and W. Maple Ave. in Adrian to house the new district judgeships.

It will be up to the electorate in November to select the tenants for the $95,500 court rooms. Included in the purchase were: a 50 x 430 building, a 47 x 60 lot and an appropriation of $20,000 to remodel the building into a suitable courtroom. A sum of $67,000 was laid out by the supervisors for the building and $8,500 for the lot.

Dissent grew from the overall price of the buildings. City supervisors favored a rental proposal by Yale L. Kerby for the Kerby Building located on Winter St., across from the old court house. An original proposal from Kerby called for $1,300 a month on a three-year basis, where the owner paid the cost of heat, lights and janitorial service. This proposal was offered in July and not acceptable to a majority of the supervisors.

This month, a later offer was made of $6,950 per year over a three-year period where the county provided lights, heat and janitors. Janitorial service would have been available for $950 per year. The latter proposal was never brought to a floor vote.

In the purchase of the Miller building, now owned by William Baltz of Adrian, several supervisors, including those from Tecumseh, felt that the price was high compared to what had been paid previously. Baltz purchased the property earlier this year for $50,000. He has been a tenant of the building for some two years.

Also raised as a point of discussion was the price of the small adjoining lot of 47 x 60 feet. Many felt the $8,500 purchase price much too high in comparison.

In casting dissenting votes, the possibility of a city-county building in Adrian was the main bone of contention. The city of Adrian has hopes of this becoming a reality in the near future and felt the recent purchase dimmed the hopes of uniting city and county offices.

It was argued by Stacy Zilke, chairman of the building and grounds committee, that the building if purchased could be used as additional parking space should the city-county building come into being. Other members of the committee were E. J. Skala and James Mitchell. Skala represents Adrian City Commission and Mitchell, Raisin Township.

Architectural plans for a city-county building were to have been available later this fall, however, the county released Marr and Marr Associates from the job of architects and has sought different plans in the area of the new county offices.

Votes cast by area supervisors were: against the motion to buy, Harold Easton, Donald Sunderland, Cal Zorn and the Rev. B. O. Bashore of Tecumseh City; Art Eaton of Tecumseh Township.

For the motion to buy were: M. M. Halley, Clinton; Charles Bigelow, Macon; Richard Platt, Franklin; James Mitchell, Raisin; Gustav Tiede, Ridgeway.

Bids for the renovating of the building will be advertised early next month.

Of Flowers, Designs

By MARJ COMFORT

Christmas will come three months early to Tecumseh. Other fall and winter celebrations will be early, too, as a leading Southeast Michigan floral designer shows how he will decorate homes in "Holiday Fantasies".

Bill McCreight, who has floral studios in Jackson and Brooklyn, will appear at 1:30 p.m., Sept. 25, in St. St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Most of his audience will be delegates to a five-county garden club meeting, but tickets for the afternoon program also will be available to the general public.

Mrs. Paul Maves is in charge of tickets.

They are available from members of the Tecumseh Garden Club and the Little Garden Club, hosts to the day-long meeting.

If any tickets remain, they will be available at the door of the parish hall immediately before the program begins.

BILL McCREIGHT

Mr. McCreight, who earned a bachelor of science degree in floriculture from Michigan State University, opened his first shop in Jackson in 1956 and two years ago added another in partnership with Thom Williams in Brooklyn.

THREE TIMES he was selected to design for the state floral convention and was winner of a coveted award as Favorite Designer of fellow florists at the 1965 convention.

He has appeared at conventions in Detroit, Lansing and Grand Rapids, as well as presenting shows for garden clubs.

Christmas designs are favorites with him and he has operated a Christmas design school for three years in Jackson.

Invited to the annual meeting of District 2A of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan are 32 member clubs in Lenawee, Monroe, Jackson, Hillsdale and Washtenaw Counties.

This is the first time in seven years that the Tecumseh groups have been host.

Highlight of the morning session will be a talk by Jack Wikle of Hidden Lake Gardens, who will speak on "Jewels For Your Home,' describing the trees and shrubs which can be used most effectively by homeowners.

Based on his years of experience as a landscaper and as a horticultural educator, he will be able to tell what garden catalogs often skip, such as which "evergreens" actually will lose their leaves in mid-winter in our climate and which plants can become plagued by insects or disease.

The full day of activities will end with a tour of the new conservatories and greenhouse at Hidden Lake Gardens.

Die-Setter Loses Couple of Fingers

"Oh, my Lord, I've lost a couple fingers," was Harold Gove's remark Thursday at 10 a.m. when he withdrew the rubber glove from his right hand just injured in a printing press at the Tecumseh Corrugated Box.

Mr. Gove, who lives at 8745 Matthews Hwy., was washing and rotating the cylinder on the machine when through malfunction, it started up by itself.

The middle finger on Gove's right hand was broken, the ring finger is gone and the little finger was badly mangled. Fortunately the die-setter is left handed.

The machine was torn down immediately but no defect was uncovered.

James Wheeler, general superintendent, said Friday that another safety device that operates auto[illegible] has been installed on the machine.

No one was near it except Gove when it started by itself. His wife said she was grateful that the injury was no worse since her husband could have easily lost his whole arm.

Mrs. Clay Croll Hosts 25 Members of Grace United

BRITTON—Twenty-five members of the Grace United Methodist Women's Society met at the home of Mrs. Clay Croll Thursday evening. Mrs. Fred Schober and Mrs. Neil Judkins were co-hostesses.

Mrs. John Lover led the devotional program entitled "The Bible, Thirteen Eggs and a Setting Hen." In comparison, just as the eggs hold opportunity, possibility and challenge for the future, likewise the Bible, when taught in the home and church, holds all opportunity, possibility and challenge for leading a Christ-like life.

Both must receive direction and inspiration from the giver.

Mrs. George Rodgers will give a clothing demonstration party at 7:30, Sept. 26 at the church on behalf of the WSCS. Women and their guests are invited.

Oct. 10 was the date set for the annual Harvest Festival and bazaar.

Tories Thwarted In Season Opener

BRITTON — The Tories football team dropped their season opener in a non-league game Friday night against Waldron, 19-6.

"It was the best game we've ever played since I've been here," Coach Paul Palka stated, despite the loss. "We're looking forward to a good season. The boys played well and only a couple of mistakes cost us the game."

Palka also stated that this is the best team Britton has fielded in the past three years.

Britton scored first on a 2-yard run by Jim Brown, but Waldron came right back and scored also, then hit the end zone again to bring the score to 12-6 at halftime.

Waldron's offense was held in check in the second half until the final minute of the game, when they scored again on an intercepted pass, making the final score 19-6.

The Tories play their first home game this Friday night against Erie-Mason, a Class B school new to the league, who also lost last week in a close one to Ypsilanti-Lincoln, 14-13. Both teams will be out for their first win.

"We don't know much about Erie-Mason yet, but we know they'll be tough," remarked Palka.

It was also announced that the price for adult admission tickets for the home games will be $1.25. Student tickets will remain at 50c.

QUESTION:

"If we desire to have our hometown funeral director from another state, what do we do?"

ANSWER:

You should call him immediately after the need arises and he will then make any preliminary arrangements here. He will probably select a funeral director here to do the preparatory professional work for him.

YOUR CHILD'S PORTRAIT FREE!

IN NEW Vibrant-Color®

AMAZING NEW PHOTOGRAPHIC BREAKTHROUGH NOW GIVES COLOR PORTRAITS A BREATHTAKINGLY BRILLIANT QUALITY . . . YOU MUST SEE TO APPRECIATE!

MOTHERS ENTHUSIASTICALLY HAIL NEW CHILDREN'S PORTRAITS in a tiny laboratory near the giant Eastman Kodak plant in Rochester, N. Y., two young scientists worked tirelessly . . . often late into the night. Inspired by faith and an idea, words like "impossible," "can't be done" meant nothing. Their daring goal: to unlock the secrets of the great Renaissance artists and fuse them with modern color photography.

SUDDENLY, SUCCESS CROWNS EFFORTS Undaunted by discouragements and financial difficulties, these men refused to quit. At last, after eight frustrating years, they succeeded beyond their highest expectation. Their discovery, the VIBRANT-COLOR process, is acclaimed as incomparably finer than ordinary color photography. So-called "natural color" or "living color" pictures seem pale, washed out and lifeless compared to the deep, rich, glowing tones of VIBRANT-COLOR.

SCIENTISTS CHOOSE WESTVALE STUDIOS It was no accident that Westvale Studios, Inc. was chosen by these two dedicated scientists for the exclusive use of VIBRANT-COLOR. Westvale is one of the largest portrait studios in the country. They are a nationwide organization with a staff of highly trained, professional photographers whose experience includes over five million portraits of children. For this reason, Westvale was selected over all other portrait studios in the United States.

EXTRAORDINARY FREE OFFER One of Westvale Studio's photographers will be in your community at the location below. To introduce VIBRANT-COLOR, they will give you a free VIBRANT-COLOR portrait of your child or children. This extraordinary offer may never be repeated! Clip the certificate now . . . save it . . . and bring it with you.

HERE'S WHAT PARENTS SAY:

"I AM OVERWHELMED! I never believed anything could be so truly beautiful!" writes Mrs. C. N. of Plattsburg, N.Y.

"My VIBRANT-COLOR portrait of Danny and little Robin is the envy of all my friends," writes Mrs. J. S. of Casper, Wyoming.

"I've been a successful artist most of my adult years and I tell you truthfully, one would think it came from the brush of a Rembrandt or a Da Vinci," says Mr. M. F., painter and artist of Syracuse, N.Y.

All you need is this certificate . . . Save it!

FREE!

YOUR CHILD'S PORTRAIT (Single or group, 2 months up)

This certificate entitles the parent to one free Vibrant-Color® portrait (single or group)—your choice of several finished portraits—not proofs. There is absolutely NO OBLIGATION to buy anything, but additional portraits may be purchased at surprisingly reasonable prices. These are beautifully posed, professional portraits by Westvale Studios, Inc.—so dress the children colorfully. Only one free portrait per family. Said bonds will be dated August 1, 1968, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) each, will be numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from one (1) to one hundred eighty-four (184), both inclusive, will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding five and one-half percent (5½%) per annum, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or any combination thereof, the difference between the highest and lowest rates bid shall not exceed 2%. Said interest will be payable on the first day of May, 1969, and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of November and May in each year. The interest rate on any one bond shall be at one rate only and represented by one interest coupon for each coupon period, and all bonds maturing in the same year must carry the same interest rate. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially as follows:

$10,000 on May 1 of the year 1969;
$25,000 on May 1 of each year of the years 1970 and 1971;
$30,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1972, 1973 and 1974;
$35,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1975 and 1976;
$40,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1977, 1978, 1979 and 1980;
$50,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1981, 1982, 1983 and 1984;
$60,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1985 and 1986;
$70,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1987 and 1988; and
$80,000 on May 1 of the year 1989.

Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, which paying agent qualifies as such under the Statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government, subject to approval by the School District.

Bonds of this issue maturing in the years 1969 to 1979, inclusive, are not subject to prior redemption.

The right is reserved of redeeming bonds maturing in the years 1980 to 1989, inclusive, at the option of the district, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or before May 1, 1979, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium as follows:

3% on each bond called for redemption prior to May 1, 1982;
2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1982, but prior to May 1, 1985;
1% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1985, but prior to May 1, 1988.

No premium on bonds called for redemption on or after May 1, 1988.

Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of the bonds to be redeemed by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan, which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds. No further interest payable on bonds called for redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the School District has money available for such redemption with the paying agent.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new elementary school building; acquiring additional land for site purposes; and developing and improving sites.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds and interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from November 1, 1968, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the School District. Each bidder shall state in his bid the interest cost to the School District, computed in the manner above specified. No proposal for the purchase of less than all the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 4, Part 1, Act 269, Public Acts of Michigan, 1955, and Act 202 of the Public Acts of Michigan, 1943, as amended, and the School District is authorized and required by law to levy upon all taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay these bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

A certified or cashier's check in an amount of $18,400.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

An open letter to Christine Fairbanks:

Ouch! You sure hit one of my sore spots, with your latest "Off The Top" article. You were good naturedly grumbling over your forgetfulness! Well, if you're first in that category, I must be running a close second! I may be only 28, but the symptoms are already starting.

Last Wednesday night I was outside dressed in my oldest clothes, putting a second coat of paint on the front porch. It was 6:45 when I remembered I had agreed to take the nursery during our mid-week church service! As meeting begins promptly at 7, you can imagine the panic! I slapped the top on the paint can, and ran for the garage for some gas to wipe the grey paint off my feet! I threw on a clean dress, hurriedly scraped the worst of the dirt off the 3 kids, piled into the car, and arrived breathlessly at the church only 10 minutes late!

A few weeks ago, I packed my husband's lunch and sent him off to work as usual. However when noon came he got a surprise! In my usual rush, I had packed a fruit jar, completely forgetting to put anything in it! Only he could tell you how many times I've packed him a hard-boiled egg, without salt. Or applesauce and no spoon. Or pie and no fork.

And already this month I've forgotten 3 anniversaries and 2 birthdays, and one of them was my own brother!

I always forget to call the hairdresser for a Saturday appointment, until late Thursday or Friday! By that time, I know I can't get in anyway, so I let it go.

Needless to say, I do my own hair, now!

I wonder how many times I've left my bank book, or my money, or both, at home. Or gone to the dairy and left the empty bottles at home, sitting neatly under the counter! Or, I'm at the laundromat with the clothes all loaded up, I push in the quarter, then remember I left the soap at home! Or, so often I forget to check hubby's pockets before washing his shirts and slacks! I must have some kind of a record for washing pens, papers, pencils, matches, change and (ugh!) kleenex! Once I laundered his wallet!

At church, a couple of Sunday mornings ago, (right in the middle of a good sermon) it dawned on me that I'd forgotten to put the roast in the oven! Oh, well, there's always pork and beans!

I'm used to getting to the lake and finding I'm without suntan lotion or insect repellent. But, on the last trip up to Wamplers, I really pulled one. Not only had I forgotten our toddler's swim suit, but her diapers, bottle and food, too! So, Sandy had her swim, clad in Daddy's wax-buffing cloth, (my headscarf wouldn't go around her), while the diaper she'd had on, sailed from the aerial of the car, getting dry for the return home! That day, she lunched on hot dogs and pop!

How many good TV programs have I missed, simply because I forgot all about them until they were over with anyhow.

How many times, while cruising along in our Falcon, have I glanced into the rearview mirror, only to see the friendly neighborhood policeman cruising along behind. Then, I glance down at the seat. Sure enough, the purse containing driver's license is home on the dresser! Lucky for me, (so far), they always turn a corner.

I remember one trip up north when I forgot to pack my paiamas. I discovered this startling fact about 20 miles from home! (I got a new pair.)

And lately I've noticed myself doing something my mother always used to do: absent-mindedly calling my children by the wrong names. I call Sandy, Shari and Shari, Sandy. Bobby's lucky to be the only boy; I rarely get him mixed up.

Like you, we've gone through the "out of bathroom tissue" bit more times than I'd care to remember, (even if I could). And I feel so conspicuous going to the store just to purchase a roll of tissue! Does the clerk look knowingly at me as I check out, or is it just my imagination?

But this must be the topper, for me at least! A couple of weeks ago, the kids and I visited my brother and family for an afternoon. (They live about three miles from us). When I got home again, I realized I had actually forgotten the baby! She was still at their house, sleeping peacefully in their crib. Now, Chris, even you must admit; that's forgetfulness.

Why, I'd like to know, can't I forget something like a dentist's appointment, for a change? The whole trouble must be the frantic pace we keep these days! Maybe, just maybe, if we could slow down a little, half of our muddleheadedness would disappear!

But, since that doesn't seem likely, guess we'll just have to mix everything with a little humor, grin and bear it, and all that stuff!

Why fight it? It's funnier this way!

Sincerely,
Coreen Pool

Mrs. Neil Pearson Enjoys Rare Day

Mrs. Neil Pearson experienced a rare day Sept. 11 when she was an overnight guest of a lifelong friend, Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, of Rochester and remained for Detroit Day there.

Dr. Jones entertained 50 of the ladies of the Triennial Convention of the Associated Country Women of the World who met for the first time in this country on the campus of Michigan State University last week.

About 2000 women from 56 countries attended and Wednesday were bused to Detroit for lunch at Northland, a tour of Greenfield Village and Cobo Hall climaxed by dinner in a typical American home.

All of the garden clubs in the Detroit area were responsible for a dinner party for the guests.

Dr. Jones is a member of the Rochester Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association of America.

Her home was hardly typical, Mrs. Pearson said, since her friend seated all 50 guests at small tables throughout the house for typical picnic fare, including fried chicken, baked beans, potato salad, etc.

Mrs. Pearson said she was grateful to have been included in the festivity.

Pythian Sisters Give Certificate To Mrs. Thompson

Mrs. Carl Thompson was presented with a 25-year membership certificate at the first fall meeting of the Josephine H. Hall Pythian Sisters Sept. 11.

Members decided to invite the girls and their mothers who went to camp this summer under the sponsorship of the Temple to a potluck supper meeting Sept. 25 at 6:30 p.m. The girls are Rosemary DeJonghe and Joann Frost.

They will tell of their camp experiences.

Plans were also made for a chop suey supper to be held in October.

Ice cream with strawberries or chocolate were served to 15 members by Mrs. Roscoe Ferris and Mrs. Harry Schuch.

STRANGE SEE-TOGETHERS

There is always a certain overlapping of the seasons, the happenings of late summer and early fall are usually mixed up a little. This year, however, midsummer and late fall or even early winter are getting in each other's way. I suppose I should not really be surprised — everything has been topsy-turvy all year so why should the birds be different?

Our confusion started Sunday, the first of September. Mom and I were enjoying cups of late morning tea when suddenly we looked at each other and shook our heads in disbelief.

We had not really heard any bubbly, happy squeaks — it just couldn't be. Several weeks ago we enjoyed chick-a-dees, but that was up north.

There just could not be chick-a-dees in Tecumseh on the day before Labor Day.

These are cold weather birds, we never host them until it is time for snow flurries and last year, of course, we hardly had any then.

THESE WERE OUR thoughts, neither Mom nor I could bring ourselves to believe that we were listening to chick-a-dee talk. We were though — two of the little black-capped characters dropped down to the feeder.

In absolute amazement we watched as they [illegible] of scratch feed. Again we could not help thinking how charming these birds are. They are tiny, neat and dapper as can be, always full of energy.

And this pre-Labor Day visit was no fluke. The chick-a-dees were back again Tuesday. This time they sampled suet as well as scratch feed.

After eating, they played a fast and furious combination game of tag and follow-the-leader. To see chick-a-dees darting through the still-green leafed trees was fun.

A bit later Tuesday, Gertie T. and I heard another shrill bird noise. Not chick-a-dees this time — it was a young cardinal. A very young one indeed.

His tail was bright red and there were red streaks on his wings but his pointed top-knot had hardly started to grow, his head and body showed much brown, his face mask barely showed and most telltale of all was his dark bill.

It had not even started to turn the adult bright orange.

★

HOW SURPRISING it was to see winter birds and a baby bird within an hour of each other. I must confess that the chick-a-dees, much as we love them, had shaken me up a little.

[illegible] just could not have been harbingers of things to come, they could not be foretelling the early arrival of winter. Or could they? When the junior cardinal appeared, our faith in warm weather for late summer and early fall was restored.

Our nice weather thinking has been further reinforced. Oh, our cold weather friends still show up but so have some strictly summer visitors.

One of them I am undecided about — is it Lady Baltimore or one of her children? Once in a great while we hear the male's clear whistle but he usually stays out of sight high in the tree tops.

The other one, though, comes closer and tantalizes us with brief glimpses. Whoever it is always takes great care and does not let us see enough to make a sure identification.

So it is that when winter chick-a-dees mix with summer Baltimore orioles and junior cardinals, we are truly treated to some strange see-togethers.

Indians Drop Opener, Fumbles Foul Fielding

By JIM LINCOLN

About the only thing the Tecumseh Indians showed in losing to visiting Hillsdale Friday night were their new, bright orange jerseys.

The Indians bowed 27-13 in what must have been a terrible disappointment to Coach Tom Fagan and his players. It's difficult to believe that Tecumseh is as weak as the Indians' performance would indicate.

Breaks no doubt helped the Hornets, but without them, Hillsdale was the better club as Tecumseh, for the most part, turned in an inept exhibition.

Hillsdale struck for a touchdown in each of the first two quarters, both via passes over the Tecumseh secondary. Early in the initial period, Buzz Sharpley connected on a floater which carried to the Tecumseh five, the play covering 39 yards.

The Tecumseh defense held on and stopped the Hornets on the one, taking over the ball, but to lose it on the first of many fumbles at the 10. Two plays later, Sharpley hit Bill Marriott for the first TD.

In the second quarter with less than four minutes gone, Sharpley passed again for a score from the Tecumseh 44. Dick Rodgers took it in, 10 yards behind the Tecumseh defender.

Leading 13-0, Hillsdale tallied on the first play from scrimmage in the second half on what appeared to be a broken play with quarterback Sharpley breaking through the Indian line and simply outracing the pursuing Indians.

With the third quarter half gone, Jim Hunt took a pitchout from quarterback John Kennedy, raced to his left, stopped and passed to Steve Dalton for the Indians' first score. Hunt then plunged for the extra point.

Trailing 20-7, Tecumseh had brief hopes of getting back into the ball game before another fumble stopped the drive inside the Hillsdale 20.

Sharpley squelched such hopes about two minutes later when he went in from the Tecumseh 19, following a 51-yard romp by Rodgers.

With just six seconds left in the game, sophomore quarterback Gregg Smith passed to halfback Jim Collins for the second THS touchdown.

The game had some bright spots for the Indians, however, as Ken Pieh's running, especially in the second half, gave Tecumseh some drive it lacked completely in the first half.

The play of senior end Dave Laidlaw was another surprise as was the pin-point passing of young Smith. Hunt and Larry Cote also had their moments carrying the ball.

The offense, in general, was lacking and the defense was not much better, particularly against the pass.

Unless Tecumseh can come up with a better pass defense — Hillsdale's Sharpley was not an outstanding passer — the Indians will find team after team bombing them for touchdowns.

Tecumseh's poor performance probably made the visitors look better than they actually are.

GOOD FOR 11 YARDS — Quarterback John Kennedy hit Paul Burns here in the second quarter for an 11-yard gain to the Indians' 49. Unfortunately, an incomplete pass and a 15-yard penalty thwarted a Tecumseh drive. Behind the two Hillsdale players closing in on Burns is Larry Cote, halfback and tri-captain for the Indians.

COULD HAVE GONE — Halfback Larry Cote sim ply could not keep his footing here as the Indian tri-captain picked up 12 yards on a counter pla y to the Hillsdale 16. If he had kept his footing, Cote could possibly went in for the touchdown. Two plays later, the Indians fumbled and lost the ball to the Hornets on the 24.

Cancer Patients' Sick Room Items Set on Loan Basis

A total of 37,205 cancer patients in Michigan have received 5,707,861 dressings from the American Cancer Society during the fiscal year, reports Harry H. Hungerford, president of the Society's Lenawee County unit.

Seventeen patients received 6,807 dressings here in Lenawee County.

Hungerford said that in Michigan, 1,556 active volunteer groups prepared the dressings using primarily donated material, and that the Lenawee County Unit has 21 groups participating in the American Cancer Society Dressings Program.

"The Society has sickroom supplies and equipment available to cancer patients on a loan basis," Hungerford said. "Our unit has beds, walkers, commodes, bed pans, suction pumps, etc., available to cancer patients.

"Twelve local patients have made use of this equipment while 1,801 state-wide patients were served."

Cancer patients or those assisting the victims may receive the dressings or other sickroom items by calling the Lenawee County Unit of the American Cancer Society, 204 N. Broad St., Adrian.

Indians To Host Jets

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh opens its schedule in the Huron League here Friday night when the Indians host Carlton Airport.

The Jets started their season on a winning note last Friday evening when they edged Monroe Jefferson, a newcomer in the league, 7-0.

Neither Airport nor Jefferson were regarded as powers in the league this fall, but the Indians will have to do better than they did in losing to Hillsdale.

Both the offense and defense will have to play better ball, or as the old saying goes, "it will be a long season."

Fans can expect better things to come from the Indians as Coach Tom Fagan has too many good players for a losing streak. There were signs in the second half that the offense was coming around, but simply wasn't quite ready to jell.

The defensive line should improve with lettermen at every spot, including the linebackers. Fagan may have some trouble, however, coming up with a secondary which will react to the opponents' passing game, and on occasions to a runner breaking into the open.

LANSING REPORT

By GIL BURSLEY

How much money is the Michigan income tax producing?

How are total state tax collections this year by comparison with previous years?

These are questions I am frequently asked. They are of direct concern to every taxpayer.

Preliminary collection figures for fiscal year 1968 reveal record revenues from all major taxes.

The individual income tax produced $262 million dollars during the nine months it was in effect — an average of $29 million dollars per month.

The corporation income tax and the business activities tax, which it replaced, are more difficult to compare. The changeover took place on Jan. 1 whereas the individual income tax started last Oct. 1. Certain groups which the business activities tax used to cover (partnerships and unincorporated businesses) now come under the individual income tax.

There is also a new financial institutions income tax. Total tax collections from the business community will rise substantially, however.

Of major importance is the 7 percent increase from our major revenue producer — the sales tax. This amounted to an increase of $42 million dollars to a total of $651 million dollars.

The closely related "use tax" also produced more revenue, an increase of $4 million to $75 million dollars.

The 4 percent sales tax can easily be calculated to have applied to over $16 billion dollars in retail sales or about 56 percent of Michigan's personal income.

People pay more in cigarette taxes each year in spite of the warnings by heart and cancer specialists. The 7c cigarette tax brings in about $80 million dollars or a little over $11 million dollars per penny of tax on a pack of cigarettes.

Many other states have been raising their cigarette taxes. New Jersey this year increased it from 11 to 14 cents per pack.

The gasoline tax rate was increased during the year and this contributed to a 12½ percent rise in motor fuel tax revenues—to a total of $222 million dollars for fiscal 1968.

Other taxes that recorded all-time highs in terms of revenue produced were the utility property tax, the inheritance tax and the intangibles tax.

In spite of these record revenues, state government is still far short of funding all the demands made upon it — and some of these requests should rightfully be cut back. This, after all, is the function of the state budget office and the legislative appropriation committees.

I stress, however, that Michigan in the coming year will be providing, on a pay-as-you-go basis, an ever higher level of services for her citizens. Our educational programs, our health facilities and our highways — to mention only three major areas—are among the nation's best.

Mrs. Charles Manley announced the proficiency classes to be held at her home in Tipton beginning Sept. 16 at 8 p.m.

DANIEL L. TIRB

Daniel Tirb, USN, Completes Basics, Visits with Family

CLINTON — Airman Apprentice Daniel L. Tirb, USN, having completed his basic training at Great Lakes Naval Academy in April, is now stationed aboard the Aircraft Carrier USS Wasp, which left Quonset Point, R. I., Aug. 20 for a 4-month cruise, first stop being England.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Tirb of Hogan Rd.

Before leaving for their cruise, his carrier had been in Florida for training of new pilots and on return, their ship collided with a tanker while refueling. The carrier had to dock at Virginia to unload before coming back to home port at Boston for repairs.

In August, the families were asked to come and enjoy a day's cruise on the ship with their sons before they shipped out.

Daniel's father and sister, Denise, spent a day at sea, at which time they went about 50 miles out and were shown how the planes and helicopters took off and landed.

Some bombs were dropped to give the families an idea of what their sons' duties were.

Daniel is now studying for his Airman third class examination, which he will take in October. He expects to be back in port by Christmas time.

He is a 1966 graduate of Clinton High School and was employed as a set-up man at Budd Company, Clinton, before going in the service.

Jaycees Launch Olympic Torch '68

The Tecumseh Jaycees launched their Olympic Torch '68 fund-raising program Sept. 10. It will continue until Sept. 28.

The purpose of the drive is to raise funds to send the U. S. Olympic Team to Mexico City in October.

Most of the teams competing are subsidized by their respective nations. The United States is one of the few countries that does not do this.

Olympic Torch '68 is a program of national scale, conducted in some 6300 communities across America where Jaycee chapters are located.

Working with the Jaycees toward the Olympic fund goal is the Thom McAn Shoe Co., appointed again to supply footwear for members of the Olympic Team.

Canisters will be placed in the local merchant's stores for donations. Also, persons may obtain envelopes at Helm's Furniture or Flanders Music for their personal donations.

All donations are tax deductible and will be forwarded through the Olympic House in New York City.

Auxiliary Hosts Installation

All new officers were present for the impressive installation ceremony of the American Legion Auxiliary Thursday evening when the Brooklyn ritual team assisted Mrs. Clarence Natterstadt. This was the first time in several years that this was true.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler is the new president. Others not included in the list in last week's issue of The Herald are sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Edward Brumm, and executive board member, Mrs. Kenneth Herrick.

Seventeen past presidents were present to welcome Mrs. Robert Koffron Sr., to the rank of past president as the junior member. She was presented a dozen red carnations.

Mrs. Natterstad presented Mrs. Koffron with a past president's pin and matching earrings from the members.

Mrs. Larry Disbrow, the new second district president, accompanied the ritual team and was presented to the members by Mrs. Koffron. Mrs. Disbrow reminded members to get memberships paid up early as dues go up after the middle of October.

Because of a lack of information, the past president's plaque and the life membership issue will both be taken up at the October meeting.

The membership saw the American Legion Auxiliary Golden Anniversary Cook Books. They are available by contacting any Auxiliary member, Mrs. Robert Smith, 423-4418, or Mrs. Koffron, 423-4774.

Members elected Mrs. Rentschler and Mrs. Koffron as delegates to attend the American Legion Fall Conference in Ann Arbor Sept. 27, 28 and 29.

A flag was purchased for and presented to the St. Elizabeth School. Members were invited to a flag-raising service. Mrs. Koffron attended.

All the children, the Sisters, teachers and the Rev. Fr. Robert Handley were present. The children sang "The Battle Hymn to the Republic" accompanied by one of the students on an electric guitar. This was followed by "The Star Spangled Banner" and the flag raising by two students.

The Pledge of Allegiance was given by the entire student body followed by a moment of silent prayer for our soldiers.

A short thank-you message to the American Legion Au[illegible] and to Mrs. Koffron was delivered and the ceremony was closed by singing "God Bless America."

A social hour followed the Thursday evening meeting with a table centered with fall flowers and delicious refreshments prepared and served by the past president membership, with Mrs. Laine Holden, president, as chairman.

VERBAL VOTE IS UNANIMOUS AT MASS MEETING

Union Rejects Products' Final Contract Offer

A jammed and overflowing Union Hall of over 2,800 members of the United Products Workers Union supported its Board Wednesday morning and rejected a Company's proposal to settle the 26-day-old strike at Tecumseh Products.

A long strike is now a possibility, especially in view that a Company letter to Union members stipulated that "employees should be made aware of the final offer of settlement."

At Wednesday morning's mass meeting, Ray Jackson, Union president, discussed and reviewed the Company offer, and in comparison with what the Union was seeking. He cited differences and told members that the Company letter omitted unfavorable and unacceptable portions of the offer.

Last Friday evening, negotiators from the Company and Union met, and at that time, according to Mr. Jackson, the Union was told that the Company was making its final offer.

He told members Wednesday that the Board considered it an ultimatum, not an offer. Monday morning, after employees received the Company letter, the Union called a mass meeting.

In the letter, the Company stated that the economical package as offered would cost the Tecumseh Products $14 million. The Company also pointed out that its offer was fair and reasonable, and hoped that the employees would return to work as soon as possible.

Although the letter stated that there would be a secret vote by ballot, it never came off. After the Union president reviewed the offer, he asked the membership to support the Board in its opposition to the offer.

A motion was then made and seconded, that the Union reject the offer and have the Board renew negotiations with the Company. A verbal vote was taken, and it proved to be unanimous.

Ed Rapin, Products' chief negotiator, says a secret vote by ballot was in order and that the Union Board had been directed by a Federal mediator to conduct one. He also said employees outside the hall had no idea of what was taking place inside.

For those unable to get into the Union Hall, public address systems were used to inform members outside.

In regards to the rejection, Mr. Rapin said the Company has made its final offer and no further negotiations are scheduled.

Opposition to the Company's offer, according to the Union Board, is mainly in the wording and language of the proposal. They said it was vague in some cases, and could be taken different ways.

Friday night's offer by the Company was modified in comparison to previous offers.

It is apparent that the Company and Union agree, or are near agreement on many portions of the offer, but far apart on others. According to some remarks by the Union president at Wednesday's mass meeting, the Company has taken away some benefits enjoyed by the Union in the past.

United Products Workers Union has a membership of approximately 3,200. The strike began Sept. 1.

The local Union does not have a strike fund and strikers are not receiving any compensation whatsoever while on strike. There are reports that some have sought employment at the Saline Ford plant and elsewhere.

Many businesses in downtown Tecumseh have already felt the effects of the strike, and such effects could become worse before they get better. It will be two weeks after a settlement is reached before the workers receive their first paycheck.

Over 30 Youngsters Confessing to Police

Police Chief Murell Clark has a manila folder on his desk about an inch thick. It contains statements from over 30 juveniles in Tecumseh who have been involved in vandalism and breaking and enterings here.

For over a week now, youngsters have either been questioned or volunteered statements regarding incidents which have occurred here during the past year.

Confessions started last week when the local police questioned three suspects about entering the Tecumseh Acres elementary school on Adrian St. Involved in the questioning was the method used in gaining entry to the school, and, eventually to keys stolen from the Board of Education office last summer.

Youngsters from all over town are involved, and Chief Clark says more statements and admissions are expected.

The list of breaking and enterings, or simply illegal entry, is:

► Patterson School, several times, once emptying of fire extinguishers.

► Tecumseh Acres elementary school, several times.

► Community Center.

► Pool building, $7 to $8.

On the weekend of Sept. 21-22 Tecumseh Acres was robbed of seven microphones from tape recorders, $14 in cash from a teacher's desk, a vending machine and pop. Three youths were noticed loitering in the area and were eventually seen entering the building.

They were later identified and admitted to possessing keys to various school buildings. Apparently these school keys have been passed around town for various youngsters to use.

In some statements, the high school reportedly had been entered several times without school officials nor the police aware of it.

Mr. Clark says 18 petitions have already been prepared for Judge Maurice Spears in Probate Court at Adrian. Others are anticipated.

As of Tuesday afternoon, police expected others to come to the station to "clear their conscience." Many had already done so.

As to frequent glass breakage at the schools, none has admitted to the vandalism, nor have any youths admitted to cutting ignition wires on the school buses last year.

CLIFFORD JACKSON

Jackson Opens Realty Office

Clifford Jackson, of Blissfield, will hold an open house Saturday at his new real estate office in downtown Tecumseh, at 130 W. Chicago Blvd.

He sold real estate for 12 years in the Blissfield area.

Until recently he managed the Smith-Douglas Fertilizer plant between Tecumseh and Clinton on Staib Rd. He resigned to go into the real estate business full time.

His wife, Barbara, will run the office.

The couple has two daughters and a son. They will continue to live in Blissfield until the oldest daughter graduates next spring, at which time they plan to move to the Tecumseh area.

The Jacksons are inviting folks to drop in Saturday for a cup of coffee and to get acquainted.

Clinton Lady Is Killed, 3 Others Are Injured

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Mrs. Clarence G. Heimerdinger, 70, of 11919 Tecumseh Rd., Clinton, died of head injuries at the scene of a two-car collision in Saginaw County at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in the United Church of Christ with the Rev. Paul McKenna officiating. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery. Arrangements were by Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton.

Treated at St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw, were her husband, Clarence, with several broken ribs and head cut; a son, William, cuts and bruises; Evel Garrido of Exclusives EvelDean, formerly of Spain and William's business partner, who was like a son to them, with a broken right arm and strained shoulder.

William was not admitted to the hospital. Mr. Garrido was released Tuesday and Clarence Heimerdinger remains hospitalized.

The Garrido automobile, driven by Evel, was struck broadside at the rural intersection of M-83 and M-54 by a car driven by Lawrence Hess of Elsie. Apparently, neither driver saw the stop signs and were unable to avoid the collision, officers at the scene decided. Skid marks measured 87 feet for the Hess car and 86 feet for the Garrido car. Mr. and Mrs. Hess were not injured.

Myrle Heimerdinger, who would have been 71 Wednesday, was born Oct. 2, 1897 in Manchester, Tenn., the daughter of Julia A. Warner and Merritt A. Lemm.

She moved to Clinton with her family when six and was graduated from Clinton High School in 1915. She attended Cleary College two years and taught school two years before her marriage to Mr. Heimerdinger June 5, 1920.

A faithful and active member of the United Church of Christ in Clinton, she taught Sunday School for many years and participated in most of its organizations. Church friends paid tribute to her as "Mother of the Year" in 1962. She was president of the Philathea Class.

She was a member of the Oak Opening Farm Bureau, Lenawee County Church Women United, and Child Study Club. With her husband, she received an award from Michigan State University for their "Outstanding Contribution to Agriculture in 1963."

She had charge of the Clinton Community Schools cafeteria for seven years and belonged to the Michigan Food Service Association.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Heimerdinger is survived by eight children; five sons, George S., James A., Clarence J., William D., and David W. of Clinton; three daughters, Mrs. Hazen (Lois) Richardson of Onsted; Mrs. Harold (Evelyn) Gregg of Adrian and Mrs. Harold (Ruth) Auten of Westland.

Also surviving are brothers, Kenneth Lemm of Onsted and Forrest Lemm of Salem, Ore., and sisters, Lois Lemm, a missionary to Liberia, Africa, who arrived in New York Monday on leave; and Mrs. Adell Lemm Eddy, Tipton, and 15 grandchildren. A brother preceded her in death.

A memorial gift to the United Church of Christ was established in her name.

MYRLE HEIMERDINGER

Four Jailed After Brawl

An early Sunday morning brawl behind the Tecumseh Fire Station was broken up about 3 a.m. with all four participants ending up in the Lenawee County jail.

Involved and arrested were:

Delores Hargis, 38, and her son, Gerald, 20, both of Jackson.

Robert C. Clewis, 19, Brooklyn.

Michael E. Sackett, 20, Holloway Rd.

According to the police report, the four were pushing, fighting and yelling behind the station when a patrol car arrived. Mrs. Hargis said they had been to a party and had been drinking too much.

After causing the officers some trouble at the scene and later at the station, all four were taken to the county jail, where they were later released on bond.

Trials for all four are scheduled.

Sackett, who has a list of several arrests and convictions here, is currently on probation from a previous arrest.

Fisher Cafeteria Strike Plant

City Testing

Test pumping of a well on the Gray property, just north of town, is expected to start this week after boring tests on the nearby William Powell land failed to indicate sufficient gravel and possibility of water there.

D-Day Falls On Saturday

For most of us, Saturday will be D-Day in Tecumseh.

Although some will have the opportunity on Monday, Saturday will be the final day for a visit to the city's dump. Effective next Tuesday, Oct. 1, the dump will be closed to the public.

Tecumseh's street department will continue using it for tree limbs and branches and other similar debris.

Next week, residents making trips to a landfill will have to use Lenawee Disposal, about one mile east of Adrian on N. Ogden Hwy., just off Deerfield Rd.

Residents also must have identification cards and they're free at the clerk's office in City Hall.

The trip to Lenawee Disposal can vary from nine miles to 12 miles, depending on the route taken. It's closer by Raisin Center Hwy., but south of Sutton Rd., it is gravel.

Going by hard pavement, best way is south on Rogers Hwy., then west on Deerfield Rd.

The Lenawee Disposal dump is open Mondays and Saturday mornings to residents, free of charge. The city has a one-year contract for residents with the city paying the tab. Commercial and industrial contract, also covered by the city, is on a three-month trial period.

File Charges In Attack

An altercation at Tecumseh High School Friday morning has resulted in assault and battery charges being filed against Robert Braden, 17, who lives in a new subdivision just south of Russell Rd.

According to the report, young Braden struck a 16-year-old student in a high school corridor, knocking him to the floor. He reportedly attacked him between classes.

The victim was taken to Herrick Hospital where four stitches were taken in the back of his head and two on a lip.

Rotary Club Recognized

President Clayton Greenwald and other members of the Rotary Club will attend the Oct. 2 meeting of the Detroit Rotary Club at the Statler-Hilton Hotel when the Tecumseh Club will be recognized as Club of the Week.

Mr. Greenwald will also attend a leadership forum at the Franklin High School in Livonia Saturday.

Fixed Millage Issue on Election Ballot

By BILL SANFORD

An added attraction for the voters in the November elections will be the choice of whether the county shall or shall not have fixed millage. The placing of the issue on the ballot is the result of several months maneuvering between school officials and the county Tax Allocation Board.

During the May meeting of the board, the county was given an increase of .7 mill for their operating budget for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

The additional millage was allotted from the school share of the county millage pie. The cut in school millage brought an uproar of protest from county educators. As a result the county was given an increase of .3 of a mill.

Also set afoot as a culmination of the dispute was the school officials' decision to seek fixed millage of 15, which is presently being collected. During a special meeting of the Tax Allocation Board in July, a request put to the board by John Keller, representing the Board of Supervisors, to increase the millage to 15.55.

Milton Porter and Charles Gross, representatives of the Intermediate School District and the Adrian Board of Education respectively, argued against the increase of .55. It was the contention, according to Gross, that any increase in the millage sought at the polls would endanger chances of passage of any is sue concerning fixed millage.

Under fixed millage the allocation board is done away with and each year, according to the split voted upon, the money is automatically divided and channeled into the coffers of the various townships, schools, county and intermediate school district. By such a proposal, it was felt by the schools, their basic millage needs for the coming year could be met in accordance with state law. The reduction in millage to some areas has in the past jeopardized the total revenue the schools receive from state aid payments.

Petitions by the school representatives were eventually filed with the county clerk prior to the September deadline. Patricia Johnston declared them void after errors were made in dates and circulation. She was upheld in her opinion by County Prosecutor Harvey Koselka and later by the state elections commission.

Engineers Plan Dam Inspection Here This Week

Representatives of an engineering firm in Pontiac will inspect the Globe Mill Pond dam site this week, according to Cal Zorn, city manager.

Council has asked the city manager to secure additional estimates in replacing the dam, washed out in the June flood. A previous estimate was $175,000.

Last week, Mr. Zorn met with a representative of the Water Resources Commission and was told to contact Congressman Marvin Esch, relative to obtaining Federal funds for replacing the dam.

New Home for Pizzaria

Tecumseh's west side will have a new restaurant beginning Oct. 4. It will be completely new, yet the name will be the same, House of Pizza. The name will be more apropo to the restaurant now, however, as the home of the favorite Italian dish of Americans will be moving into the former Charles Beland house on W. Chicago Blvd.

A complete remodeling of the house was necessary for Jack Pinter, the owner-operator of the pizzaria. Jack has owned the present establishment for six years. He also worked for two years at the restaurant before he purchased it.

Included in the menu at the new place will be steak, chicken, veal, fish and what Italian eating place would be complete without spaghetti? Jack, who makes his pizza from the dough to the sauce, will also make the spaghetti sauce from his own recipe.

Included in the atmosphere of the soon-to-be-opened eating place, will be a carpeted area with a fireplace to give off that romantic glow that should accompany the smells of spaghetti sauce, just right.

There will also be a regular dining area. Included with the other items on the menu will be hot dogs, hamburgers, milk and coffee to go along with the cuisine.

Jack is happy with his new building. He has many other ideas which he intends to incorporate into the House of Pizza. There will be ample parking outside.

While table service and an enlarged menu will serve his customers, new equipment will make the cooks' job easier in the kitchen.

House of Pizza will be closed from Sept. 29 to the Oct. 4 opening to allow the tenants to move their equipment and prepare the dishes for opening day. Jack also mentioned that delivery service will still be available along with all the other practices at the old establishment.

Up, Up and Away With Mrs. C. Cook

Mrs. Carlton Cook, 140 W. Brown St., will be among the contestants in Michigan's 13th annual SMALL aircraft race for women pilots Oct. 5 to be flown out of Ann Arbor Municipal Airport.

The event is sponsored by the Michigan Chapter of the Ninety-Nines (international organization of licensed women pilots.)

Mrs. Richard Jacobs, a member, is Mrs. Cook's instructor and Dr. Cook will be co-pilot for his wife in the race.

He received his license in May and Mrs. Cook was awarded hers in August.

"I can't quite believe it yet," the garden enthusiast, hospital auxiliary booster, housewife and mother of six said Wednesday morning.

"Carlton loves it but I had a lot more to overcome than he did. I was petrified," remarked Tecumseh's newest lady pilot.

The race is officiated by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission and is sanctioned by the National Aeronautics Association.

A round robin event of approximately 20 miles, the race starts and ends at Ann Arbor and includes at least two check points en route. The exact course is not revealed until each plane is impounded for the night before the race.

Women pilots may fly solo or be accompanied by a male or female co-pilot or passenger.

Prizes totaling $1,050 in cash and trophies for first through fifth will be awarded. The Paul Bunvan Traveling Trophy goes to the first place winner, who last year was Mrs. Sammy McKay of Flint.

Other trophies include the Charlotte Connelly Annual Trophy awarded to private pilot with the best score; the runner-up trophy for sixth place; for the 13th placer in the 13th race; and Violet M. Dixon trophy for best performance pilot and co-pilot with no higher rating that private, a new trophy to be awarded annually.

Ghetto Fear

The Rev. Ralph Parvin, minister of the Calvary Presbyterian Church in Ann Arbor, told with clarity and simplicity some of the conditions and feelings of the negro and poor, when he spoke to the Woman's Association of the Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Parvin mentioned employers and real estate agencies as two possible reasons why some people stay in the ghettos. Both groups act out of fear in protecting their own position when dealing with the poor and negro. He also said the layman does not get involved — he lets agencies do his "dirty work" for him.

The first and biggest help for these people would be through employment — try to help them get jobs.

The Rev. Parvin is chairman Help, Inc., in Ann Arbor, a group of 15 who give financial aid to deserving persons to help them purchase homes. "A person gains a great deal of pride in owning a home," he stated.

The Rev. Parvin noted that there had been much less violence this past summer. As in the case of the ADC mothers recently in Ann Arbor, he noted hopefully, they were willing to sit down and negotiate.

"When aiding these people, let love be the motive and justice be the method," he urged.

During the business meeting following, it was decided:

- ► To postpone the October dinner until spring.
- ► Sell dessert books this fall.
- ► Send Christmas boxes to the servicemen. Bessie Cook, chairman.
- ► Prepare Halloween Party for Lenawee Institute. Joyce Hopson and Jean Henning, co-chairmen.

Driver Hurt in Accident

Tecumseh police investigated only three accidents here the past week, but one involved personal injury and treatment at Herrick Hospital for a motorist.

Last Wednesday, Robert Hoag, 18, of 203 S. Oneida St., pulled out of Division St. into E. Chicago Blvd., and was struck by Thomas A. Vance, 24, of 9103 N. Union St.

Young Hoag was taken to the hospital for lacerations of the left arm, requiring four stitches, and x-rays. Vance also complained of pain in his left arm but had no visible injury.

On Thursday, Jerry O. Brown, 34, Adrian, made a U-turn on his tractor on Sunset Dr. and was hit by Lavern P. Munson, 42, Adrian. Brown was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

A winch on a truck, driven by Donald J. Wheeler, 21, Detroit, struck and damaged the canopy at the Harvey House Motel Thursday.

Water Pollution

Mrs. Kenneth Strack, a guest, and 16 members heard Jake McCaraaybee of the Adrian Sanitation Department, speak Sept. 20 at the Tecumseh Garden Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Neil Pearson.

Mr. McCaraaybee spoke on water pollution, saying that Lake Erie is "half dead and will be all dead" if something isn't done soon.

He said that new laws requiring small towns to have filtering plants should help and he urged a "Yes" vote on the bond issue in November.

Final plans for the District 2A Garden Club's annual meeting, held Sept. 25, at St. Peter's Church, were made.

Mrs. Arch Wray introduced the speaker. Mrs. Douglas Sisson and Mrs. Pearson served applesauce cake and tea.

County Unit TO Serve Area

The office of the Tecumseh Protective Service Program is being closed on W. Chicago Blvd.

Mrs. H. H. Hanna, director, will assume duties as girls' counselor at the Lenawee Youth Center.

The Children's Unit of the Lenawee County Department of Social Services have enlarged their program to provide like services for the entire county, including Tecumseh.

Mrs. Hanna stated Monday that during the two years the program has been operating in this city, the Protective Service has given direct and continuous service over varying periods of time to some 80 families involving the welfare of some 150 children.

"The Service covered only the Tecumseh School District and now that the county has expanded to include Tecumseh, relieving the case load of neglect, there just isn't enough work to maintain a separate office," Mrs. Hanna said.

The local program worked in the areas of pre-neglect and predelinquency.

Mrs. Hanna said that the Youth Parent Service Committee of some 20 residents under the presidency of the Rev. Blair Bashore, has decided not to disband, but stand ready to help where they can.

The Children's Unit of the Lenawee County Department of Social Services has added the following to its already existing service functions:

1. PROTECTIVE SERVICES — This is a specialized casework service on behalf of children who are neglected, abused, exploited or treated cruelly. The service is mainly preventative. A non-punitive approach, geared toward rehabilitation of the home, is used. Referrals are investigated as rapidly as possible and short-term case work services are offered. For extreme emergencies around the clock coverage has been established.

Referrals to the Protective Services Unit may be made in person, by telephone, or in writing. Anonymous referrals are discouraged. Referrals are accepted from schools, the public authorities and individual citizens. During the day time hours telephone calls may be directed to the Lenawee County Department of Social Services, Children's Unit, telephone number 265-8322.

2. DEPENDENCY AND NEGLECT — This unit, established in close and continuous cooperation with the Juvenile Division of the Probate Court of Lenawee County, deals mainly with the children who have already been adjudicated as neglected or dependent children. Though casework services and supervision are provided by the Dependency and Neglect Unit, the Probate Court of Lenawee County retains judicial responsibility of these cases.

Services provided by both the Protective Services Unit and the Dependency and Neglect Unit are on a county-wide basis.

Freshman 11 Smash Willow Run

The Tecumseh Freshman Football team picked up their second victory of the season last Thursday as they downed the Willow Run Freshmen, 32-13.

The Little Indians took the opening kickoff and marched 63 yards in eight plays for their first touchdown. Roger Ashenfelter carried the bulk of the load in the drive, Rick Bunch going over from the three for the tally.

After forcing Willow Run to punt, the Tribe was on the board again as Ashenfelter took a pitch out and raced 30 yards for the TD. The try for extra point failed.

The Indians made it 19-0 early in the second stanza as Bunch hit Sam Whitney with an 18-yard scoring pass. Dave Bird kicked the point.

Tecumseh put the game away with two third period touchdowns. Bunch and Ashenfelter each scored from three yards out, making the final score 32-13.

Fine blocking jobs were turned in by tackle Ken Brown, end Sam Whitney, wingback Dave Ryan and fullback Hugh Conklin.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Ever hear of good neighbor week? It's just been instituted by this columnist. Well, what would anyone do without good neighbors and to think that folk in the cities barely know the names of the people who live next door to them.

Having, all my life, been blessed with neighborly neighbors, it is difficult to imagine not being interrupted in the midst of some serious concentration to "come over for coffee or ice cubes."

And who takes care of all the little things, like your kids, your dog, your lonesome feeling when Pa goes fishing without you, your lawn mower when it refuses to start and a myriad of insignificant items and frequently some of great import have been solved for us by the folks next door.

This past Sunday, the "neighbors" were guests of Mrs. Albert Jahn, former Tecumseh resident, for breakfast, home-made pancakes, walnut coffee cake, bacon, sausage, eggs, the works as only she can serve it.

Funniest thing — late in the afternoon, some way the whole group migrated to the Dalton Stephenson residence for roast beef and chicken dinner, topped off with home-made ice cream — supervision of Aunt Martha, who, with Grandma Beckman, was up for an annual visit from Richmond, Ind.

We are sorry for those folk that do not know the thrill of pattering around on a Sunday morning in housecoat and slippers when gradually one after another the entire neighborhaad gathers on the back porch for coffee and conversation.

It pulls this crazy world back into proper perspective just to know that they care enough to know what you are doing and they are willing to help you with your project, whatever it is.

Would that the nations of the world would join in our "Be Kind to Your Neighbor Week."

Clinton Senior Class Presents 'State Fair'

CLINTON — "State Fair" is a comedy that has enchanted audiences for many years since it was first a play, then a Broadway musical by Rogers and Hammerstein, and then a movie, starring Pat Boone and Ann Margaret, and more recently on the TV screen.

The three-act play, "State Fair", by Luella McMahon and Christopher Sergel, will be presented next week by the senior class at Clinton High School.

Directed by Reginald Smith, the performances will be Thursday and Saturday nights, Oct. 3 and 5, at 8 p.m., in the high school auditorium. A dress rehearsal will be staged Wednesday night, Oct. 2. Karen Hull is the student director.

The hilarious humor develops from the Frake family, midwest farmers, who take a champion hog, "Blue Boy", to the state fair. The teen-age son and daughter leave their steadies at home and get involved with more sophisticated companions midst the midway hoopla.

The cast includes:

Storekeeper — Dave Hawkins.

Melissa Frake, farmer's wife — Karen Scoviac.

Farmer, Able Frake — John Steffens.

Son, Wayne Frake — Dwight McKenna.

Daughter, Margie Frake — Sally Beck.

Harry Ware, farm boy — Ron Rynd.

Eleanor, Wayne's girl — Nancy Bellmore.

Emily, other girl — Joanne Sharpe.

Pat Gilbert, newspaper reporter — Ron Hintz.

Mrs. Rollins, last year's pickle champion — Susie McDermott.

Barker — Bruce Grossman.

Indians Hit Airport Early for 19 to 0 League Win

Tecumseh opened its drive for the Huron League championship Friday night with a 19 to 0 victory over visiting Airport. The win evened the Indians' record for the year at 1-1.

The Indians started fast. With 7:49 left on the scoreboard clock, quarterback John Kennedy climaxed an 81-yard drive with a one yard sneak for the first TD. Big play in the drive was a Kennedy pass to Jim Hunt for 51 yards, with Hunt making a tremendous catch over his head.

Still in the first period, another Kennedy pass connected with Ken Pieh for the score, the play covering 17 yards and ended a march from Airport's 46.

Tecumseh's final score came with just a minute left in the third quarter with Hunt scooting the final seven yards around the Indians' left end on a pitchout from Kennedy.

Jack Greenfield set up the final score when he intercepted a Larry Swick pass on the 24 and returned it six yards to the 18. Pieh picked up eight yards, and two plays later, Hunt carried it in.

Although the victory was sweet for the Indians, the opposition was questionable. The Indians completely dominated the game simply by outcharging a sluggish, slow Jet line.

Airport's futility is apparent in the fact that the Jets did not record their first first down until midway in the third stanza, and their second at the 8:41 mark in the final quarter.

Overall, the visitors finished with just six first downs, two via Tecumseh penalties. The other four were gained through the air, with one on the ground.

Undoubtedly, the most significant part of the game for the Indians was the defense. The line stopped Airport's running game cold and put a tremendous rush on passer Swick, often throwing him for losses.

Airport had a minus 32 yards in rushing..

Swick threw 24 times and completed eight. Two were intercepted. Indians also threw him for losses on many occasions, although on one, when Jim Parros had him trapped in the first period, he illegally grounded the ball and was penalized.

Tecumseh picked up 10 first downs and gained 144 yards rushing. However, fumbles — nine during the game — plagued the Indians and were responsible in most of the 55 yards lost via rushing, leaving Tecumseh with 89 yards net on the ground.

In passing, John Kennedy connected on three of seven, good for 69 yards. He had one intercepted. Craig Smith hit on two of three for 12 yards. Hunt and Mike Kennedy each threw once but failed to complete.

Highlights of the game for the spectators must include:

► Tremendous pass-run play in the first quarter from John Kennedy to Hunt.

► Carlo Mobly throwing an Airport back for a six-yard loss in the opening quarter.

► Bruising tackle by Greenfield.

► Dave Laidlaw throwing Swick for an 18-yard loss just before the start of the fourth quarter.

One of several aspects of the game that Coach Fagan probably didn't like was the numerous penalties called against his club. Tecumseh had 10 infractions for 103 yards. The Jets were close behind with seven miscues for 75 yards.

Fumbles and the penalties probably stopped the Indians more than the Airport eleven.

Coach Cites 5 for Play

Coach Tom Fagan has cited five players for their outstanding play against Airport last week.

Jim Hunt has been designated as top offensive back of the week. He tallied one touchdown and through a tremendous catch on a pass from quarterback John Kennedy, set up another score.

Offensive lineman honors go to Carlo Mobley, tackle, who blocked well on several end runs by Hunt. The versatile Mobley also has been switched around from position to position, and played them all well, according to Fagan.

Jack Greenfield was picked for top linebacker. He clobbered an Airport back with a tackle, following a Tecumseh kickoff, and intercepted one pass.

Defensive lineman honors fall on Jim Parros, who, Fagan says, put on a tremendous rush on the passer and stopped the Jets' running game on his side of the line.

Sock It To 'Em, Tigers!

Tigers Scratch Redskins 33-0

By GINA GREEN

Clinton grid boss Ron Lynch saw his Redskins shut out for the second consecutive week in a game completely dominated by a strong Hudson team, Friday.

Statistics told the story as the Tigers piled up 322 yards on the ground to only 122 yards for the Redskin offense.

Hudson quarterback Rick Rodehaver passed for 80 yards, including a touchdown bomb to Terry Ireland. Clinton was able to chalk up 46 yards through the air with quarterback Jim Claus hitting on four out of 12 attempts, twice connecting with junior end, Mark Wegner.

Dave Warner, Jim Swiegert, Ireland, and Rodehaver led the Tiger ground attack. Warner tallied two touchdowns, and Ireland, Rodehaver and Swiegert each found the end zone once.

Tom Moore was the Redskins' leading ground gainer, picking up 48 yards on nine rushing attemps. Senior linebacker Dennis Kime was Clinton's defensive standout with 16 tackles to his credit.

Rams Here Friday Night

Flat Rock, 0-2 for the season, visits here Friday night when the Tecumseh Indians hope to score their second straight Huron League victory.

The Rams, beaten in the opener by Monroe CC on a safety, lost last week to Monroe Jefferson, 14-7. Coaches here feel the Rams were down after their opening loss.

Flat Rock's Jim Martin, quarterback, is 6'2" and is rated the top passer in the Monroe area. The 190-pounder is rated not only a better-than-average passer but is also a highly respected runner.

Coach Tom Fagan says the Indians expect the Rams to throw a lot, despite boasting a backfield of 180 and 190-pounders who can move with the ball.

Pass and Kick In Competition

All young future football "stars" are invited to begin registering for the eighth annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition. Headquarters for the future quarterback-kickers is the Tecumseh Community Center, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 26 and 27.

The contest will be held Oct. 12 at the Athletic Field.

The competition is locally sponsored by George's Motor Sales of Clinton and conducted through the auspices of the Tecumseh Jaycees.

Letters To the Editor

To The Editor:

I have read many articles in your paper about the youth of the community as to how bad or how good they are. Also, over the years, I have heard many of Tecumseh's fine citizens make the statement, "We don't have any bad kids in Tecumseh. They are all from out of town."

Well, don't you believe it. Every community has a few and Tecumseh is no different.

I have had the sad experience of visiting several of our community's young people in the county jail, juvenile home and in my home.

It is easy for parents to drop the youngsters off at the movie (which is no longer available) or let them run loose while they go about their social life.

The youth of today need more and better examples and fewer critics.

We must remember, the youth of today will decide what the future of our community and country will be. I have a great deal of faith and trust in them but they need all of the help and guidance the community can give them.

I spent a week's vacation with my family at the Wilfred Waldron (my fine in-laws) cottage at Sand Lake. My young son Mark volunteered my services to chaperon the Tecumseh Teen Club dance at the Community Center.

I was invited to attend the meeting of the officers of the Teen Club prior to the dance and enjoyed hearing and sharing in their plans for September.

I noticed that some of the rules of the Teen Club are not being enforced. The main one being that once the teen pays and enters the building, he cannot leave and come back.

I know it gets hot in the building. In fact, the youngsters worked up a good sweat without any of the fast foot work.

I could notice and feel the effects of the heat.

While chaperoning this dance, I did not allow anyone to leave and come back. I had only two youngsters give me a bad time. The others accepted as I told them the rules were set up by the Teen Club Legislature and I was only helping to enforce them.

During the dance, a few groups were hanging around outside the building and some drinking was going on.

Ray Schlagel and his wife were also on hand during the evening. He found a beer bottle between two cars which he emptied and put back.

It is this group of kids that can cause trouble when anyone is allowed to leave the dance and return.

Are they local youngsters? Yes!

I had a good discussion about this with a fine young man, Sam Brooks, president of The Teen Club.

After attending the meeting of the officers of The Teen Club, and the dance, I was very much disturbed at the evident lack of interest on the part of the community and service clubs.

Who am I to criticize?

In 1951 I sought to start a Teen Club because so many of our young people in Tecumseh complained of nothing to do after the sidewalks were rolled up at 8 p.m.

In the fall of 1953 The Teen Club was founded. There have been many organizations and people that have helped to keep things going over the years, but I believe the only reason for its continued success is the fact that the teens run the show, with adult leadership.

It is about to start on its 16th year. I, along with others have spent many, many hours with our kids over the years to help them keep a good thing going.

To me, time is much more precious than money, and our teenagers, good or bad, need and want more of our time than our money.

The Teen Club has a Constitution and By-Laws by which it is governed. It is run by the young people with help from Darlene Moore, advisor for over two and one-half years.

I know she has had to put a lot of time and effort into the operation of this club.

The Constitution calls for advisors from four of the community service clubs: Exchange, Rotary, Jaycees and Kiwanis. The chairman of the youth committee of each club is usually appointed to this position.

These clubs have done a fine job over the years but I find that communications have broken down along the line, as they are not doing their job.

A member of the Jaycees was to be at the door the night I was there and he never showed up. And yet, it seems as though every time a service club puts on a money raising project, the big theme is "For Youth Work."

Now, what are you going to do for the youth of Tecumseh to help them help themselves?

I suggest you list your talents and then offer them to The Teen Club or Parks and Recreation.

Set a night of your time aside to help lead or direct a group of young people. This could be one of the best investments you have ever made. Maybe you could teach boxing, set up grudge fights, teach clean fighting, parting friends, weight lifting, wrestling, sing-ins, Teen Town Hall meetings with speakers on subjects of the day and of interest to teens.

I feel there is one thing that is badly needed in Tecumseh—a Teen Drop-In Center where they can have a soft drink and "chew the fat" with their friends. Where can they go now?

It could be open after school for about 1½ hours and on Sunday afternoons.

I could lose some friends on this suggestion, but I think the best location for this would be at the Episcopal Church. It is located near the schools and downtown.

I could go on but I better not.

Yes, it would take a little money, but most of all, much of your precious time.

Come on, Citizens of Tecumseh, use your God-given talents and time to help your young people help themselves.

Many of you have expressed your concern. Why not follow through with some action?

A concerned friend of our youth,
John H. Hamilton,

To The Editor:

We spent the month of August at Sand Lake and a complimentary copy of your paper was left on our porch each week which we enjoyed very much and wish to thank you for this.

In the issue of Aug. 22, there was a letter from a boy in Vietnam by the name of Russell Slick, HM2, asking for help from any organization in your territory, for an orphanage in which he was working.

Could you tell me of or put me in touch with any organization that is responding to this call?

I brought this letter home with me and it was read at our September Mission Circle meeting and we would like to help out a little in this matter. We are a Mission Circle of the Greenview United Church of Christ on RR No. 3, Sidney, Ohio. It is a small rural church ad we are not able to do much alone but thought we might add our bit to contributions of some other society who would be answering this call for help, if we could get in touch with them.

We would thank you very much if you would do this for us and please find enclosed a self-addressed stamped envelope for reply at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Alva Hageman

River Raisin Foe Downed By Tories

BRITTON — The Britton Tories gave Erie-Mason a rousing initiation into the River Raisin League Friday night when they downed the favored Class B school by the score of 19-7, before a capacity crowd.

The win puts the Tories record at 1-1, and 1-0 in the league.

"Determination was the key factor in the win," stated Coach Paul Palka. "These guys could have given up in the third period when Erie-Mason tied the score, but they kept right on fighting for the win. The whole team was pulling together."

At half-time, Britton had a total of 144 yards rushing, while Erie-Mason had a minus 10. And Britton had eight first downs to none for Erie-Mason.

Britton scored in the second quarter on a run by Jim Lister. Erie-Mason evened it up in the third quarter with a run by Rojnoski, but the Tories scored again in the third, and fourth quarters on runs by Jim Skelton after passes from Jim Brown.

"Bob Warren and Craig Reedy were standouts on defense, as well as Dick Schroeder, Rick Brown and Mark Vallie," commented Palka. "Offensively, the running of Jim Lister and Dan Warren was great. But everyone contributed to the win."

The Tories meet Boysville Friday night, which could be anybody's game. The Fighting Knights tied with Deerfield, 6-6, in their league opener last week.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's!

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today.

But let us ask you this.

Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive?

Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button?

Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V8 in its field?

Some people think so.

'69 Caprice Coupe

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

'69 Camaro SS Sport Coupe, plus RS equipment

Camaro. Who needs to say "announcing" or "new".

The Hugger.

We've improved the interior, too. Quieted the ride. Made the Astro Ventilation ventilate better.

The power range is very impressive.

Standard V8 is 210 hp. SS engines available up to 325 hp. For added SS appeal: sport striping; power disc brakes; wide oval, road-hugging tires.

Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice:

Go on, you other sportsters. Gnash your gears and look tough.

Maybe it will help.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

CHEVROLET

Off The Top

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

At last, I've found a kindred spirit in Mrs. Coreen Pool, who wrote that entertaining Letter to the Editor in last week's Herald. (In case you missed it, let's hope you didn't wrap up the garbage in the last issue — run and find it.) Mrs. Pool has restored my self-confidence — I was beginning to think I was the only one who was so forgetful.

But, really, Mrs. Pool, forget your baby? That beats anything I've ever done, and I've pulled a few boners!

Speaking of getting organized, when I'm asked how I plan my work, my reply is "I just get up in the morning (the biggest job of the day), have some coffee to get those sleepy eyes open, then I check the dirty clothes hamper, the bag of ironing, and the cookie jar, and decide which needs attention the most."

* * *

At last I finally accomplished one job which has been hanging over my head since last April, when my two sons thoughtfully purchased 12 yards of green burlap for me to sew up into draperies for their pool room out in the garage. (If I had had daughters first instead of sons, they could have done their own sewing; but this is a mistake which cannot be corrected now.)

Every time I nagged the boys about chores they left unfinished, they would counter with, "When are you going to make our drapes?"

I've shut them up for now, as the drapes are all sewed and up, but I keep wondering what they will think of next. And I probably won't have to wait long to find out.

* * *

I'm thinking of dieting again, (I spend a lot of time thinking about it,) after a ridiculous situation a couple of weeks ago. While lunching at a cafeteria with some friends, I smugly helped myself to saccharin tablets instead of sugar for my coffee. But then further along the line, I picked up a big chunk of chocolate cream pie. That's being penny wise and pound foolish, isn't it?

* * *

"Where was your column last week?" asked our favorite checkout gal, Marilyn Ries, as I went through the line.

"You sound just like my boss," was my reply. "Some weeks it's just hard to see the funny side of life, when your eldest moves back to college, leaving that painfully neat bedroom and empty closet; and the muffler falls off the boy's car; and a favorite nephew is leaving for overseas duty; and you discover they are teaching your fifth grade daughter New Math, and you had enough trouble with the Old Math."

Even a quarter-acre lot provides its share of upkeeping problems as our sons, weary of all the lawn-mowing this rainy summer, keep complaining. But when it's time to put the lawn mower away, the autumn leaves start to fall, and have to be raked. You can't win, boys. After that, there'll be snow to shovel. Would you believe there are only three months until Christmas?

* * *

Sometimes when duties or problems seem to be just too much, the best thing to do is to stretch out on the davenport and forget it all for awhile. The only trouble with that is, you get a better view of the cobwebs that you should have brushed down!

District Nurses Hear Mrs. Lavern Moll

Mrs. Lavern Moll summarized her attendance at the American Nurses Association Convention held in Dallas, Tex., in May, for the meeting of the Lenawee District Nurses Association, Thursday.

The meeting, attended by 26 members, was held in the Lenawee Youth Center, Adrian.

Mrs. Moll reviewed some of the positions the American Nurses Association has taken regarding controversial issues of our times. She attended the convention as a representative of the Michigan Nurses Association. Lenawee County was also represented by Mrs. Journey Stoner, President of the District Association.

Howard Osterling Principal of Recreation and Education at the Youth Center, was the speaker. He explained the administrative and physical set-up at the center. With the use of slides, he illustrated the process by which a boy (or girl) is admitted, retained, guided and released there.

Mr. Osterling emphasized the importance of a one-to-one relationship with the youths, for many, this is the first chance they have to know that someone is interested in them. Community support is another important factor, both in donations of money and materials, as well as donations of time and interest.

At the business meeting, Lenawee Nurses are asked to support the Michigan Nurses Association Building Fund.

Cake and coffee were served by the officers.

The Oct. 17 meeting will be held at the Addison Community Hospital at 7:30 p.m.

A New Challenge In Education

By BILL SANFORD

Complaints are often heard about the American system of education. While some of these complaints have been valid, it has also been evident that little resource has been applied to rectify any shortcomings in the field of education in general and a vocational education in particular.

In Lenawee county beginning this year with the passage of a 1.5-mill issue last June 10, a new system of education for high school students has began to offer more opportunity to the student in employment in the fields which are evident daily in the average life.

Students now enrolled in the Lenawee Vocational - Technical training curriculum are finding that chances for basic employment beyond high school are being enhanced by workable ideas in education. The present pilot programs which are being offered are the amoeba of what many feel will be an innovator in the field of vocational education.

South of Tecumseh on Occidental Hwy., building trades are being taught to students from Tecumseh, Britton, Clinton and other area schools located in the eastern half of the county.

The students are building a new home from basement to roof. The house, when completed, will carry a valuation of nearly $30,000.

While the house is being built to be sold on the real estate market, the profit will be nullified by the fact that students are taught to build the houses properly and are not allowed to patch up errors in measurements and such. Replacement with new materials is a requirement.

In Adrian at the Lenawee Auto Skill Center, students are preparing for employment in auto mechanics. With increased sales of automobiles this field each year offers new opportunity for those interested.

Also included in the teachings at the Skill Center are giving the student an opportunity to learn the ordering and purchase of parts and equipment, figuring money and working with the public. The classes at the center have shown a need for this type exposure of the students working with people. The new instructions which are being received at the center the youth are learning added responsibilities which would otherwise be overlooked in a classroom on a lesser scope.

While the one presently in operation in Adrian has many flaws and lacks some of the basic materials with which to teach, James Brown, principal of the Lenawee Intermediate School District Vocational Education, has received bids on much more needed items to give the students a well-rounded introduction and application to automotive skills.

The Auto Skill Center is slated for 15 students in three two-hour classes per day. However, there are 17 in the classes now and many more of the 90 that sought places in the classes had to be rejected due to the lack of facilities.

There is a great deal of enthusiasm among the staff which operate, administrate and coordinate the programs which have been initiated this year. The lack of adequate facilities has not dampened their spirits.

Much of the funds which are being spent at the present on teaching aids and equipment used in training are being reimbursed by the state and federal government on a 50 percent matching fund basis.

Also incorporated into this year's inaugural steps toward an Area Vocational - Technical Center, is a machine shop at Adrian High School. The city school had the most adequate shop for teaching machine skills to the junior and senior students interested in that field, therefore the county made arrangements to lease the shop from the city schools to be used by students from all areas of the county.

Although the shop is located at the Senior High School, Adrian is not represented by a higher ration of students than any other of the county's districts and Catholic Central in Adrian.

The Adrian district is the operating district of the vocational training program for the county, as is provided by law that the largest district maintains the authority over it, combined with an advisory committee made up of members of all faucets of the community.

Data processing is taught at the Intermediate School District offices in the former Birdsall School. The IBM machine used in instruction serves as the bookkeeping brain for the county school systems as well as a place for those students interested in key punch and programming of IBM machines.

Another area of employment being taught is a course in Industrial Drafting, classrooms are being used at Madison School for instruction. At present equipment for this phase of vocational education is being ordered and progress lies somewhat behind the other courses. Enrollment in this area is also down from the other offerings of the educational program.

Two hundred and twenty students are participating in Cooperative Occupational Training. Employers hire the "coop" students on a basis of working a certain number of hours for pay and a certain amount of time spent in learning the phase of business or industry to which they have applied themselves.

A grant from the Archdiocese of Detroit to the Vocational program promotes the Neighborhood Youth Corps. Work experience is the valuable asset within the program. About 40 youths are involved at the present and William Ross, vocational director for the county and Adrian Public Schools, hopes to have about 80 young pearsons involved next summer with an expected increase in the grant from the Catholic Diocese.

The students who participate in the youth corps work for nonprofit organizations, such as hospitals and areas of charitable institutions. The students are paid from the grant.

With the millage passed and the money to be collected on the tax rolls by the county, combined with expected federal funds, the only item of concern at present is a site for the Area Center. Several sites were considered by the Citizens' Advisory Committee and turned down due to the high costs of land purchase. One plot of ground the owners asked $10,000 per acre from the group, another sought $4,000 per acre if the school would purchase 54 acres, to purchase less the price tag would be hiked accordingly.

In touring the various classrooms and workshops of the new idea in education the great majority of the students are taking to the job of finding a way to become employable after high school. The older concepts of education are slowly becoming a part of the past. With an increase in the offerings of the new program, the public will be rewarded from the 1.5 mills voted on last June many times over.

More and better auto mechanics, an increase in young people interested in building and participating in community growth. In a day of protest, this sort of program provides a way of giving the student a new way of viewing his future. It is less hopeless somehow to know that employment is available and that they have a skill to perform it.

Village's Oldest Store Passes From Scene

CLINTON — Schott's Shoes, 116 W. Michigan Ave., is going out of business. With its closing, the village's oldest continuous business will pass from the scene.

At this same location, more than 80 years ago, Fred Tag operated his shoe store in another small building.

Fred Tag's daughter, Mrs. Fred Kaiser, doesn't recall just how long her father had been in business there before she was born, over 80 years ago. She remembered that he built the present building in 1901, and with his son, George Tag, continued to operate the Tag & Kaiser Shoe Store for many years. Later Fred Tag sold the business to his son-in-law, Fred Kaiser, who operated it until his retirement.

More than 15 years ago, the shoe business was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Merritt, now of Tecumseh, who sold out to Herbert Schott about ten years ago.

Because of the illness of his wife, Herb Schott will close out his men's clothing and shoe stock in the next few months before the end of the year. He'll be sorely missed for his active participation in Chamber of Commerce and civic projects.

On the brighter side — during recent weeks, several new businesses have blossomed along Clinton's main street.

The theater, now called Cinema I, has reopened to the delight of youngsters and their parents. The Alton Emerines have just opened their Lock, Stock and Barrel Antique & Gift boutique. Steve's Restaurant is now located in the Clintonian Arms apartment hotel.

Just last week a new Boron service station opened replacing the worn out relics of the past which had occupied Clinton's main corner for too many years.

Soon the Village Pizzaria will occupy the former restaurant building at the west end of the business block.

Work progresses on a car-wash business which is being constructed in the former Sinclair station on E. Michigan Ave.

Several new houses are scheduled for Pleasant Valley subdivision at the east end of the village, and a new street has recently been surfaced there.

Construction has begun on the second Carlton apartment house on Kehoe Rd., in Clinton Heights subdivision.

At the west edge of the village, earth movers have started clearing brush and filling in the former mill race in preparation for the mobile home park to be constructed by River Raisin Clinton Corp.

Sewer and water lines are being installed along Kehoe Rd., where many trees have been removed near the village limits, in readiness for the site of the new high school.

All this testifies to the fact that Clinton is an alive and growing community.

Trina Mattis and Robert Saul Recite Vows

CLINTON — Trina Ann Mattis and Robert John Saul recited their marriage vows at a 4 p.m. candlelight nuptial mass in St. Dominic's Catholic Church, Saturday, before the Rev. Fr. Joseph Noelke.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merval Mattis, 601 Jackson St. and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ernest Barron of LaSalle and the late Rollin Saul.

Hurricane lamps marked the pews and flanked the altar which was graced with bouquets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an empire gown of white ottoman with a rounded neckline and long sleeves ending in flared cuffs. Appliqued flowers highlighted the center bodice and were scattered on the chapel length train. Fabric beading accented the neckline and edged the train.

A lace cluster held the bride's bouffant cathedral-length veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of stephanotis and baby breath entwined with a rosary, a gift of the bride's godmother.

The bridal attendants were maid of honor, Melissa Mattis, bridesmaid Merleen Mattis, sister of the bride and bridesmaid, Judy Robison, of Tecumseh.

The attendants were gowned alike in colonial-styled rose-pink moire taffeta with high necklines and long sleeves, edged in matching ruffles. Cranberry velvet edged the wide cummerbunds and covered the buttons in the back.

The attendants wore floor length veils of rose illusion held by fresh rose and pink carnations. They carried colonial nosegays of cranberry miniature carnations and pink Sensation roses outlined with baby's breath.

The altar boys were James Mattis, brother of the bride, and Randolph Doom of LaSalle, cousin of the groom.

Cousins of the groom, Martha and David Doom were the flower girl and ring bearer.

Guests were seated by Ronald Bohaczenk of Perrysburg, Ohio, cousin of the groom; and Kenneth McGuire of Palmyra, cousin of the bride.

Mr. ad Mrs. Waldo Ehnis were host at the reception dinner which followed at the American Legion Hall, Saline.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Andrew Staib of Manchester and great-uncle Lester Rogers of Tecumseh, were among the 250 guests who came from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Adrian, Frankenmuth, Detroit and Monroe.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Clinton High School, attended Ferris State College, and is a 1967 graduate of Cleary College.

Mr. Saul is a graduate of Monroe High School and Ferris State College and is employed as a draftsman at Toledo Scale, Toledo.

Following a wedding trip in the Western States, for two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Saul will reside at 4752 S. Otter Creek Rd., LaSalle.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barron hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Country House, Friday evening.

ROGER A. SCHEUERMAN (left), Adrian, and ROBERT CAMBURN, Tecumseh, of Adrian Federal are the two men who appraise your home for financing purposes. Both know Lenawee County and parts of Hillsdale County like a book because of their work. Working with builders on new home construction is a real enjoyment, Roger and Bob say. Another good feeling is to observe the neatness of a home which is being appraised for sale. Mr. Scheuerman is a native of Toledo and has been appraising since 1963. Mr. Camburn, a native of Tecumseh who now lives in Macon, has been appraising homes since 1965. Both are Army veterans. do pennies make a difference in your food bill?

You bet they do.
And we should know.
We built our business by saving pennies for generations of folks like you.

For instance, take our policy on multiple-priced items.

If an item is priced 3 for 25¢, the price for one is obviously 9¢.
But what happens if you want two?
Do you pay 2 times 9¢ or 18¢?
Not at A&P.
We sell it at 2 for 17¢.
That's the fair way—the A&P way.

Yes, in the food business... in food budgeting, pennies make a difference.
We watch them for you and for us.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

TIPTON TOPICS

By LILLIAN LUCE

The Tipton PTO will hold its first meeting Monday, Sept. 30. This will be a "get acquainted" meeting with classrooms being opened for parents to visit and meet the teachers from 7 to 7:30 p.m. A business meeting will follow.

Mrs. George Furry has returned to San Diego, Calif., after a 10-day visit with her mother, Mrs. Howard Mattis and daughter, Mrs. Barbara Bailey and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bailey of Eau Claire, were Sunday guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Max Bailey.

Mrs. Kathryn Tucker spent last week in Plymouth, O., with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Carter, and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carter and son, Phillip, spent the weekend camping at Bruin Lake State Park camp ground in the Pinckney area.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ries and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith recently returned after touring [illegible] lowstone National Park and other points of interest in that area.

Board Candidate Raises Questions

"Are sewers more important than schools?" Barbara Dumouchelle, candidate for the State Board of Education, raised this question in a meeting with the Wayne County Intermediate School Board Wednesday, September 25. In her discussion of schools and their problems, Mrs. Dumouchelle commented that the Drain Commissioner had the power to restrict additional building in an area with inadequate sewer service but that it seemed no agency could even warn a community that a new subdivision might overburden a school system.

The State School District Reorganization Committee, of which Mrs. Dumouchelle was appointed to by Governor Romney, has been active since 1964 trying to put enough children and tax dollars together in local school districts to insure adequate K-12 education. "As a former teacher, I can appreciate teachers' concern with non-economic factors that determine effectiveness" said Mrs. Dumouchelle, "and as a mother, I share parents' concern about busing, half-days, and closed schools."

United Fund Goals

The Lenawee County United Fund, holding to minimal budget requests for all of its agencies, today announced a goal of $243,200 for the 1968-69 campaign beginning in the near future.

Mrs. Bernard Patmos, president of the County United Fund, said the budget committee had given especially close consideration to all requests in an effort to develop a proper goal in light of the needs of the agencies. The goal represents a slight increase from the $207,000.00 raised during last year's campaign.

The Lenawee County United Fund supports 10 county-wide agencies, 38 agencies assisted through the Michigan United Fund, local community projects in communities throughout the county, and a campaign organization which conducts the annual fund drive.

Eighty percent of the money raised in the campaign stays in the county, and the other 20 percent would be returned many times over from state and national agencies in case of a local disaster, such as the Palm Sunday tornado, Mrs. Patmos pointed out.

The agencies, and the breakdown of their share of the United Fund campaign goal, is as follows:

- American Red Cross, $25,000.
- Associated Charities, $10,000.
- Boy Scouts of America, $18,500.
- Camp Fire Girls, $15,000.
- Catholic Social Services, $16,400.
- Family Counseling Services, $22,800.
- Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, $3,800.
- Irish Hills Girl Scout Council, $8,000.
- Salvation Army, $12,800.
- Lenawee County YMCA, $29,200.
- County Town Allocations, $13,400.
- Michigan United Fund, $20,700.
- United Campaign, $15,200.
- Allowance for deaths and removals, $13,200.
- United Fund administration, $20,000.

Don't Tear Down the House

It is almost impossible for a mortal to pinpoint just exactly where America went wrong. But, according to what has happened in the past few months, something has. .

There seems to be a hatred against the very virtues for which people founded the country.

So the question arises..

Do we leave her as we find her or do we tear down and start all over again?

Last Friday night on television was a program written by Rod Serling, and produced as the initial showing in a series named, "On Stage," by NBC.

It was a shallow study of the American political scene. There wasn't time to explore the spectrum in depths.

One could sense the memories of Thomas Dodd while watching it. The concluding scene brought together the young and the old.

The old politician of the play had just been censored by the house of representatives for misconduct and accepting money. The young had blown the whistle on him, so to speak.

The young assistant was typical of today's young, and their thinking of political stress in America — the impatience with change and the time it takes.

Van Heflin, who had the lead in the Serling drama, spoke at the end of the play the words, "You young men are dismayed by the length of time required for a change — but don't tear down the institution by which you can make those changes. Keep it living.

"Don't tear down the house of government because a handful of men are unworthy of being under its roof."

This soliloquy could be called a canned cliche, meaningless in the face of the needed changes. However, the tearing down of the institution will not insure that the ills of this nation will be cured.

To remove the instruments of justice and law and freedom of individual thought in the hopes of redistributing it within the confines of one's own concept of justice is a fraudulent hope and a dangerous one.

On the way to work this morning, a group of young men were preparing to leave for the military. There were no placards of protest, no screaming of dissent, only partings. Quiet partings between young men and young women with whole lives to look forward to. And there were parents. Fathers who had once stepped on another bus to go to other forsaken places no one had ever heard of before. And there were mothers who had also stood as young girls and said goodbye to someone they did not want to say goodbye to.

There was quiet pride on the corner of Toledo St. and N. Broad. Quiet pride and bewilderment and confusion which is sending young men away. It is the simple fact that men, no matter what the nation, seek to destroy for the sheer sake of destroying, cross borders and seek land not to acquire new territory, but to conquer men and enslave them.

The process of government is slow and tedious, I admit. It is hopelessly bound-in rules. But to tear down that institution in hopes of finding a better one in the rubble is a hoax.

The real crux and the real truth to our whole situation is— so many people feel badly for the boys who have to go fight in a war, hate the idea and want them returned. Protest the war till kingdom come and yet, when one has to go, and they do have to go, none of these so-called supporters will not even give them a cup of coffee or a doughnut when it is inevitable for them to go.

Give them something to remind them that they are human beings. Young human beings caught in circumstances they don't understand and cannot control.

Instead they are becoming more and more not 600,000 individuals, but 600,000 political entities that license the peaceniks to apply their own tyranny to an institution [illegible] long to a handful of people, but 180 million, including 600,000 entities and their forgotten blood.

And that is a crime.

Dinner Meeting At Evans Lake

MACON — Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sturdevant of Ridgeway, entertained the Macon Community Club, Tuesday. It was at the Sturdevant-Frayer cottage on Evans Lake.

Following a fried chicken dinner, Mrs. H. F. Moore opened the meeting by reading "God Spilled A Rainbow." Since this was the first meeting since April several things were discussed. The group voted to continue having meetings. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton, Sr., invited the club to their home in October.

Cards were signed for Mrs. Mabel Burleson, Mrs. Clare Cambum, May Baker and Ray Gilmore, shut-in members. In memory of the recent deceased members of the club, Mrs. Gertrude Birdsall and Elmer Pocklington, a tribute was given by Mrs. Ralph Halladay. She also read a poem she had composed for Mr. Pocklington several years ago. Ray Hendershot told of the "Three Signs of Old Age."

The meeting closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer.

New Books

BEST SHORT STORIES BY NEGRO WRITERS, Langston Huches. Some of the stories are comic, some are savage, some are heartwarming, and others despairing. They are not only some of the best work by Negro writers they also represent a social history of the American Negro from 1899 to the present.

COLLECTED POEMS OF DYLAN THOMAS. This definitive collection contains all of the poems which Thomas himself wished to preserve.

MISSION IN BLACK, by Gordon Cotler. A beautifully-written spy novel in which the action and suspense are shaped as much from what people are as from what they are doing. Long after the hero has left, the reader will hear echoes of some questions each man who lives in our times must ask himself.

SMOKE ON THE MOUNTAIN, Ellen Crain. A memorial novel set in the primeval beauty of the Great Smoky Mountains about a very old woman who could accept pain and hardship, but not defeat. Woven into the novel are folktales of the mountain people.

DIARY OF AN OLD MAN, by Chaim Bermant. The Everyday events which are recounted — keeping warm, finding lodging, cooking, reading the papers in the local library — conceal an extraordinary feat of imagination of the author as he shows one month in an elderly man's life.

TRAITOR GAME, the first political assassination in Canada for a hundred years makes an excellent suspense story by Dougal McLeish. However, was it really political? Read the book and find the answers.

BETRAYAL, a devastating report on the sabotage of our "other war" in Southeats Asia by corruption, mismanagement, and a positive program for a way out. Written by a tough Marine officer, William R. Corson.

Host Supper

The Senior High Methodist Youth will host an all-church potluck supper Sunday evening at the United Methodist Church, followed by a showing of slides of their summer trip.

A group of 16 youth and four chaperons visited Indian Missions in Oklahoma and New Mexico and other parts of the western states, camping all the way.

Another missionary work project is being planned for next summer and the young people are beginning to start their fund-raising.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meads, advisors, are helping by holding a rummage sale at their home, 211 N. Maumee.

Mrs. Meads said that rummage could be delivered there any time this week. The sale will start Sept. 28 and continue until everything is sold.

They expect items to come in daily.

Through My Window

STORY OF THE MONARCH BUTTERFLY

A drastic cold snap between the time I am dictating this and the day it is read will end most of the activity. But, whether it is still going on or just a happy memory, hasn't this been a great year for butterflies!

I am not sure that I ever remember seeing so many. In all colors and in all sizes — they are so very, very lovely.

Before going further, let's take care of the question which is just bound to be asked — what is the difference between a butterfly and a moth?

Actually, there are no specific rules, but usually — butterflies do not spin cocoons, when they're resting, their wings are held together overhead; they are brilliantly colored, and they are active during the day.

Whereas moths prefer deep shadows, dusk or even nighttime; are much less flamboyantly colored; have fatter bodies and lacier antenna; hold their wings outspread; and they do spin cocoons.

★

A NICE COINCIDENCE has happened. As I watch the big orange and black Monarch butterfly flutter outside my window, a most charming and readable book about these beauties is propped on my reading table.

There are more than 140,000 known species of butterflies and moths and well over half are recognized only from adult specimen.

But Jo Brewer has encyclopedic knowledge about her Monarchs.

On the underside of a milkweed leaf is a tiny droplet of white, which looks much like a creamy ooze of sap. This is the start of a Monarch.

In three days, a tiny speck, barely two millimeters in length, chews through the shell.

A black head and a putty-colored body appears which is covered with microscopically small hairs. This worm-type thing nibbles on the fuzz of the milkweed leaf.

In the first 24 hours, he consumes his own weight in milkweed fuzz and leaf. His body darkens and is banded by nine brown stripes.

In three days, he doubles in size and is ready to molt.

Almost three hours are needed for this first shedding of skin — not what could be called a quick-change artist.

Now his body is white with pale yellow and dull black bands. Three days of eating, perhaps on the original nursery leaf, and it is time for another change of skin.

At this stage, his chalky white body shows stripes of glossy black and bright yellow. He also turns into a true trencherman. After devouring leaves on one plant, goes to another — though he always restricts himself to milkweed.

★

AFTER FIVE DAYS and nights of almost continuous eating, and having grown to more than 50 millimeters in length, he is now ready for another change. This is a major one, too.

The green glob which wiggles from the old skin bears no resemblance to the caterpillar he was. By morning the change into the chrysalis is complete.

Now things happen quickly. The blue becomes a glistening black and inside the hard shell our Monarch is beginning to move.

Approximately eight minutes after the first crack appears, the butterfly, in all his orange and black glory, is free to embark on his final and greatest adventure.

Free, that is, except for one final hour of waiting. The strong wings which attract my attention as he flutters by my window, must [illegible].

So it is that next week we shall continue, with a deep thanks to Jo Brewer and her "Wings in the Meadow", our story of the Monarch butterfly.

August Declines In Steel Output

Output of raw steel in August totaled 8,906,000 net tons based on preliminary figures reported by American Iron and Steel Institute. August production compares with 11,452,000 tons in July 1968 and 10,300,000 tons in August 1967.

The decline in August production follows in the wake of hedge buying and record imports which totaled 9.7 million tons through the first seven months of the year as the steel industry negotiated a new labor contract with the union.

In the first eight months of this year, domestic furnaces melted a record 93,945,000 net tons, compared with 82,059,000 tons in the like period of 1967 and with the previous record of 93,490,000 tons in 1965.

"Blood, the Magic Gift of Life"

"Blood, the indispensible fluid — something to remember when the Bloodmobile comes to Tecumseh Oct. 2," Mrs. Dyke Helms, general chairman, stated.

"During the next year, one out of every 80 persons in the United States will have a transfusion. In this year, between five and six million pints of blood — or 10 pints a minute — will be needed throughout the country," she said.

"The use of blood to save human lives is one of the world's greatest discoveries. Because of blood and its various derivatives, thousands of people are alive today after serious accidents or illnesses and after major operations; many could not have survived if blood, from another human, had not been available," the chairman continued.

"Blood is the magic gift of life. There can be no substitute for it. It can come only from human donors," Mrs. Helms urged residents to donate.

Procedures to be taken when blood is used outside the home region.

► It is the responsibility of the regional resident or his family to notify the local Red Cross chapter when he is hospitalized and receives blood in a hospital outside the region.

► His local chapter will, in turn, advise the regional blood center in Lansing so that proper authority can be established with the hospital concerned.

► The hospital will inform the regional blood center concerning the amount of blood used, type requested, and shipment will be made.

► The Regional Blood Center will replace all the blood actually used by any resident of the Regional Territory when acceptable by the hospital.

► Any resident of our Region may donate blood to replace that used by any person living and hospitalized outside his home Region. The designation is to be made at the time blood is donated.

The amount of blood used in Lenawee County from July 1, 1967, to June 30, 1968, was 3555 pints, the amount donated was 3845 pints, short 710 pints.

Tecumseh's population is almost 10,000 and at the last Bloodmobile visit in March only 77 pints of blood were donated.

"Tecumseh is not donating its share of the amount of blood used in our area," says Mrs. Helms. She urges Tecumseh residents to whole heartedly support the Bloodmobile on Oct. 2, at the American Legion from 12 noon to 6 p.m. "The blood you donate may be returned to you or your loved ones," she concluded.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Tecumseh Public Schools financially are in very good shape. We were the only Class B school in the State to have no bonded indebtedness at the end of the 1967-68 school year. The General Fund Equity balance as of June 30, 1968 was $55,013.01.

Textbooks are up-to-date and the curriculum throughout the school reorganized and improved. We were again approved by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, which in itself is quite an accomplishment since they are continually raising their standards for accreditation. More than fifty percent of our graduates enroll in college and universities and continue to bring praise to our schools for their scholarship and achievements. We have also improved our curriculum for the pupils who do not go to college, particularly in the field of vocational education.

Tecumseh school enrollments increased by sixty-seven this year but are actually only following a trend of slightly larger enrollments each year. The greatest increase was in the Kindergarten where we enrolled over 300 pupils.

The Board approved plans for a new elementary school to be erected on district property west of the Lenawee Institute. This school has been designed for the special needs of the Sutton area children and should be ready early in the fall of 1969.

All negotiating units including the public librarians met with the superintendents and Board member representatives to resolve differences and approved contracts for 1968-69. This is an enviable record for our school since many schools have not yet approved contracts and their personnel are out on strike.

No. Several cremains may be interred in one grave space, or it is possible to inter their cremains above another interment.

END OF DELUGE — Monday marked the end of Tecumseh's dump and city officials must be relieved. During the past three weeks, City Manager Cal Zorn says two to three times the usual amount of refuse has been hauled into the dump. As of Tuesday, local residents now must use the Lenawee Disposal landfill on N. Ogden Hwy., just east of Adrian and north of Deerfield Rd. Free identification cards are available at City Hall and are a must for residents to enter. The city is picking up the tab for residents and commercial users, although the latter is on a three-month trial period.

Some Progress at TP but Strike Continues

Although some progress has been made in recent negotiation sessions, a settlement in the 33-day-old Tecumseh Products strike is yet unforseeable.

Company and Union negotiators met briefly last Friday afternoon, and then Monday morning, afternoon and evening. Sessions resumed Tuesday morning and afternoon.

More meetings were scheduled Wednesday, and the Union Board has indicated willingness to meet every day until the strike is settled. A request to meet Tuesday evening was declined by the Company, according to Mr. Jackson.

Tuesday, Union members received a letter — the third sent out by the Company — regarding rumors relative to the Company's position in attaining settlement.

Rumors quoted and answered by the Company included layoffs and discharges, making the Products a division here, arbitration, overtime, re-timing study jobs, scheduling of production, report-in provisions, policy for switching employees around on jobs, cafeteria improvements, and restrictive language.

The Union Board has made it known that it has disliked the Company tactics of sending out communications to its members and by-passing negotiating with the Board.

Mr. Jackson says his Board hopes to negotiate every day until a settlement is reached but is non-committal as to when a likely settlement may be reached.

He says no mass meeting of the Union will be planned until the Company alters what the Company says is its last offer.

Last Wednesday, a mass meeting was held at the Union Hall with members rejecting the Company's last offer. The Company, through a letter to Union members and later via a statement last week from Ed Rapin, Products chief negotiator, had stated that a secret vote by ballot was to be taken.

After members verbally rejected the offer, the meeting was adjourned without the secret vote. Mr. Rapin has stated that the Federal mediator had directed the Union to take a secret vote.

Mr. Jackson says the mediator asked if the Union would, and the Board replied that it would be considered but not necessarily conduct one.

The Federal mediator from Toledo is involved in current negotiations. During early sessions, a state mediator from Lansing also participated in the discussions but is not attending now.

Bids, Buildings Sites on Slate

Tecumseh School Board may hold one of its most important meetings in years next Monday evening when members open bids for a $900,000 building and improvement program, discuss building either a middle school or new high school, and select a building site.

Most of the monies for the building program will be allocated to the construction of a new Sutton elementary school.

Supt. James McDowell is hoping to sell bonds with an interest rate of about three and a quarter percent. The bonds have been approved by the state, and such approval usually results in lower interest rate.

Monday's meeting probably will be largely devoted to decisions for a new school building — middle or high school — and a site. For several months, the Board has listened to the pros and cons from the principals about a new school building.

Sites which have come under discussion in the past year include 75 acres of the Robert Fuller farm, Louis Caterina farm, 42 acres along River Raisin and owned by the Tecumseh Products, 45 acres between Burt St. and Macon Rd., William Powell property along Conklin Dr. and Occidental, and the property adjoining Rogers Hwy. and M-50.

At a meeting early this year, the Board rejected the Fuller property and agreed to negotiate with the Products for the land just north of the Methodist Church and along the river.

Last month, Supt. James McDowell and Neville Hart, high school principal, questioned whether the Products property was large enough. An architectural drawing of the property showed considerable congestion with a building, parking area, football field and stadium, and necessary intramural fields.

At this meeting, it was suggested that a new high school should have a minimum of 50 to 60 acres. The Products property, however, would be ample for a middle school.

Mike Hill 2nd

Since joining the pro circuit Latest golf earning figures show him over the $25,000 mark.

Delay Fund Drive

Board of Directors of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation decided at a special meeting Tuesday night to delay its annual Fund Drive here until there is an improvement in local economic conditions.

Te delay means that solicitations in the residential districts will be conducted later along with solicitations in the schools, hospital and at other sources.

However, the Board decided to conduct its usual drive with some industries in conjunction with the Lenawee County drive.

Kay Steele and Dike Helms are co-chairmen of the drive this year and will announce the goal, committees, division chairmen and other workers at a later date.

New City Well Pumping 1,400 Gallons Per Minute

If city officials had their choice between oil and water, they would probably take water — and water they got last week.

A test well on the Merrill Gray property, just north of Tecumseh, has an estimated potential of 1,400 gallons per minute, according to City Manager Cal Zorn.

It could be the finest and largest producing well in the city's entire system. Water content is rated average to slightly above average.

Another test well will be drilled, probably on the adjacent Ethelyne Rumler property. Officials are hoping to get at least two producing wells on the two properties, both under option.

If Tecumseh exercises the options, which expire Oct. 19, costs will be $10,500 for the Gray site and $8,000 for the Rumler land. Over 10 acres total is involved.

The Gray test well is 200 feet deep and includes a gravel bed of about 108 feet deep, according to Mr. Zorn, who pointed out that the amount of gravel was a good sign for a large volume producing well.

An eight-inch casing was used in the original drilling, but a 16-inch casing will probably be used when the well is developed.

Last week's success could end the city's search for water, one which has taken several years. Late last year, Tecumseh thought it had solved its water problem when sufficient water was located on the George Underwood land, just south of Staib Rd. and west of the Kaiser and Loveless Rd. subdivision.

However, Mr. Underwood, Clinton auto dealer, declined to sell and then won a condemnation suit brought against him by the city. At the same time, the city ran into trouble in securing a right-of-way from Tecumseh Township.

Mr. Zorn says Art Eaton, Tecumseh Township Supervisor, has been informed of the city's recent success and plans to bring the water into the city system.

Fire Prevention To Be Observed By Fire, Ball

In recognition of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6 through 12, the Tecumseh Fire Department made plans Tuesday evening to burn the house on Burt St. Sunday. The American Legion owns the property.

Fire fighting exercises will be conducted beginning at 8 a.m. with several fires started and extinguished before the complete burning of the building.

Men from the Clinton Fire Department have been invited to participate.

A dance Saturday evening will climax the observance.

The annual Firemen's Ball will be held Oct. 12 at the American Legion Hall with dancing from 9:30 to 1:30 a.m.

Tickets, $2 per couple, are available from any fireman.

YOUNGSTER, TOO — One can't keep the youngsters out of football togs and Donnie Rapin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rapin, is no exception. He does, however, look a bit lost in his helmet and pads but what young boys cares at this time of the year as long as it's football.

Indians Play Jefferson In Day Game

Tecumseh football fans can sit home Friday night and watch the tube. The Indians don't play Friday evening, but will Saturday afternoon in what will be the local school's first day game in many years.

The Indians travel to Monroe Jefferson Saturday with the game scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

It will be the first meeting between the two schools and the first time for fans at the Jefferson school.

Directions to be filed were obtained from the school: take M-50 to the first traffic light in Monroe beyond Telegraph, turn left, crossing the river, and then right on Elm St., cross Monroe and I-75 to the old Dixie Hwy., left on Dixie to Williams St., left again and then straight to the field. The school is about four or five miles north of Monroe.

The game itself is a toss-up. Jefferson bowed to Airport, 7-0, then tripped Flat Rock, 14-7. Last week, Monroe C. C. defeated Jefferson, 26-12, in a game much closer than the score indicates.

Jefferson could well have the finest player in the Huron League in Chuck Impasato, a quarterback who does just about everything. Scouting reports show he's as good a passer as the Indians will face.

Pay Premiums

An extension of time has been given Tecumseh Products employees to pay their insurance premiums. Premiums will be accepted up to 8 p.m. this Thursday evening at the Union Hall.

SPEEDWAY CHAMPION — William Kopka won the Class B Championship trophy at the Manchester Speedway Sunday. Six years' effort at both Manchester and Butler Speedways made victory sweet for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kopka of Britton. Also shown are the Tri-State championship trophy and first place heat trophy from Manchester and a Milan Dragway trophy. The Kopkas operate the Pure station in Britton, sponsors of the stock car. Pit crew for the winner are his dad, a brother, Larry, who left two weeks ago for basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and Joseph Cote, also of Britton. Mrs. William Kopka said that she expects her husband to win first place next year—an all-expense paid trip for two to Daytona 500.

Mrs. Merritt Hamilton, nee Naomi Beland) formerly of Tecumseh and now a resident of St. Louis, Mo., is a kindly soul. In sending in her subscription money for another year of The Tecumseh Herald, she quaintly added to the miniature masthead on her notice due card. It reads, "Serving Tecumseh, Britton, Ridgeway, Macon and Tipton — and St. Louis, Mo." Ain't she sweet?

One detail you should attend to before starting for the International Speedway to see the big race Oct. 13 is your old newspapers. Stack them by the curb for the Jaycees to pick up and call 423-8447 - 456-4484 or 423-7202.

Little ladies in brown and young ladies in green, Brownies and Girl Scouts, have their own individual reporter to The Herald. Mrs. John Frazier, 423-3396, is the one who does the job. All she asks is that troops with news get it to her as soon as possible. She will bring it all neatly typed and double spaced to the newspaper every Friday.

Don Cooke has quite a conversation piece in his pocket this week. It's a fossil from 500 million years ago B.F. (Before Fish), when the earth was covered with water. Several centipede-type bugs pushed together a little larger than a silver dollar make up the strange fossil. It belongs to the Misco Laboratory, formerly of Ann Arbor and now of Chicago, where Russell Freshcorn is employed.

Mrs. Kenneth Van Doren of Bauer Manor and her staff were justly pleased with the letter they received recently from Sheldon Sproull, president of the Michigan Forestry and Park Association. Following the convention held at the Manor, Mr. Sproull wrote, "The day was pleasant indeed, due to great hospitality, in the great part of your attention and excellent food. Many of us will see you again as individuals or in a family group." Members toured the area, lining up trips and pictures for publicity preceding the dinner and meeting.

Still Young at Heart After 96 Winters

BRITTON — One of Britton's oldest residents, if not the oldest, Sherman Richards, will be 96 years young on Monday, Oct. 7.

Mr. Richards, who had been residing with his son, Gerald, in Britton, is now a patient in Herrick Nursing Home.

The young fellow said Tuesday that he is mountaineer, a hill billy and a ridge runner. He was born near Roy, Mo., Oct. 7, 1872 in a two room, two story log cabin, one of nine boys and two girls.

When queried about his longevity, he remarked that he had spent most of his life out-of-doors and he began doing a man's work when he was 12 years of age.

A carpenter by trade, Mr. Richards said that he could make anything in the world out of wood that he cared to. "If I can't make it, I don't want to," joked the funster.

He said that only once did he have a blue print to make something and that was the "best purple martin house with 18 apartments that you ever saw."

It is located between two white houses on the street going north out of Britton.

Mr. Richards and his late wife were married March 30, 1910 in Azalia and celebrated their 58 wedding anniversary before her death at Herrick Nursing Home Jan. 19 of this year.

It was in June that Mr. Richards fell and broke his hip. He has been a patient at the hospital and nursing home since.

He is able to get up and around a little, and would appreciate hearing from his friends.

New Fall and Winter Floral Designs Shown

Visions of sugar plums — and sparkling tables, doors and mantles — danced in the heads of Garden club members Wednesday as they watched a demonstration of fall and winter floral fashions.

Bill McCreight, who has shops in Jackson and Brooklyn, had spent the previous weekend at a florists' convention, and was brimming with ideas and new products for holiday decor.

He mated the arrangements to backgrounds which simulated the colors and periods of rooms where they would appear, from ornate French empire to early American to modern.

Assisted by Mrs. Orrel Kimerly Love and Jim Holtz olen of Jackson, some of the [illegible] which the women were able to take home for future reference were:

A wreath made of bound straw. Available from many florists in the coming season, the wreath can be used indoors or outside, and decorated with any variety of cones, ribbons, artificial fruits and flowers.

A wire frame in the shape of half a cone could be covered with either cones or evergreens to make a tree for hanging on a wall or door. Reversing it, Mr. McCreight filled the inner curve with moss and used it as a background for a statue of St. Francis.

An unused furnace filter, with its gold frame and pale blue filling, was edged in blue-green tinsel and used as a background for an angel figure.

Angel hair, that filmy, prickery spun glass fiber identified with the Christmas season, is given a coat of hair spray to make it stiff enough to stand straight in a variety of arrangements. A swirl of the delicate fibers formed a mantilla around the head and shoulders of a figurine.

The handy hair spray also coated and hardened a piece of fungus which formed a base for an arrangement of evergreens and a deer figure.

Mrs. Love, an active garden club member as well as interior designer and flower show judge, also demonstrated some basic designs involved in abstract art, whether for a wall hanging or a table arrangement.

"Basic is that all spaces are created unequal. Except for the center of interest, all common[illegible] placed off-center. This helps to keep the eyes moving around the composition," she noted.

Because of its contemporary midwest locale, the play properties and settings are relatively easy to prepare.

Sock It To 'Em, Tigers!

Musings

by Bill Sanford

Toynbee to McCarthy to Griffin

History is something that never happened, written by a writer who wasn't there. Do you suppose that will be the birds' eye view of our progeny in the years to come? I wonder about all of this, just what, why and how does a nation arrive at a point in history?

Toynbee, the historian, for instance, is so dispassionate that his pen veritably drips with ice water. Even so, some feeling for the human condition and the human itself exist.

He is a firm believer in that the answers which force a nation to struggle against itself often lie outside national boundaries. Nations are too closely tied to one another to be of a nationalistic fervor without suffering ill consequences.

Perhaps that is what we need: more men of less passionate ideals to solve the problems. Undeniably the pragmatist of today is far more romantic in his outlook to future needs, for himself as well as his country. In this feeling there is an abounding selfishness which overcomes the selflessness which is needed to survive. In short we need men who are willing to sacrifice life, liberty and worldly goods for the bettermen of this nation as well as humanity itself.

This can't be arrived at when a presidential contender is paid one hundred grand to cover a baseball game, but refuses to state publicly where he stands within his own party or the nation as a whole.

Eugene McCarthy gave the dissidents somewhere to go in politics. He raised the grandeur of witticism and intellect which has not shown itself since Adlai Stevenson. Yet he balks at being the kind of man Stevenson was. He'll take the hundred grand and let the party and country go where it can. Mayo Smith for picking Mickey Stanley to play shortstop had more courage of convictions in my estimation than McCarthy. Smith plays the game for what it's worth and that may be the difference.

* * *

Speaking of Mayo Smith and the Tigers, they've done something that is worth mentioning. Baseball may be a kid's game, but for the past few weeks this band of striped cats have given us something to look forward to except death and taxes and a lousy war.

People I know, who never realized Detroit had a baseball team have followed the pack with Dandy Denny and the rest since back in July. I hope the Tigers can take it four in a row, that's musing for you. Anyway, Sock it to 'em Tigers.

I couldn't get a ticket, the lineup outside of Mayor Cavanaugh's door was too long. I wonder why the management of the Tigers moved the ticket office to the city-county building?

* * *

The junior senator from Michigan, Robert Griffin, has made quite a mark for himself of late. It looked pretty bleak when he first started his campaign to block the nomination of Abe Fortas as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. But the boy from Traverse City received help, influential aid at that, and brought off one of the biggest upsets for a president in a long time.

Even Everett McKinley Dirksen came over to his side. Pressure from the court houses in Southern Illinois were credited by many for Dirksen's change of heart concerning Fortas.

All of this goes to prove a point, especially Dirksen. People often despair at how little they matter in the larger scheme of government. But the fact of the matter is, the local court house is as good as any place to start.

Political parties in Lenawee for instance have shunned bringing up young men through the political science of this day and age. Too little attention is paid to them. I worked for Elmer Porter in the State Senate and he, along with Rollo Conlin, would spend a great deal of time explaining the intricacies which make a government work.

This is a science, and both Sen. Porter and Bill Conlin saw the need for interesting the young in the learning of it. The contemporaries of the party do not understand nor present a concrete offer to this young generation coming into their own. They stand there on the springboard to the future, and without realizing it, too many of the oldsters drain the pool.

To the average person who feels left out of the governmental picture, there is a chance, a vote is only part of the idea of which government is founded. It is constructed with the knowledge of human fault and frailty, and at the same time provided human understanding and human intellect to perform the police duties of its imperfections.

Government is founded on a series of checks and balances, how well those checks and balances are performed depend on all people.

It is the people knowing who resides in the confines of the old brick courthouses in the outlands, that correctly polices the larger scope of political understanding. The pressure was put on Dirksen not by big political bosses in smoke-filled rooms, but by small courthouses, and the political denizens who reside there.

Regardless of scope or futility or just plain exasperation we are what we are. We seem to seek the Messiah, the one who can lead us to a great promised land. We listen to and believe in half truths, after elections live to choke on them. We, in short, seek a great man to lead us.

Great men are only great men because we carry them on our shoulders; throw them off and they sprawl on the ground, less great perhaps than their bearers.

Postponed

CLINTON — The postponed meeting of the Northline Farm Bureau will be held Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Calhoun. There will be an election of officers.

Diabetes Chapter Sought for County

A planning meeting will be held Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the YMCA of Lenawee County, Adrian. The session is open to any professional or lay persons interested in Diabetes Mellitus.

Mr. Bailey will speak on the goals, programs and services of the MDA and to help organize the Unit.

Arrangements will be made to hold a public meeting in about 30 days.

Grange Plans Booster Night

Booster Night will be observed by the Tecumseh Grange Saturday.

Rand Is Frosh At Kazoo College

Rand M. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon D. Robinson, 109 W. Pottawatamie St., is among 386 freshmen to enter Kalamazoo College Oct. 1.

The class swells the enrollment to 1,265, the largest in the history of the 135-year-old institution.

The new class will make its first step in the Kalamazoo Plan of year-around education that takes the student into career-service for three months in the sophomore year; six months of foreign study in the junior year and three months of off-campus independent research during the senior year.

All of the off-campus programs which are designed to enlarge the students' perspective and add in-depth study in his chosen field, are credited towards obtaining his degree.

Indians Win Second

A skimpy crowd here Friday night had visions of the old Detroit Lions as a strong Tecumseh defense dominated a visiting Flat Rock team for a 12-0 Indian victory.

While the Tecumseh offense did muster two touchdowns — something an inept Ram offense could not do — the Indians' defensive unit threw Flat Rock 11 times for losses and for a total of minus 67 yards.

In the first half the Rams finished the first two quarters with minus 22 yards. Flat Rock gained 19 yards by rushing in the second half, but in turn lost 19 yards. Overall for the game, the Rams rushed for 59 yards, lost 68 for a minus nine-yard total.

In the meantime, Ken Pieh was pacing the Indian running game with two touchdowns and 84 yards rushing. As a team, Tecumseh rushed for a total of 185 yards and gained 23 yards via passes.

Quarterback John Kennedy passed seven times, completed three and had one interception. Jim Hunt tossed one and had it intercepted in the end zone.

The game started out as a punting duel between Kennedy and Flat Rock's Jim Martin with Kennedy winning the contest. Early in the second stanza, the Indians took over on their 43 and marched for paydirt in five plays.

After Pieh picked up 14 yards in two carries to FR's 43, Hunt gained four to the FR 40. On a reverse, Gerald Girbach broke into the clear and [illegible] the 16. On the next play, Pieh broke clear over tackle and raced untouched for the score.

The Indians did not score again until the 3:10 mark in the third quarter.

Starting from the 50, Pieh and Hunt carried for a first down on the Rams' 39. After three plays gained just four yards, Kennedy faked a punt and passed to Pieh, who carried to the 15.

Pieh then rushed for six to the nine, where Frank Geisenhaver ploughed through the middle for six more to the three. On the ensuing play, Pieh went in to end the scoring.

FR's Martin had little success in dropping back to pass in the first half, but found considerable luck in the final two quarters, hitting on seven of 12 for 63 yards.

His passing carried the Rams to Tecumseh's 21 in the fourth period, where linebacker Steve Tilton then threw him for a four-yard loss. On the following play the Indians covered a FR fumble — second time for the game — and ended the Rams' only real drive.

Rally Day Is Oct. 13

Christian Education will be the theme at Grace Lutheran Church for the next two Sundays.

Dick Teske, assistant superintendent, announced a program has been arranged for the Sunday School Oct. 6. Classes will be advanced and the children will meet their new teachers.

Rally Day is Oct. 13. All the children, together with their parents, will attend the 9:30 worship service.

The pastor, Rev. Kenneth Strack, will deliver a sermon directed toward the youth.

The Sunday School teachers will be installed into office and Bibles will be awarded to 34 children for perfect attendance during the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lott were forced to return early from Prince Edward Island where they were vacationing last week when Mrs. Lott severely sprained her ankle. They came by boat back to Nova Scotia where she was admitted to the hospital and found that no bones were broken. Nothing to do but come home. Friday, Sept. 13, wasn't such a great day for Louise.

Scouts Test Skills at Pioneering Operation

Troop 32 attended the Wolverine Council's fall Camp-o-ree based on skills of Pioneering entitled "Operation Paul Bunyan". It was held on the large farm of Merrill Amsler on Hunt Rd.

All patrol equipment and personal gear used for the event was back packed at one time only ¼ of a mile into the camp area early Saturday morning by the boys. Church services were held on the grounds Sunday morning.

Tables, stools, wash stands, etc., were constructed with limbs by lashing them with ropes. Points were awarded on skill and ingenuity in construction and style.

All three patrols, the Beavers, Buffalo and the White Dragons were awarded second place and received a ribbon in the "Blue Ox" division. Beaver patrol leader is Bob James.

In the "Stretcher Race" event where each patrol made a stretcher from limbs and a blanket, placed a member of the patrol on it and a No. 10 can of water on his chest, then raced to the finish line, the White Dragons under Steve James patrol leader went into the semi-finals before losing out.

There were a total of 393 boys in 66 patrols from the Custer and Lenape districts and each patrol had an entry in the pie baking contest. The Buffalo patrol with their leader John James, won with a cherry pie. Their award included a cake mix!

Walt Zarnoch Tours U.S. Forest Regions

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Walter N. Zarnoch, 1100 Center Dr., was among 42 junior and senior forestry students at Michigan State University touring forest regions in nine states during a three-week field trip, Sept. 4-24.

The students' trip is a course in Forest Management Planning, required for a degree in forestry from MSU's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

During the three weeks they spent on the road, the students and three instructors visited forests, municipal parks, wildlife areas and United States Forest Service areas. Tests are given en route.

In addition to forest lands, the group toured research facilities at Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind., the Southern Illinois University Outdoor Laboratory in Carbondale, Ill., the Southern Hardwoods Laboratory of the U. S. Forest Service in Stoneville, Miss., and the Lake City Junior College and Forest Ranger School in Lake City, Fla.

One of the first stops was the annual meeting and logging show of the Louisiana Forestry Association, held in Hodges Garden, La. The students also traveled through one of the best known forest areas in the U. S., the Great Smoky Mountain National Park.

The group also toured facilities of five private companies specializing in lumber products.

Past Presidents Meet for Supper

'Skins Scalp Trojans 40-6

By GINA GREEN

CLINTON — With 7:39 showing on the clock in the first quarter Friday night, the Clinton Redskins put their first score of the 1968 season on the score board and were well on their way to a 40-6 victory over hapless Madison.

Junior quarterback Jim Claus paced the Redskins' offensive attack, passing for 176 yards on 11 completions out of 17 attempts and scoring one touchdown. Claus' favorite target was junior Eric Sparks, who caught four passes and scored three touchdowns.

Leading the ground gainers was senior back Dwight McKenna, who ground out 112 yards rushing. Junior Tom Moore, McKenna's partner in the backfield, picked up 84 yards.

Redskin runners compiled a 266-yard total for the night, but the passing game played a big part in the contest. Ends Ron Hintz and Tim Merritt were on the receiving end of three Claus passes, one catch by McKenna and four by Sparks. One of Hintz' receptions was good for a 53-yard touchdown play.

McKenna had an especially prosperous night, as he scored once on an end sweep, ran for an extra point, and intercepted a Trojan pass. Claus also tallied one extra point and hit sophomore end Bari Campbell for two more.

Senior linebacker Dennis Kime was cited by Coach Ron Lynch for his defensive play, personally nailing Madison backs 16 times for a total of 49 tackles in three games. Kime also intercepted two Trojan aerials, running one back for a touchdown which was called back because of a penalty. Bruce Grossman added another interception for the Redskin defense.

Madison's lone score came when Dave Turner intercepted a stray pass from Claus and swept along the sidelines for the touchdown.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Many fine young Americans will be observing National 4-H Club Week, Oct. 6-12, along with their volunteer leaders. The Tecumseh area has a goodly sum of dedicated people upholding the 4-H program, which, through head, heart, hands and health, molds character, teaches responsibility, encourages leadership and develops compassion for fellowmen.

Our hat is off to Bill Walter and Pat Johnson, 4-H Youth Agents, and their many co-workers in Lenawee County who give of their time and ability to further such a marvelous program. Three cheers, too, for the young people themselves who spend hours of time and effort in grooming and training an animal, cutting and sewing and then modeling a garment or growing a crop, baking a cake,, preserving food or any of a trillion other projects.

These are the people who know and appreciate a free America. How about all of us doing our bit by making sure we and our neighbors are registered to vote and know the background and voting record of the candidates. Friday, Oct. 4, is the last day for registration, you know.

Jim Bush Plays in Symphony

Jim Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Bush, is among the 120 youth participating in the Youth Symphony, now in its 20th year, under the direction of Orien Dalley, sponsored by the University of Michigan Extension Service. There are other youth from surrounding communities also participating.

The Youth Symphony is a group of talented young people who have the desire to learn and perform the great orchestra compositions. They come from all over Michigan to the University School of Music every two weeks.

Concerts are performed all over Michigan and northern Ohio.

The boys and girls are any age up to early 20's who are able to do advanced work. They are comparable to the National Youth Symphony of Interlochen. Many have studied there, and others have had teachers who were former members of Youth Symphony.

Over 30,000 scholarships, for the University of Michigan, Interlochen National Music Camp, and the All-State Music program at Interlochen have been provided to youngsters participating in the Youth Symphony over the past 20 years. These scholarships come from concerts given, and foundations which support it. The group also has a cabin at Interlochen which brings in money for scholarships.

Every year there are two to four scholarships given to the School of Music at Ann Arbor and to Interlochen programs.

Any group interested in sponsoring a concert of these talented youth may obtain information from any Youth Symphony parent or directly from Orien Dalley, conductor, School of Music, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, or by contacting Mrs. Elwood Bush, 423-7676.

There is no set fee, and the proceeds are to be shared 50-50, with the Youth Symphony providing pictures and appropriate information for local publicity. The only stipulation is that proceeds must be used for a music scholarship.

"On The Line" Aboard Carrier

Airman Larry E. Hartwig, USN, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Hartwig of 115 W. Pottawatamie, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

The San Diego-based carrier is engaged in her third series of operations off the coast of North Vietnam.

During her second cruise "on the line" at Yankee Station, pilots from the Constellation flew air strikes against enemy supply lines in North Vietnam. Over 200 trucks were destroyed or damaged in day and night raids and over 100 barges were crippled or sunk in the waterways north of the Demilitarized Zone. The pilots also destroyed a 16-mile long petroleum pipeline. With the pipeline inoperable the enemy was forced to transport the petroleum over bombed-out roads and bridges.

Ann Arbor Lady Killed in Crash

Rosa C. Riley, 58, of 4661 Pontiac Trail, Ann Arbor, died at the scene of an accident, at 12:05 a.m., Sunday, on US-223 near Herald Rd., in Woodstock Twp.

Mrs. Riley apparently lost control of her automobile on a curve. The southbound vehicle careened across the highway and down an embankment.

There were no passengers. Clinton State Police are investigating.

District Garden Clubs Meet

St. Peter's Episcopal Church was abloom Wednesday. From daisy-painted favors and brilliant garden flower bouquets to striking arrangements prepared by a professional floral designer, it was a sight to gladden the hearts of more than 130 garden club members.

It was the annual meeting of District 2A of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, including 30 clubs in Lenawee, Monroe, Jackson, Hillsdale and Washtenaw counties. Hosts were the Tecumseh Garden Club and the Little Garden Club of Tecumseh.

Greeted by Anne Carson, club delegates first heard reports from state and district officers, and a program by Jackson and Ann Arbor clubs.

Jack Wikle, naturalist from Hidden Lake Gardens, presented the morning program, detailing a wealth of material on his favorite ornamental tree, the flowering crabapple. Although he concentrated on just this one tree, his comments would also hold true for any tree or shrub planted around the home.

Some of the most important factors to consider, he said, are that the plant should be ornamental during more than one season, that it be hardy, and that varieties should be chosen that are not too much bothered by disease or insects.

Another important consideration is the space the plant is to fill. Many trees soon outgrow their space, and cause trouble with overhead lines, with being too close to building or walks. Because flowering crabapples all are grown from grafted root stocks, they can be depended on to keep the desired shape. They can be low and spreading, vase-shaped or weeping, depending on variety.

They can have different colors and sizes of fruit, blossoms and leaves. Hidden Lake Gardens has some 200 trees, which can be seen blooming from late April to late May, depending on the weather, and the variety.

Mr. Wikle prepared a list of 40 varieties, including choice specimen and those to avoid because they are too susceptible to disease.

He also cautions that when the tree first is planted, its trunk should be wrapped with cloth or special tape to protect it from winter burn and from borers. After the tree is established and so long as it is healthy, borers are not a problem. Borer eggs are only laid where the bark is loose and the tree is weak.

Rabbits and other rodents find the bark tasty, so use of a repellent is a good idea when cold weather nears, he adds.

Mr. Wikle was introduced by Mrs. Neil Pearson.

A noon luncheon, prepared by the Episcopal Church women, assisted by Little Garden Club members, was served after an invocation from Mrs. Lazlo Gero.

After the floral arrangement program, guests traveled to Hidden Lake Gardens for tours of the Garden Center and the new conservatories and greenhouse.

Committees for the day-long program were directed by:

Tickets — Mrs. Paul Maves.

Exhibits — Mrs. Earl Baldwin, Mrs. S. M. Rees.

The group voted to have a smorgasbord dinner Oct. 26, with bazaar booths opening at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Herbert Morden will be chairman of the bazaar and Mrs. Ray Williams the dinner. All proceeds will go towards the church apportionments.

The society voted to finish paying for the cleaning of the Junior Choir robes.

Tories Victorious Over Boysville

BRITTON — Like the Detroit Tigers, the Britton Tories believe in "Sockin' it to 'em'" and did just that Friday night with a 27-6 win over the Fighting Knights of Boysville.

Their second consecutive River Raisin League win puts the Tories in a three-way tie with Ida and Sand Creek, each with a 2-0 conference record.

Tory scoring began in the first quarter with a safety. Two long passes from quarterback Jim Brown to Jim Lister and Chuck Moore put the ball on the Boysville six-yard line, and Jim Skelton carried it over for the first touchdown. Skelton scored again before half-time with a 16-yard run, giving the Tories a 14-0 lead as they left the field at the half-time break.

They came roaring back determined to hold the victory, and a 46-yard run by Jim Lister after a pass from Brown, plus Brown's extra point, brought the score to 21-0. Lister followed this effort with another run of 11 yards, and by then the Tories had it sewed up.

Boysville's only score came in the fourth quarter when Jerry Shaden intercepted a pass by Brown and ran 8 yards to score.

"We'll be looking forward to Friday's meeting with Sand Creek," stated Coach Paul Palka.

He praised the outstanding defensive game played, and cited fullback Rick Brown, and also Gary Check and Gary Judkins as doing great jobs. "Brown, Lister and Skelton were all good on offense."

Pack 23 Boy Scouts Enjoy Pioneer Camp

BRITTON — Britton Boy Scout Troop 23 and the Scoutmaster Neal Judkins spent Saturday and Sunday at a Pioneer Camp-out, south of Tipton. Between four and five hundred scouts and leaders packed all of their gear back to the campground, about one half mile.

The scouts made their camp furnishings such as tables, washstands, hat and coat racks and a lean-to to sleep in. Each scout cooked his own meal and for one adult. Adult leaders drew numbers to determine which patrol they would eat with at each meal.

Worship service was held Sunday morning and games were played before camp was broken at 2 p.m.

Britton scouts are planning a paper drive once every three months beginning Saturday, Oct. 12.

They will cover as much Britton area as time permits depending on trucks available.

Anyone with a large amount of newspaper is asked to call the scoutmaster 451-4951. He said that the processor accepting the paper does not have facilities for books or magazines.

Proceeds from the sale of the paper will be used to purchase new camp equipment.

A Home for the Holidays

BRITTON — Would anyone in the community be interested in entertaining a foreign student over Thanksgiving? Students from other lands attending colleges and universities in the area need a place to go over the holiday, when school closes, and they are far from home.

Through the Ecumenical Hospitality Council, arrangements can be made for student placement in homes, especially rural homes.

Students would be available Wednesday evening and remain until Sunday. If you are interested, contact the Rev. John Lover or Mrs. Charles Bishop of Britton.

And if you can't arrange it over Thanksgiving, why not consider hosting a student over Christmas?

Foundation Receives Grant

The Niels Hansen Memorial Foundation of Tecumseh was honored at a special ceremony and reception held at the German Embassy in Washington last Wednesday evening. Speaking before a group of seventy-five invited guests, Baron Herbert A. von Stackelberg, Minister of the German Embassy, noted that "in a century of wars, violence, racial tensions, social upheaval, hatred and lack of understanding — the influence of one single person, a boy in his teens, tends to prove that most people should consider the foundation of a generalized opinion on the barriers which, as they say, exist between one people and another."

Before presenting a gift of $1,000.00 from the German Government to the Niels Hansen Memorial Foundation, he referred to it as "a young foundation, specializing in the exchange of impressive young people — an association which has understood to withstand the hindrances and obstacles common to any new organization in the educational field and which deserves the unlimited, whole hearted assistance and cooperation which we are happy to offer."

The gift from the German Government was accepted on behalf of the Foundation by Arthur J. Collingsworth, Chairman. Mr. Collingsworth expressed deep gratitude to the German Government on behalf of the Foundation in his remarks. He also used the occasion to announce the appointment of Baron Jobst W. von Buddenbrock, Cultural Attache of the German Embassy, to the Board of Advisors of the Foundation. Baron von Buddenbrock will represent the German Government. Baron von Buddenbrock accepted his appointment to the Board of Advisors in a short speech in which he praised the value of student exchange program in promoting international understanding.

A reception was held following the ceremony. Among those attending from Michigan were Mrs. Arvid Andresen, Founder and Director of Youth for Understanding, of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Robert W. Bonner of Tecumseh, Mr. Robert J. Bonner of Kalamazoo, Congressman and Mrs. Marvin Esch of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Sibley Worth Hoobler of Ann Arbor, Senator and Mrs. Robert P. Griffin, and Mrs. Harry Dow Towsley of Ann Arbor.

Among the other distinguished guests attending the ceremony and reception were Ambassador and Mrs. George V. Allen, Ambassador and Princess Abdul Hamid Sharaf, Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph C. Satterthwaite, Ambassador A. Burks Summers, Baron and Baroness Herbert A. von Stackelberg, Baron and Baroness Jobst W. von Buddenbrock, the Hon. Eleanor Lansing Dulles, Congressman Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, Col. and Mrs. Samuel F. Clabaugh and the Hon. George Meader.

A private dinner party for thirty-four of the guests was held following the reception in the Cameron and Taylore Rooms of the Cosmos Club.

Mystery Trip Is Best Yet

Twenty-four members and 10 Adrian guests of the Senior Citizens went on a Mystery trip ending at Greenfield Village Sept. 25.

The group visited the Henry Ford Museum in the morning and had dinner in the cafeteria there before going to the Village.

Many said that the trip was the year's best outing. The event was arranged by Don Moffatt, superintendent of parks and recreation.

The following day 39 Senior Citizens played games at the drop-in session at the Community Center.

Mrs. Zell McCarty and Mrs. Nate Smith served doughnuts and coffee and tea for refreshments.

Another drop-in session will be held Oct. 3 with all older persons of the area invited.

Off The Top

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

"You women of today are softies," was Hubby's provocative statement the other night, after we had viewed a film depicting life at the turn of the century.

"You couldn't begin to keep up with all the things those women did," he continued, despite the warning signals from me as I prepared to defend Modern-Day Woman.

"It's true, it seems that the woman of today has it easy compared to the rugged life of the woman of yesteryear. We have our automatic washers and dryers, whereas Grandma had to heat water over an open fire in big copper boilers on washday, then rub everything on the scrub board, lift the clothes through the rinse tubs, and hang them out to dry.

Then when it came time to iron, Grandma had to heat flat irons on the cookstove, and press quickly with one while the other was heating up on the stove, while we have our electric irons complete with thermostats and steam. But, people then did not own as many clothes, or change them as often, and a week's wash was not as big as the three or four washings we do each week.

"Grandma had to cook without benefit of automatic refrigeration or modern gas or electric stoves. She kept things cool in the safe, or if she was lucky, in an ice box. Cooking meant a fire in the cook stove, even if it were the middle of the summer. Granted, Grandma spent a great deal more time in meal preparation than we do. Also, she sewed by hand in the light of kerosene lamps, and raised her own chickens, and kept up her own garden, most likely.

"However," I continued, getting to the heart of the matter, "that was all Grandma did. Even though she certainly had a more strenuous physical life than we do today, there are other things you must consider when contrasting the life of today's woman with that of Grandma's. The woman of yesteryear did not have so many things outside the home clamoring for her attention. She had one purpose in life, and she knew what it was: to be a wife, mother and homemaker. She was not confused with a multitude of outside obligations and activities.

Today's woman must run an orderly house, providing for the feeding and care of her family; keep the household accounts; see that each one has regular dental and physical care; serve on numerous committees; collect for United Fund or Red Cross; drive the children to dance or skating lessons; help on election drives; and still have a hot supper ready in the evening. Many days are run on a split-second schedule.

She is expected to take part in the many and varied activities of her church; to belong to and be active in the PTA; and when her children are the proper age, she is expected to be a Den Mother or Girl Scout leader. She is encouraged to have a hobby, such as bowling, or knitting; and she will probably be president of something or other at any given time.

Even the most dedicated homemaker who sincerely believes that her husband and children should come first, has a difficult time not feeling guilty about turning down job offers of committee requests for her time.

Now when half the women in the country are employed outside the home, she is confused as to her true role: is being a homemaker enough today, or should she work outside and contribute to the family income?

Grandma had very few complications in her life — she went about her household duties with an uncluttered mind. In the evening, she had time to read to the children or read the Bible. She needed no tranquilizers to get her through the day, or sleeping pills at night. Grandma was rugged? You bet she was — but so is today's woman in this complicated world.

Erosion Hazards To Fall Plowing

Many cooperators of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District are aware of the erosion hazards of [illegible] croplands. The conservation - minded farmer keeps his soil covered as much of the time as possible. He plants a new crop as soon as he destroys the old one.

Hal Benner, a district director from Dover Township comments that fall plowing is never practiced on their farm. The rolling soil on the father-son dairy farm, if fall-plowed, would have noticeable erosion on the slopes. Hal says, "we would have gullies all over the place." "Fall-plowed land doesn't work up as well in the spring." He practices minimum tillage which is another reason to plow in the spring.

Benner feels that he can get on unplowed land quicker in the spring when ready to plant oats, corn and soybeans. When practicing minimum tillage on spring-plowed land the crops will get ahead of the weeds. Less tillage is required after spring plowing. Spring rains pass through and into the air pockets of spring-plowed soils and cuts down on soil erosion.

Fall plowing will allow the ground to stay wet and become crusted for a long time in the spring. Evidence of wind erosion from fall-plowed lands can be noticed by observing snow banks in the field that stay brown all winter. Fall plowing after corn harvest is a temptation but is an invitation for the winter winds and rains to help in the erosion of the topsoil.

Verne Bathurst, State Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service recently remarked that it only costs a small amount to hold an acre of top soil in place through applying suitable soil and water conservation practices. But it can be as much as 75 times this amount to reclaim the top soil from our creek and river channels after washing away.

Putting-you-firsts:

Headlight washers

You push the windshield washer knob and hold it, and your headlights come clean.

The spray removes up to 80% of accumulated dirt.

The feature is standard on 1969 Corvettes. It comes with the hidden headlights available on Camaro, Caprice and Kingswood Estate Wagons. It is available on all other models except Corvair.

Heated glass

In a moment your rear window will self-defrost.

Because we've built onto it a network of tiny ceramic strips capable of heating the entire surface.

Fog and frost disappear quickly and quietly. You just flick a switch.

Pushbutton tire chains

You press a button on the instrument panel and the rear tires get a shot of "liquid tire chain."

You spin your wheels once, wait a moment, and you're off—with traction you wouldn't believe possible on slick ice, or packed snow.

Available on all 1969 big Chevrolets.

Steering wheel lock

When you own a car as desirable as the 1969 Chevrolet, you don't take chances.

When you leave it, you lock it. Not just the doors.

Sorry, car thieves.

Power steering plus

The 1969 Caprice, Impala and Camaro are available with a new type of power steering.

Variable-ratio power steering.

Variable-ratio power steering is particularly helpful in short, full turns.

And parking becomes unbelievably easy. You'll see.

Walk-in wagons

The tailgate swings open like a door on most of our 1969 station wagons.

Which in itself is no big deal.

But wait, there's more.

We've built a concealed step into the rear bumper.

You simply step up, over, and in.

(The way we build our wagons, you can do it without bumping your head, and without acrobatics.)

Walk into a wagon soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

MRS. TOM BALLEW

Peggy Porter, Tom Ballew Exchange Nuptial Vows

CLINTON — Nuptial vows were exchanged by Peggy Marie Porter and Tom L. Ballew in the United Church of Christ, Saturday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Porter, 306 E. Michigan Ave., and the groom is the son of Mrs. Henry Huizenga, of Chicago, and the late Milan Ballew.

The Rev. Ralph Kuether of Emmanuel United Church of Christ, Manchester, performed the ceremony at 2 p.m. before an altar centered with a pyramid arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, flanked by ferns and cathedral candelabra.

A duet was sung by Minota Fox and Linda Corwin accompanied by the organist, Mrs. John Fox.

As the bride approached the altar with her father, she wore a skimmer gown of white crepe and Venice lace. The bodice had a wedding ring neckline and long lace sleeves. The court train was edged in matching lace. A headdress of Venice lace, pearls and crystals held her bouffant bubble veil of illusion.

The bride carried a crescent of Royal Bouquet orchids and stephanotis accented with clusters and cascades of pearls.

Matron of honor Mrs. G. Gordon Lewis, Jr., of Youngstown, O., a college roommate, wore a moss green skimmer of saki and Venice lace with an ankle length court panel. Moss green petals held her bouffant headpiece. Her bouquet was of orange croton foliage in a rosette outlined with yellow Fuji chrysanthemums and cascades of bronze pompons.

Gowned identically to the matron of honor were bridesmaids, Mrs. Patrick Porter, of Clinton, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Marvin Barnhart, of Drayton Plains, a college roommate.

The flower girl, Lisa Marie Porter, niece of the bride, was gowned similarly to the attendants, and carried a foliage green wicker basket of bronze pompons.

The ring bearer was David Porter, nephew of the bride. Fred Fierke of Hickory Hills, Ill., was the best man.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, with Mr. and Mrs. E. John Hoelzer as hosts.

The bride is a graduate of Clinton High School and Ferris State College. She attended Cleary College and Adrian College, and is employed by Continental Casualty Insurance Company in Detroit.

Mr. Ballew is employed with the same company in Lansing.

The couple plan to live in Detroit.

CLINTON — Airman 1/c and Mrs. Roger Haft of Tampa, Fla., are expected in Clinton Oct. 9. He has a three-weeks' leave before assignment to Vietnam. Operation Paul Bunyan

CLINTON—Boy Scouts, Troop 5, Edward Bancroft, Tom Busch, Gary Pfaffinger, Mark McDermott, John Vincent and Wayne Balliet, scoutmaster, attended the Fall Council Camporee on Hunt Rd., near Adrian, September 28 and 29.

They received a second place ribbon for making a table, broom and tripod from materials found at the camping area and also a clean camp. This was called Operation Paul Bunyan.

United Fund Drive Opens

CLINTON — The Clinton United Fund Drive will begin Saturday and will continue through Oct. 19.

Mrs. William M. Kroger, Jr., general chairman for the 1968 drive, said, "There are few who live in the community who have not been touched directly or indirectly by the Clinton United Fund."

This organization helps support local organizations, provides emergency relief for residents in need and contributions to the Michigan United Fund.

Glasses, shoes and school lunches have been provided for needy children in the community by the Clinton United Fund. Thanksgiving food baskets and Christmas toys have gone to neighbors who could not otherwise obtain them.

The contribution to the Michigan United Fund helps support 26 state and national charitable organizations.

The goal this year is $6,000.

Qualified For Scholarship

CLINTON — Gina Green, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elery Green, of 117 W. Franklin, has qualified as a semifinalist in the 1968-69 National Merit Scholarship competition.

A senior, Gina is the first semifinalist from Clinton High School. In previous years, Clinton students have received letters of commendation as a result of the tests.

Melvia Gina Green was born Feb. 15, 1951, in Montgomery, Ala. She came to Clinton when four years old and has attended Clinton schools.

She became a member of the National Honor Society in 1966 and has been a member of the marching band for six years.

She is the president of the Student Council, a member of the Annual staff and the Girls Athletic Association for four years and has played Powder Puff football for four years.

She has served as president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

During the summer she was a Life Guard and assistant swimming instructor at the school pool. She is employed part-time at Steffen's Drug Store and is Clinton sports reporter to The Herald.

In making the announcement, Principal Jack Miller said that the 15,000 semifinalists appointed last week are among the nation's most intellectually able high school seniors and will compete for 3,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1969.

The semifinalists were the highest scorers in their states on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last February in 17,500 schools nationwide. They constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States.

Those selected show high promise for leadership in their adult careers, according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. "They have already demonstrated both high intellectual capacity and a readiness to develop their abilities," he said.

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for Merit Scholarships since all winners will be selected from the finalist group. Semifinalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, submitting scores from a second examination, and providing information about their achievements and interests.

Gina will be taking the finalist qualifying test in November, according to Dan Schindler, guidance counselor and the results of the tests will be made known in May.

Everyone who becomes a finalist will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 Scholarships allocated by states. Many will also be considered for the four-year Merit Scholarships provided by some 400 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations and individuals.

Winners of the four-year scholarships may receive up to $1,500 a year for four college years, depending on their individual needs. Winners of the $1,000 time stipends of $1,000 upon enrollment in college.

High school grades, accomplishments, leadership qualities extra-curricular activities and school citizenship of the finalists are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting the winners.

Some 18,700 students have received Merit Scholarships in the 13 annual programs to date. Nearly $60 million in financial assistance to Merit Scholars and their colleges have been expended or committed through the program to date.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITOR:

I thought perhaps the animal lovers in Tecumseh might enjoy the happenings that inspired the printing of the photo of dog and kitten in The Herald (photo by Corky Hunt).

Fi Fi, our Chiwa Poo was expecting. It was to be her first litter and we were all waiting impatiently for the big day.

She had her trips to the vet for her pregnancy check, was given her calcium pills and we waited with some concern because of her small size, the possibility of one lone puppy could cause trouble — and trouble we had.

It was one puppy. He died when born. Now Fi Fi was a born little mother and she grieved so for that lost puppy we feared she might die, too. So began a search for a new kitten or puppy in hopes she would accept it and forget the one she had lost.

Mrs. Caesar, as usual, got busy trying to locate a replacement. She found a four-week-old puppy that was to be lent to us till weaning time but when it arrived here it was as big as Fi Fi and she was afraid of it. We took this puppy back to its owner and thanked him for trying to help us.

The next morning I finally tracked down a family in Adrian whose mother cat had a litter of seven black kittens. They reluctantly let us take one thinking it wouldn't work, but it did.

She took that little black kitten right over. She loves it as tho it were her own.

It's got to the stage now where it comes out of the box and plays with our other dog, Bimbo, who was the father to the lost puppy. Fi Fi is a busy mother nowadays, forever hunting him up and getting him back to the box only to have him climb back out and off on another jaunt.

Mother love in animals is wonderful to see and we've had many delightful hours watching this love unfold.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Floyd Smith

Well, last week we left our orange and black butterfly clinging to a milkweed plant and waiting for the veins in his wings to harden. Once able to fly, it is time to lay claim to a small portion of the meadow. Birds and animals fiercely defend well-defined territories but I was somewhat surprised to read that butterflies do the same.

Unable to make any noise and certainly possessing no facilities for fighting, our Monarch relies on the element of surprise to drive off all intruders. He is a good bluffer.

The butterfly drives off all intruders except one. When a special female Monarch flutters by, he changes from fighter to suitor. During a dazzling display of aerial acrobatics, the sunshine on his brilliant-colored wings is most impressive but the important part of his courting is done by scent.

From two scent glands he releases an irresistable aroma — irresistable to the lady Monarch, that is.

After the courting and mating, the true purpose of the butterfly's life has been fulfilled. As the male lives on for the rest of the summer he will fly many many miles, mate with three or four more females and thus another summer of beautiful butterflies is assured.

THESE FRAGILE looking creatures are marvelously equipped to survive the rigors they encounter. During the larva stage their single lens eyes are barely able to distinguish between light and dark, the mature butterfly, though, has unbelievable eyes. Each one contains 6,000 lenses and, whereas our eyes send two images to the brain, the Monarch sends 72,000.

He sees what is happening in back of him as well as in front and to the sides. And what is more delicate looking than a butterfly's wings — the Monarch, however, can fly 80 miles a day and, if fortunate enough to pick up a good tail wind, the mileage is much, much greater.

Some of the butterflies, which made our window watching such fun a few weeks ago, will need this long distance flying ability. The Monarchs, for example, are migratory and the females of the mid-summer generation who have not laid eggs will "go south for the winter".

Other species have different ways of coping with the cold weather — some hibernate, some winter as chrysalits and others stay in the larva stage.

★

ON THE WEST coast the Monarchs gather in Pacific Grove, Calif. They have made the city famous. Hundreds of thousands cluster on trees, actually bending branches with their weight. Our Monarchs go to locations scattered from Georgia to the tip of Florida. There they patiently wait until spring arrives.

Being unable to regulate their own body temperature, they spent the cool days in almost a stupor. However, when the sun provides enough warmth, they leave the protection of their resting place and search out flowers which might contain a few drops of nourishing nectar.

With the arrival of the longer days of spring comes the urge to move. The northward migration is on. The cycle of a single egg laid on a milkweed leaf starts another summer of Monarch butterflies.

So it is that, whereas "Wings in the Meadow," by Joe Brewer, goes into great detail and explores some interesting side roads, I have just been able to give you a brief and very oversimplified story of the Monarch butterfly.

There was a time when all we made were Ramblers.

And, those Ramblers made our image.

With the predictable result that we got a reputation for building dependable, little cars that were high on economy and low on sex appeal.

We still make the Rambler.

It's a smarter buy than it ever was.

But it's no Javelin.

When American Motors can build a hot, sporty car that out-sports the other sporty cars, that's news.

So far, more than 45,000 sporty-car drivers have decided that the Javelin is a better car for the money.

The Ambassador SST 4-door sedan is our luxury car. It comes with standard air-conditioning, standard V-8, standard automatic transmission, optional velour seats, a long, long wheelbase for an elegant limousine ride, and an astonishingly low price for the package.

We also make the Rebel.

The Rebel is the family car that dared to cross the treacherous Baja peninsula. Most of the specially equipped cars that start this trip never finish. The Rebel did.

But, if anything changes our image, it will be the AMX, our two-seater sports car.

The AMX, specially equipped and modified, has set 106 American, national and international speed records.

At this point, it looks like our image will never survive.

No Break Seen Yet in 40-Day-Old Strike

No new developments have been made or reached in the 40-day-old strike at the Tecumseh Products.

Bargaining was held last Thursday, Friday and Monday, negotiations breaking off Monday afternoon. As of Wednesday, no further sessions were scheduled but hopes have been expressed that the Company and Union negotiators will renew their settlement efforts Thursday or Friday.

According to Ray Jackson, Union president, main issue now is money, indicating that the Company and Union have generally agreed on contract language. For several weeks, neither party was agreeing on the language to be included in a three-year contract.

Some concern and many rumors flew about the community Tuesday when the Company sounded its 6:45 and 7:00 a.m. whistle, normally used when the Company is in operation. At the same time, several gates to the Company property were opened.

As of noon Wednesday, no Union worker had even attempted to cross the picket lines. More pickets were evident Tuesday and Wednesday mornings around the gates.

A public announcement was made Tuesday evening at the Band Festival, asking Products workers wishing to return to work, to sign a petition for a mass meeting and a vote by secret ballot.

The Union Board had approximately 10 to 15 men at the Community Center early Wednesday morning with leaflets, urging anyone preparing to sign the petition not to do so but to stand behind the Union Board. There are no reported signers of petitions.

Mr. Jackson says the Union has made many concessions to the Company, but as of yet has failed to attain any of significant degree from the Company. According to a leaflet distributed by the Union, its adjustments and concessions were:

- ► Pension or retirement plan.
- ► Cost of living and rate demands.
- ► Deletion of paid lunch periods, election, jury pay and workmen's compensation supplement.

The Union, which opposed arbitration in the Company's offer, reports the Company has since abandoned it, and has dropped it from the offer.

Mr. Jackson says the Union has made practically every concession that it can make, and it is now up to the Company to come with some more money.

Economic effects of the 6-week strike has been felt throughout the community. Business in general has dropped off, and some expect it to continue dropping.

The Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive has been delayed as announced last week. A local church had also planned a fund-raising drive in October and had to postpone it to February. Although officials are not making any statements relative to the delays and postponements, it is apparent that the Products strike is the deterring factor.

Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning, several city officials met with both the Union and Company in an effort to assist in any way towards reaching a settlement.

Company Statement

The impasse that occurred between the Company and the Union last week still exists. The differences in contract language that the Union alleged was a barrier to settlement have, except for a few items pertaining primarily to economics, been settled and for the most part, in the Union's favor.

The Company also notes that the vast majority of language changes were submitted by the Union. Arbitration is no longer an issue, number of paid Union Directors is no longer an issue, overtime, job assignment, etc., have been settled for some time. The language in time study has been settled except for economics.

The issues that remain are economic in nature. The Company has offered the Union in excess of approximately $1.00 per hour in wages and fringe benefits which in its opinion, is more than reasonable and should be accepted. This offer is considerably higher than the settlements with both the automotive and steel industries.

The Union has asked that the contract be retroactive to September 1, 1968; of course, this would mean that the Union Board of Directors would receive wages for time spent in negotiations while the employee who has been out of work due to the strike will receive no pay.

The Union Board is attempting to obtain further concessions as a face saving device for certain individuals on the Union Committee. These items will not benefit the majority of employees, nor will they compensate for lost earnings and benefits due to this unnecessary strike.

The strike itself was unnecessary but this futile prolongation is absolutely unwarranted.

The Company has repeatedly requested that the Union take the Company offer to the membership for a secret ballot, however, this has not been done and has been ignored by the Union. This request has also been made by the state and federal mediators.

The Company urges its employees to exercise their democratic right and demand from their Union representatives, a meeting for the purpose of conducting a secret ballot to return to work.

The Company also announced that it is calling a special Board of Directors meeting to decide the future of its business operations in Tecumseh.

MIS Race Could Jam Local Roads Sunday

Racing fans' big days arrive here Saturday and Sunday when the Michigan International Speedway opens its gates and starts a new racing era in this southeastern Michigan area.

Saturday morning at nine o'clock over 40 cars will begin lapping the two-mile oval in hopes of being among the 26 starters for Sunday's races. Gates to MIS will open at dawn both days, and the qualifying rounds Saturday are expected to last until late in the afternoon.

Sunday's inaugural event starts at 1:30, and if past speed reports are indicative of what will be run in the 250-mile race, the racers will turn in record-breaking times and end the race well under two hours.

Laps of over 182 mph have already been turned in, and some drivers think that a lap of 190 will be necessary to win the pole position.

Officials had hoped that at least two turbines would be in the inaugural race, but a crack-up last week at the track eliminated Art Pollard's car. One, however, remains and it will be driven by Joe Leonard.

Mario Andretti, who has tested Firestone tires here and has a lap mark over 182, feels only the turbo-charged machines will have a chance to win.

The race has attracted the world's top drivers and fans well know the entries—Foyt, the Unsers, Ruby, Vukovich, Bettenhausen, McCluskey, Johncock, Malloy, Pollard, Leonard, Tinglestad, Rutherford, McElreath, Bucknam and Dallenbach.

Although the purse of $75,000 is second only to the Indianapolis 500, race officials feel the lap prizes and money awarded on accesories could push the value to well over $100,000.

Thousands of fans are expected to converge on the Irish Hills track, just 12 west of Tecumseh, with many coming from out-of-state. Whether traffic will create unbelievable jams or not on the two-lane roads leading to the Speedway is something traffic officials will have to wait and see.

Murell Clark, Tecumseh police chief, says traffic lights here will be turned to caution if the traffic builds up on M-50, the main highway leading to the track from the east.

Clinton State Police have had all leaves cancelled for Saturday and Sunday in order to provide traffic control in and around Cambridge Junction and MIS.

Additional State Police from Jonesville and the Blissfield posts also have been assigned to the MIS area. Approximately 50 State Police officers will be on duty both days, beginning at 5 a.m. and remaining until all traffic has been cleared in the afternoons.

MIS officials report that gates will be opened at dawn both days, and many, especially those who will watch the qualifying rounds and the race from the infield, are expected to arrive early.

Sunday's festivities will start at 10:30 and will include a parade of the 1969 cars and an airplane acrobatic show. Lt. Gov. William Milliken also is expected to participate in Sunday's program.

Board's Decision Is for New High School

Tecumseh School Board voted Monday night to build a new high school here with occupancy probably in 1971 or 1972.

The Board's decision was reached after months of deliberation over whether a new high school or a middle school would benefit the district most.

Supt. James McDowell says the Board will go to the people next year, possibly in June, for approval of funds for the new high school and remodeling expenses at the present high school.

Plans call for an extensive remodeling program at the high school to house grades six, seven and eight. The present high school has a capacity for 1,200 students and would easily accommodate the three grades.

Officials say costs of the two proposed projects will be released after drawings are completed and architects determine the approximate costs.

Directly involved in constructing a new high school is selection of a site. Mr. McDowell and Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent, are preparing and gathering information for the Board and will present it at the Oct. 21 meeting.

Sites to be reviewed include:

- ► North of W. Chicago Blvd., along Occidental Rd., behind Whelan Implement and Schneider Chevrolet - Buick Area consists of 65 acres.
- ► North of Conklin Dr. and east of Occidental, about 60 acres.
- ► South of Conklin Dr. and east of Occidental, approximately 30 acres of which the Board currently owns 10.
- ► Louis Caterina farm off N. Union St.
- ► Robert Fuller farm, north of W. Chicago Blvd. and west of Seminole Dr. and Brookside Cemetery, about 75 acres.
- ► South of Russell Rd. and just east of Occidental.
- ► About 45 acres between Burt St. and Macon Rd.
- ► Tecumseh Products property, north of Methodist Church, 42 acres.

According to the administration, the Board has practically eliminated the Products' land as not large enough. A minimum of 60 acres has been established for a new high school.

Such a sizable area would allow for ample parking, future expansion, intramural field and a football and track stadium. Officials have indicated that the current football field would be abandoned for varsity and other athletic events in favor of a new facility next to a new high school.

Officer Doing Time in Jail

Doug Aylesworth, Tecumseh policeman and local businessman, has been sentenced to spend five evenings, 7 p.m. to 7 a.m., in the Lenawee County jail for contempt of court.

His sentence resulted after appearing before Judge Rex Martin Monday morning in Circuit Court. The local police officer began serving his time Monday night.

Contempt charges were placed against Aylesworth after the court ordered him to suspend his business operations, selling bottle gas, and to conform with other stipulations by the court.

Players Plan Tryouts Sunday

Tryouts will be held together with a general meeting of the Tecumseh Players at 8 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 13, at the Community Center Glass Room.

Previous turnout for tryouts was poor and there are still many parts that need immediate casting for the comedy, "Mr. Barry's Etchings," to be presented in November.

Settle for $1,000

Tecumseh Council voted Monday night to settle a suit brought against the city by Robert Brown, now owner of the Wig-Wam restaurant near Adrian on US-223.

The suit, according to information revealed at the Council session, came about when Mr. Brown's ex-wife, Barbara, removed some beauty shop equipment from a home on E. Chicago Blvd.

At the time, the former Mrs. Brown asked the police to provide her police protection while having the equipment removed. She reportedly told officers that she was afraid of her husband, who happens to have a gun registered with the local police.

Unfortunately, the equipment belonged to Mr. Brown, not his ex-wife, and had an estimated value of $4,200.

In Monday evening's agreement, with the Council approved settling with Mr. Brown for $1,000.

As to the future, Council approved purchasing liability insurance for the local police department.

Mill Sought

Raisin Township voters will find a millage issue on the November ballot. One mill is being sought by the township for the construction and equipping of a new fire barn.

Exact location of the new station will not be determined until after the election outcome.

DON BAIRD

Baird Starts for Spartans

No. 59 is making quite a name for himself at Michigan State University. He's Don Baird of Tecumseh and the first Indian ever to play and start for a Big Ten club.

Fans who have seen Don play can pick him out easily. Those who will be getting their first glimpse this Saturday when the Spartans visit the University of Michigan can spot him with a couple of hints.

He's the chunkiest of all Spartan offensive starters and third from being the shortest. He's a big 5' 10", 205 pounder who has all the appearances of being just about as wide as he is tall.

In the first two MSU victories, Don played every minute on offense at l. guard. He started against Wisconsin and played with the regulars until substitutes took over in the route.

Don's slated to start against the Wolverines, and with a local boy in the Spartan lineup, MSU will be sentimental favorites here to trim Michigan.

A recent news release from the Spartan Sports Service pretty well covers and tells the significant role of No. 59 at MSU:

Michigan State offensive line Coach Gordie Serr is optimistic about his charges this season, and one of the biggest reasons is the play of guard Don Baird of Tecumseh.

Baird, a reserve the last two years, got the starting berth because of his outstanding play in the Spartans' spring drills. The 5-10, 205-pounder has played every offensive minute in MSU's first two games, and will start this Saturday when the Spartans journey to Madison to take on Wisconsin.

Baird is also one of the Spartan stars in the classroom, consistently posting B grades in his rugged engineering classes.

Baird, a senior, was an all-stater his senior year at Tecumseh High School, where he won eight letters in three sports.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baird of 114 W. Patterson.

We would also like to add that Don is one of the few Big Ten players playing football today without receiving a football tender and scholarship. He went out on his own and worked his way up through more highly-touted players, who were getting a free ride or much of their expenses covered by the university because they were great high school players.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rumpf of Toledo, formerly of Tecumseh and John Pozsik and Mrs. Hazel Disbrow, both of Toledo.

Constance Valentine, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. The bridesmaids included Valerie Rumpf, sister of the bride, Patricia Brown, cousin, Sherry Harper and Sally Sass, both friends of the bride.

Tina Michaels and Holly Pozsik were the flower girls, wearing floor length orange velvet dresses made for them by the mother of the bride.

Robert Spain, friend of the groom, served as best man. The ushers included Daniel Duncan, William Dukeshire and Thomas Hackler.

The mother of the bride chose a beige knit dress and pinned a corsage of yellow roses to her purse.

As the bride left the altar she made a tribute to her mother by taking a single white rose from the center of her bouquet and handed it to her mother, who then pinned it to her dress.

A reception was held in Sylvan Hall. Following a wedding trip to Nantucket Island, the couple will be at home at 1779 Tremainsville Road, The Plantation House Apartments.

Sandra Marr Marries Russell Cowen

A beautiful arrangement of fall flowers formed the background for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Sandra Lea Marr to Russell Allen Cowen. The ceremony was performed at the Springville United Methodist Church with the Rev. Ford Baker officiating at the double ring ceremony. Prenuptial organ selections were played by Mrs. Lyman Cory.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Marr of Brooklyn are parents of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cowen of Tipton are parents of the groom.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a sheath gown of Chantilly lace over white satin.

A chapel length flowing train was secured by a satin bow. The elbow length illusion veil was attached to a matching bow.

Mrs. Patrick Harris, in an A-line floor length gown of pale yellow brocaded taffeta, was matron of honor. Debra Cowen, sister of the groom, Susan Kurtz, bridesmaids, were dressed in matching mint green gowns.

Mary Ann Pender, the flower girl, also wore mint green. The attendants carried fireside baskets of fall flowers.

Baskets of white gladioli and pink asters were used on the altar.

Mrs. Gordon Mitchinson, sister of the bride, of Northport, sang accompanied by Nancy Swiderski.

Mrs. Douglas Sprague, sister-in-law of the bride, made the A-line floor length gown of white peau de soie worn by the bride as she was escorted to the altar on the arm of her father.

A band of lace edged the empire waistline and the long sleeves came to points at the wrists. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of lace, also made by Mrs. Douglas Sprague.

She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses, white pompons and ivy tied with moss green streamers and pink bows.

Her only attendant was her cousin, Mrs. Warner Snyder, of Adrian, who wore a floor length gown of avocado green with a floral embossed velvet bodice.

She wore a Dior bow in her hair and carried a cascade of pink carnations tied with moss green streamers.

Donald Cattell was his brother's best man and the 200 guests were seated by Douglas and Alfred Sprague, brothers of the bride, and Louis Cattell and Robert Ashenfelter, brothers of the groom.

New District Courts Explained by Kerby

Friday evening, Yale L. Kerby, candidate for District Judge, analyzed and explained the workings of the new District Court for Lenawee County to the members of the North Adrian Grange and Saturday to the Blissfield citizens at a coffee hour held at the Town Pump in Blissfield by the Kerby committee.

Mr. Kerby explained that the fee system is abolished as of January 1st and the District Judge will be a salaried state employee. He pointed out that all Justices of the Peace, Circuit Court Commissioners, and the Adrian Municipal Judge are also abolished.

He stated that the new District Court will assume all jurisdiction abolished and in addition alleviate the load of the Circuit Court by acquiring exclusive jurisdiction up to $3,000.00, ordinance violations and felony arraignments.

Mr. Kerby also said that the magistrate system and the clerk system throughout the County would be recommended by the Judges and approved by the Board of Supervisors. He pointed out, however, that villages and cities have an option as to whether they will operate their own traffic bureaus at their own expense. Mr. Kerby emphasized that it will take some time before the Court system will be perfected.

Mr. Kerby explained that the judicial ballot or the judicial section of the voting machine is separate from the party levers or ballot.

Lady Pilot Competes in Race

Mrs. Carlton Cook and her co-pilot husband, Dr. Cook, finished 17th out of 60 planes in the Michigan SMALL race in Ann Arbor Saturday.

This was no small feat when a few seconds and a tenth of a gallon of gas is a point for or against contestants.

"Speed was not the all-important factor in the race, the 13th held in Michigan," Mrs. Cook stated. "It's how well you know and handle your plane. We didn't use enough gasoline."

"We completed the run in one hour and 40 minutes. It should have taken one hour and 36 minutes but we were glad we made all the check points, Blissfield, Sturgis and Salem," continued Tecumseh's newly-licensed pilot.

At Sturgis, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cook, brother and wife of the co-pilot, had driven from their home to the airport to watch the fly-by before going on to the next checkpoint. The Cook children watched the take-off and finishing.

Mrs. Cook's instructor, Mrs. Richard Jacobs, of Adrian, won fifth place, accompanied by Mrs. Rex Banks as co-pilot.

Mrs. Banks is a nurse at Herrick Memorial Hospital. They were flying a Piper Cherokee 180. Prize money of 50 was given by the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce and the trophy by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, Lansing.

Only seconds and a few tenths of a gallon of gas separated the five finalists.

Court Bid High

Bids were opened last Friday for remodeling of the Miller Dairy Store into the new district court rooms. Only one bid was received by the supervisors for the job.

The lone bidder was Gateway Construction of Tecumseh. The bid was for $25,500. In the September meeting of the Board of Supervisors authorization was made to purchase the Miller building. It was also stipulated that no more than $20,000 be used in remodeling. The excess of $5,500 will have to be cut from the overall plans.

The bid could not be accepted by the building and grounds committee of the supervisors, approval had not yet been received from the state concerning the construction plans submitted.

A state law in 1966 makes it compulsory to comply with certain regulations concerning handicapped persons. Runways must be constructed at entrances to state or county buildings which serve the public. Wider doors on rest rooms and other regulations must be met before approval can be gained. The law is for all new or remodeled government offices.

The higher bid received will be reviewed in an attempt to bring the cost of remodeling the new court rooms into the $20,000 appropriation.

Some basic work on the building has already been done by William Baltz from whom the supervisors purchased the building. Office spaces have been started, along with other improvements prior to the purchase by the county of the building.

It is not known at present what plans the supervisors have concerning the remodeling of the building, whether or not the Gateway bid will stand, cut to meet the budget or if the state adds certain specifications which present plans did not allow for, thus increasing the cost of the remodeling.

Hearings Underway For Area Youths

Some 25 youths from Tecumseh are awaiting preliminary hearings in probate court in Adrian concerning a series of breakings and enterings in Tecumseh which began earlier this year and continued through the summer.

The youths, whose ages range from 14 to 16, are on temporary probation until a determination can be made in their individual cases.

Neville Hart, principal of the high school and the Tecumseh Police are working closely with the probate court juvenile division in Adrian on the hearings for the youth.

The varying degrees of the seriousness of each act by the youths has to be determined by the court, Mr. Hart, who attends each hearing, explained that it was difficult in the cases of the freshmen students of whom he had not had an opportunity to become acquainted.

Five hearings were held two weeks ago, three last week and three more scheduled for this week. The cases are being inserted on the court calendar along with the regular proceedings of the court.

Strict rules govern the boys and their actions while on probation, as they are brought into the hearings they are informed that a violation of probation could call for them being housed at the Youth Center near Adrian.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"I have to live with myself and so,
I want to be fit for myself to know.
I want to be able, as days go by
Always to look myself right in the eye;
I don't want to stand in the setting sun
And hate myself for the things I've done."

The late Eddie Guest was one of my favorite people. He had such sage advice in his poetry like this "self-examining" one.

Our heritage places the responsibility for this free and glorious nation squarely on the shoulders of each individual citizen, like the quotation: "To whom much has been given, of him much is expected in return." The kind of return being made by far too many people who claim to be citizens of America is the reason for the dangers in which we find ourselves today. How many who are eligible do not even take the time to vote?

Of those who do take the trouble, how many vote "like my father before me" not stopping to realize that the party his "Father" supported is not even in existence, as far as principles are concerned.

Mrs. Maude L. Creger entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant and four children from Fort Wayne, Ind., over the weekend. The group accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clemons and two sons to Ann Arbor Saturday evening to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jack Braden and two sons. James Bryant has just returned from a year's service overseas.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman have returned from three weeks vacation. They attended the American Academy of General Practitioners in Las Vegas, Nev. and then went to Gillette, Wyo., for some bow hunting. Dr. H. got both a mule deer and a buck antelope. Their son, Capt. Ralph Helzerman and wife and baby joined them in Gillette after completing preliminaries in Texas and en route to Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, were at Worthington, O., to visit their children, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton for the weekend. They went Friday and on Saturday a dinner was arranged to observe Mrs. Thomas Hamilton's birthday anniversary. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton were received into membership in the Worthington Presbyterian Church. Grandson, John Hamilton, Jr., and roommates came from Ohio State University for the occasion. They returned to Tecumseh Monday.

Sp/5 and Mrs. Norman Scott and three children arrived in Tecumseh to spend a 15 day furlough with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith. Norman will leave for Japan where he will be stationed for three years. Mrs. Scott and family will remain in Tecumseh until housing becomes available in Japan when she will join her husband.

Hugh Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Wright, 6535 N. Adrian Hwy., has become an active member in the Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity, Tau Chapter at Michigan State University. Hugh is a sophomore majoring in fisheries.

Mrs. Duane Steele has accepted a position in the Tecumseh Office Supply.

Mrs. Carlos Jones has moved to Mather, Pa. Her address is 334 Third St. there. The ZIP code is 15346.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Day entertained for dinner Sunday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moxley of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wollenhaupt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bigelow and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle M. Grigg.

Tecumseh JV's Down MJ 46-0

Before a Parent's Night crowd, the Tecumseh JV's swamped Monroe Jefferson JV's 46-0. The junior tribesmen led at the end of the first quarter 26-0.

Dave Gurtzweiler scored two touchdowns, one on a run of 65 yards and a 35 yard pass play from Scott Dalton. Dalton also scored a touchdown and ran an extra point in the first quarter.

Marv Maynard went over from the 5 yard line in the third quarter to boost the score to 39-0. Maynard scored on a plunge of two yards in the first period. Maynard also ran over the point after to aid the Tribes' winning cause.

Dave Kelley snared a Dalton pass in the fourth quarter that went for 72 yards and a TD, Rick Schuyler kicked the point after and the score stood at 46-0. Schuyler kicked two extra points in the game.

Other players who turned in key performances for the win were Steve Hallenbeck, Louis Rebottaro, Doug Jones, Gordy McElroy, Rich Heirholzer, Jim Hale, Bob Aten, Richard Johnson and Dan Finley.

Mrs. James Curth and Mrs. Pat Connors made arrangements and served refreshments to the proud parents that attended the game.

Indians Crush MJ 41-6

Monroe Jefferson's first encounter with the Tecumseh Indians Saturday afternoon was one the Jefferson fans would rather forget. Tecumseh clobbered the Huron League newcomer, 41-6, giving the Indians a share of the league lead.

A three-touchdown first half was more than the Indians needed against MJ in a game that had been predicted to be a toss-up.

Kenny Pieh opened the scoring and climaxed a 60-yard drive in the opening quarter with a 11-yard TD run. Quarterback John Kennedy added six more in the second period, sneaking over from the one. Pieh ran for the first two extra points.

With just two seconds left in the half, Steve Dalton made a great catch from Kennedy and stepped into the end zone for Tecumseh's third score. The tally was set up when linebacker and tri-captain Rick Steele snared an MJ pass and ran it back 60 yards to Jefferson's 20.

Shortly after the half, Hunt ended a 63-yard drive with a two-yard romp for a TD. Kennedy tallied the extra point.

Jack Baker scored his first varsity [illegible] when he picked up a fumble and scampered 20 yards. Denny Lewis, who had kicked one previous extra point earlier in the season, booted one through the uprights.

With the reserves taking over, Craig Smith passed to Jim Collins with the score-producing play covering the final 33 yards.

It was by far Tecumseh's best offensive display, and one which might indicate that the Indians' offensive has jelled. Tecumseh gained 304 yards rushing and 59 passing, compared to MJ's 81 rushing and 36 passing.

The Indians picked up 19 first downs to MJ's 10, and Kennedy completed three of six passes with no interceptions, while Impasatato, rated highly among league backs, connected on just four of 11 tosses and had one intercepted.

While Pieh and Hunt ran well in the game, offensive honors from the coach went to Kennedy who picked up 67 yards rushing, scored one TD, passed for another, and ran for one extra point.

Dalton has been praised by Fagan as top offensive lineman, and Hunt as best defensive back.

Jack Greenfield, based on his performance, won honors for best linebacker, and Carlo Mobley has repeated as best defensive lineman.

LEADING THE WAY — 6'1",222-pound guard Jim Parros (63) pulls out to lead the way for halfback Jim Hunt (20) in Saturday afternoon's romp over Monroe Jefferson. Parros and Hunt are two of the stalwarts on the 1968 version of the Tecumseh Indians' football team.

Say You Saw It in The Herald

Crucial Game Looms For Traveling Tribe

A crucial game looms up Friday night when the Tecumseh Indians travel to Grosse Ile, a club which always proves tough for the Indians to whip.

If the Indians win, they can enter next week's game against undefeated Monroe Catholic Central with an opportunity of practically wrapping up the Huron League championship.

However, if GI would upset Tecumseh, even a win over Monroe CC might not prove good enough. GC plays one extra league game and could win the championship game although bowing to Tecumseh.

The Indians could be in for trouble Friday night with possibly three regulars missing the game.

Tackle Jim Parros is definitely out, and Denny Lewis could also be on the sidelines. Both have knee injuries. Jim Hunt has a bruised knee and could be out of the backfield.

Dave Laidlaw will take Parros' place on defense, and Jack Greenfield on offense. Bob Hackett will replace Lewis on defense and possibly on offense, unless Earl Ruttkofsky starts. Frank Geisenhaver takes Hunt's place.

GI has 21 seniors on its roster along with 13 juniors, giving it a veteran club. Size and speed-wise, GI is comparable to the Indians.

If Tecumseh's offense has jelled, as the 41-6 rout of Monroe-Jefferson would indicate, local fans should see the Indians spoil Grosse Ile's homecoming.

Auxiliary Holds Annual Inspection

Twenty-two members were present Oct. 2 for the annual inspection of Hall-Slater Auxiliary No. 4187 when District President Mrs. Robert Connolly of Monroe was the inspecting officer.

Mrs. Kennard Wise, hospital chairman, gave a report on the party held at the Ann Arbor Veterans Hospital for over 100 patients.

Those attending from Tecumseh were Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sisty, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Froelich, Mrs. Marilyn Betz, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, Mrs. James Felton, Mrs. Walter Mueller, Mrs. Harold Warren, Lloyd Stites and Mrs. John Martin.

Rehabilitation chairman Mrs. Norman Sisty reported on Gold Star Mothers Day, six plants were given and placed on the graves. Members voted to purchase the custom-made ladies three-wheeled bike for Boncile Sniffen.

Membership chairman Mrs. Eugene Froelich announced that 32 members had paid their '69 dues. Dues must be paid before Dec. 31 to insure Cancer Insurance coverage, she said.

Youth Activities chairman Mrs. Roy Burchett announced that the Poster Program is underway in the schools.

Americanism chairman Mrs. Kenneth Hunter will present a flag to the Tecumseh Camp Fire Group. Voice of Democracy chairman Mrs. William Flanders is working to present this program in the high schools.

The first Sixth District Rally was held at Springport last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, president; Mrs. Walter Mueller and her husband, Commander and Mrs. Norman Sisty, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stites, Mrs. Kennard Wise, Mrs. Betty Strand, Mrs. Flanders and Carroll Conklin attending.

Area Students Help Build New Home

As a part of vocational education established in Lenawee County this year, a home is being constructed in Coventry Village on Occidental Hwy., south of Tecumseh.

Arden Sager, with over 20 years' experience in all fields of home construction, is supervising the boys in the project which will culminate next year with a $25,000 to $30,000 house.

The architecture of the building will be semi-colonial in looks. It will have a full basement and attached two-car garage. The responsibility of the boys will range through most of the work that is involved in the construction.

A committee has been formed of licensed electricians, plumbers, heating installers and others who are familiar with the state regulations involved in building a home.

While the boys will be doing the actual work, this committee will oversee the project in the related areas. Licenses for the construction are taken out in their names and inspections will be made, enabling the two classes at the Coventry site to become fully aware of the proper installation of wiring, plumbing, heating, etc.

The basement and garage will have sub-contractors in the flat finished work. The quantity of cement used in these phases of construction called for fast and efficient work. While the students in the classes could more than likely do the jobs, it was felt by the education people that since the house would be on the open market and the Intermediate School District wished to recoup most of their money from the project, professional work would insure against mistakes.

Ray Kopp of Hudson, the first in the county to undertake home construction with his students, is aiding Mr. Sager in the class workmanship. He has given advice, from his experience in the field to Mr. Sager and they work closely on both projects. Mr. Sager teaches classes from the Adrian-Tecumseh area while Mr. Kopp teaches classes from the western section of the county.

Eight students work mornings for approximately 2½ hours while 12 continue work on the house in the afternoon for the same time. Mr. Sager enjoys working with the young men on the site and finds his new experience in vocational education "fun". It was difficult at first he stated, to become familiar with working with a crew of inexperienced helpers.

He found teaching and actually doing the work a great deal different. He has adjusted and is satisfied with the achievement already gained on the house site.

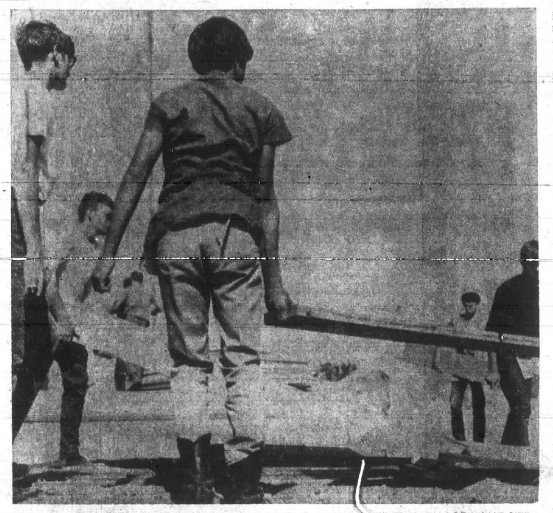
The home, which is pre-cut, was to be delivered this week. The firm which bid the house will leave the truck on the site so that the materials will be kept out of the weather.

The shell of the house is dismantled as far as possible to not deprive the boys of some of the skills needed in installing windows, doors and other parts of the house.

The vocational education people in the county are hopeful that the house can be finished by June 1 for an open house to display what the students have accomplished insofar as their practical training was concerned.

While some of the students may not enter the field of construction, it is an occupation that will for instance allow them to work summers while going to college, it will also give them an insight into whether or not construction is the type of industry which they wish to enter upon graduation from high school.

At present the progress would look slow to one not familiar with construction. It is felt by the educators, however, that already much progress has been shown, in more ways than the walls and roof of a house.



AREA STUDENTS PREPARE TO LAY THE SUB-FLOORING AT THE COVENTRY VILLAGE HOME SITE.

New Speedway Approved

It wishes to receive assistance on the design, installation and application of soil and water conservation practices for the 800 acres located in Cambridge Township.

The district will be able to give soils information that will include the soil interpretation sheets developed by the Soil Conservation Service. These sheets include information that can be used in areas of varied land uses. They will be a valuable tool for the overall development of the entire area.

There is a great deal of technical information that can be given through the district. Some of this information will be on tree and shrub species to be used on different kinds of soils from sand to loam to clay along with doughtyness or wetness of the soils. The soil slope and present vegetation will also determine species to use. Technical information on grass seedings and fertilization will be available.

Those areas needing drainage, grassed waterways, diversions or any other erosion control measures will be given surveys and lesigns by the Soil Conservation Service technicians who work for the Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

The Michigan International Speedway is an example of one of the land use changes taking place in Lenawee County today. Soil Conservation Districts were originally set up mainly to work with agriculture lands.

Worthy master Don Mueller made the presentation to: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Halley, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bortel, Mr. and Mrs. Mills Swick, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Startevant, Mrs. Myrtlene Craig, Harry Craig, Jack Barrett, Mrs. Don Mueller, Mrs. Robert Stewart.

Five were not present to receive their pins and certificates. They are the Rev. and Mrs. Blair Bashore, Mrs. George Green, and Mrs. Opal Aper and Lamont Aper of Milan.

Four members of the Elwood Bush family gave a musical program and cards were played to conclude the entertainment.

Heart Fund

Recent contributions to the Herrick Memorial Heart Fund were made in memory of Mrs. Haddie Miller, Britton, by Mrs. Earl Caswell, Mrs. Ella Filter, Alice Filter and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Merz.

Monroe Jefferson's first encounter with the Tecumseh Indians Saturday afternoon was one the Jefferson fans would rather forget. Tecumseh clobbered the Huron League newcomer, 41-6, giving the Indians a share of the league lead.

A three-touchdown first half was more than the Indians needed against MJ in a game that had been predicted to be a toss-up.

Kenny Pieh opened the scoring and climaxed a 60-yard drive in the opening quarter with a 11-yard TD run. Quarterback John Kennedy added six more in the second period, sneaking over from the one. Pieh ran for the first two extra points.

With just two seconds left in the half, Steve Dalton made a great catch from Kennedy and stepped into the end zone for Tecumseh's third score. The tally was set up when linebacker and tri-captain Rick Steele snared an MJ pass and ran it back 60 yards to Jefferson's 20.

Shortly after the half, Hunt ended a 63-yard drive with a two-yard romp for a TD. Kennedy tallied the extra point.

Jack Baker scored his first varsity touchdown when he picked up a fumble and scampered 20 yards. Denny Lewis, who had kicked one previous extra point earlier in the season, booted one through the uprights.

With the reserves taking over, Craig Smith passed to Jim Collins with the score-producing play covering the final 33 yards.

It was by far Tecumseh's best offensive display, and one which might indicate that the Indians' offensive has jelled. Tecumseh gained 304 yards rushing and 59 passing, compared to MJ's 81 rushing and 36 passing.

The Indians picked up 19 first downs to MJ's 10, and Kennedy completed three of six passes with no interceptions, while Impasatato, rated highly among league backs, connected on just four of 11 tosses and had one intercepted.

While Pieh and Hunt ran well in the game, offensive honors from the coach went to Kennedy who picked up 67 yards rushing, scored one TD, passed for another, and ran for one extra point.

Dalton has been praised by Fagan as top offensive lineman, and Hunt as best defensive back.

Jack Greenfield, based on his performance, won honors for best linebacker, and Carlo Mobley has repeated as best defensive lineman.

LEADING THE WAY — 6'1", 222-pound guard Jim Parros (63) pulls out to lead the way for halfback Jim Hunt (20) in Saturday afternoon's romp over Monroe Jefferson. Parros and Hunt are two of the stalwarts on the 1968 version of the Tecumseh Indians' football team.

Crucial Game Looms For Traveling Tribe

A crucial game looms up Friday night when the Tecumseh Indians travel to Grosse Ile, a club which always proves tough for the Indians to whip.

If the Indians win, they can enter next week's game against undefeated Monroe Catholic Central with an opportunity of practically wrapping up the Huron League championship.

However, if GI would upset Tecumseh, even a win over Monroe CC might not prove good enough. CC plays one extra league game and could win the championship game although bowing to Tecumseh.

Tackle Jim Parros is definitely out, and Denny Lewis could also be on the sidelines. Both have knee injuries. Jim Hunt has a bruised knee and could be out of the backfield.

Dave Laidlaw will take Parros' place on defense, and Jack Greenfield on offense. Bob Hackett will replace Lewis on defense and possibly on offense, unless Earl Ruttkofsky starts. Frank Geisenhaver takes Hunt's place.

GI has 21 seniors on its roster along with 13 juniors, giving it a veteran club. Size and speedwise, GI is comparable to the Indians.

If Tecumseh's offense has jelled, as the 41-6 rout of Monroe-Jefferson would indicate, local fans should see the Indians spoil Grosse Ile's homecoming.

Auxiliary Holds Annual Inspection

Twenty-two members were present Oct. 2 for the annual inspection of Hall-Slater Auxiliary No. 4187 when District President Mrs. Robert Connolly of Monroe was the inspecting officer.

Mrs. Kennard Wise, hospital chairman, gave a report on the party held at the Ann Arbor Veterans Hospital for over 100 patients.

Those attending from Tecumseh were Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sisty, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Froelich, Mrs. Marilyn Betz, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, Mrs. James Felton, Mrs. Walter Mueller, Mrs. Harold Warren, Lloyd Stites and Mrs. John Martin.

Rehabilitation chairman Mrs. Norman Sisty reported on Gold Star Mothers Day, six plants were given and placed on the graves. Members voted to purchase the custom-made ladies three-wheeled bike for Boncile Sniffen.

Membership chairman Mrs. Eugene Froelich announced that 32 members had paid their '69 dues. Dues must be paid before Dec. 31 to insure Cancer Insurance coverage, she said.

Youth Activities chairman Mrs. Roy Burchett announced that the Poster Program is underway in the schools.

Americanism chairman Mrs. Kenneth Hunter will present a flag to the Tecumseh Camp Fire Group. Voice of Democracy chairman Mrs. William Flanders is working to present this program in the high schools.

The first Sixth District Rally was held at Springport last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, president; Mrs. Walter Mueller and her husband, Commander and Mrs. Norman Sisty, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stites, Mrs. Kennard Wise, Mrs. Betty Strand, Mrs. Flanders and Carroll Conklin attending.

Area Students Help Build New Home

As a part of vocational education established in Lenawee County this year, a home is being constructed in Coventry Village on Occidental Hwy., south of Tecumseh.

Arden Sager, with over 20 years' experience in all fields of home construction, is supervising the boys in the project which will culminate next year with a $25,000 to $30,000 house.

The architecture of the building will be semi-colonial in looks. It will have a full basement and attached two-car garage. The responsibility of the boys will range through most of the work that is involved in the construction.

A committee has been formed of licensed electricians, plumbers, heating installers and others who are familiar with the state regulations involved in building a home.

While the boys will be doing the actual work, this committee will oversee the project in the related areas. Licenses for the construction are taken out in their names and inspections will be made, enabling the two classes at the Coventry site to become fully aware of the proper installation of wiring, plumbing, heating, etc.

The basement and garage will have sub-contractors in the flat finished work. The quantity of cement used in these phases of construction called for fast and efficient work. While the students in the classes could more than likely do the jobs, it was felt by the education people that since the house would be on the open market and the Intermediate School District wished to recoup most of their money from the project, professional work would insure against mistakes.

Ray Kopp of Hudson, the first in the county to undertake home construction with his students, is aiding Mr. Sager in the class workmanship. He has given advice, from his experience in the field to Mr. Sager and they work closely on both projects. Mr. Sager teaches classes from the Adrian-Tecumseh area while Mr. Kopp teaches classes from the western section of the county.

Eight students work mornings for approximately 2½ hours while 12 continue work on the house in the afternoon for the same time. Mr. Sager enjoys working with the young men on the site and finds his new experience in vocational education "fun". It was difficult at first he stated, to become familiar with working with a crew of inexperienced helpers.

He found teaching and actually doing the work a great deal different. He has adjusted and is satisfied with the achievement already gained on the house site.

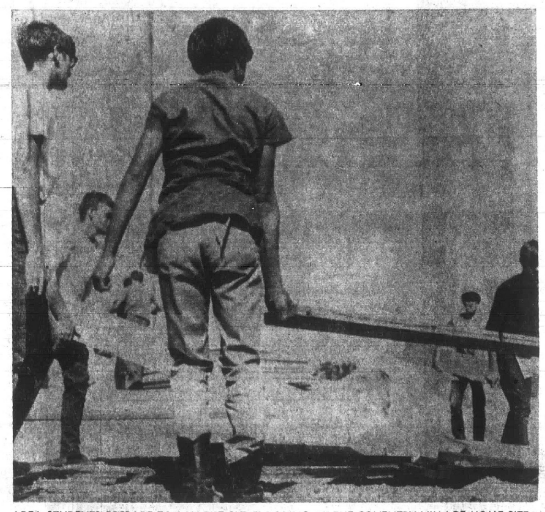
The home, which is pre-cut, was to be delivered this week. The firm which bid the house will leave the truck on the site so that the materials will be kept out of the weather.

The shell of the house is dismantled as far as possible to not deprive the boys of some of the skills needed in installing windows, doors and other parts of the house.

The vocational education people in the county are hopeful that the house can be finished by June 1 for an open house to display what the students have accomplished insofar as their practical training was concerned.

While some of the students may not enter the field of construction, it is an occupation that will for instance allow them to work summers while going to college, it will also give them an insight into whether or not construction is the type of industry which they wish to enter upon graduation from high school.

At present the progress would look slow to one not familiar with construction. It is felt by the educators, however, that already much progress has been shown, in more ways than the walls and roof of a house.



AREA STUDENTS PREPARE TO LAY THE SUB-FLOORING AT THE COVENTRY VILLAGE HOME SITE.

New Speedway Approved

It wishes to receive assistance on the design, installation and application of soil and water conservation practices for the 800 acres located in Cambridge Township.

The district will be able to give soils information that will include the soil interpretation sheets developed by the Soil Conservation Service. These sheets include information that can be used in areas of varied land uses. They will be a valuable tool for the overall development of the entire area.

There is a great deal of technical information that can be given through the district. Some of this information will be on tree and shrub species to be used on different kinds of soils from sand to loam to clay along with doughtyness or wetness of the soils. The soil slope and present vegetation will also determine species to use. Technical information on grass seedings and fertilization will be available.

Those areas needing drainage, grassed waterways, diversions or any other erosion control measures will be given surveys and lesigns by the Soil Conservation Service technicians who work for the Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

The Michigan International Speedway is an example of one of the land use changes taking place in Lenawee County today. Soil Conservation Districts were originally set up mainly to work with agriculture lands.

QUESTION:
"If we are not sure that we will always live here, why should we purchase a cemetery lot before we need it?"

ANSWER:
Cemetery property does not deteriorate and can be sold if you were to permanently move to another area. The thoughtful family usually makes this preliminary investment before need.

Book Mark
News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready and waiting for you at your public library:

SPARROW'S FALL, by Fred Bodsworth deals with two of man's most basic urges: love and survival. He battles against starvation in the Hudson Bay Lowland, and out of this he discovers the nobility of life in the face of violent death.

WIDOWMAKERS, is based on an actual case and is developed into an excellent suspense story. This is the second mystery by M. Fagyas and is suspense writing in the grand tradition.

FIVE SMOOTH STONES, David Champlin is a Negro born in New Orleans during the worst of the depression, and his story spans generations and classes, races and continents. By Ann Fairbairn.

MAY WE BORROW YOUR HUSBAND, by Graham Greene.

HEGERTY, M.D., another excellent book by Elizabeth Seifert.

WHERE THE DREAMS CROSS, Ellen Douglas has succeeded in her intention of conveying a sense of the society these people live in, its value a reversal of what it seems on the surface to be. This is her third novel.

RESCUE MISSION, by John Ball. A very exciting tale of flying, rescues while trying to outrace a hurricane in a plane that wasn't safe and the pilots weren't qualified to fly.

RAGGED EDGE. Earthquakes and tidal waves were only faraway disasters to Matthew Cotter, living comfortably in the Channel Isles, until one night he is awakened by the thunder of a massive earthquake. By John Christopher.

Musical Program By Half-Notes

The History of the Federation Hymn was given by Andrea Phillips at the meeting of the Half-Notes Music Club, Friday afternoon at the United Methodist Church. Afterward the group sang the hymn.

The group, composed of students in fourth through sixth grades, will perform at the Herrick Hospital Nursing Home the first week in December.

The program included a flute duet by Julie Murphy and Maureen O'Brien, who played "America." Cindy Younglove played a piano solo, "Goblin's Ride." Lynn Peck played a piano solo, "Daner Macre."

The lesson was on "Saint Saens" by Mary Beth Lay.

Punch and cookies were served by Janet Heeson and Cindy Younglove.

The Nov. 1 meeting will be at 4 p.m. in the United Methodist Church.

Scholarship For Miss Smith

Susan M. Smith, a freshman at Adrian College, has been awarded a United Methodist Scholarship by the Board of Education of the United Methodist Church. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Smith, 5542 Milwaukee Rd.

United Methodist Scholarship Awards cover tuition and fees up to $500 and are granted on the basis of superior academic standing, leadership ability, active churchmanship, character, personality and need.

About 500 such awards are given annually by the Methodist Board of Education and its nationwide scholarship program. More than 9,000 United Methodist Scholarships have been granted since the program was started in 1945.

Funds for the support of United Methodist Scholarships are received from local Methodist churches on the basis of a church-wide offering on United Methodist Student Day, the second Sunday in June.

Esch Appoints Key Aides

Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Michigan), a candidate for re-election to the U. S. House of Representatives, has announced the appointment of several key aides for his campaign.

General chairman of the Esch for Congress organization is Edward C. Hathaway, an Ann Arbor insurance agent. Hathaway, 26, is also chairman of the Washtenaw County Young Republicans.

L. Wayne Kiley, 25, a Vietnam veteran and a candidate for nomination to the state house in the August primary, is coordinating the Esch effort in Lenawee County.

Richard Vidmer, 23, former University of Michigan quarterback and presently a graduate student in political science, is a special assistant to Congressman Esch.

The Congressman's campaign office said more appointments in other areas would be announced in the near future.

Femmes Visit

The Tecumseh Junior High School Girls Athletic Association spent a recent weekend at Greenfield Village, chaperoned by Mrs. Robert Kiebler, the advisor, Mrs. Stuart Costigan, Mrs. Jack Curtiss, Mrs. Ted Todd, Mrs. Richard Dustin and Mrs. Arthur Baaske.

Friday evening, after eating dinner at the Clinton Inn in the Village, the evening activities included a hayride, swimming and playing in the gym.

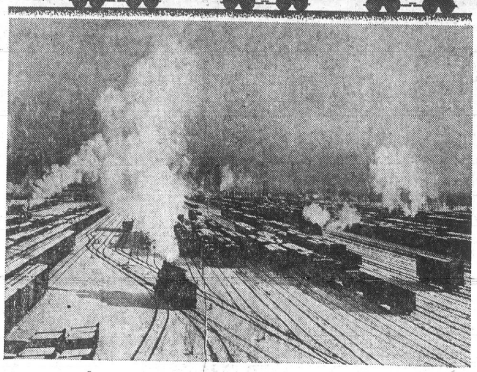
WHAT BELONGS WHERE? ??



The hub of a railroad—the classification yard. Could you, without training or experience, take charge here? Could you sort and "spot" thousands of cars, have them ready at the right time on the right track to go out with the right train?

But every day your mind performs an operation even more complex. You sort and classify your thoughts and impulses. You decide what is right and wrong. You determine which actions are urgent, and which can be deferred. You resolve that some goals are important, and others are secondary. And every decision affects your life, and the lives of others!

Preparing men and women—and boys and girls—to make the right decisions is one of the great functions of the Church. There are sound Christian standards by which life's choices should be sorted. There is confidence and strength for those who seek, learn and practice the true Way of Life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Racing fans will see only the best here Sunday at the inaugural event of the Michigan International Speedway. The best will include these five drivers — A. J. Foyt, Bobby and Al Unser, Gordon Johncock and Mario Andretti — plus twenty-some other top drivers. In points for the USAC championship, Andretti is pushing Bobby Unser, and a win here would put him ahead. Johncock currently holds the lap mark at 182.92, but Andretti is just a shade behind at 182.57. Sunday's race starts at 1:30 and has a purse of $75,000. A crowd between 60,000 and 70,000 is probable, and local and state police departments have assigned additional men to handle the expected turnout.

Letters To the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I have read and re-read at great lengths the Letter to the Editor that appeared in the September 30, 1968, issue from John Hamilton, and I have come to the conclusion that certain comment is needed to bring out all the facts in this situation. I realize that Mr. Hamilton, when he lived here in Tecumseh, was a great public servant, and a devoted backer of activities for the young people of our town, but I feel that he may have lost touch with the situation since he has moved. Therefore, really, this letter should be a clarifying reply to Mr. Hamilton, but he chose to make his comments in public print, so I do the same.

My comments directly refer to the Tecumseh Teen Club, and to his comments about the dereliction of responsibility in having the chaperons for the dance that he attended. I speak only for the Tecumseh Jaycees, as I have no knowledge of the youth activities of the other three service clubs that he mentioned, and yet, since he chose to single out the Jaycees, I feel that a point should be made.

In his letter, Mr. Hamilton states that communication seems to have broken down between the service clubs and the Teen Club. Yet I charge that this is, indeed, a two-way street. On [illegible] before the Wednesday dance that he refers to, I received a phone call from a member of the Teen Club asking for chaperons. At the time the young lady called, I pointed out that a notice of less than 24 hours was extremely short opportunity to notify the some 60 members of the Jaycees in an effort to locate chaperons. I pointed out to her that on the next night, the night of the dance, our Auxiliary had a dress rehearsal for their annual Fashion Show which (incidentally raises funds for the Judy Fielder Memorial Scholarship, which is given to a Tecumseh High School graduating senior), and we had three committee meetings, one of which was being held in Adrian in conjunction with the Adrian Jaycees. I further pointed out to her that since our organization has an internal restriction from phone calls after 10:00 p.m., unless for an emergency, not all of the people would be reached that night, and that for most to try to find a baby-sitter on very short notice the next day would be a near impossibility. However, I told her that I would try. The next evening, Wednesday, I called her home at 6:30 p.m. to tell her that as far as I knew, for the first time at least since I have been a Jaycee, we were absolutely unable to get anyone to help at the dance. Unfortunately, she had already gone to the Community Center, but I was assured that I would have my message passed on to her. I also at the time stated that if the Teen Club wished us to help chaperon the dance the following week, the very latest that we should be notified was by the following Monday night. I was assured that the message would be relayed.

The following week, I was called on a Tuesday night at 9:30 p.m. and asked for help for the following night. Again, I pointed out to the young man who called the dificult position he was placing us in by waiting until after the last minute in asking for help. This time, in an effort to make an object lesson, I declined to even try to find chaperons for the next night. I submit to you that our organization always has, and always will, make every attempt to help out the members of the Teen Club, EVEN THOUGH VIRTUALLY NONE OF OUR MEMBERSHIP IS OLD ENOUGH TO HAVE YOUNGSTERS OF TEEN AGE. However, as I said, communications is a two-way street, and the teens wish to accept the privilege and responsibility of self-government with the Teen Club. Until they accept the fact that they must operate in a businesslike manner, and also until they accept the concept that at least the Tecumseh Jaycees have more pressing responsibilities to the youngsters of Tecumseh than [illegible] ing dances, then there will continue to be a problem of finding chaperons.

And now I would like to comment on Mr. Hamilton's next sentence in the same paragraph, in which he refers to "every time a service club puts on a money-raising project, the big theme is 'For Youth Work'." "Ah, yes, but what about a little of your time, Dad?". Mr. Hamilton, to bring you up to date to just what the Tecumseh Jaycees are doing, I point out to you that included among the list of OVER 120 PROJECTS that we will do this year are "The Tecumseh Jaycee Relays," "Operation of the Little League Commission," "The Easter Egg Hunt," "Junior Champ," "Punt, Pass & Kick," "Jr. Flag Football" a new project involving over 150 5th & 6th graders), "Santa Calling," "Children's Christmas Party," "Teen's Christmas Dance," "Christmas is for Kids" (repair of old & broken toys for needy kids,) and "Operation Get Acquainted" (the project in which over half a dozen of our Jaycee families took a youngster from a disadvantaged family, often from a broken home on welfare and ADC, into their own home for a week this past summer. I further point out to you that in addition to the $15,000.00 plus that we will spend this year on projects — over 90% of which will stay in our community — our most conservative estimate is that we will put an additional 200,000 — that's right, TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND man-hours of effort into our community in making it a better place to live, and if that's not "a little of our time, Dad," I don't know what else we can do.

Yes, I fully realize that there are still problems. And I further realize that if we were able to put in 500,000 man-hours and $50,000.00, we still wouldn't be able to solve all of our problems. Unfortunately, the answer to the problem has not yet been found. The young people that get in trouble are rarely, if ever, members of the Teen Club, church groups, Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts, the high school band or athletic team, because the problem is simply that we cannot seem to involve the youngster [illegible] to be involved in any of these activities.

So, until the answer to that question is found, we will keep trying. The Tecumseh Jaycees adopted a slogan for this year. We say that this is our "Year of Pride." By that slogan, we mean to say that we are proud of our community, we are proud of what we are trying to accomplish in our community, and we think that when we finish this year next June 1st, we will have our community proud of what we have done to make it a better place in which to live, work, and raise our families.

Respectfully yours,
DAVID A. SCHOONOVER,
President
The Tecumseh Jaycees.

Theme is Human Worth

CLINTON — "What Are We Worth," was the program theme for the Woman's Fellowship at the United Church of Christ, Thursday evening.

The program was developed by Mrs. George Baldwin, chairman of the Christian Education Committee.

A mystery panel, composed of three white-robed and hooded persons, designated as Fear, Ignorance and Apathy, answered questions from the audience pertaining to the vital political questions of the day.

The panel members' ignorance of and lack of interest in the answers emphasized the importance of all citizens to be registered and informed before the Nov. 5 election.

Mrs. Robert King and Mrs. Charles Steffens presented the devotions on the theme, "What Does Following Jesus Require of Me?"

Mrs. Robert Vogel presided at the business meeting, which was attended by 20 members.

Mrs. Arthur Hill presented a report on recent activities of the Material Aid Committee. She told of 19 large quilts and 11 baby quilts which were tied at a recent sewing session. About 250 pounds of blankets and good used clothing were also prepared for shipment to Church World Service at Napanee, she said.

Mrs. Donald Corwin reported on the annual meeting of the Ann Arbor-Jackson Association, Sept. 30, in Saline.

The Association is planning a two-day bus tour to visit many of the United Church of Christ mission areas in Michigan.

Sums were voted for the purchase of a new American flag and a new Christian flag and staff.

A vacuum cleaner will be purchased by the Fellowship for use in the church.

They accepted the suggestion of Mrs. Baldwin, and will establish a church library for reference books and material.

A new bulletin board is to be purchased for posting of church notices.

As required each five years, the members of the circles which serve Rotary Club dinners, were rearranged. All women who assist with these weekly meals must have tuberculin tests, Mrs. Vogel reminded. Such tests may be obtained from the Lenawee County Health Department, Adrian, without charge.

Mrs. Clara Connor, a member, expects to remain at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, for some time. Her room number is 645. Members were reminded to send her cards.

Cake and coffee were served by Mrs. Robert Vogel.

The next Fellowship meeting will be Nov. 21, when there will be a speaker from the Salvation Army.

Marshall to Enforce State Cigarette Law

CLINTON — Strict enforcement of cigarette sales and use laws by minors, and of the two-hour parking limit on Michigan Ave., is being undertaken by the Village of Clinton.

Michigan law states: Any person within this State who sells, gives to, or in any way furnishes any cigarette in any form to any person under 21 years of age shall be punished by fine not to exceed 50 dollars or imprisonment in the county jail, not to exceed 30 days for each offense.

Section 2 of the same law provides that any person under 21 years of age shall not smoke or use cigarettes in any form on any public highway, street, alley, park or other lands used for public persons or in any public building or business place.

Such person may be arrested by any officer of the law, and it shall be the duty of such officer, upon the complaint of any person and upon warrant properly issued, to arrest such offenders and take them to proper court.

If found guilty the court may impose a penalty not to exceed $10 or an imprisonment not to exceed five days for each offense.

The two-hour parking limit enforcement is being undertaken to insure adequate parking for customers at downtown business places.

The village does not have parking meters, however, a large parking lot is provided behind the village office.

Enforcement of both of these ordinances is by Village Marshal.

Village Council Buys Service Station, Lot

CLINTON—The Village Council decided to purchase the service station and lot, owned by Allen Brooks, at the northeast corner of Jackson St. and Michigan Ave. Roscoe Parker currently operates a Texaco station there.

The station on the premises will be razed in the near future.

Plans for a new fire station at the corner location were considered, but were tabled until acceptable plans are presented and considered for bid at the next meeting.

Smith-Kimball Community Center bids were opened and contracts were awarded to Industrial Electric Co. of Adrian for $10,971 and to Abner's Service, Tecumseh, for heating and plumbing at a cost of $6,734.

The contract for renovation of the village offices was awarded to Benedict and Cheever for $5,425.50.

Pleasant Valley Estates Plot No. 2, containing 19 lots, was approved.

The council voted to table all building permits until such time as an ample supply of water is assured to enable the sewage disposal plant to handle an increased quantity of waste material.

Homecoming '68 Approaches

By GINA GREEN

Clinton High students are caught up in a full week of activities as Homecoming 1968 approaches.

On Wednesday at 8 p.m., the freshman-senior girls will challenge their sophomore - junior counterparts in the annual Powderpuff Football contest.

Paul Gilliland and Ron Lynch, varsity coaches, will referee the battle on Hartman Field.

Thursday the junior varsity gridders travel to Addison as the cross country team meets Addison at Meadowlane Golf Course. Both are league matches.

At 2:30 p.m., Friday, Homecoming officially begins with the Homecoming parade. Led by the Redskin marching band, the parade will include cheerleaders, varsity football players, decorated cars, floats entered by classes and organizations, and the Homecoming Queen candidates and court.

The parade will form at the school and make its way down Currier St., up Michigan Ave., to River St., east on Church St., and back to the school via Tecumseh Rd.

This year's Homecoming Queen's Court is made up of Pam Fyzik, freshman; Merleen Matlis, sophomore; and Diane Vogel, junior.

All six girls were nominated by their respective classes and elected by vote of the student body. The varsity football team will select the 1968 Homecoming Queen from the three senior candidates.

Friday at 8 p.m., the Redskins will host the Panthers of Addison in an LCAA league battle.

Pre-game festivities will begin by the band and floats parading around the field. During half-time the queen candidates and court will make their appearance, with the queen being crowned by last year's queen and the football captains. Winning floats will also be announced.

Tickets for the dance will be sold in advance at $1 per person, $1.75 per couple. Prices at the door will be 25c more.

"The Illusions," a top band from Adrian, will be featured.

Redskins Chalk Up Second LCAA Win

By GINA GREEN

The Clinton Redskins chalked up their second LCAA victory of the season with a close 10-6 victory at Morenci.

Junior fullback Tom Moore was first to hit paydirt, putting the Redskins on the scoreboard with six points in the second quarter.

Dwight McKenna ran the extra point and the score stood at 7-0 until late in the third quarter when junior quarterback Jim Claus added three points with a field goal, the first for the Redskins since 1965.

The 24-yard boot gave the Clinton eleven a needed cushion as Larry Place scored for the Bulldogs in the fourth quarter, failed on the point-after attempt, but lost a punt and the game for the Morenci squad despite their late threat.

Clinton rolled up 43 yards rushing, led by Claus, Moore, and McKenna, but was able to complete only one pass. Neither offense was especially effective. Larry Place paced the Morenci attack as Gary Porterfield was the Panthers' defensive standout.

Dennis Kime again sparkled for the Redskin defense, aided by junior Al Roberts, who had the only interception of the game, and sophomore back Bruce Carlton.

"It was a little too close, but it was a game we needed to win," was QB Jim Claus' comment. And it was — the Redskins upped their league record to 2-1.

Friday night's homecoming game will find the Clinton squad hosting league foe Addison.

Mrs. Robert Howder, nee Esther Stutesman, missionary to Japan, presented a program on Japan.

Mrs. Howder modeled a kimona from the petticoats to the exterior dress telling how impolite it is in Japan to have any curves in your mode of dress so they build up the obi at the waistline.

There will be a meeting of the solicitors Tuesday, Oct. 22, at 7 p.m., in the Britton Fire Hall. It is very important that all solicitors attend.

The Community Fund Board realizes that due to the uncertain employment for some of the area residents, this is a poor time to hold a fund drive. However, the many agencies which the Community Fund supports, depend on our yearly support, so it was decided to go ahead with plans.

Service of Celebration Unites Two Churches

BRITTON — The Woman's Society of the Grace United Methodist Church met Thursday evening, Oct. 3, at the Ridgeway Church. This was the Service of Celebration charter meeting — bringing together the women of the former Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church, into one group. Twenty-four ladies were present to become charter members. Ten more who wished to join but were unable to attend, had their names placed on the charter list.

The Call to Prayer and Self Denial program presented by Mrs. Fred Schober and Mrs. Robert Malloch was observed first in the program, with an offering being taken at its conclusion. In reading the history of the Church it was learned that this observance was started in 1887.

The Celebration program, with Mrs. Robert Gibson as leader, contained the Invitation to Membership and the histories of both churches given by Mrs. George Forsyth and Mrs. Jennings Frayer. The meditation subject, Bread of Life, was symbolized by a loaf of bread on the worship table, surrounded by its four basic ingredients.

The program continued with Our Purpose being pledged in unison and with the signing of the charter. As each member signed the charter and received her membership card, she took her place at the table, set for the Agape feast of bread, fruit and cheese, a meal of love and fellowship.

Others assisting with the program were Mrs. Andy Crutchfield, Mrs. Paul Frazier, Mrs. Fay Hindes, Mrs. Charles Bishop, and Mrs. Clay Croll. Mrs. Lloyd Wagner served as hostess with Mrs. William Judkins assisting.

A brief business meeting was held prior to adjournment. Dates to remember are the Harvest Supper and Bazaar on Oct. 10, auction and bake sale at the church on Oct. 19 starting at 1 p.m., and a planned cooperative supper for the evening of Nov. 7, at which time 20 foreign students from the University of Michigan will be the guests of the church.

Commendable Performance

BRITTON — A Letter of Commendation honoring him for his high performance on the 1968 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test has been awarded to Donald A. Reeck, a student at Britton-Macon High School, Principal Bob Bolton announced.

Don is among 39,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two percent of those who will graduate from high school in 1969. The Commended students rank just below the 15,000 semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

John M. Stalnaker, president of NMSC, said: "Although Commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college."

Tory Mistakes Cause of Loss

BRITTON — The Tories were on the short end of a 13-0 score after last Friday's contest with the Aggies of Sand Creek, but the score did not tell the total story of the game, as the Tories out-rushed and out-passed the Aggies.

"Two bad offensive mistakes, which both resulted in touchdowns for Sand Creek, are what hurt us," stated Paul Palka.

"First, they intercepted a pass, and then a fumble on the 8-yard line set them up for their second TD.

"Our defense was strong, as as it has been all year. And the Sand Creek coaches and players said that this was the toughest game they've played all year," continued Palka.

The Tories face Ida this Friday night for Ida's Homecoming. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Jim Bush will be attending the National F.F.A. Convention in Kansas City this month as a member of the National F.F.A. Band. He was selected in band tryouts held last March. Jim and four other F.F.A. band members from Michigan will be leaving from Lansing Oct. 12. Jim plays the sousaphone.

Prepare Bazaar For November 2

BRITTON — Members answered roll call with a Bible passage on missions when the Emmanuel Lutheran Woman's Guild met Thursday evening at the church.

Mrs. Ralph Schafer gave a summary of the L.W.M.L. Convention held in Ann Arbor.

The annual Bazaar and Cafeteria Supper will be held Nov. 2 at the church. There will be handiwork, baked goods and many other items on sale. The public is invited.

A letter was read from the missionary supported by the church. It was decided to send them a Christmas package again this year.

Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Fred Helm, assisted by Mrs. Gerald Schultz.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

"WHERE THE ACTION IS, I'M NOT"

I was feeling more than just a little left out of things. After a very, very busy spell of much good looking, the bird business outside my window had suddenly ground to an absolute stop. For days there was nothing happening.

Oh, there were 3,049 sparrows across the street and occasionally they moved en masse to the top of the creek bank. However, when I am in the mood for worthwhile bird excitement, sparrows seldom fill the bill.

There was a mysterious commotion in the treetops across the creek, too, but I do not count that either. We heard it several times but could never decide who was chattering or why.

There was obviously a gossipy gang of somebody-or-others over there; we heard them whenever the windows were cracked open for a breath of fresh air, but when Gertie T. took the binoculars in the back yard to do a bit of spying, the birds hid behind the leaves.

★

IT WAS A SAD state of affairs — for several days, I had nothing at all to watch except the wheat which was growing on the feeder. Wheat growing on the feeder? Yes! It was a good crop, too.

Dad had filled the near-my-window feeding tray late Saturday afternoon. Sunday it rained and was hot, Monday both the temperatures and the humidity were high. Tuesday we noticed a fuzz of tiny green sprouts on the pile of scratch feed and by Thursday some of the green spears were at least three inches high.

The root system was surprising, each day we pulled several sprouts just to check on the maze of rootlets working out of such small grains of wheat.

Thus went my thrilling window-watching, but, there were good things happening elsewhere. Gertie T. arrived each morning in a state of sheer bliss. She and good spouse, Joe, had a faithful breakfast guest. A tiny mite of a red-breasted nuthatch. That morning, Mr. R. B. Nuthatch was slower than usual, and dawdled over his muskmelon seed meal. Gertie T. almost didn't make it to work. After all, it would not have been proper to let the little fellow breakfast alone.

★

THEN CAME the day when Dad found a goldfinch in the garage. The poor thing had flown in the open door and could not find his way back out. He fluttered off the ceiling, crashed into the walls, battered his head against the window but was too frightened to see the wide-open doorway.

Finally Dad's shooing worked, the sparrow-sized faded yellow bird made the great and glorious discovery of his way to freedom. What harrowing tales he will be able to tell.

Finally Marda found her way to freedom, too. A charming little black-capped chick-a-dee visited the feeder — what a marvelous way to break the back of a no-bird watching spell. Once started, we almost thought the excitement would never let up.

The chick-a-dee was happily nibbling scratch feed from our 'wheat field' when suddenly a tormentor appeared on the scene in the guise of a male nuthatch. He was just not about to share the feeder. Chick-a-dees are unperturbable characters, though and this one was not a bit upset by the upside-down bird's deplorably bad habits. The chick-a-dee merely left but came back as soon as the lunch counter was empty again. The two birds went back and forth for the better part of two hours. Such fun!

So it is that, thanks to the appearance of the cute little satiny headed, black-capped chick-a-dee, I can no longer say, "Where the action is, I'm not."

SN Barry A. Roe was named Seaman of the Month recently. He was presented with a plaque and $25 by the captain of the USS Mars, supply ship. Seaman Roe is the grandson of Mrs. Margaret Boldon, 408 W. Brown. He is a 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School and has been in the Navy for two years.

6-Week Strike Ends at Tecumseh Products

Hum of traffic and a factory whistle were music to the ears of Tecumseh early Tuesday morning. The six-weeks-old strike at the Tecumseh Products was over.

The Company and Union Board agreed shortly after one o'clock early Monday morning. Action started immediately to get the 3,200-member United Products Workers Union back to work.

While maintenance men were being called in early, the Union prepared to hold a mass meeting Monday evening for ratification. At 8:30 Monday night, ratification was official with 1,649 members favoring acceptance of a new three-year contract, and 140 against.

Many members who attended the mass meeting did not bother to vote, realizing that ratification was certain.

The Union and Company met Thursday and Friday of last week, and rumors that a settlement was near circulated throughout the community. It was known that many members of the Union were ready to return to work and optimism jumped for a settlement.

Both Ed Rapin, chief negotiator for the Company, and Ray Jackson, president of the Union, have expressed satisfaction in the settlement.

Mr. Rapin calls it a fair and reasonable contract, and one that the Union Board can take pride in achieving for its members.

Mr. Jackson is equally pleased with the contract and the progress made for the Union. He says the Union did not attain all of its goals, but more progress was made in some areas than had been originally expected.

He reported to the members at Monday's mass meeting that their Board had bargained for every member in every department. He also said concentrated efforts were made for employees receiving what the Board felt were very low wages.

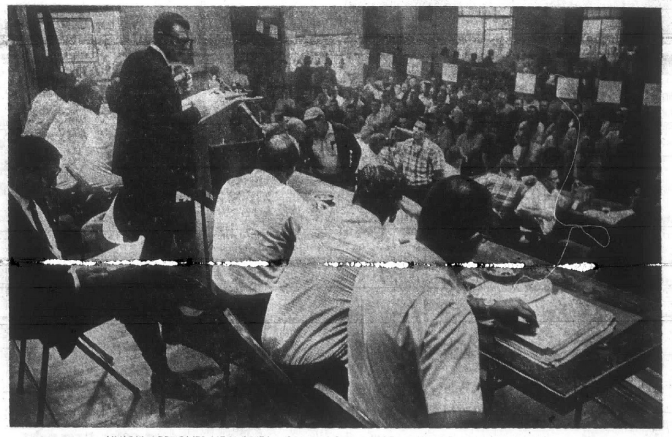
At the meeting, he recommended ratification after reviewing the economic features of the contract.

Mr. Jackson has also expressed his appreciation for the loyalty and cooperation from the Union members.

Although there is no official release as to how the Union and Company reached a settlement, it's believed that both compromised to some extent in the final bargaining session.

Economically, the strike was crippling in this area. Businessmen reported a sharp drop in sales. Some car dealers said it stifled the sale of new models.

The local Community Fund Foundation drive was delayed, as well as a church drive to raise funds. The church now plans its campaign in February, but no announcement has been made yet for the Foundation.



UNION APPROVES NEW 3-YEAR CONTRACT AT MASS MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

Homecoming Fever Hits Tecumseh High

Tecumseh's annual homecoming game will be held here Friday night when the Indians host an undefeated Monroe Catholic Central eleven.

The game takes additional interest as the winner will be well on its way to the Huron League crown, a title the Indians have missed the past couple of years. Tecumseh is 4-0 in the league, as is Monroe CC, which is 5-0 overall.

The Indians dropped their opener to Hillsdale but have won four straight since.

Friday's festivities will actually start Thursday when a vote for the queen is held. Senior candidates include Donna Purkey, Dulce Robinson and Theresa McClain.

Attendants are Lorie Beevers, junior class; Jan Felton, sophomores; and Debbie Carpenter, freshmen.

Thursday evening the school will hold its usual pep rally at the stadium.

Friday evening at six o'clock, the annual parade with the bands and floats will be held in downtown Tecumseh. The parade will pass through the downtown section to Union St., then back to Ottawa and north to the field.

Fans and students will learn who was elected queen before the game as she will appear in the parade. After the parade and game, the annual homecoming dance will be held from 10:30 to 12:30 in the gym.

A couple of weeks ago, the Indians would have been slight favorites to whip the visitors, but injuries have riddled the local football team.

As of Wednesday, Coach Tom Fagan was still uncertain of five starters, all question marks as to whether they will recover from recent injuries. Definitely out of the game is Jack Greenfield, who cracked a collarbone in practice last week.

Top running back, Ken Pieh, is a very doubtful starter. He injured his ankle in the first half [illegible] Grace. Tri-captain Jim Parros and Denny Lewis are not expected to play, both recovering from knee injuries.

Tri-captain Rick Steele and Earl Ruttkofsky have severe bruises and have been unable to work out this week.

Fagan says scouting reports indicate CC could be the biggest and fastest team Tecumseh will face this season. He reports the visitors are capable of breaking away for long gains and have been particularly effective in returning punts.

Rookie Driver Wins at MIS

By BILL SANFORD

When Number 45, the Weinberg Home Special, streaked across the finish line at 3:08 Sunday afternoon, Lenawee County's entrance into big time auto racing became complete. With a speed over 163 mph for the 125 lap affair, little known Ronnie Bucknam won his first Indy or championship race.

Coming into the race, Bucknam had few credentials which would place him in the favorite's role. He had carved his niche in the auto racing world as a sports car racer. In 1962-63 he had the enviable record of 52 wins in 56 starts.

Favorites in the race were drivers like Mario Andretti, A. J. Foyt, Al Unser, Bobby Unser, Lloyd Ruby or Gordon Johncock. Johncock never made the race and only Andretti finished the race in his own car. Both of the Unser brothers relieved in cars, Al relieved Art Pollard in 24 and brother Bobby took over for Mike Moseley in 90.

A duel broke at the outset of the race between Andretti and Unser. Unser poured the fuel to car Number 2 and after midway through the race his engine blew completely in the home stretch in front of the grandstands. He had qualified at 183 and thought that the car would hold up under the strain of the banked 2 mile oval. He also blew up the sister car to the one he drove in the race during the time trials on Saturday.

Only 12 of the 26 cars that started the race were around at the finish to take the checkered flag.

Trailing the field but still around at the finish was car 118, the only conventional Offenhauser roadster in the race. Al Smith kept the Offy going throughout with only one short pit stop. Some of the mechanics in the pits who are still somewhat happy about the Offenhauser engines, felt good about the Offy's staying with the pack.

Foyt lost a pinion gear in the rear end to force him from the race, Bettenhausen lost a clutch, Vukovich, front suspension and various other problems caused cars to drop from the race or be slowed down by too many pit stops.

Schools Give Seniors Here Free Passes

Senior citizens in Tecumseh and local school district can now attend all school events and activities free of charge.

Last week, the School Board approved providing passes to all persons, 65 years of age or older.

Senior citizens merely have to register at the Board of Education office and pick up their passes.

The passes will be good for all athletic events, concerts and plays. It's the first time the schools ever offered the older folks free admission.

2 Canada Geese Taken On River

Two large Canada geese were bagged here late Monday afternoon on River Raisin, between Tecumseh and Clinton.

Bill Meni, local police officer, and one of the hunters, reported the geese dressed out at nine and 10 pounds.

Tuition rates for the local schools jumped for 1968-69 and are $297.74 for elementary pupils and $319.60 for secondary students.

Fleeing Youths Are Killed in 100 mph Police Chase

Two youths, one still in his teens, were killed here in an auto chase about 1:15 Wednesday morning, just outside the city limits on N. Union St.

Dead are Frank C. Harris, 22, of 172 Evans Trail, Tipton, and Richard Lee Baker, 18, of the same address.

The fatal accident occurred when the men fled from Tecumseh Police Officer Bill Meni, who had been summoned to the N. Pearl St. area after a complaint had been received of an auto squealing its tires there.

Shortly after Meni arrived in the area, the two men passed him in an old car with a defective muffler. The officer said he pulled up behind them, going north on Pearl, with his light flashing.

The two took off with the officer behind, turned left onto Bidwell and then north on Union. By this time, the officer was just behind them with siren going.

Officer Meni estimates the car, owned by Harris, was traveling 90 mph when it crossed Brown St., where the driver nearly lost control.

Pursuing them north on Union, Meni called for assistance from the Sheriff's Department and State Police.

Just south of Tonneberger Dr., the fleeing car — traveling over 100 mph — hit the berm of the road, weaved back across and hit the gravel portion of Tonneberger Dr.

The Tecumseh policeman said he skidded to a stop as the dust blocked his view. When the dust settled, the Harris car was just some 30 feet in front of him in the road.

It had slammed headon into a large tree and bounced off and back into the road. If Meni had continued through the dust, he would have hit the car and likely would have been killed.

Harris was thrown completely out of the car and was found in a front yard of a nearby residence. Baker, who is believed to have been the driver, was pinned in the wreckage, and it took the local Fire Department approximately an hour to free him. He was pronounced dead at the scene by a coroner.

Harris was taken to Herrick Hospital by a sheriff's patrol car which had been alerted to the chase and had arrived just minutes after the crash, and was pronounced dead on arrival.

In efforts to free Baker, the rear end of the car was tied by a chain to a tree, and then a wrecker from Purkey & Sons Garage pulled on the front end to stretch the wreckage.

Services will be held from an Adrian funeral home.

MIS a Mess for Cars

North, South, East, West and from wherever the traffic came last Sunday for the inaugural race at Michigan International Speedway, confusion ran rampant.

Sunday drivers, unsuspecting, learned great lessons in utter frustration.

Would-be race drivers poured through the parking lots at breakneck speeds, sending a cloud of dust up over the speedway that gave the impression that an atom bomb had just been exploded.

According to many of the race fans who attended, traffic flow, badly-marked parking facilities and bad communications among the guards on the grounds caused many other frustrations.

Guards from Southeastern Security in Adrian refused to allow photographers into the winners circle following the victory lap by Ronnie Bucknam. Even though the members of the press wore the badges, the security men allowed only those who were already in the pit area access to take pictures. No other photographers were allowed.

A slight skirmish took place at the gates, as press photographers and reporters were to be given access to the winner's circle and the pit area upon showing credentials. For those held in abeyance, no picture of the winner was available after the race.

Only City Using Dump

Use of the city dump — or ex-city dump — came up before Council Monday evening, Oct. 7, and officials approved keeping it closed to the public and city residents.

City government will use the dump in the future, however, for disposition of trees, limbs and branches, but will not allow residents here to use it for the same purpose.

The dump officially closed Oct. 1, and residents are now required to use the Lenawee Disposal dump east of Adrian on N. Ogden Hwy. However trees and limbs are not allowed in the Lenawee landfill.

As to what residents will do with trees and branches, City Manager Cal Zorn replied, "I don't know, Council has closed the dump."

Mr. Zorn did say that the city would continue to have its annual spring and fall pickup.

In his report to Council, he stated that it would take two weeks to cover the deluge of refuse brought in just before the dump closed, and has asked an extermination company to continue its control of rats there.

He said that just before the dump closed, "everything" was disposed of, inferring that garbage was brought in. Garbage had been prohibited for several years.

RACE

Bud Tinglestad made two emergency pit stops to correct engine trouble. Smoke poured from his rear-engined Offenhauser and for a time it looked as if he might be forced out of the race. However, his crew had the car back on the track in only a few seconds with minor adjustments and he drove the race finishing in seventh place. He had to let up on the car after the first few laps.

Gear ratios played a big part in how the racers reacted to the new track. Some gave the car less speed than the others but also created less wear on the engine.

Buckman was one of the few cars to run the entire race on one set of tires. Firestone and Goodyear race division people were on hand to check the tires after runs both Saturday and Sunday. Tires were blamed for trouble in the front suspensions of some cars.

In good humored banter, the Goodyear people poke at Firestone. "They make very colorful jackets." Firestone representatives say of Goodyear, "Ah Goodyear they make a very good blimp." But tires from both companies gave the drivers trouble throughout the race.

Many of the cars that finished the race had reduced their gear ratios to allow for less speed but also cause less wear on the engine.

Most of the drivers who finished the race drove conservatively when they noticed the number of cars dropping from the race. Buckham's pit crew admitted that they had reduced the gears and made other adjustments which gave the car less speed but made it more apt to finish the race. The gamble paid off with a check for almost $18,000.

TRAFFIC

the guards had not been trained or totally informed on their duties. With the crush of traffic on the highway pouring in, experience in these areas would have helped.

Also upon conclusion of the race many of the gates were not opened by guards due to no one having informed them to do so.

Often the case was that drivers had to go several miles out of their way to return to their homes if they were local. In several instances drivers were forced to drive to west of Devil's Lake and return to Tecumseh via US-223 and M-52.

Many of the state police called in for duty also were unfamiliar with the area and were forced to send eastbound traffic west and westbound traffic east. Four hours were needed to clear the grounds.

Her fiance is a 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at the Peerless Gear and Machine Co., in Clinton. A January wedding is planned.

Officials Sell School Bonds To Detroit Bank

Tecumseh School Board awarded $920,000 in bonds to the Bank of the Commonwealth last week at the opening of bids.

Participating in purchasing the bonds with the Detroit bank was the local United Savings Bank. Pat Meadows, bank president, and Ken McIlroy attended the session.

Most of the money will be used to finance construction of the new Sutton Elementary School. Estimated cost is $860,000.

Millage necessary to finance the bonds is 1.62 mills for 21 years. Interest rate is 4.5856%, the lowest of seven bids received, and was probably through the efforts of Mr. Meadows, who spent considerable time in getting the lowest interest rates possible for the schools.

VOICE of THE HERALD

There Is No Winner

We don't like strikes, especially long ones.

In talking to both the Company and the Union, they don't like strikes either. Unfortunately, they do occur, although it was the first at the Tecumseh Products.

What has occurred here in the past six weeks is now history. There's no doubt that words flew, some things said that would not have been stated in normal times — it's all history and nothing is gained by rehashing what has been done or not done.

The Union has a new three-year contract, and it's our understanding that it is satisfactory to both the Company and Union Board. It must be a fair and reasonable contract.

We and many others offer our sincere congratulations for reaching such a settlement. Many, many hours were spent towards this goal.

It is our hope now that both the Union and Company join in furthering the progress and welfare of the Tecumseh Products, and three years hence, when contract talks come up again, that another new contract can be written without a strike.

There is no winner in a strike — not the Union, not the Company, not the community.

Twenty Years for No. 98

By BILL SANFORD

It was just 20 years ago that a California hog rancher named J. C. Agajanian painted Number 98 on the side of a race car at Indianapolis. Several drivers in the late forties and early fifties piloted 98. Agajanian finally settled on one driver, Billy Vukovich. Vukovich want on to win the famed classic at the wheel of 98, a year later lost his life in the cockpit of the same car.

Memories of those days of racing stirred Sunday when Billy Vukovich, Jr., piloted number 98 in the inaugural race at MIS. He is a rookie in his first year of competition in championship racing. He showed the skill and promise of his father.

Other memories stirred in the pit area Saturday and Sunday when Gary Bettenhausen, another rookie and also the son of a famed driver, Tony Bettenhausen, who also lost his life in the Indianapolis brickyard, was at the wheel of Number 11, Thermo King Special.

Bettenhausen and Vukovich carried on a banter during the two days concerning who was the greatest driver at the track. Bettenhausen carried on the verbal joking until he walked up to Lloyd Ruby shortly before race time. Before he could utter the phrase, Ruby drawled, "I know, kid. I know, you're the greatest."

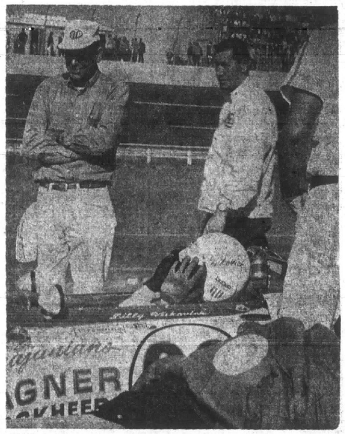
Both drivers looked good in the early running of the race. Bettenhausen had trouble on the 19th lap and was forced out of the race when his clutch gave way. He was in seventh place.

Vukovich found trouble on the south turn and was forced into the pits after his 40th lap. The front suspension on his car snapped and his driving was over for the day. Number 98 was also in seventh place.

Back in the garage, Vukovich climbed out of his racing coveralls and Agajanian walked up, praised him for the way he was going. A short scene took place, looking somewhat like a father and son. Agajanian walked over and looked at the racer he shook his head and said, "Too much rubber, hard on the car . . . look, it twisted that . . . suspension right off.

In the other garage Number 11, the Thermo King Special, driven by Bettenhausen, was loaded on the trailer, suitcases packed.

The chief mechanic was finishing with the packing, "No, it wasn't the rubber, not on our car, it just wasn't ready, just one of those things that happen, the clutch went out. The kid was making a good showing."



QUIET MOMENT FOR BILL VUKOVICH JUST BEFORE RACE SUNDAY

Breakfast at St. Elizabeth

Sunday morning St. Elizabeth's Annual Mother and Daughter Breakfast was served to 210 guests in the parish hall by the men and boys of the parish. George di Carlo was chairman of preparing and serving, assisted by Dr. Carlos Knisely, Ted Gold, Murray Palmer, Ernest Oliver, Dr. Robert Laidlaw, Robert McCrate, and a small army of high school boys.

Tables were beautifully appointed in fall flowers, with a corsage at each mother's place. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. Thomas Morgan, Mrs. Kenneth Kitson and Mrs. Gerald Harris. Programs were made by Mrs. Ralph Hodges and Mrs. Richard Steadly.

The St. Elizabeth Rosary Society president, Mrs. Robert McCrate, introduced Fr. Robert Handley, who addressed the guests briefly. Mrs. McCrate introduced the mistress of ceremonies, Mrs. Lawrence Bilkie. Mrs. James Vanzo read a tribute to mothers and her daughter, Michelle, gave an answering poem.

Mrs. James Neitling performed a pantomime, a "take-off" on Tiny Tim's "Tiptoe Through the Tulips." Community singing closed the program, led by Mrs. Louis Caterina.

The Rev. Fr. William McBrierity and the Sisters of St. Elizabeth School were guests.

Co-chairmen were Mrs. Robert Laidlaw and Mrs. Jack Osburn.

Big Audience For SPEBSQSA

An audience of nearly 375 persons attended the program Oct. 12, charter night, for the Tecumseh Chapter of SPEBSJSA at the Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall.

The Tecumseh Town Tune chorus, directed by Bill Price and organizer of the Chapter, were featured as were The Four Dads, a local quartet.

The Note-Able Four and The Four Tune Tellers of Jackson were well received and their presentation and voices described as "marvelous" by Duncan Oliphant, a barbershoper in Tecumseh of long standing.

"A Hudson quarter called the Station Airs also presented nice harmony and blend," Mr. Oliphant said.

He remarked that one of the funniest events of the evening was when The Four Dads sang "In My Merry Oldsmobile" others of the chorus paraded across in front of them with a sign, "Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?"

Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Azella M. Robison, who left us two years ago, Oct. 19 1966.
They say time heals all sorrows,
And helps us to forget.
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us the strength to take it
And courage to face the blow.
Though what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
Sadly missed by her husband, Ernest Robison, daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stoll. 10-17p

Frosh Team Routs Foes

Tecumseh freshman football team picked up their fifth straight victory of the season last Wednesday with a 21-0 whitewashing of Napoleon.

The win over Napoleon came on the heels of a 63-0 rout of Boyseville and a 33-6 victory over Adrian.

The running of Roger Ashenfelter and the passing combination of Rich Bunch to Sam Whitney have been the Indian's chief offensive weapon in their five victories. Ashenfelter, behind the fine blocking of tackle Ken Brown, end Sam Whitney, wingback Dave Ryan and fullback Hugh Conklin has scored 12 times in his first five outings. The Bunch to Whitney combo has accounted for six touchdowns.

The Frosh defense led by linebackers Mike Tilton and John Merz, have held their five opponents to a total of 25 points.

The Indians put all of their 21 points on the scoreboard in the first quarter against Napoleon. The first Tecumseh touchdown was scored on a 37-yard pass from Bunch to Whitney.

A Bunch pass also accounted for the Indians' second touchdown when he hit ashenfelter with a 24-yarder. The final score came when Tecumseh marched 64 yards in 12 plays with Ashenfelter scoring from the seven. Fullback Hugh Conklin picked up 37 yards in five carries on the drive.

Tribe Triumphant

A third quarter pass interception by Jim Hunt broke the backs of Grosse Ile last Friday night when the Indians turned a hard tussle into a 26-7 victory

Until the game-breaking play, the Red Devils were within striking distance as the Indians led by only 12-7.

Tecumseh took the opening kickoff and went 61 yards in 15 plays for the game's first score.

Grosse Ile then drove from its 30 to the Indian five, before giving up the ball and apparent game-tying TD. However, two plays later Tecumseh fumbled and GI recovered on the six.

On the first play, Steve Palazzola broke over right tackle to go in standing up. GI then went ahead with a pass for the extra point.

Tecumseh gained a 12-7 halftime lead midway through the second quarter when quarterback John Kennedy hit end Steve Dalton all alone beyond the GI secondary. The pass-run combination covered 49 yards with Dalton running the final 25 yards.

Decisive play of the game occurred with just two minutes left in the third period when Hunt picked off a GI aerial on the 32-yard line and scampered in for the score.

Late in the fourth quarter, and largely behind the running of Gerald Girbach, the Indians cinched the win with Girbach scrambling the final eight yards for the tally.

Although the Indians won by three touchdowns, it was a rough, tough game. Ken Pieh and Earl Ruttkofsky left via the injury route early in the game and will probably join Jim Parros, Jack Greenfield and Denny Lewis on the sidelines for Tecumseh's crucial game this Friday evening against Monroe CC.

After the half, GI was never really in the game as the tough Indian defense kept the Red Devils bottled up. GI totalled nine first downs in the game but only three in the second half.

The win upped Tecumseh's record to 4-0 in the Huron League and 5-1 overall. If the Indians can slip by Monroe CC, they will have only Blissfield and Gibraltar Carlson left to win the crown.

CC, which averages about 190 pounds per man, on the line, has speed which the Indians have not really faced this season. Only an all-out effort by the Indians will prevent Tecumseh from bowing to the visitors.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

The Federal Aviation Administration sent out its annual alert to the nation's airplane pilots recently. It warned that the airways will be filled with an estimated 10 million ducks in the weeks ahead, also something like 500,000 Canada geese, as many as 450,000 blue and snow geese and maybe 50,000 whistling swans. Look out, fellas!

Hunters across the country are beginning to get their gear ready for the season but there will be a marked decrease in the number in Soviet-occupied Czechoslovakia. The newspaper Veverni Phaha reports that "Anyone going into the woods, armed with a rifle . . . really has a lot of intestinal fortitude." Indeed, most no longer have a hunting weapon. That's the way things are when a totalitarian regime takes over.

Gridiron JV's Bump Grosse Ile

Tecumseh JV's football team scored their third triumph of the season with a 6-72 win over Grosse Ile. Their record stands at 3-2 on the season.

Grosse Ile led off the scoring with a 30-yard run in the first quarter. Scott Dalton knotted the score at six all for the Indians with a five-yard run. In the second quarter Tony Lisenbee picked off an enemy aerial and raced 25 yards into the end zone for the go-ahead TD for the Tribe. The score at half-time stood at 12-6.

Dave Kelley caught a pass from Dalton in the third period and went 10 yards to score. In the fourth quarter Gary Hannibal went five yards for the TD and the final score was Tecumseh 30, Grosse Ile, 12. The final Grosse Ile tally came on a long 60-yard pass play.

Standouts on defense were Marv Maynard, Paul Randall, Frank Crosby and Bob Pettit.

Joe Bagby was the top defensive lineman and has won considerable praise from the coaches in recent weeks.

Sophomore Frank Geisenhaver, starting his first game, was selected as the top offensive back.

The Child of Our Times: The Struggle for Normalcy

By WILLIAM SANFORD

In the struggle for normalcy there are younger people in our society that struggle for a normalcy that the majority take for granted. Ten years ago they were kept at home, no one in society should see them. Fears and old wives tales, shame and lack of compassion were detriments to these young who were born different.

There are 1,500 mentally and physically handicapped in Lenawee County. In many of the cases there is more hope than others. But in traveling through the county's classrooms where these children are now being educated to a degree which would make it possible for them to obtain employment through skills learned, is a form of hope in itself for parents who face the problem.

A realistic approach to the problem is being applied at the Lenawee Institute on Sutton Road. Teachers are strengthening the areas where a child can do something and accepting the things which the child cannot do.

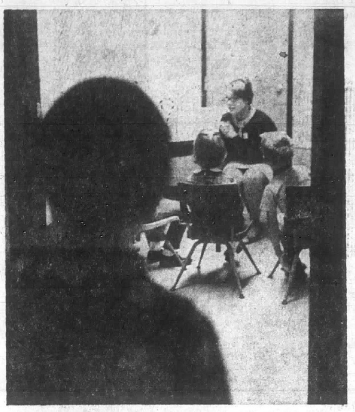
Various agencies in the county are working together to aid parents, teachers and the student in going through the difficult stages.

Dr. Mary Blair, from the State Department of Education, stated that people owe the young people, from the cradle to junior college a better way to go. She was speaking on the occasion of a visitation and tour of some of the special education facilities in the county last Friday. Miss Blair was one of the coordinators that brought about a vote of .5 of a mill in 1959, establishing the special education in the county.

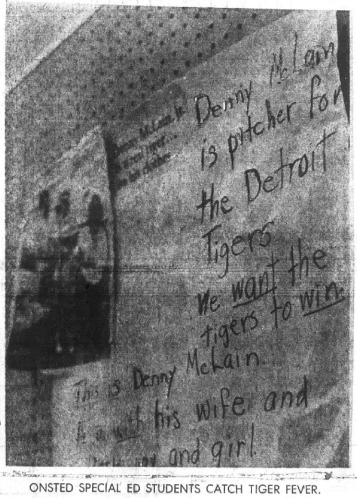
At present 64 persons are employed full time working with the handicapped. It has been learned that 1 in 33 children are found to be retarded. George Eidson, special coordinator of special education for the county, stated that only those who could not adjust to normal classroom sessions were taught at Lenawee Institute. He also said that none of the teachers or administrators felt that it was good for a child to be removed from normal classrooms to the Institute by making them feel different. He said that the child had a better chance if his environment were not changed and the students were given a chance to keep up. For those children who do not need special classes, the county maintains teacher counselors who work with the teacher, help them to become more informed on the child. Often times mental problems arise out of home life. Social workers enter the case. Interviews with the parents and teachers often times find the cause of disturbances within the child.

Mrs. Paul McKenna, of social work department, spoke on the typical problems which face many county youngsters. Parents are often unaware that they are forcing too much upon their youngsters, or are transferring feeling and emotions troubling them onto the child so that it affects his manner in school.

These mental disturbances, Mrs. McKenna said, often times can be ironed out between teacher, parents and the child. The child often reacts to his environment in different ways and only by a thorough study of the situation can they seek a solution.



Mrs. Donald Berkley works with children with speech defects at Sutton Road School, outside the door, a child waits.



ONSTED SPECIAL ED STUDENTS CATCH TIGER FEVER.

Many of the retarded youngsters can be taught simple skills such as reading, writing, and basic arithmetic. This training will enable them to find some employment when they have finished their courses.

Goodwill Industries and Vocational Rehabilitation work closely with older students who are handicapped physically or emotionally. With the assistance of these agencies basic skills are learned, with the aid of teachers and other persons from the county the child is helped to adjust to working and participating in society, hope is appearing where none existed as little as 10 years ago.

Tecumseh High School has a class for physically handicapped. An elevator was installed at the school to give the students access to the upper stories of the building. Many of the students in the class are in the upper brackets academically.

Onsted High School has a program for mentally and physically handicapped. Students work part time in industries when they reach the high school level. Classes are held in the intermediate and grade levels. Many of the students are integrated into normal classroom sessions part of the day and return to their special education for the additional help which they need.

Of the 64 full-time help in special education in the county, the instructors vary, from shy, to outspoken, jovial, retiring, but all are sincere dedicated people.

Dr. Blair spoke on the instructors saying that they need to be people who like people, then they in turn can help with the training they possess.

With the many things in all of education and life in general in our times, the child often bears that which the adult world inwardly bears. In this, the number of disturbed children is increasing yearly.

While not all are in the realm of mental disturbance, many are born with mental defects, the ones in the average classroom are the ones who are more likely to escape from school and carry their problems from their toy-sized universe into the larger one.

There is hope now in the future for many of the youngsters. Hope that did not exist such a short time ago. With the teachers and other agencies working side by side, the problems are being solved daily.

But there is another problem which plagues the child of our time indirectly, funds to carry out the program. It has often been the case that cuts in appropriations are made from mental health budgets or special aid. This year was no different. $2,000,000 was cut from the budget for special aid.

These students who are struggling for normalcy, must struggle always with political machinations. Few elected officials make the tour of Lenawee's special education system.

According to Milton Porter, county superintendent of schools, Reps. Robert Stites and James Folks have offered little in the way of a financial answer to the plight of special aid. With the cut in appropriations and the $140,000 coming in from the special ed millage not being enough, Porter announced last week that a drastic cutback would be necessary in the entire program.

Eidson and his staff of workers are proud of their achievements in the field of education, a look at the facilities and the instruction, makes the pride warranted.

In one classroom there was a young boy named David. His teacher asked him to tell the visiting group his name. He did with a blush matching the red shirt he wore.

David's father owns a small business. His parents have understood David's difference from their other children. They have loved him, because of it, not in spite of it. Once a few years ago it was declared that there was no hope for him. He could not speak and be understood.

Last Friday he spoke his name, when he was done an impish grin flickered briefly on his face. He had not only said, "David" but also "Hope."

Music Filled the Air

Music filled the air in the living room of Mrs. Paul Brantingham as 13 members of the Sweet Adelines presented the program to the Tecumseh Music Club's 14 listeners Oct. 8.

The Sweet Adelines sang, "This Is My Country", "Lil' Liza", "Mighty Like A Rose", "Row, Row, Row Your Boat", "Are You Sleeping", "If We All Said A Prayer" and "Let's Get Together Again".

Several Music Club members joined the Sweet Adelines in singing nursery rhymes.

Mrs. Burton Wright was co-hostess for the evening.

Mrs. Dorothy Ruthruff and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson were welcomed as new members and Mrs. Leonard Gamber was a guest for the evening.

The District Meeting of the Federation of Music Clubs will be held Oct. 24 at Leslie. Music Club Members wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Earl Mason by Oct. 20.

Scouts Win Awards

Three scouts received their God and Country award during the worship service recently at the First Presbyterian Church. David Henning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henning, and Robert and John Merz, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Merz, were the recipients.

The three, life scouts, have worked for 15 months with the Rev. Gresham to qualify for the award. During this time they engaged in studies of the Bible, the beliefs of the Church and its work at home and abroad as a denomination and in cooperation with other church bodies, and the areas of service open to individuals within the church and community.

In addition to these studies, the three visited and concerned themselves with the agencies and institutions of the community engaged in service, undertook projects which revealed the mission stations of the United Presbyterian Church, took part in established services within the church on Sundays and during the week worked at personal projects around the church building and grounds towards increasing their attractiveness.

The God and Country award is one of the highest in scouting and is achieved only with considerable effort. Participating in the award service were Tom Cook, scoutmaster of Troop 73, of which the boys are members, and Harold Warren, assistant scoutmaster. Other members of the troop were also in attendance.

The boys, upon receiving their medals, in turn, gave their parents God and Country pins, emblematic of the boys' achievement in Scouting.

Remind Farmers To Check Grain

Farmers were reminded today to check closely on the condition of any grain which they have stored on their farms under Commodity Credit Corporation loans.

Roland Russell, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County committee, points out that fewer inspections now are made by the county ASCS office, and the farmer, therefore, has more responsibility for maintaining and watching his own stored grain.

If there should be insect infestation or deterioration from some other condition, the real loss would be to the farmer, since his final returns will be based on the condition of the grain when the loan is paid off or the crop is delivered in payment of the loan.

In cases where the grain is found to be deteriorating and some loss might occur, the chairman said, the farmer should notify the County Office immediately so that arrangements may be made to correct the condition or move the grain. This will minimize the loss and benefit the farmer's pocketbook.

Musings

by Bill Sanford

Man is, as Man does

Monuments! What are they? The very pyramids have forgotten their builders or to whom they were dedicated. Deeds, not stones, are the true monuments of the great. Motley, in an outburst against something which we are experiencing, uttered that remark.

Strange how things said many years ago are even more valid in a time of change like we are experiencing. Many cynics say we are old hat now, we need new approaches.

It is easy to get confounded by the world as it is today, but really it isn't any different, in a sense, that it was a thousand years ago. The people are still the same inside.

That is the reason so many good sounding ideals go down the drain. We try to find solutions from the outside. We change the environment and try to force that to change what the people are inside. Fear or hate or prejudice isn't controlled by changing the environment, but by changing the thinking of the people back to the origin of intellect. We have gone so far forward in changing and battling the environment we have chased people into straight jackets. The walls that men build around themselves today are far more restrictive than the barbed wire of any concentration camp.

We struggle individually like drowning swimmers, little knowing that one day we will all meet at the same intersection of life. I do not intend to sound like any soothsayer with the formidable talent of looking into the future with clear visions. I do believe, however, that we should not just set around protecting symbols that mean nothing whatsoever when it comes to finding a world at peace or just caring about the destiny of the human animal.

* * *

I knew a man once who was an addicted gambler. Just to set and watch him as he played cards was a learned study of human nature.

He had traded all of the stimuli in life, poetry, books, music, art, or good conversation for the mute symbols of a deck of cards. He might have been afraid of life, afraid to gamble on being a failure in man's race to outdo everybody else.

Strange as it may seem, he is intelligent. That one fault he had diminished what he could have been. That is true with all of us, those faults we hide away from the world, protect with foolish pride, fight for with no sense of balance, are within almost every person alive.

Lack of communication between generations, between individuals is a deathless shroud too many people have pulled around them. That is why they go for ageless cliches and are satisfied so long as they can get up the next morning and go about their routine.

This may be neither here nor there, but today's freedom is certainly no freedom when it forces people apart, leaves them broken under the strain. I wish that just once the world would awaken in the morning and feel good. Join in a morning ritual that would be there, not because of any outside pressures or demands or failings, but because of something inside, something good just to know you are alive.

Maybe we should all read Alice in Wonderland again where Lewis Carroll wrote for the Duchess, "Tut, tut, my child," said the Duchess. "Everything's got a moral if only you can find it."

* * *

Who was that I saw out to dinner Tuesday night? Ah, yes, the lady's a dear, even though we do disagree on politics.

To Kaye Steele on why I'm a bachelor: women are the only beings that will attack a man but scream and run from a mouse. Hm.

And the Bands Played On

By MAXINE CALHOUN

There was a demonstration on Tecumseh's Recreation Field, Oct. 8, when nearly 1,000 high school young people gave a spectacular example of how discipline, respect for order and hard work, combined with natural ability, can combine to create a harmonious result.

The weather cooperated perfectly for the 22nd annual Lenawee County Band Festival, as 11 of the county's finest bands strutted their stuff before an audience which packed the stands.

Deerfield High School band marched on and created a heart formation, first to set their theme, "Love is like a deck of cards," continuing to form a diamond, club and spade, as they played appropriate tunes.

Addison High School band called attention to the evolution of the skirt, playing, "Look Me Over," as a formation of a skirt got shorter and shorter. A fiery baton twirling routine by three majorettes climaxed their presentation.

Clinton's fast stepping Redskins' Marching Band played as they caverted through, "Goodie, Goodie." "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," and topped off with a percussion feature, "Days of Drums."

Britton-Macon Area's smaller band presented a sharply improved appearance and versatility with showtime favorites, "No Business Like Show Business," "Hello, Dolly," and "Spoonfull of Sugar."

Hudson Area High School gave a spirited performance of famous ladies in song, beginning with "I Want A Girl," "Georgy Girl" and including the slightly risque burlesque girl, "Rosie."

Tecumseh's band took listeners on a trip to London's mod, mod world, with formations and music of London Bridges, Big Ben, mini-skirts, and climaxed with a rock rendition of 'Guitar and Feathers," featuring two guitarists and a solo drummer.

Peanuts time was chosen by the Adrian High School band for their theme, and formations featured Charlie Brown's girl friend, Lucy. Eight majorettes performed a blue and white flag-waving routine.

Blissfield's precision marching band gave a rousing rendition of Satch Armstrong's "Saints," and "I Got A Lot Of Livin' To Do."

Service of Celebration Joins Women's Society

A "Service of Celebration," a charter meeting for the re-organization of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church was held at the October meeting. The changes in charter are a positive result of the recent merger of the Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Mrs. James Wheeler, vice-president, led the impressive ceremony with Mrs. Kenneth Blumerick giving the history of the E.U.B. women's group and Mrs. Howard Kronberg giving the history of the Methodist women's group.

The altar held the bread — the bread of life — and the four major ingredients — flour, milk, salt and yeast. Portions of the program were spoken by Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Norman Jolliff, Mrs. Harry Farley and Marvel Steinhoff, representing each of the circles and symbolizing in turn the ingredients.

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, charter president of the former Society, gave a resume of its work before heading the group of past presidents as they signed the new charter. Other former presidents signing were Mrs. Bert Warren, Mrs. Edward Beal, Mrs. Vaynard Close, and Mrs. Carroll Sprague. Those others in attendance then signed. When the signing is completed under the membership secretary, Mrs. Erwin Buss, 136 will be registered. In addition, the names of six senior members from the local church and eleven honorary members from the Chelsea Home will be added.

During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. William Steele, Jr., the date for the annual Festival was changed to Wednesday, Dec. 4.

Mrs. Jolliff was the greeter for the evening with Mrs. James Purcell and Mrs. Wesley Mackie serving as hostesses.

Through My Window

A CLOSER LOOK

The clan of sparrows had gathered on the creek bank where a small bit of scratch feed had been scattered. There was the usual squabbling and bickering — they simply do not believe in peaceful coexistence, do they? Often I am guilty of seeing a flock of sparrows but not really looking at them. Without a second thought, they are dismissed as noisy nuisances.

This type of carelessness occasionally gets me into trouble. I knew the ground feeding spot was busy the other day but it took Gertie T. to call my attention to the freeloader who was not a pesky English sparrow.

At first it was hard to single out the newcomer. In the first place, the grass was several days past mowing height and silly bird kept hiding behind extra tall clumps.

Then it seemed that just when we had him spotted, he would duck back into the weeds which thrive on the creek bank itself. Gradually though we picked up identifiable markings.

Trying how to figure out who a bird is can be rather like working a jig-saw puzzle. The pieces fit together and finally add up to someone. Our little sparrow was trim, his back striped and, we now know that had his tail been visible, it would have been slightly V-shaped.

The name possibilities narrowed down when he hopped into some good light and we saw a brownish red cap perched on the top of his head.

A front view, and again he chose to show off in a patch of bright sunlight — ho ho, a stickpin, a small round dark spot, in the center of his light unstreaked breast was the clincher. A tree sparrow was the newcomer!

★

THESE ARE NICE sparrows and we only hope everything was to his liking so that all winter long we can proudly host one. Actually, we will proudly host as many as Mother Nature sees fit to send our way.

Like the chick-a-dees and the slate-colored juncos, tree sparrows are primarily winter birds.

Southern Michigan is not my idea of a perfect winter paradise but I suppose that, if your summer home were beyond the tree limit in Northern Canada, our area could possibly look quite good.

We have had tree sparrows in the past and they are fun. When the snow piles high on the feeder, they fly in for quick snacks of scratch feed.

These close-up looks we then have clearly show the odd coloration of their small bills. The upper mandible is dark, the lower one ivory-yellow.

This close-to-the-window dining gives us an insight into the bird's disposition, too. Whereas our October tree sparrow was tolerating the horde of English sparrows — I really cannot say he was playing bosom buddies with them, but, as long as they kept their distance, everything was friendly — what I started to say, though, was that this sharing of the banquet boards does not always happen.

We have seen the tree sparrow become quite belligerant and scrappy and, on several occasions, he even drove a cardinal away.

One last thing. Almost every bird book comments that the stickpin is an unmistakable marking and sets the tree sparrow apart from all other sparrows. Yet, John James Audubon, who was usually meticulously careful about small details, omitted the breast mark on his painting of tree sparrows.

So it is that I re-learned an old lesson the other day and even a flock of pesky sparrows deserve a closer look.

NEXT WEEK: "Lady Bug, Lady Bug."

QUESTION:
"We recently paid $900 for a funeral and I would like to know how a plain metal casket could be worth so much money?"

ANSWER:
You really did not pay $900 for a casket, as that charge included use of the mortuary, the fee for several cars and other equipment, also a professional service estimate for more than 100 man-hours of service to you.

School Rewards Told to Teachers

BRITTON — "What's in it for me," said the Rev. Myron Williams of the Berean Baptist Church, Adrian when speaking of the rewards of being a Sunday School teacher.

Mr. Williams spoke to 20 members of the teaching staff of the Bethel Baptist Church at their annual banquet held at Roumell's Dining Room in Clinton Oct. 8.

He remarked that youngsters faithful in Sunday School are never brought up in court. That 90% of the officers and staff of the churches are products of the Sunday School. "The rewards of teaching are great and the motive should be obedience to Christ and not because we desire a bigger church or Sunday School or to be a successful teacher," he continued.

In summation, Mr. Williams said, "Anything short of realizing the importance and the anticipation of the rewards and obedience to Christ as the proper motivation means we are lukewarm."

Howard Bishop, accompanied by Mrs. Alva Clark on the piano accordion, sang a song.

Mrs. Melburn Preston presented a humorous reading, "Letter From Eloise."

The group then joined in singing several choruses.

Erosion Control Works Wonders

Mr. Bowers installed a drop spillway in 1962 made with concrete block. Steel reinforcing was used, and the blocks were completely filled with concrete.

He was so happy with the results of the concrete spillway that he installed another structure this year. This time a prefabricated structure was installed, made of corrugated metal.

The two structures stand on each side of the same drain ditch. Each structure is designed to safely handle the surface water run-off from the watershed which it drains.

Grassed waterways and a diversion terrace channel the water to flow through each structure.

There are 60 such structures installed in Lenawee County to date.

The engineering designs were made by technicians of the USDA Soil Conservation Service, who provides these services to cooperators of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

Tory Defeat Frustrating

BRITTON — A frustrating evening found the Britton Tories on the short end of a 27-0 score last Friday when they were trounced by the Ida Bluestreaks at Ida's Homecoming game.

"Our boys played the sloppiest I've ever seen them play," stated Coach Paul Palka.

"Our defense was not sharp at all, and that's where we usually shine. I hope the players get this out of their system, and will bounce back this week and play the kind of football they are capable of. Ida was the toughest team we've played to date."

The Tories are still at the .500 mark in league play, with a 2-2 conference mark.

Friends Honor Stork's Visit

BRITTON — Mrs. Tom Tucker was the honored guest at a stork shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland, given by Mrs. Jack Patterson, Mrs. Larry Patterson, and Mrs. Charles Patterson.

Forty guests played stork bingo, with prizes given to the winners and the guest of honor. Mrs. Charles Benedict won the door prize.

The decorations were in yellow and green. An arrangement of mums and daisies, centered with a tall stork, decorated the gift table. A cradle centered the refreshment table, from which were served dainty sandwiches, lemon bisque, and punch.

Mrs. Tucker was presented with a corsage of yellow mums and green daisies. She opened many lovely gifts.

Two Injured In Chain Pile-Up

A chain collision on M-50, one-half mile south of US-12 at 9:30 a.m., Sunday, resulted in bruises for two persons.

A car driven by Ronald Pilbeam, 62, 10333 Pennington Rd., and a car following, driven by Donald Treter, 24, of Temperance, were stopped on the highway and a third car, driven by Carroll Hess, Jr., 30, of Elton Hwy., Tipton, was unable to stop in time to prevent his car from striking the Treter car, pushing it into the Pilbeam vehicle.

Sandy Frances, 24, of Toledo, O., a passenger in the Treter vehicle, and Hess were treated for bruises at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

County's Irish Hills Has Been Discovered

By BILL SANFORD

The dawn broke over the Irish Hills Sunday morning and cars jammed U.S. 12 for miles leading from the new Michigan International Speedway. Other Sunday mornings in autumns gone by, most of the traffic would be to drive the highways and side roads of the Irish Hills to see the colors spread across the hills.

Last Sunday the lineup of cars was for the inaugural race at Michigan International Speedway.

More in evidence than before was the number of "For Sale" signs placed in front of property. Perhaps they had always been there and in the same number, but somehow more in evidence on this particular Sunday.

People at Hidden Lake Gardens heard the roar of the high-powered racers at the track. The Gardens are quiet and peaceful on a Sunday afternoon in autumn or spring or summer.

It was incongruous that the sounds should be heard through progress. Sunday the Irish Hills had been discovered by race fans from throughout the country. Most were from the Midwest, some came from as far away as California, some from Connecticut.

From wherever they came, down which highway they drove, it would be impossible for them to view the countryside. But the Irish Hills are no longer an obscurity on the map. They have been discovered. Perhaps more will come back in the future, some stopped along the way on their first venture.

Nevertheless the Irish Hills is no longer virgin territory for race fans or newsmen, or people who hear radios and read newspapers.

The quiet serenity of the hills has been spoiled for some now, it will never be the same. Some critics say it is a boon for the territory, some say a bane. Both feel their criticisms valid.

Driving down US-12 in a long lineup of cars it is hard to tell with the number of "For Sale" signs increasing and the roar of engines in the distance. The Irish Hills have been discovered.

Farm Bureau Holds Annual Meeting

The meeting followed a dinner served by the Band Boosters Club in Madison High School.

Presentations were also made to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wagner, who helped organize the first community Farm Bureau group in the county at Sand Creek over 25 years ago.

A memorial tribute to the late Mrs. Clarence Heimerdinger was given by Mrs. Harold Calhoun.

The new directors elected are:

Adrian-Franklin — Roy Van Doren

Cambridge-Rome — Cletus Brooks

Dover-Seneca — Burdette Bovee

Hudson-Medina — George Robey

Madison-Fairfield — Don Malburg

At large — Carl Rieve

Nick Smith of Hillsdale, district representative on the State Board of Directors of Farm Bureau told members that "Four out of five farmers who belong to any farm organization belong to Farm Bureau." The organization has two goals this year, new community groups and new members, he said.

Following considerable discussion and close votes, two national resolutions were adopted:

"We recommend that in 1970, abandonment of the Feed Grain Act of 1965, and let the market be controlled by free marketing with allowances being made for a land retirement program to help control over-production."

"We recommend the Commodity Credit Corp. be terminated and future loans to farmers be recourse loans.

"We favor a $20,000 limitation on crop support payments to any one farm."

Resolutions on state issues which were adopted are:

"We recommend legislation that will protect prime agricultural land and require assessors to consider only agricultural factors in assessing land used for that purpose."

"We recommend a "No" vote on Double Daylight Savings Time."

"The Lenawee County Farm Bureau is opposed to a State Graduated Income Tax."

On a county level, the members voted to adopt the recommendation of the Fertile Acres group to have "A round table discussion of board members of the major farm organizations in Lenawee County on cooperation among them."

The members also reaffirmed a 1967 resolution, namely, "The Lenawee County Farm Bureau supports the proposal that the sale of Revenue Bonds to finance a County-City building be placed on a ballot for the electorate to decide at a general election, and that the county Farm Bureau prepare and circulate the petitions for said election." It was explained that the said petitions must be circulated within a certain legally established time.

State and national resolutions will be presented at the State Annual meeting of Farm Bureau in Lansing in mid-November, for further consideration.

Nineteen Boy Scouts Hike Oak Opening

Nineteen Boy Scouts and four leaders from Troop 73 hiked the "Oak Openings Trail" during a recent weekend.

They left the Scout Cabin by car Friday at 7 p.m., for Ohio's Oak Opening area. The area, approximately 25 miles long and 5 miles wide, is unique because of its unusual soil, interesting birds, wildlife, rare wildflowers and trees.

The Oak opening area is composed of a series of sand beaches deposited during the melting of the last glacier thousands of years ago. The wind shifted the sand, until it is only a few inches deep in some places and in others it has formed dunes with the sand 20 to 30 feet deep. The park also contains excellent examples of bogs, dry prairies and wet woodlands.

Large flocks of wild ducks and Canada Geese nest near the main picnic area, also white tail deer are confined in the park.

Lester Hunt Is New President

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baaske and Mr. and Mrs. Earnie Topps were the hosts for the potluck dinner for 60 Senior Citizens and guests Thursday at the Community Center.

Lester Hunt, new president, conducted a brief business session followed by games and cards with prizes awarded.

RIVER'S FIRST — Young Pat Murphy holds a prize — a two and a half pound, 18-inch rainbow trout — taken from of all places, River Raisin! The river has given up a variety of fish but this is the first known time for a rainbow trout. Fishing with Pat last week on the railroad trestle north of Red Mill Pond was Mike Schneirla.

Health Center To Immunize Pupils Against Hong Kong Flu

Tecumseh Community Health Study will register another first here next month when the University of Michigan medically staffed center here immunizes school children against the Hong Kong strain of Asian influenza.

It is the first time that a community has been the subject of such an immunization test, although medical authorities have conducted similar tests in the military.

Within the next week, all school children, kindergarten through grade 12 and including youngsters at St. Elizabeth, will be given information and parents' permission slips for the inoculations. Parents will be requested to authorize the immunization of their children.

Local doctors have endorsed the program, which will be conducted free of charge. The vaccine has been adequately tested for safety, potency and is fully licensed. One of the United State's largest producers of drugs developed it.

Present time schedule for inoculating school children is the first week of November, well before the virus is expected to reach this area. Although some cases have been reported in the coastal areas, medical sources do not expect the Hong Kong strain to hit Michigan until Christmas or shortly after the first of the year.

Physicians at the Health Study hope to break the transmission link — children to adults — by immunization of the youngsters, the most susceptible group for spreading a contagious virus, and thereby prevent an epidemic here.

The inoculation tests will be evaluated later this winter. The number of known Hong Kong cases here will be compared to the known number in Adrian, where such immunization of pupils will not take place. This comparative analysis will be conducted through the cooperation of Dr. Thomas Hamilton, director of the Lenawee County Health Department.

Physicians believe the program is a unique opportunity both to protect the community from a large scale influenza epidemic and to gain important knowledge in methods of disease prevention.

A quantity of this vaccine, the first available in the United States, was purchased by the National Institutes of Health, primarily to determine how best to use this vaccine in protecting the public. Because of the Health Study's present study of respiratory disease, a portion of this first supply was made available free for use in Tecumseh.

$100,000 Is for Firemen

Raisin Township voters will cast their ballots on Nov. 5 for one mill to help finance a $100,000 fire department, according to Bill Mackey, township building inspector.

The mill, for three to five years, could raise about $75,000 with the balance coming out of the township's treasury, the inspector reports.

Two sites for a new fire station are being studied. One is directly across from Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant and the other is in a subdivision, also on Occidental Rd. but south of Sutton Rd.

Mr. Mackey says John Abrahan, developer, has offered the township a lot in the subdivision at his cost. A site once proposed by the United Savings Bank has been rejected.

If the mill is passed by the township electorate, a new fire station will be erected and new equipment purchased. The fire department will be continued on a voluntary basis, according to Mr. Mackey, and no full time firemen will be employed, such as the Tecumseh system which has at least one man on duty around-the-clock.

Raisin has gradually improved its fire department since its board cancelled a fire agreement with the city. Mr. Mackey says "this is the greatest thing that has ever happened for the township."

The present fire department is located at Holloway, and with increased growth in the township, especially in the Sutton and Occidental Rd. area, the new department will be considerably closer to the township's center of population.

Board Approves Site for New High School

School Board officials selected a site for a new high school and projected a tentative time schedule for its development Monday night.

Location of the site will not be revealed, possibly next week, until after an 18-month option has been obtained. The site now sought by the Board will allow for future expansion of high school facilities.

Most of the time schedule deals with procurement of necessary educational specifications and architectural drawings. Schedule projected at Monday's session is:

- Dec. 1, 1968—Complete educational specifications for a new high school and remodeling of present high school building for use as a Middle School of grades six, seven and eight.
- Feb. 24, 1969 — Schematics completed to the extent that reasonably accurate area computations can be made for pre-qualification application and bond referendum.
- April 28, 1969 — Voting of millage for financing bonds for construction of the high school and remodeling costs at present high school.
- Aug. 1, 1969 — Completion of preliminary drawings from the architects.
- April 1, 1970 — Completion of the architects' working drawings.
- May 15, 1972—Completion of construction bids.
- May 15, 197 — Completion of all construction.

If the time schedule is followed, the present eighth grade class will be the first to graduate from a new Tecumseh High School.

As to the cost of a new high school and all of the facilities which it will include have yet to be determined. It was just earlier this month that the Board settled on building a new high school in preference to a middle school.

Discussions have been held for over a year relative to a new school site and what type of school building.

At Monday's meeting, Supt. James McDowell and Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent, showed layouts and presented assembled information pertaining to sites.

Many were sites previously discussed.

$59,000 Fund Drive Starting Nov. 11th

A goal of $59,000 has been established for the annual Tecumseh Community Foundation drive, originally scheduled for earlier this month but postponed due to the strike at the Tecumseh Products.

The campaign dates were finalized Tuesday evening at a Foundation directors' meeting with the drive now scheduled for Nov. 11 through Nov. 30.

The new goal is just $4,000 more than last year. A breakdown for the participating charities will be available next week.

Tuesday night's decision to hold the drive next month resulted after serious consideration of the Foundation's commitments to various charities, and after consideration of the recent economic situation affecting the entire area.

In view of these two factors, the Foundation's directors have asked workers and contributors to continue their strong support of the participating charities, which offer many benefits to the individuals.

Mrs. William Steele, Jr., and Dyke Helms are co-chairmen of the 1968 drive. Their divisional chairmen and workers will be announced next week along with a breakdown of the $59,000 goal.

Solicitations normally are held first in the local industrial plants, followed by business, professional and residential campaigns.

Petition Is Denied

An attempt by the Pure Oil Company to build an ultra-modern service station at the corner of N. Evans St. and Herrick Park Dr. was rejected by Council Monday night.

At a public hearing to change the zoning to local business, several residents of the area voiced their objections, saying construction of a station there would only increase the already congested area.

Speaking against the zoning change were Glenn Driscoll, Mr. and Mrs. James Freckelton, William Davis and Robert Gillespie. Others were in attendance.

No representatives of the company attended the session, although they had previously explained their plans before the Planning Commission. The Commission had recommended the zoning change to Council and the construction of a new station.

According to Don Purkey and David Faling, owners of Lenawee Fuels, local outlet for Pure products, a new station planned for the corner would have been latest designed by the company.

It would have consisted of two gas pump islands, one for Evans St. and the other for Herrick Park Dr., and rear entrances for servicing customer cars. A portion or room of the station would have been a lounge.

At the present, the site now occupied by the closed Top Hat restaurant, can be used for other businesses such as offices, pharmacy and other related services.

Residents questioned that another station is needed in the area, pointing out that Standard has one just across the street. They also felt that a traffic light was needed to control and slow traffic, particularly on Evans.

Mr. Freckelton, a former Councilman, told officials that a change would constitute spot zoning and was not recommended.

Mr. Gillespie, a street guard for school children, said the corner already was extremely hazardous, cars usually speed thru the area, and a station would only increase the congestion.

Future Plans In Booklet

City officials have received copies of Future Land Use Plan for Tecumseh from the city's planners, Vilican-Leman and Associates.

It is the culmination of over two years of study and appraisal by the Planning Commission and the consultants.

Like a master plan, its purpose is to provide a guide for the development of land in the city.

It covers existing conditions, residential neighborhoods, recreation and community facilities, market analysis and commercial areas, industrial area, thoroughfares, and cost revenue return analysis and public improvement plan.

The booklet contains the most detailed information about the community ever compiled. It also includes a colorful map of the city and the various zoning areas.

A Real Gasser

That was not the roar of jets heard north of Tecumseh early Wednesday mornings. Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. was relieving a line of gas. The line was taken out of service and a new line installed.

3.02 Millage Cut Sought for Clinton School District

By BILL SANFORD

A question of unconstitutional taxation in Clinton School District will go before the Board of Supervisors for a decision this week. M. M. Halley, Clinton Supervisor, has prepared an amendment for the Committee of Assessment Rolls and Apportionment of Taxes asking for a reduction of 3.02 mills on the tax rolls in the Clinton School District.

According to Halley the school has been levying taxes based on Washtenaw County which makes up a larger portion of the district than does Lenawee. Washtenaw schools collect 11.22 of the county millage pie compared to 8.2 in Lenawee.

In demanding the higher figure, which the schools have been doing since the fixed millage was accepted in the neighboring county, Halley showed figures indicating that Clinton Township, those in Franklin, Macon and Tecumseh Townships which are included in Clinton schools, are paying at the rate of 18.02 mills per year on the county rolls. The state constitution reads that a district may levy from the tax base in the county with the largest proportion of the school district.

In questioning school officials it was contended that past procedure was the precedent. Halley did not agree, calling it "not a legal justification" for the levying of the mills.

Two legal questions stood out on the matter. One questioned whether one county can vote millage and impose it upon another county without a vote. The other maintained whether or not it was legal to levy 18.02 mills against the constitution which holds that no county can levy more than 18 mills at any time.

According to Harvey Koselka, county prosecutor, there is legal doubt on whether the district can apply the Washtenaw figure to Lenawee. In square miles, the portion of the district in the neighboring county is larger, however, the greater proportion of taxes and population exist in Lenawee. It was Koselka's contention that the matter should be settled in court.

Several taxpayers in Clinton School District are dissatisfied with the present arrangement and are in agreement with the Halley proposal.

In referring to Article 9, Section 6, of the constitution, Halley was in firm agreement with their disapproval. The article establishes that no county can levy more than 18 mills with or without a vote of the people.

If the 11.22 mills were allowed to stand, Halley explained in his amendment, "Clinton taxpayers are subjected to an unfair double jeopardy, for the Clinton School District is part of the Lenawee Intermediate School District and must pay the Lenawee rates for intermediate school and special education purposes as allocated by the Allocation Board. These rates are higher than the corresponding rates in Washtenaw County."

CLINTON

"The state constitution provides that 15 mills can be allocated without a vote of the people and that counties may be given authority to levy up to 18 mills by the peoples' vote. Lenawee County has never been given the authority to levy more than 15 mills. The state law provides that in no case shall more than 18 mills be levied. If the 11.22 millage rate is allowed to stand, the figures for that part of the county which is in Clinton School District, would be as follows: 11.22 mills to Clinton School District, 5.50 mills to the County of Lenawee, 1.00 mill to the various townships, 30 mills to Lenawee Intermediate School District for a total of 18.02 mills to be collected without a vote of the people. This, in my opinion, is an obviously illegal rate of taxation, unconstitutional and discriminatory."

The loss in revenue for Clinton School District, if the amendment passes, would amount to $40,096 in Clinton Township; $7,431 in Franklin; $93 in Macon; $1,371 in Tecumseh Township for a total of $48,992.

The state constitution states that the millage may prevail from the county with the largest portion, there is no implication written into the law that says they should or must.

A vote by the board in favor of the proposal is expected by the end of the week.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Cooperation Is Vital

Tecumseh Community Health Study periodically provides us with free physical examinations — and now it has announced plans to inoculate our youngsters against the Hong Kong virus strain of influenza.

The community should be thankful to the University of Michigan for all that it has done, and plans to do, for the folks here — and all of these services have been offered without fee or charge.

The Health Study hopes to prevent an epidemic of the Hong Kong flu here and needs the cooperation of the parents and school children if its immunization plans are to be successful.

The vaccine has been proven safe, and the inoculations will be given by a professional staff. Local doctors also have approved and endorsed the plan.

The Health Study feels that immunization of youngsters from kindergarten through the 12th grade can prevent a rash of the Hong Kong flu in our community. It is the first time that a test of this kind has even been conducted in a city.

We urge parents and students to give the Health Study an opportunity to prevent such an epidemic. Your cooperation is vital for any success.

Mental Health Books Available

Dr. Low, its founder, was a nationally-known phychiatrist and neurologist who developed the Recovery method over a period of many years. The method encompasses three phases: 1. Studying the book, "Mental Health Through Will Training;" 2. Applying the self-help principles explained in the book; 3. Attending one or more panel meetings weekly where members

The same day last week, Ralph A. Miller 16, of 5350 Milwaukee Rd., lost control of his car on Macon Rd., near Hewlett Rd., after he reached for a package on the rear seat.

Like Knisel, he was cited for failure to have his car under control.

Board Favors Millage Plan

Under fixed millage, proposed by the County Tax Allocation Board, both the schools and county government would be assured of a set income from taxes in the future.

In the past, the county has often lopped off tax monies which otherwise would have gone to the schools. If the fixed millage issue is passed, the Allocation Board will be abolished.

Machinery Repairman Third Class Glenn E. Schmidt, USN, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Schmidt, 208 W. Cummins, participated in Operation Beat Cadence, a training exercise, while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger.

Operation Beat Cadence, conducted off the coast of Southern California, was designed to prepare the 30 Naval ships and 23 air units participating in the exercise for conditions in Southeast Asia and the Western Pacific.

The eight-day exercise consisted of two phases, strike and amphibious.

The strike force phase involved exercises to train First Fleet carriers, cruisers, frigates and destroyers in all types of naval warfare.

Camp Fire Leaders Meet

MACON — The October meeting of the Tecumseh Area Camp Fire Leaders Association was held at the J. W. Swanston home, Macon. Four leaders, three assistants and one sponsor, Mrs. Arthur Hill, from the Macon Woman's Club, attended.

Mrs. Hanson, Executive Director of the Tuckabatchee Council in Adrian, presented the guest speaker, Tony Wright, chairman of the Group Organization Committee. Mr. Wright complimented the leaders on the exceptional work they had done, in organizing the northern section of Lenawee County.

Mrs. Jerry P. Ford, a co-chairman of the Camp Fire candy committe, was the next speaker. She distributed the candy sale kits and announced the date of the sale as Nov. 13 to Dec. 3. Mrs. William Swanston will be in charge of the "Candy Cupboard". The candy will be ready for distribution to the leaders and girls on Nov. 11. The date of the next Leaders' Association meeting will be on Nov. 11.

Mrs. Evelyn Kime, of Clinton was a guest at the meeting. She expressed an interest by several mothers, in starting a Blue Bird group in Clinton. Hopefully, Clinton will be next to offer a complete Camp Fire program for girls, 2nd through the 6th grades just as Tipton, Ridgeway, Britton and Macon now have.

Final plans were made for the Annual Mother - Daughter Tea, which will be held in the dining room of the United Methodist Church, Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 4 p.m. Mrs. Walter Mueller of the Tecumseh VFW will present a new 50-star American Flag to the girls. All Camp Fire Girls, their mothers and the group sponsors are to attend the Tea.

St. Dominic's Host UNICEF

CLINTON — St. Dominic's Church will host the junior and senior high school young people who will be participating in the fund drive for UNICEF, Sunday at 8 p.m. at the United Methodist Education Building. All community youth of this age may participate.

Visitation Day Is Revelation

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

If the taxpayers of Lenawee County ever have cause to wonder what is being done with the 1.5-mill tax levied for special education, a visit to the Lenawee Intermediate School District office and classrooms on Sutton R. would answer many of the questions.

I was privileged to be part of a group of 40 interested citizens who were invited to be guests at the annual Visitation Day last Friday. Men and women from all over the county gathered at the pleasant country location on Sutton Rd. for a day of observation and revelation.

Most of us were aware of some of the services provided by the special education department, but had no idea of the scope of the entire program, or the number of children aided by the department.

For many desperate parents, faced with the problem of raising a severely-retarded child, the Lenawee Institute is the difference between despair and hope. Not too many years ago, retarded children were hidden away from society, and the strain on the family was often intolerable.

What hope was there for parents, who loved their child, but through no fault of their own were unable to provide the care and training necessary for these special youngsters?

Now, our county provides day school for these children. Mothers are relieved of the constant care, and learn to help their child at home. Many of the younger ones are not toilet-trained or feeding themselves when they arrive at the school, but with the compassionate care they receive from the special education teachers, they are making progress in all areas.

The visitors could not help but be impressed by the happy atmosphere in the classrooms and playground. The children enjoy many activities out of doors, including a wagon and pony. The teachers are sincerely dedicated; one man even leads a Boy Scout Troop of about 25 boys in addition to teaching. At Lenawee Institute, these special children receive both affection and specialized teaching. They loved having visitors.

* * *

As we visited other classrooms at Tecumseh and Onsted, and watched demonstrations of typical visiting teacher classes, we were surprised at the many other forms of disabilities given assistance through the Lenawee Intermediate School District. We learned that 1,500 children in Lenawee County are receiving some form of aid.

What would you do if your bright-eyed son was deaf? He could not attend regular school classes, he would be unable to hear the teacher or anyone else. He wouldn't talk, because he hadn't heard human voices. At Lenawee Institute, he would go to school in a room with other deaf children, where they would have a special teacher of the deaf, hearing aids, electronic equipment, and other aids especially to teach the hard of hearing.

Or what if your pretty, curly-headed daughter could not walk due to a crippling disease or accident, and spent her waking hours in a wheel-chair? Would she be cut off forever from contact with other children, group play, and classroom learning?

At Lenawee Institute, she would join in a class for orthopedically handicapped children, and enjoy school just as other little girls do. The bus which brings her to school is especially constructed to handle wheel-chairs, or if she is on crutches, there is always someone on hand to assist when needed.

In Tecumseh, there is a room for high school age youngsters who are all in wheel-chairs or on crutches. Here they pursue the normal academic curriculum, and some are honor students. Four expect to graduate this year.

The special education department also offers a wide range of visiting services, where the teacher travels to the child's school. Included in this category are 700 students of the speech correction department. Highly trained speech correctionists visit all the schools in the county twice a week, where they conduct small clases for students who need this service. How important to the well-being and self-confidence of the child this help is — and to his future adult life — to correct speech defects at an early age.

School social workers, of whom there are four, visit a total of 44 schools every week, counseling a number of children who are having emotional or adjustment problems. The need for such help is definite and urgent. Too many children who have been branded as "bad" or "wild" are found, upon careful counseling, to have unsatisfactory home conditions or deep-seated disturbances which cause the difficulty. The counselors have a keen interest in helping these children to work out or adjust to their problems.

There is no special program for blind or partially-sighted children in the county at the present time, although several youngsters with low vision are served by the visiting teacher-counselor service. Under this plan, the child attends regular classes in his hometown, and the teacher-counselor visits him for two or three hours of special help each week. Our own 10-year-old daughter has been lucky to have this service provided, as she has only one-fourth normal vision. With understanding classroom teachers and the extra assistance of her counselor-friend, Mrs. Theodore Schindler, she has kept pace with her class. Mrs. Schindler has obtained several books in large print, a magnifying glass, and other special aids, and given her constant prodding and encouragement. We are happy that our daughter has been able to attend school here, and not have to travel to an out-county school.

And so the visitors learned that a great number of children with a variety of difficulties are being aided by the Lenawee Intermediate School District. We are indeed fortunate that our county provides this assistance.

So that's it. Electromagnetic waves in the air. That's what makes odd behavior among the living things on this earth. Now grouches can blame invisible light rays when they are out of good humor.

It isn't the socialistic trend this country is taking that makes me frustrated, confused, perplexed and just plain mad. It's just that the air is so full of all this radiation in the form of radio waves, light rays, X-rays, etc., that we poor humans don't know what we are taking into our bodies and souls.

According to Science Fiction writer Bouvee Rensberger, chickens and laboratory rats are confirming this theory. Would that I could accept this simple explanation but I will still have to watch the voting records of the candidates and vote Nov. 5 for those I believe will do something to bring this socialism to a screeching halt.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Munson, nee Camilla Satterthwaite, and family have moved to Seattle, Wash. due to a transfer of Mr. Munson's work from Sepulneda, Calif.

Mrs. Floyd Barrett and Mrs. Dow Bilby were among the installing officers at the Michigan State Grange convention with closing session Saturday evening in Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Randall returned Friday from two weeks vacationing with their daughter and her husband Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Will, and family in Hampton, Va. While there, the group spent one day in Washington, D. C., and some time in the Smoky Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams spent the weekend with their son and daughter-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Gary Williams at Dover Baptist Church, Dover. The Rev. Gary Williams assumed his first pastorate at the church Sept. 29.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Wells, nee Mary Jane Hayden, and family have moved from Beaumont, Tex., to Spartansburg, S. C., where he is minister of music in the First Baptist Church. David is a junior in the high school there and Mrs. Wells is teaching music at Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey will leave by plane Thursday to visit their new granddaughter, Carla Marie, born Oct. 8 to their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Bailey, of Rochester, N. H. Carla brings the total Bailey grandyoungsters to 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fero are now living in Mexico, about 90 miles north of Mexico City. Mrs. Fero was in Tecumseh Friday to visit friends and relatives and said that the couple have been there since Sept. 1 when Mr. Fero accepted a position with TREMEC, a division of the Clark Equipment Co., Jackson. Lansing Report

By GIL BURSLEY

When Michigan voters appear at the polls on November 5 they will be asked to vote on five state-wide proposals in addition to national, state and local candidates.

When the state income tax was passed in 1967 a part of the "package" was to submit to the people the question of whether they wished to remove the constitutional ban on a graduated tax. At present all we can legally have is a flat rate tax.

If passed, Proposal 1 would remove the following restriction from Article IX, Sec. 7 of the Michigan Constitution: "No income tax graduated as to rate or base shall be imposed by the state or any of its subdivisions." The proposal would also add this amendment: "An income tax at flat rates or graduated as to rate or base may be imposed by the state or any of its subdivisions."

Our present flat-rate tax is 2.6 percent. Thus each person in Michigan, after exemptions, pays 2.6 percent of his income regardless of how much he makes. If a graduated tax — similar to the federal income tax — were imposed, the percentage paid would be higher as income increases.

Opponents of the graduated income tax say that a flat-rate system is more equitable as it still accomplishes the goal of requiring those with greater income to pay a larger share of the taxes, but does not unnecessarily penalize a person of higher income. In other words, exemptions and other factors being equal, the higher income person will pay a greater amount because his income is greater even though the rate is the same 2.6 percent.

Also argued is the fact that moderate and higher income families would pay a great deal more under the graduated income tax system, though the low income person's share would not change significantly. This simply places an even heavier burden on those who are already paying most of the taxes.

Proponents retort that the new Michigan Constitution should be more flexible. In other words, it should make provisions which would allow the choice of having a flat-rate, graduated, or even no income tax at all, just as the old Michigan Constitution did.

Those favoring a graduated tax also say that the graduated tax would be more equitable to those middle income taxpayers who now, under the flat-rate, are hit the hardest, while some high and low wage-earners are touched the least.

Others believe that Michigan already has a quasi-graduated income tax, camouflaged by the state intangibles tax, which imposes a flat 3.5 percent tax on certain income derived from dividends and interest. They argue that although neither the state income tax nor the intangibles tax is graduated, the amount paid by those people subject to the intangibles tax represents oppressive "double taxation" because they are paying both the state income tax and the intangibles tax on the same income.

A "Yes" vote would remove the present restriction against a graduated income tax from the Constitution. However, passage of the proposal would not make the amendment self-executing; that is, any change from flat-rate to graduated rate would require legislative action.

Conversely, a "No" vote would leave the Constitution as it now stands, prohibiting a graduated income tax.

The 2nd proposal on the November ballot where Michigan citizens may vote "yes" or "no" involves Daylight Savings Time.

Michigan had observed standard time for years until the Federal government in 1968 passed the Federal Uniform Time Act, demanding that all states observe DST, effective April 1967, unless the state legislatures specifically exempted their states from DST. This means advancing the clock one hour nation-wide from 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in April until 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October. The Federal act also revised the five time zone designations, placing the Upper Peninsula in the Central time zone and the remainder of Michigan in the Eastern time zone.

The Michigan Legislature, however, chose to exempt Michigan from the Federal act by passing Public Act 6 of 1967 placing the entire state, including the Upper Peninsula in the Central time zone and the remainder of Michigan in the Eastern time zone and exempting the state from Daylight Savings Time.

But a citizens petition drive gained enough signatures, 123,000, to place the question on the ballot. This action suspended the legislative bill, returning the state to the original designation provided in the federal act until a final determination is made by Michigan voters. The success of this petition drive, which was conducted mainly in the larger cities, is the reason Michigan has observed DST during the past two summers.

Congress instituted nation-wide observance of DST during World Wars I and II to conserve fuel and electricity by making daylight hours more nearly coincide with the urban work-day.

During peacetime, adoption of DST was the option of the states or local areas. After World War I, urban and suburban areas adopted a variety of summer DST schedules tailored to their particular needs and lack of peacetime regulation produced conflicting time systems not only nation-wide but also within each state and time zone. Continuing attempts to pass federal legislation to rectify this problem finally were successful in 1966.

Opponents of DST have traditionally included many people living in the rural areas as well as theatre owners and many parents of young children. These latter groups claim that DST upsets their daily routines, and gives them too many light hours at the wrong time.

Another argument against DST is that Michigan is geographically located — at least partially — in the Central time zone instead of the Eastern zone. Therefore, when the state goes on DST, it is actually moving up two hours, sometimes called "double fast time," when it has already been one hour ahead of time by being in the Eastern zone.

Some proponents of DST say that the problems created by the lack of uniformity in standard time across the country is not only inconvenient, but also costly for many firms. Thus Michigan's conformity with Federal law would ease some of this confusion. Others who work inside all day point out that they enjoy having a little extra daylight in the evening for outdoor recreational activities, golf, little league ball, etc.

Traffic safety is argued as a factor. If you divide the day into 3-hour periods the hours of 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. have far more auto accidents that any other period. Many come from a drink on the way home or the cocktail hour. By maximizing daylight in these three hours many driving accidents, and fatalities, may be eliminated.

A "Yes" vote would mean the entire state would observe DST for six months during the summer period and that lower Michigan would be in the Eastern zone all year around, while the Upper Peninsula would be in the Central zone all year round. A "No" vote would mean that the entire state would be on Eastern standard time all year, totally exempt from DST.

Musings

by Bill Sanford

A Sense of Futility

A day seldom dawns that I do not long to write something memorable. A day seldom ends that I do not leave my typewriter with a feeling of guilt, futility and utter frustration.

Occasionally I have thoughts that seem grand, perhaps even profound, but by the time I have them on paper I am almost ashamed to publish them because they are so simple and obvious.

Writers too often in their lucidity reveal the poverty of their mind and emotions. The secret lies in not to reveal or uncover one's thoughts. Let me suggest Einstein to the reader's contemplation. Immediately after it was announced that only 12 men in the world could comprehend the theory of relativity, every literate adult became a passionate admirer of Einstein.

* * *

Sometimes politicians should reveal more of their minds than they do. Recently the Board of Supervisors called for a proposal to be brought before them concerning a new airport for Lenawee County. The site selected is located in Adrian Township. Previously an engineering firm from Grand Rapids, Williams and Works had undergone a survey of the county's needs and the best location. The best site was located in Raisin Township.

The second choice was the Adrian site. In a report to the supervisors last week, the Adrian site was preferred. Going back to the report and the outline of what the airport would look like and where it would be located, both sites would be across the road from one another on M-52, south of Tecumseh or north of Adrian if you will.

Accessibility was the first word used by the report on the sites. According to Williams and Works the terminals for both airports would be across the road from one another on M-52. Therefore enters a question. Accessibility is a farce in this case. The last time I boarded a plane it was on the ground, standing still, at the terminal not three hundred feet in the air going three hundred miles per hour. It is true that the end of the runway is closer to Tecumseh than Adrian but let's face it, that end of the runway is the wrong end of the runway for boarding planes. Maybe some of the supervisors have not been up in the Wright invention yet, I don't know.

Another cost that had a great deal to do with rejecting the Raisin Township site was the cost of land acquisition. When Williams and Work first studied the area they set the cost for purchasing the 850 acres needed at less than $620,000. In April of this year that figure was revised to over 1.1 million or nearly double. No one has been able to answer as to why that happened, but it sounds like old fashioned politics.

Other costs at the Adrian Township site are much more than the costs would be in Raisin, the cost of service areas, entrance drive, etc.

In December the question will arise as to whether or not Lenawee needs a modern airport or not. It will take some serious looking into and it is hopeful that the board, in their final meeting will not empty the county's coffers in favor of a select few.

The Federal government last week handled a two billion dollar loan to Great Britain. The run on the Bank of England threw a scare into the people valuating the pound. As the run gained momentum the Bank of England could no longer pay off in gold: they are now paying off in American dollars, which we are obliged to redeem with gold.

Many officials in Washington lately have been talking of a probable devaluation of both the British pound and the French franc. Should both currencies suffer that fate, the incoming President would face an assault on the dollar unlike any other. There are a lot of brains in Washington but all they can do is write books on how it should have been done.

Wendell Phillips put it the right way, "You can always get the truth from an American statesman after he had turned 70 or given up all hope of the Presidency." How true.

Farmers are Named To ASC Committee

Farmers recently named to serve as the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation ASC) Lenawee County Committee are: Roland Russell, R16 , Adrian, chairman. Arthur Carnahan, R1, Adrian, vice-chairman and Floyd Barrett, R1, Britton, regular member. Mr. Russell was elected to a three-year term on the Committee starting Oct., 1968. Mr. Carnahan is serving his second year on a three-year term and Mr. Barrett is serving his third year on a three year term of office.

Alternates elected to serve on the Committee in case of vacancy either temporary or permanent were: 1st alternate is Robert Ziss, R1, Blissfield and 2nd alternate is Gene Frost, R1, Palmyra.

The 1968 election was held in the supervisors' room of the Lenawee County Court House on Sept. 26, 1968. Electors were farmers chosen as convention delegates at recent ASC Community Committee elections throughout the County.

Chairman Russell points out the ASC County and Community farmer-committees are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the Feed-Grain Program, the Wheat Program, acreage allotments, the national wool program, the sugar program, the cropland adjustment program, commodity price-support loan and storage facility loans.

The ASCS County Office located in the Federal Building, East Maumee St., Adrian, is headquarters for the County Committee and serves as the farmers' local contact for business connected with participation in the programs administered by the Committee. These programs encourage conservation and increase farm returns by means of price support and market supply management, as well as payments.

Rotarians Hear Court Aspirant

Yale L. Kerby, candidate for District Judge, recently analyzed and explained the working of the new District Court for Lenawee County to the Rotarians.

Mr. Kerby explained that the fee system is abolished as of January 1 and the District Judge will be a salaried state employee. He pointed out that all Justices of the Peace Circuit Court Commissioners, and the Adrian Municipal Judge are also abolished.

He stated that the new District Court will assume all jurisdiction abolished and in addition alleviate the load of the Circuit Court by acquiring exclusive jurisdiction up to $3,000.00 ordinance violations and felony arraignments.

Mr. Kerby explained that the judicial ballot or the judicial section of the voting machine is separate from the party levers or ballot. He also said that judicial candidates must be non-partisan according to state law and represent all people in a non-partisan manner.

Mr. Kerby concluded by saying that setting up the Court system in Lenawee County would be a real challenge for both the judges-elect and the new Board of County Supervisors.

Paul Roekle, the Club Program Chairman, introduced Mr. Kerby.

Layman's Sunday To Be Observed

Layman's Sunday will be observed during the morning worship service at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church this week. This is a day celebrating the truth that all laity are ministers every day.

Richard Myers, lay leader, who planned this service, will lead the laity participating. Carl Hale and Aden Mead will present the message, "Every Man's Servant." Also assisting in the service will be Mrs. Gary Greene, Mrs. William Steele, Jr., Mrs. Richard Myers, James Hammond, Donald Painter and Robert Meads.

This local observance is in conjunction with the national celebration in many churches on the same day across the nation. It is designed to represent the participation of the unordained laity in God's ministry wherever they live and work.

Drug Warning For Children

As cooler weather arrives and children play indoors more the problem of drug or chemical poisoning becomes more apparent warns the Lenawee County Health Department. Proper storage of dangerous items and a clear understanding with children are the answers:

Drugs paint and thinners, insect poisons, harsh cleaning agents, and especially lye should be stored in a high, closed, locked cupboard. Many drugs and chemicals are kept long after they are useful or even potent and some change, becoming more poisonous. Drugs particularly should be discarded by flushing down the drain after the illness for which they were prescribed is over. Non-prescription medicines should be destroyed in six to 12 months. All medications should be kept in the original container with the proper label.

Questions or any instances of possible poisoning should be referred to the family physician or the poison control center at Emma L. Bixby Hospital. Information is also available from pharmacists or the health department.

Pentagon, Post Office To Aid Santa Claus

Tons of St. Nick's gifts will be going to members of the Armed Forces in Vietnam by special ship this year, thanks to a joint Pentagon-Post Office venture.

A fast U. S. cargo ship will be designated the "1968 SANTA CLAUS SPECIAL," sailing from Oakland, Calif., next month with Christmas parcels.

To meet the sailing deadlines and assure pre-holiday delivery of gifts sent with surface postage, Items should be mailed during the October 14 - November 9 period.

They should be marked "SANTA CLAUS SPECIAL" just below the stamps.

The "SANTA CLAUS SPECIAL" will sail during the latter half of November and stop at Da Nang, Qui Nhon, Cam Rahn Bay and Saigon, Vietnam. It takes approximately three weeks for a fast ship to cross the ocean.

All gifts should be packed in strong containers with adequate cushioning and correctly addressed, including APO and FPO numbers.

There are several options available for mailing to the military which can save money. Post offices across the nation have free pamphlets available which outline the mailing programs for servicemen and women overseas.

Deadlines for overseas mailings to servicemen are:

Nov. 9 — Packages over five pounds by surface mail.

Nov. 23 — Packages less than five pounds by surface mail.

Nov. 30 — Special parcel air lift rates for packages up to 30 pounds.

Dec. — All mail sent at the full air mail rates.

For civilian mail overseas the deadlines are:

Oct. 15 — Surface rates to the Far East.

Nov. 1 — Surface rates to all other overseas points.

Dec. 1 — Air mail rates to remote areas.

Dec. 10 — Air mail to areas served by main air routes.

Students Learn Mechanics Trade

The auto mechanics program for the youth of Lenawee County is offered through the County Vocational Office and is located at the Auto Skill Center, 203 N. Broad St., Adrian. The program will be re-located at the Lenawee County Vocational-Technical Education Center upon completion of the new facility in August, 1970.

First year students are provided with an introduction to general automotive repair through studies of the engine, chassis and electrical systems. While studying the chassis, students develop elementary skills in front-end alignment, wheel balancing, headlight alignment, clutch and standard transmission repair, and differential and suspension system repair. Automotive engine technology is learned while performing elementary tune-ups and overhauls and while studying the lubrication and cooling systems. Students are familiarized with the electrical system including the ignition, lighting and charging circuits.

Actual work experience for the first year trainee is gained through repairs performed on the Skill Center-training equipment and through work performed on the student's own automobile.

Second year students expand upon the skill learned during the previous year to include studies and repairs to the exhaust system, braking and steering systems, carburetor rebuilding and complete engine tuneup and overhaul. The advanced students work on automobiles of the general public under the close supervision of the instructor. By using the most up-to-date training and electronic equipment, students duplicate the automobile repairs that are performed in the commercial garage.

The auto mechanics program is taught by Robert LeBlanc of Adrian. LeBlanc received his BS degree in Education from Northern Michigan University and is currently enrolled in the graduate school at Eastern Michigan University. His previous teaching experience includes one year at the Rogers Clark High School in Rockland and five years with the United States Government Dependent School System in Tokyo, Japan and Nurnburg, Germany, and is now in his second year of teaching at the Lenawee County Auto Skill Center.

Country Folk

The fall Country Music Round-Up is slated for presentation Oct. 25-26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Waldron High School gymnasium.

Both evenings will be filled with the strains of Country and Western, Bluegrass, folk and old-time Gospel tunes. Donating their talent, 25 or more entertainers perform for an enthusiastic audience.

According to Arvin Holland, Round-up manager, the show's popularity stems from a growing reputation as wholesome entertainment for the entire family.

Although not intended as a fund-raising event, profits from the modest admission are used for community improvement by the Waldron Area Chamber of Commerce, sponsors since 1963.

Good Scouts

The Boy Scouts of Lenawee County will conduct their annual Goodwill drive, Saturday, Oct. 26, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Boy Scouts will distribute Goodwill bags and collect the filled bags Saturday.

Auxiliary Plans Visit

Mrs. Walter Mueller, Mrs. Lloyd Stites and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, members of Hall-Slater Auxiliary No. 4187, plan to be present in Jackson Oct. 25-26 when the National President of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mrs. Elmer Waters, will visit.

Mrs. Waters will show Michigan members a pilot film on "Movies from Home."

The film demonstrates how to get filmed messages from families to American servicemen in Vietnam.

"We'd like to bring the boys home to their families, but we can't," Mrs. Waters said recently. "So we're doing the next best thing — sending talking pictures of families to the boys."

Mrs. Leroy R. Pahl, Michigan V.F.W. Auxiliary president, said members in her state will work with television and military personnel to get as many movies as possible ready for Christmas delivery.

"The armed forces tell us our Christmas deadline is December 1," said Mrs. Pahl. "We'll try to make family movies next year, too, because we know soldiers are lonely in all seasons. But we thought we'd make a special effort for Christmas."

Mrs. Water's special project this year will make it possible for men in Vietnam to see movies from home. Auxiliary members work with local TV stations and the armed services to film messages from the families of service men.

October 18 to November 8 are the dates which the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council has set for this year's Calendar Sale of 1969 Calendars. Good luck to the girls who wear the brown and green!

Nursing Seminar

President of the Lenawee District Nurses Association, Mrs. Journey Stoner, announced that there will be a Rehabilitation Seminar at Bixby Hospital Oct. 29, sponsored by the Kenny-Michigan Rehabilitation Foundations.

It is designed to acquaint nursing personnel with the correct techniques to be used in helping the chronically-ill and injured attain or maintain their maximum degree of functioning. The registration fee is $2, which will go toward defraying of the lunch-eon cost. Anyone interested may contact Barbara Micell, in-service co-ordinator, Bixby Hospital, Adrian, before Oct. 22.

Mrs. Mildred Bauer, treasurer, reported that 211 tickets have been sent in to the Michigan Nurses Association. The money goes for the Building Fund. Prizes will be awarded Nov. 1. They are; a new Mustang, $1,000 gift certificate or a console color TV.

The Michigan Nurses Association has sent a bulletin announcing that membership in that professional organization is decreasing. The Lenawee Nurses are concerned and several suggestions were made and discussed regarding methods to improve membership in the Association and representation of nurses in community activities.

The next meeting will be Nov. 21, at 7:30 p.m., at Thorn Hospital, Hudson. Curtiss Neff will be the guest speaker and will present facets of the research work being done at Jackson State Prison by the Parke Davis Pharmaceutical Company.

Price-Support Announced

The price-support loan and purchase rate for 1968 crop corn in Lenawee County was announced as $1.09 per bushel by Roland Russell, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The figure is based on the 1968 crop national average loan level of $1.05 per bushel, which was announced last October. Only farmers taking part in the 1968 Feed Grain Program are eligible for price support loans on the 1968 corn crop.

On the basis of historical prices, including adjustments for quality, used in the county loan rate determination, rates in virtually all areas were increased 4 cent per bushel in order to support the price of all corn at the national average loan rate of $1.05 per bushel.

The schedule of premiums and discounts for 1968 crop corn will be unchanged from those in effect for the 1967 crop.

Besides the price - support loans, participants in the 1968 Feed Grain program are eligible to receive price-support and diversion payments. The "1968 price-support payment is 30 cents per bushel, making total price support $1.35 per bushel.

Loans and purchases will be available on all 1968 crop eligible corn production; the price support payment will be available on the farm's projected production of the planted acreage up to 50 percent of the farm's feed grain base.

Tribe Routed by Falcons

Three touchdowns in the final period routed the Tecumseh Indians Friday night as a visiting Monroe CC eleven all but wrapped up the Huron League crown. Final score was 24-0.

For three quarters the two clubs battled on near even terms, with CC taking advantage of a big break in the first quarter to score its first touchdown.

From the offset it was evident a defensive game was in store. After two exchanges of punts, CC pounced on an Indian fumble at Tecumseh's 30.

Two running plays netted just five yards, but a short pass in the left flat gave the Falcons a first down on the Indians' 10. Three plays later fullback Bill Scheich scored from the Tecumseh four.

Late in the first period, Tecumseh started a drive from its own 37 and reached CC's 25 before running out of downs. Neither club mounted any offense for the remainder of the half.

The visitors did reach Tecumseh's two, but mainly through two 15-yard penalties. A CC 15-yarder helped to even the infractions, moving the pigskin back to the 17 where the Indians held just before the half.

The Indians completely dominated the third quarter, and it appeared if they could get any kind of an offense going, they could pull out a victory. The entire period was played in CC's territory and most of it around the 20. The quarter ended with CC on their own 32 and apparently going nowhere against the Indian line.

On the first play in the final stanza, quarterback Bruce Gonyea hit end Ben Pellzzie all alone behind the Tecumseh secondary and the Monroe CC tri-captain went the final 40 yards to break the game wide open.

Two minutes later, CC picked off a Tecumseh pass on the Indians' 40 and ran it back to the two. Wilson then ran the score up to 18-0 on the first play.

With just 1:37 left on the clock and deep in their own territory, the Indians saw another desperation pass picked off to set up CC's final score.

At no time was Tecumseh able to muster a real offensive drive, and whether the absence of Ken Pieh from the lineup contributed to this failure is mere speculation. Pieh is Tecumseh's top runner and his running was sorely missed.

Although the Indians had little in offense, the Falcons had little more. One touchdown was set up by a fumble and the other three by interceptions. Both clubs proved exceptional on defense, and Tecumseh's defense in the third quarter was outstanding, throwing CC runners five times for losses.

Tecumseh, Blissfield Battle For Second

Bombed last week in a crucial game with Monroe CC, the Tecumseh Indians hope to regain their winning ways at Blissfield Friday night in what could be a battle for second place in the Huron League.

CC, winner over the Indians by a 24-0 score, all but have the crown wrapped up.

Fortunately for Coach Tom Fagan, several first stringers will be back in the lineup for the Indians. Denny Lewis and Earl Ruttkofsky are expected to be at full strength, and Ken Pieh, top running back who sat out the CC game, is expected to play but may still be slowed by an ankle injury suffered in the Grosse Ile game.

Jim Parros, starting guard, is very doubtful, and Jack Greenfield, out with a cracked collarbone, is not apt to play until the Carlson or Adrian game.

Blissfield passes a lot and this may be bad news for the Indians. In two losses this season, opponents have capitalized on what must be considered a weak Tecumseh defense against the pass.

The Royals operate from a modified pro-type offense, and though they have what some consider two of the best running backs in the league, they rely mostly on the pass. Their full-back tops 200 pounds and is considered a sprinter.

If wins and scores are indicative, Blissfield trimmed GI and so did the Indians, but not until after a tough game.

The two clubs rate about even, and with the usual rivalry between the schools, either could win. Last time Tecumseh visited Blissfield, the Royals walked off with a 20-0 victory.

Parcel Post Rate Hikes

Under the new rates the minimum charge for local parcel delivery will go from 40 to 50 cents. The minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50 cents to 60 cents.

Almost all parcels that are charged up to $1.10 under present rates will go up 10 cents. This accounts for more than 80 percent of all parcel post, Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf pointed out.

There will be a 15-cent hike on most parcels now charged between $1.10 and $4, and a 20-cent increase on parcels now charged over $4.

Parcel post rates are based on the weight of the package and the distance it is mailed.

Higher rates for the delivery of packages and catalogs are required to bring revenue from this type of mail within four per cent of operating costs, as required by law, the postmaster explained. The higher rates are designed to put parcels and catalogs, which are fourth - class mail, on a break-even basis.

Additional revenue is needed from parcel post and catalogs to offset higher costs resulting from pay increases approved last year for postal employees.

Royal Treatment For Visitor From Sussex

Charles Purley, Rotarian from Bognor Regis, Sussex, England, was given the royal treatment Tuesday as Bob Moore and Hugh Walter escorted him to the Rotary dinner meeting.

Repaying Purley's compliment of a year ago when he drove the Moores and the Walters to the International Convention in Nice, France, in a Rolls Royce, the local men picked Mr. Purley up in Moore's 1928 Ford, the working man's Rolls Royce, Hugh said.

The date of Nov. 19 has been set when local, state and national dignitaries will be present at the Rotary meeting to present the Club with the 1968 National Vehicle Safety Check Award.

Graham Fleming is general chairman for the event. Invitations will be handled by Len Bruner, chairman; Ralph Comfort, Glenn Driscoll, Bill Love, Bob Moore, "Spec" Simmons and Sid Adams.

Robert French, Bill Haselwood and Pat Meadows will greet the dignitaries; Paul Roekle, Hugh Walter, Yale Kerby and Perry Satterthwaite will conduct publicity and ticket campaign.

Fred Freeman will take care of protocol and Steve Illeck, finance.

Boot Camp Graduate

Marine Pvt. Herbert C. Bagby, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Bagby, Sr., 1201 Murray Dr., was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif.

He will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

Cpl. Kenneth Bagby, brother of Herbert, has been serving in a Marine Division since December, 1967. Their parents hope to have both boys home for Christmas.

Off The Top

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

For many people, their favorite season of the year is here.

Autumn is a beautiful time, yet tinged with an unknown sadness, as we reluctantly turn our backs on summer and face the impending winter.

Each bright fall day is treasured because it may be the last, and we cling to the final days of warmth before winter really sets in.

The mid-day air is crisp and challenging, and the sky never seemed so blue. The many-colored leaves drift down from the trees like gentle rain, and form a patterned carpet underfoot. It is the time to go on nature hikes, when the hills are ablaze with color and the dry weeds crackle beneath our steps.

Children love the fall; they love to rake up huge piles of leaves for jumping in, or for burning as twilight descends upon the villages and towns of the nation. The evening air is misty and the horizon clouded as the smoke from many bonfires spirals upward to the darkening sky. Marshmallows are roasted, or blackened; and then it is dark, the fire is going out, and everyone must go in.

Autumn is the time for football games, for sitting in the damp evening chill, yelling for the home team, eating hot dogs and pop corn to keep warm. Colorful homecomings are staged in high schools and colleges everywhere, and the parades and the bands and the floats are eagerly anticipated.

Hunters take to the golden fields in the fall, intent upon the unwary bird and squirrel. The dull boom of shotguns is heard on the early morning air, or as dusk descends on the nearby fields. Excited hunting dogs dance around their masters, eager to be off and running. Young boys proudly bring in their first prizes of the hunt, to be duly admired by all. Dad gives them a lesson in cleaning pheasants; it's all part of the day. Old men reflect on their hunting days of the past, and wonder if they will see another fall and another hunting season.

The homeowner has many chores to perform before the onslaught of winter. Storm windows must be put up and screens put away, weatherstripping to be checked, the lawn mower put away and the outside water taps turned off. The family car and other vehicles must be winterized; anti-freeze and snow tires are big items at gas stations and garages.

Mothers take stock of the children's coats — who needs a new jacket, and who can wear last year's again? Better check the boots before that first snowfall catches you unprepared.

The children's big holiday, Halloween, finishes off October, and the gray skies and sharp winds of November await.

Even as I write, the dry leaves are falling from the maple trees in the yard, rustling as they drop on the porch roof, whispering, "Winter is coming."

Enjoy these last few days of autumn, there aren't too many of them left.

Harry Herndon conducted the business meeting. It was voted to have a bake sale Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m., in the Merkle-Young annex building on Michigan Ave. Each member of the marching and junior high band is expected to furnish some item of food to sell or pay $1.50.

It was also voted to have a bake sale on the third Saturday of each month through the school year with proceeds to be used for band uniforms.

Plans for a Christmas tree sale were discussed and it was decided not to have a sale this year.

Band Director Richard Perkins announced that the band members will begin selling assorted bar and box candies shortly, with proceeds to be used for band camp funds. This is a band member project.

'Skins Lose

By GINA GREEN

CLINTON — Onsted's Wildcats fought off a late surge by the Redskins as they turned a last-minute pass interception into a touchdown, clinching a 25-14 homecoming victory over Clinton.

Ed Willis proved to be too much for the Redskins to handle as he ran for two quick touchdowns and passed to Larry Cattell for another tally. The stocky halfback took advantage of his speed and broken-field running ability to give the Clinton defense headaches throughout the game.

The Redskins did make a comeback attempt behind the running of Dwight McKenna and Tom Moore and the passing of Jim Claus. McKenna scored the first Redskin TD on a 10-yard handoff slant in the second quarter and Eric Sparks added another tally on a 30-yard scamper late in the third stanza.

Extra points by Moore and end Jan Callison put the Redskins within one touchdown of a victory as they trailed 19-14 midway through the final quarter.

Their last hopes were dashed when Joe Bryan intercepted a Claus pass and returned it 44 yards to put the game on ice.

Claus completed 9 of 17 pass attempts, connecting with senior end Jan Callison four times. McKenna and Moore gained 55 and 52 yards rushing, respectively. Dennis Kime starred for the Redskin defense with 13 tackles. Junior Al Roberts also had 10 tackles to his credit.

$5 Million For Budd Company Improvements

CLINTON—The Village Council has announced a notice of intent to issue Industrial Development Revenue Bonds, Series 1968, in an amount not to exceed $5,000,000 for the purpose of financing the purchase of additional machinery and equipment to be installed in the industrial plant owned by the Village of Clinton and leased to The Budd Company, and the cost of making certain improvements and additions to such plant.

Such machinery and equipment and improvements and additions to such plant will be leased to The Budd Company, located of the southeast village limits.

Plans were incorporated into the original agreement between the village and The Budd Company, for the sale of revenue bonds at the time the plant was built, including this additional sum of $5,000,000, at any time it was necessary for improvements or additions to the facility.

The Budd Company is engaged in the manufacture of disc brakes.

Local Residents Will Entertain Foreign Students

CLINTON — Arrangements are being made for 25 foreign students of Wayne State University to visit Clinton next weekend.

Local families who wish to entertain one or more of these students, mainly from Asian countries, may call the Rev. Charles Sturm of St. John's Episcopal Church; the Rev. David Liscomb of the United Methodist Church or the Rev. Fr. Joseph Noelke of St. Dominic's Church, who are in charge of the program.

The young people are chosen by the Ecumenical Campus Center of the University because they have come directly from their homelands to Detroit and have had little opportunity to get acquainted with Americans or our way of life.

While here they will be taken on a visit to the scenic Irish Hills.

The students and the residents of the community may participate in a Hymn Sing Oct. 27 at the United Methodist Church at 7 p.m.

Idea Grows at Gaylord

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Gaylord is a town where an idea caught fire.

Just a few years ago, the upstate community was just a wide place in the road, where tourists, bound for Northern Michigan, occasionally stopped. Store fronts were deteriorating and the interiors held little of interest to sophisticated shoppers.

All that has changed. Now, Gaylord is a growing city with plywood, plastics and weather-stripping industries vying with the tourists' dollars to create an economic boom thereabouts.

There's two new, large retail establishments under construction on the main business block, and even mid-week October finds motels and restaurants full of tourists.

It took a few years for the idea to come to fruition — to remake the community into an alpine village, but now, almost every retail business has a cedar shake canopy over the entrance, bright-painted trim, various alpine decor inside and everywhere beautiful planters of real flowers bloom in profusion, achieving a unified appearance.

The latest achievement was the dedication, Sept. 12, of the completely charming, and utilitarian alpine-styled city-county building in the heart of the city.

Entry through ornately carved, colored-glass doorways, leads down gold-carpeted, handsome brick - walled hallways to the offices of Otsego County and City of Gaylord officials. Sheriff's department and city police are also located in the same building.

Spotlights at night focus on the huge clock hanging in a four-posted pointed-roofed tower.

The city-county building, as well as the commercial establishments present an eye-pleasing marriage of old-world charm and new-world efficiency.

It's worth driving miles to see the results of such imagination, cooperation and community spirit in a town which now has everything going for it — and all from such a small beginning.

Meet Quarterly

The Lower Light Church at the corner of Kilbuck and Maumee streets will hold quarterly meetings with the Rev. W. O. Kneal Oct. 25, 26 and 27 at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

It's easy—when you know the answers

All of life is not far removed from the classroom. There are truths to be learned every day. And there are questions to be answered.

But some people don't have the answer when they need it. And some people do . . .

Any teacher will tell you it's a question of preparation. And any preacher will tell you the same.

The people who go to church on Sunday have no more problems than those who stay home. Nor do they expect as a result to have any fewer.

They believe simply in preparation—preparation of the mind, conscience, heart and soul . . . faith.

This is the preparation God offers men . . . for the questions that will confront us all tomorrow!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

QUEEN CANDIDATES — JoAnn Henning, Vickie Reitz and Nancy Vreeland are the Homecoming Queen candidates chosen by the football players last week. Students in grade 8-12 will hold an election Thursday to determine the winner, with the results kept secret until the half-time ceremonies at the Homecoming game that night. The annual Homecoming parade will start in front of the school at 4:30 p.m. At the football game, Britton hosts the Whiteford Bobcats at 7:30 p.m. A dance, featuring live music, will be held following the game 'til midnight.

Margin of Safety

BRITTON — The Tories football squad squeaked by Summerfield by at 2-0 score Friday night, as senior Bob Warren, in his first year of play, tackled the Summerfield ball carrier in the end zone for a safety in the first quarter.

"Warren has played well at defensive end all year," stated Coach Paul Palka, "but this was certainly the highlight of the year for him."

The Tory defensive play was outstanding, as they bounced back from two losses to get in the win column again.

Dick Schroeder had 18 tackles, and some great runs at the full-back position. Bill Tuberville also had a good game. On offense, Jim Skelton and Jim Lister were key players.

The win puts Britton 3-2 in River Raisin League play, and 3-3 over all. They are having a great season after a long dry spell of 35 games lost.

The Tories host the Whiteford Bobcats Friday night at the Homecoming game, and will be hoping to extend that winning streak!

DRIVER OF THE MONTH — Richard Upell, 1206 Murray Drive, was named driver of the month by Michigan Trucking Association. W. J. Rumpf of Rumpf Truck Line, Inc., is shown congratulating him on his record of 21 years and 1,100,000 miles of driving with no accidents. He will enter competition in February for Michigan Driver of the Year.

One Million Safe Miles

Richard M. Upell, 1206 Murray Dr., was one of six, named Drivers of the Month by the Michigan Trucking Association.

"Everyone here is happy for him, he is well liked by all of the drivers," said Carl Rumpf, director of safety at Rumpf Truck Line, Inc., who nominated the 44-year-old truck driver for the honor.

Upell has practically a lifetime of good driving to his credit with no accidents, 20 years and six months, a total of 1,100,000 miles.

About 40,000 miles of this record was with a previous employer.

A veteran of World War II, with time spent in Italy, Mr. Upell has six children, Mrs. Phillip Smith (Kay), a student at Michigan State University, Jim, 18, a General Motors Institute employee, Sue Ann, 14, ninth grade, twins, 12, Joan Marie and Jana Lee and Peggy Lou, 10.

At a recent banquet Mr. Upell was awarded a $50 savings bond and an engraved pin.

The trade association, representing trucking management, selects 12 outstanding drivers to compete in the annual contest to name Michigan Driver of the Year in February.

Mr. Rumpf pointed out that the competition is not just among truck drivers but includes drivers for stores and factories such as J. L. Hudson Co. in Detroit and The Tecumseh Products Co.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing in hopes that you will put this letter in The Tecumseh Herald.

It concerns some 30 to 40 youngsters at the Ho Nai Orphanage, 4 miles from Bien Hoa Army Post where we are located.

Christmas is approaching rapidly and it usually is not a bright one for them. The men of Headquarters Company, 20th Engineer Brigade are organizing a Christmas party for these kids. Although we can get plenty of refreshments and food, we need your help in getting summer type clothing for them.

Their ages vary from infants to eight and nine years. Other things such as toothbrushes and toothpaste and soap, etc., would be of great use to these kids as they live in unclean conditions, not out of choice, but of necessity.

These kids seldom have toys with which they can amuse themselves. Therefore, old, but useable, toys would also be very welcome gifts for them.

Boxes can be sent:

Pfc. Larry D. Meads
RA 69011053
HHC 20th Engr Bde
APO San Francisco 96491

Any help that you can give to make Christmas a happier time for these orphans would be very much appreciated.

Thank you,
Larry D. Meads

P.S. I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for sending The Herald to me. As a former student of Tecumseh High School, it is nice to be able to remain in contact with "hometown happenings".

TO THE EDITOR:

It will soon be Halloween, when the trick or treat army comes through. Why doesn't Tecumseh take pity on the people who live on the main streets and do like the city of Pontiac and many towns near there? They sound a siren at 6 p.m. and the children can start trick or treating and then at 7 p.m. the siren sounds again and they cannot trick or treat after that hour.

We have at least 100 children come here. That includes carloads from out of town. One year I had my storm door window soaped before I could get to the door. Last year I sat out on the porch for about three hours and it was cold.

Will someone please lend me an old fur coat if it is cold this year?

Games were played at both parties and refreshments were served.

Sharleen will become the bride of William Burgess, Jr., of New Hudson, Nov. 2.

Benefits From Farm Ponds

Did you ever stop to realize the numerous benefits that can be obtained from a pond? The list of possible benefits is endless. Swimming, fishing irrigation supply, livestock water, and a home for wildlife are a few ways a pond can benefit your family. But ponds help improve the local environment and make your community a better place to live in many ways, too.

One of these is sediment control. Ponds automatically provide a catchment area for sediments discharged from farm fields when the soil is not adequately protected. There is a great deal of runoff and erosion from urban construction and housing developments. A catch basin or desilting basin in these areas would be highly beneficial. It would, in turn, add to the beauty of the area.

Another extraordinary use is the interception of wastes from industrial plants that might accidentally be discharged into streams. A number of industries have installed ponds to intercept wastes that are discharged from their processing plants. In case a pollutant is accidentally discharged, it can safely be retained within the pond reservoir, protecting the downstream areas from pollution. This keeps the streams suitable for wildlife and recreation.

Another major use that is not too common in Michigan is the use of ponds as floodwater retarding structures. Such structures usually consist of a dam that will detain high runoff flows of water within the reservoir and discharge the excess waters at a slow rate so channels downstream can handle it. This reduces the hazard of flooding.

U. S. Soil Conservation Service Technicians at Adrian provide assistance through the Lenawee Soil Conservation District on ponds that may be installed in Lenawee County. If you are interested in a pond on your land, the technicians can provide you with additional information.

Recently, Cooperator Kenneth Emery of Tecumseh asked for assistance in constructing his one-third acre pond at Springville. Mr. Emery has indicated his pleasure with the pond. The pond is to be used for swimming, boating and beauty; and he feels it is a definite asset to the property. The pond will be stocked with black bass and bluegills.

"Nickel-A-Minute"

"Nickel-A-Minute," a new economy long distance service for direct dialed calls to points within Michigan, has been introduced by General Telephone, T. A. Saunders, company president, said today.

"Nickel-A-Minute" service applies to direct dialed long distance calls made to points within Michigan between 10:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m., seven days a week, Saunders said. The new service also applies to operator-handled calls where Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) is not available.

Charges for the new service, which is available to both residence and business customers, include a two-dollar-per-month basic monthly charge and five cents cents for each minute of use.

To determine whether "Nickel-A-Minute" would be economical, a customer can check his long distance billing for direct dialed calls within Michigan during the 10:00 p.m. to 7:00 a.m. period for the past several months.

"This new service will provide savings to those of our customers who place a lot of calls within Michigan to children away at school, out-of-town relatives and friends, and to those businesses which operate late at night or early in the morning," Saunders said.

Saunders said service representatives at all local business offices are prepared to assist customers interested in the "Nickel-A-Minute" service.

QUESTION:
"Our pastor has said that none of his parishioners should spend over $400 for a funeral. What is your opinion of his advice?"

ANSWER:
If your pastor advises his parishioner to not pay over $25 each year to the church, I would readily agree that his advice on a $400 funeral is very sound.

Aid Vietnamese Orphanage

The local Jaycees Auxiliary members have undertaken the project of assisting Russell G. Slick with a Mobile Construction Unit in Vietnam to help provide some necessities for a French and Vietnamese orphanage called "The Sacred Heart School."

Chairman Mrs. Richard Creswell said Monday that they have not had much response from local people but the Church of Christ Missionary Circle in Sydney, O., under the direction of Mrs. Alva Hageman, has made gowns and dresses and other articles to send here to go with the Tecumseh consignment for the orphans.

"Too bad we have to go outside of our community and state to get help when asked by one of our local boys in Vietnam. We need used children's clothing, towels wash cloths, etc., and are still in need of mosquito netting as well as cash donations for postage," concluded the chairman.

Mr. Slick sent a letter from Sister Marie Angela, who oversees the orphanage along with two other nuns. Sister Angela expressed admiration and gratitude to the men of Slick's battalion for "your boundless charity. The depth of kindness and responsibility in Americans is often more apparent abroad than it is at home. Your assistance is very much appreciated but allow me to tell you with the sincerity of our feelings you do us wrong for you render us poor Religious speechless and our speechlessness increases almost daily for your charity, too, increases daily. Now, good generous friend, benefactors is this not very nice and touching on both sides? And is this not true and to repeat again and again, "happily our Americans are with us."

"So then, our thanks for this monthly assistance, for sure our Good Lord will not be outdone in generosities, He will very well know how to reward generous militaries sooner or later with His most choicest blessings spiritual and temporal without forgetting our benefactor country, America, and your dear ones."

The Catholic Sister tried in her own way to humorously express grateful appreciation for all Mr. Slick and his battalion are doing for the orphanage and nursery in such desperate need.

Attend Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Brock left Oct. 9 for Toronto, Canada, to attend funeral services for her brother-in-law, who died the previous Monday. They returned home on Sunday.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

OF COURSE, I'M NOT LAUGHING

By all rights Gertie T. should be doing this. It is her story. My role is one of pure pleasure . . . she has all the frustration. After so many springs and falls of warbler worrying, I must be truthful and admit it is fun to have someone else confused by the tiny ones.

And I have a perfectly legitimate excuse for not becoming involved in the puzzling predicament. The little birds are sticking strictly to the trees in the back yard. They are also flitting in the huge willow and elm across the creek but these, too, are out of my range.

It all started on one of our gloriously warm and sunny days when Gertie T. stepped out on the back porch to catch a few whiffs of Michigan fall. However, in addition to the aroma of dying leaves and the many, many other smells peculiar to this time of year, she heard something — she heard squeaky little wispy bird sounds and thus one more person was hooked on warbler-watching.

So far, this October has been just unbelievable and afternoon temperature readings in the 80's have allowed some unusual window and door openings. Gertie T.'s tantalizing little bird noises 'came in loud and clear'.

When the gang starts calling her, we look at each other and smile, she grabs the binoculars and heads for the back porch or yard. In a few minutes she is back, making a beeline for the bird books.

Now, never let it be said that I would grin with pleasure over someone else's 'trials and tribulations' — I am merely exercising facial muscles as I watch her turn pages, study pictures, frown and go to the next book.

★

GRADUALLY, OF course, the birds are sorting themselves out for her. The tiny grey-green mite, even smaller than a warbler, who flew just right for the sun to show a small splash of bright red on his head, must have been a ruby-crowned kinglet. A few days later he was playing with a nondescript midget of a bird who must have been a Mrs. Ruby-crowned Kinglet.

The same sized birds, whose heads were decorated with stripes of yellow, black and orange, fit the description of golden-crowned kinglets.

After a session of warbler watching, Gertie T. comes in babbling incoherently about olive, greenish tan birds; faintly streaked breasts or unstreaked; one wing bar, two wing bars, no bars; possible eye rings and stripes. She is finding that the little birds are bundles of nervous energy and brimming over with high spirits.

They never sit still and are continually darting from one treetop branch to another. Just when you think the binoculars are zeroed in on one, it ducks behind a leaf and disappears.

★

HO HO HO — misery does love company. I have had my warbler-watching problems in the past and this year, while they are thoughtfully helping to preserve my peace of mind, it is great fun to see someone else worrying about the problem.

But all of the excitement is not confined to the back yard. My near-the-window feeder is hosting a new guest and what a charmer he is. A very young male cardinal visits daily.

He is quickly assuming his adult coloration but the scarlet is not brilliant yet and is shaded with much fawn color. His topknot is not fully developed and his bill is still a dull black. The technique of feeder eating, though, has been completely mastered, he can crack sunflower seeds and scratch feed with the best of them.

So it is that these are busy days as Gertie T. tries to unravel warbler identification, I share with her my young cardinal, and, of course, I am not laughing.

Unique "Thank You"

Pam Eggleston, Gail Hohenstein and Jan Snyder, Girl State representatives, were the featured speakers at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Oct. 10 at the Post Home.

The girls, presented by Mrs. Kenneth Herrick, chairman, told of their experiences, new friends made, awards won and what they learned of the working of government in a delightful round robin sequence.

They concluded that the opportunity was one that any girl would appreciate and profit by and said so in a unique way, by presenting the organization with a large poster "thank you" card made by Jan Snyder.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler, new president, conducted the meeting when members decided to purchase a plaque inscribed with the past presidents' names and years they served. It will be placed on the wall of the meeting room.

Mrs. Rentschler reminded the members that dues would go up after Oct. 15 as the National and State dues have been increased.

The members voted to raise the dues to $3 after Oct. 15.

They also voted to again sponsor a Girl Scout Troop and Mrs. Richard Egli, leader, was to be notified.

Announcements were made: The first District meeting of the year will be held at Deerfield High School at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 27. Oct. 30, at Saline, a membership dinner will be held at the Post Home. They will hold initiation and invite the Tecumseh unit to bring uninitiated members. Nov. 8 the Morenci American Legion and Auxiliary Annual Membership Banquet will be held at 7 p.m., at the Legion Home. Speaker will be Department Chairman Walter Jane. Dancing will follow the dinner.

"Reservations must be made for all three events," Mrs. Rentschler stated.

Biggest Turnout Expected for Tuesday's Election

A record-breaking number of voters are expected to turn out here next Tuesday — and folks are urged to vote early. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Four years ago, over 2,700 voted at the polls in Tecumseh and two years ago, 2,100 cast ballots. Next Tuesday's presidential election could attract 3,000 or more.

In local races, four candidates are running for two posts as Lenawee County Supervisor.

Fay Whelan, Republican, and Frank Laskey, Democrat, are opposed in District Six, and Wallace Whiting, Democrat, and Terrance Wagner, Republican, are running in District Seven.

Area supervisor contests have William Mackey, Republican, and Shirley Van Sickle, Democrat, vying to represent Tecumseh and Raisin Townships in District Eight.

Joseph Conklin, Democrat, is opposing Martin Halley, Republican, in District One for Clinton and Macon Townships. Ron Brown, Republican, is unopposed in District Two, Franklin Township, as is Stacy Zilke for Ridgeway and Deerfield, District Nine.

Considerable interest has been evident locally in Ernest H. Olivers bid to unseat Robert Stites for State Representative. Mr. Oliver, local businessman and Justice of Peace, is running on the Democratic ticket, but has received considerable help from many county Republicans.

Races for two district judgeships also has gained attention with Yale Leland Kerby, John Timms, Paul Betz and Kenneth Glaser in the running.

Kerby, a resident of Sand Creek Highway and a former Tecumseh resident, has been an attorney for 17 years with offices in Adrian and Morenci. His parents here operate a real estate office.

Timms, a Hudson attorney, has practiced over 20 years and is currently counselor for the community. He is a past president of the Lenawee County Bar Association.

Paul Betz, is a native of Adrian and is a former county prosecuting attorney. He is presently municipal court judge, and is a past president of the county bar.

Glaser has practiced law for the past 15 years and is a former county prosecutor. Like the other candidates, he is a member of many bar associations and has been active in community affairs.

In the race for Congressman, Wes Vivian is honing to regain his seat from Marvin Esch. Both Esch, a Republican, and Vivian, Democrat, have visited the community here often. Vivian was edged here two years ago by less than 200 votes.

Both of these candidates have expressed concern over the candidacy of George Wallace for president and how it will affect local and area races — plus the presidential contest with Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey.

They expect many voters to jump around in their voting, favoring both Democrats and Republicans.

One question is how many voters will pick Wallace and how they will then cast votes for other candidates and issues.

Issues ranging from fixed millage in the county to whether or not the state be exempted from daylight savings time will be found on the ballot by the voters. A state income tax also poses a question.

On the question of fixed millage, the allocation board has gone on record as supporting fixed millage at the rate of 15.55 for the county as a whole. If passed, the allocation board will slip into the history books with the annual millage divided as voted upon.

A referendum is sought to change the act as to whether or not Michigan shall be exempted from observing daylight savings time. A federal law passed last year, stated that all states must observe the summer time saver, unless exempted by the state legislatures.

In Michigan a law passed the House and Senate which exempted the state from daylight savings. However, petitions circulated by Raymond Dzenzel of Detroit reached the court, and Michigan belatedly went on daylight savings until the referendum could be voted upon at this year's general election.

The income tax question stems from the state constitution's limitations on state and city income taxes. At present, levies are at a flat rate. In the amendment to the Constitution on the ballot the right is given to the state or its subdivisions to levy graduated income taxes on the residents.

Also facing the voters are two bonding issues amounting to $435 million. $335 million will be borrowed for the purpose of constructing facilities for the prevention of water pollution. Included would be monies available to municipalities and agencies of the state for the purposes of preserving state waters.

The other $100 million is for recreational purposes. The bonding would occur in the same fashion with both debts being paid from the state general fund.

The final issue at stake concerns the election of members of the state legislature to other state positions during their terms of office. At present they are prohibited from seeking other state elective or appointive office while a member of the Legislature.

School Officials Are Upset

By BILL SANFORD

A published report last week concerning possible illegal levying of taxes by the Clinton School District has brought fire upon the township board and M. M. Halley, Clinton Supervisor.

Richard Wegner, superintendent of schools in Clinton, called the report, "sounding factual, it probably made good copy." He also termed the timing of the report as being "political in nature."

The Clinton School District is divided between Washtenaw and Lenawee Counties. According to the tax rolls, Washtenaw has a set millage of 18 with 11.22 mills going to the schools. A section of the Constitution provides that a school may levy the high tax rate in the case of districts lying in two counties.

Lenawee has a millage of 15, with 8.2 going to the schools. An amendment has been prepared for the Board of Supervisors asking a reduction in millage for Lenawee taxpayers in the Clinton District of 3.02 mills.

In response to questioning of the validity of the tax levy, Wegner said that they had levied the taxes on advice of officials in Lansing and with legal advice from their attorneys in Detroit and Adrian. Wegner agreed that the .02 mills was questionable, he stated that some way could be found to shave the excess from the rolls. He later said that it was impossible, that the school board did not have the power to set taxes, the district would have to levy either the 11.22 of Washtenaw County or the 8.2 mills of Lenawee.

The reasoning behind the move, according to the Clinton Republican Halley, is that it would seem against the Constitution that a levy could be imposed upon the people that did not have a voice in the amount.

Article 9, Section 6, of the Constitution is the one most frequently referred to in the present argument. It states: "Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, the total amount of general ad valorem taxes imposed upon real and tangible personal property for all purposes in any one year shall not exceed 15 mills on each dollar of the assessed valuation of property as finally equalized. Under procedures provided by law, which shall guarantee the right of initiative, separate tax limitations for any county, for the townships and for school districts therein, the ag-

NEW EXPANSION — Fabricare has opened its new addition and plans a grand opening, Thursday through next Wednesday, for its patrons. This photo shows the main room in the new addition, which also boasts new equipment and other facilities.

Fabricare To Hold Grand Opening

Fabricare, once a small, do-it-yourself dry cleaning operation, has completed another large expansion here and will hold its grand opening this Thursday through next Wednesday.

The cleaning center, located next to A&P on Herrick Park Dr., has doubled its operations here and added equipment for pressing garments and for providing a complete drapery service.

In recent weeks, the firm has completed remodeling the new addition, formerly occupied by Western Auto and which is adjacent to the original plant. Another Fabricare plant is currently being set up in the former Underwood auto agency in Adrian on M-52. It will open in about a month.

Mrs. Margot Stuart, manager, says the expansion will now make the Tecumseh plant its most modern and complete dry cleaning operation. Four other operations are at Adrian, Blissfield, Morenci and Bryan, O.

Fabricare employs 15 full and part-time help and has grown steadily since starting in the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan building in 1962.

In May, 1963, it moved into the former Osburn Real Estate office, and two years later this office was torn down and a larger plant was built in its place. At this time, equipment for a coin-operated laundry and steam Tecumseh's post office, however, will remain open.

Loss Estimated Near $3,000

A loss amounting to some $3,000 has been reported by Fr. Robert Handley after burglars rifled the St. Elizabeth Catholic school last Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Items stolen included a public address system, two microphones, electric typewriter, radio and other items. A car was probably used to haul the loot away.

Burglars apparently partied during the spree as evidenced by beer bottles about the place. A case, including two full bottles, was found behind the building and another case of bottles was strewn along the adjacent railroad tracks.

Police believe the first attempt to enter the building was through a window in the teachers' lounge. A beer bottle was then used to smash a glass window in the furnace room door, allowing the burglars to reach through and unlock the door.

Officials believe the burglars went completely through the building, and even smashed open the door to the principal's office.

A janitor discovered the burglary about nine o'clock Saturday morning.

It's Just A Piece Of Cloth

That is all it is — just a piece of cloth. But when a little breeze comes along, it stirs and comes to life and flutters and snaps in the wind, all RED, AND WHITE, AND BLUE! And then you realize that no other piece of cloth could be like it!

It has your whole life wrapped up in it — the meals you eat; the time you spend with your family; the kind of things your boy and girl learn at school; the strange and wonderful thoughts you get in church on Sunday.

Those stars in it — they make you feel just as free as the stars in the wide deep night. And those stripes — they are bars of blood to any dictator who would try to change this way of life.

Just a piece of cloth, that is all — until you put your soul into it, and give it meaning. Then it is a symbol of liberty, and decency, and fair-dealing for everyone. It is just a piece of cloth until we breathe life into it; until we make it stand for everything we believe in, and refuse to live without it.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE NOV. 5

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Alert to voters for Nov. 5 election. Vote carefully. Those who wish to split their tickets must remember NOT to pull the party lever for any party but to pull individual levers. Don't lose your vote.

Touch of the Past next week notes a Tecumseh lady who waited until she was 101 to cast her first vote. She put it off as long as she dared. The rest of us had better dive right in and pull that lever Tuesday.

'N the goblins 'ill git ya, if ya don't watch out. Patients at Herrick Nursing Home had best keep a sharp eye out Halloween at 4:15 p.m. Mrs. Charles Gross and Mrs. Robert Cheers, with 15 costumed witches, ghosts and hobgoblins will invade their quiet sanctuary.

Newcomers Mr. and Mrs. David Bell are living at 1003 Shady Lane, we forgot to mention last week.

There's a gal in this office who says she'll vote for any candidate who can solve her dilemma. She's been trying to get delivery of a small part for a 1964 model dryer, for the past three weeks, made by the world's largest corporation. Meanwhile three men went around the world several times, and millions of miles. Repairman, repairman, wherever you are — it can't be that far — to Clinton!

The Boy Scouts of America will have a half hour prime time TV dramatic series for the 1969-70 network season, according to Chief Scout Executive Alden G. Barber. The Scouts have joined forces with Warner Brothers Seven Arts in development and production of the series with the right to approve each script. Roger Caras, who specializes in natural history and outdoor subjects, will write the pilot show.

"I could have sold it again," Mrs. Maude Creger remarked as she called to cancel the ad on a fish aquarium she had been running in The Herald classified section. That page sells anything from sables to kittens.

The two and a half pound rainbow trout, caught by Pat Murphy in River Raisin recently, looked mighty familiar to Dan Schindler of Clinton. Dan has a little trout pond—just at the north end of Scott flying field and last spring's flood carried "about 50" of those tasty fellows down stream. "Some of the ones that got away weighed between four and five pounds," Dan said. Better catch 'em quick, fellows, because they can't live long in those waters.

Mothers Find Small World

Small world, they say. Mrs. Loarn Forrester and her family found this to be true Sunday night when they went to St. Johns to "gather up the pieces."

The Robert Millers of Sand Lake were involved in an auto accident there and Mrs. Miller, nee Joan Forrester, was hospitalized with facial injuries.

As Mrs. Forrester sought her daughter, she came upon another mother, Mrs. Chester Bishop, being assisted with admittance arrangements at the same hospital by her daughter, Mrs. Gerald Powers, sister of Lonal Bishop, plant foreman at The Tecumseh Herald.

Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Miller were roommates until she was transferred to Herrick Memorial Hospital Tuesday.

Mr. Miller suffered only bruises and he, with his daughters, Rhonda and Renee, are staying at the Forresters to be near Mama.

The Millers were returning from Houghton Lake where they visited his parents.

School Officials

gregate of which shall not exceed 18 mills on each dollar of such valuation, may be developed and thereafter altered by the vote of the majority of the qualified electors of such county voting thereon, in lieu of the limitation hereinbefore established." The terminology in the amendment of the Constitution has raised questions previously here, and in other areas of the state. No supplemental legislation has been passed through the legislature.

In districts such as Clinton, which lies in two counties, 30 square miles in Washtenaw and 23 in Lenawee, it is stated in the Constitution: "In any school district which extends into two or more counties property taxes at the highest rate available in the county which contains the greatest part of the area of the district may be imposed and collected for school purposes throughout the district."

As defined in the Constitution, at no time is previous limitation of taxes removed in favor of split districts. The question, which is two-fold, lies in whether Lenawee residents should pay the 18.02 mills without a vote, whether the .02 of a mill over the limit set in the Constitution should be allowed to stand. Secondly, can property owners be forced to pay taxes over the Constitutional provision without a vote by the electorate.

Milton Porter, superintendent of the intermediate school district, said "Going to the Board of Supervisors is a ridiculous way to get to the problem — the supreme court or Attorney General should make a decision, that would be the right way."

Tecumseh Supervisor Art Eaton stated that he would not sign the committee report unless the amendment passed.

A letter has been received from the Tecumseh Products concerning the matter, in all probability they will pay with a protest.

Harold Easton, Tecumseh mayor, agrees with the Halley amendment and will support it on the Board.

Arthur Twiss, Adrian supervisor and chairman of the committee which handles tax assessments, indicated that he felt the matter should be settled among the Lenawee townships involved — Tecumseh, Macon, Franklin and Clinton townships are wholly or partially involved in Clinton School District.

A general consensus of the Board of Supervisors seems to be that the amendment is warranted and that the district is illegally taxing property owners. A vote on the matter will take place on Friday or early next week.

The board has been in session since Oct. 14, with a recess at the call of the chair while the Salary and Appropriations Committees finalize their reports.

Fabricare

finishing of dry cleaned articles was added.

This year Fabricare constructed a large, blacktopped parking lot next to its outlet and added a side entrance. In the recent remodeling, a lounge for patrons was renovated.

Fabricare now utilizes 30 12-pound washers, four triple washers, 12 double-load washers and 21 dryers, and more washers and dryers will soon be added. Originally in 1962, there were just five dry cleaning machines and a single employee.

Another service provided is through NALCC Testing Service, which examines and reports data relative to stained or faded fabrics for Fabricare and its customers.

Tuttles Entered

H. W. Tuttle Company was broken into late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning with the burglars breaking into vending machines, including one which provides change for dollar bills.

Entry was gained by breaking through a door.

Robert Williamson II Weds Lynn Galloway

Lynn Edith Galloway of Traverse City and Robert M. Williamson, II, were married Oct. 19 at the Grace Episcopal Church in Traverse City by the Rev. Cecil F. Wagstaff.

MRS. ROBERT WILLIAMSON, II

Yellow and white Fuji chrysanthemums and lighted white tapers enhanced the altar for the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Pitt F. Galloway of Traverse City and Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Williamson, 515 W. Logan St.

The bride chose a gown of bridal lace over peau de soie fashioned in redingote style falling from a lace empire bodice with tapered sleeves ending in the same type ruffle as adorned the neckline.

Her chapel length wide lace train fell from the waistline and she wore a waist length veil of illusion secured to peau de soie looped and triple petaled in the front and embroidered with lace and pearls.

Linda Sue Fudge of Grand Rapids was maid of honor in a floor length gown of turquoise crepe fashioned with high neckline edged with lace ruching embroidered with tiny flowers.

She carried yellow Fuji chrysanthemums tied with olive green velvet ribbon.

Kathleen Dorman, Mrs. Timothy Bounting and Judy Bobian, all of Traverse City were the bridesmaids attired as the maid of honor.

Barry Williamson served his brother as best man and the guests were seated by Gary Dexter of Pontiac and Timothy Bounting, Traverse City.

The groomsmen were Stephen Freckelton, Steohen Beimer, Kalamazoo, and William Cherup of Dearborn.

A reception was held at the church parish hall, followed by a family dinner at the home of the bride's parents.

Off The Top

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

"I told the teacher you'd make 30 candy apples and some popcorn for the Halloween party," announced the youngest the other day.

"Thanks a lot," was my grudging reply. That, plus getting treats ready to give away to the parade of beggars at the door Halloween night, and racking my tired brains to think of a costume for her to wear, plus carving out a pumpkin, made me realize that my least favorite holiday was imminent.

"What am I going to wear this year?" is a question I dread to hear, and I've been hearing it for at least 17 years, since our oldest was old enough to want to dress up and go out trick or treating. I have made too many costumes, walked around too many dark nights with little ones, swept up too many corn stalks and leaves from the house, and cleaned too many soaped windows to view the arrival of Halloween with glee.

"Hey, Mom, did you get anything ready for me to wear yet?" was the question upon daughter's arrival home from school.

"How was the party?" I countered.

"Oh, swell — we had cookies and cupcakes and fudge and candy apples and popcorn balls and . . ."

"Never mind the rest," I cried, my stomach cringing at the very thought of the list of goodies being named off.

"Well, Mom did you make me a costume?"

"I didn't have time, what with making candy apples and getting treats ready to give out tonight. Cant you just dress up as a bum this time?"

"Aw, gee," she pouted, "some of the kids have got real neat outfits. Jane's mother worked for a week to make hers, and George said his mother made a real spaceman outfit for him."

I reflected upon these other dedicated mothers, wondering what else they did with their time, besides making fantastic Halloween costumes for their children which gave the rest of us mothers guilt complexes.

I tried to get the family all set down for supper, but the children weren't hungry after all that junk at the school parties. They were more interested in getting dressed, and there was a great hub-bub as they ran upstairs to rummage around in the attic.

"Can I wear this old suit of Dad's?" or, "Are you saving these curtains for anything?" they called down. They wanted my lipstick and other makeup, and hunted for different shoes so the neighbors wouldn't recognize them.

Dad grumbled because none would sit down and eat supper.

"I suppose I have to stay here to answer the doorbell for all the little monsters?" he questions.

"Well, you can take the youngest out instead if you want to, and I'll stay in the warm house," was my reply. But he chose to remain at home, as usual, and I got the job of traipsing around in the darkened streets to keep an eye on daughter and her friends.

Finally she was ready, in an outfit which was guaranteed to make her unrecognizable, and out we went. Cars of costumed kids were already arriving in town from the outlying areas, and the over-burdened townspeople braced themselves for the onslaught.

"Trick or treat! Trick or treat!" we heard all down the street. The masqueraders tried to guess each other's identity, and some big kids swooped around the little ones, hooting scarily.

Finally, after the closing whistle blew and the rag-tag parade was over, we returned home. Daughter eagerly dumped out her sack of treasures, sorting as she went. I took off my shoes and picked leaves out of my hair.

"Well, that's over with for another year," I sighed to Dad.

But daughter looked up and said, "Next year I want to be Cinderella. Can you make me a Cinderella outfit, Mom?"

Warden Kropp Will Speak To Explorer Scouts

Explorers Scout Post 220 will host an address and showing of slides by Warden George Kropp of the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson. The meeting will be held Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. in Dawson Auditorium on the campus of Adrian College.

After Warden Kropp's address and the showing of the slides, a panel will question the guest speaker. Members of the panel are Harvey Koselka, county prosecutor; Charles Russell, chief probation officer; Richard Germond, sheriff; and Robert Chesher, chief of police in Adrian.

Explorer Scouts are young men who are interested in law enforcement careers upon completion of high school. It is a county-wide post and the boys' advisor is Robert Irish of the Adrian Police Department.

Anyone interested in the program is invited to attend and hear the Warden, along with his questioners.

'J.B.' Is Memorable Drama

By BILL SANFORD

"Your only guilt is that you were born a common man." That line typifies, in a sense, the tragedy of the play "J. B." as produced last week by the Adrian College Players. The Thursday night audience at Dawson Auditorium was receptive to the poetic drama which claimed for playwright Archibald MacLiesh his third Pulitzer Prize in 1958.

Many flaws marred the overall performance of this play; it was however, an experience unlike any I have enjoyed before at Adrian College. There lies an axiom to go on. This is good drama and well done.

It presented food for thought which is something rarely done before the footlights for local audiences.

The cast for the most part in the play, loosely based on the Book of Job, was young and inexperienced. The Book of Job is ageless and one all too infrequently viewed by the dispassionate observer of human tragedy. Job in the play is in essence J.B., J.B. is in essence society and there you go, a ready promise for symbolism. It is this idea of McLeish's that gives this play greatness, a rare label to apply to drama in this day and age.

In its poetic and defined contrast, J.B. is simply the story of every man. Struggle and torment, disillusionment and sacrifice for ends which are never clearly outlined to the tormented.

The Adrian College production had its moments, in fact some scenes displayed talent which has not been seen by this critic in a long, long time on the local scene.

I want to stress again that the cast was young, they were a part of the dissidence of today's world. I felt something while watching the performances which was akin to what they are. Perhaps those young people have a greater insight into the personal tragedies of their elders than vice-versa. If that is true, the play meant much more; more than the two hours traffic before the foolights and the quoted, garb of fools.

It was easy to become involved in this production. It was not without fault, but the difficulty of presenting an art form such as poetry within the confines of drama takes a great deal of talent and an understanding that poetic drama has different aspects and ways of delivery. The actors displayed the pitfalls of the young when interpreting the play for the audience.

You do not deliver the lines of MacLeish the same way you would deliver the lines of Albee, Williams or Simon, for MacLeish exists intellectually on a different plane and rightly so.

Too often the actors in this production went too far and also there were times when Mike Metzel and Deborah Schrock, J.B. and his wife Sarah in the play, halted on the brink of what might have been truly fine performances.

Metzel interpreted the role of J.B. very well. He was stingy at first when it came to emotion, giving the character no good reason to believe he could suffer. The opening scene showed J.B. as if he had already suffered and could not feel again. He relaxed as the play went on and molded into a fine character and gave Adrian some memorable scenes.

Miss Schrock, a tall dark-haired beauty, needs to relax. She moved toward the deep character of Sarah, lifted a veil and then ran from the final uncovering. The fact that she came this close to an excellent performance shows that she has much talent. She needed to probe her character more deeply, one reason because she was young and had not experienced the torment and passion of Sarah, or something resembling it.

Miss Schrock and Metzel were both equal to the task presented them. I have only one suggestion. Before kissing on stage, I suggest they take lessons. Their stage kiss was wholly unconvincing, awkward and contrived. You do not kiss like that after five children, I hope.

Daniel Schully as Mr. Zuss and Mike Berryman as Mr. Nickles presented good performances, but again the handling of the verse was ineffective and too contrived at times.

It was a heartwarming experience to witness "J.B." Local audiences are more prone to digest things of fun, when attending the theatre. None of this was offered, yet they enjoyed it. That is rare hereabouts.

In short this production had what it took to be memorable and worthwhile theatre. Adrian College should be applauded for bringing it to the theatre-goers in the county. Glenn Harbaugh, director of theatre, directed a fine production, a deeper analysis by the cast would have brought an exceptional one.

Perhaps it is too much to ask of college students that they completely analyze and dissect probing drama such as this. Yet on the other hand they are in college to learn and to probe their own minds for the limitations of their intellect and perhaps that is why I expect more from them than I do from others.

Directory Is Planned

A new city directory for Tecumseh will be started shortly under the direction of Robinson Directories, Inc., of Hillsdale.

Local canvassers are expected to begin in the near future, contacting city and rural families whose names will appear in the directory.

Information to be gathered includes family name, given name, wife's name, and the names and birth year of children under 18 years of age, employment or employer, homes owned or tenanted, street or road address, telephone numbers and names of others living with the family.

A paper bound home edition will be sold to city families by placing orders through the canvassers.

CROP Provides Biafra Relief

"Michigan CROP has provided 525,000 pounds of beans to Church World Service for relief work in Nigeria-Biafra," Robert Ries, co-ordinator for the Tecumseh area, said Tuesday.

"CWS has provided over $500,000 worth of food and medicine to the victims of the civil war going on in that area," he continued. "One million people are facing starvation with an estimated 6,000 children and aged dying every day," the chairman stated.

Tecumseh area residents will be given an opportunity to share in this relief program during the first week of December or contributions may be sent immediately to Michigan CROP, Box 206, Lansing, Michigan 48901.

Extension Club Sewing Topic

Sewing was the study topic at the meeting of the Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club last week at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Boyce when 10 members were present.

They gave sewing hints to answer the roll call and learned new ways of inserting hems and zippers besides what types of clothing best suited their individual figures.

Members of the group entertained residents of Maple Lane Manor Oct. 22 taking cup cakes for refreshments and small items for game prizes.

Mrs. Clifford Southard will be the hostess for the next meeting.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

A treat is in store for area residents with no tricks attached. There are still five opportunities to see the film, "God Is My Landlord," made in this area relating the story of the Dynamic Kernels planted by the late Perry Hayden.

Rotarians saw it Tuesday evening and their weekly bulletin mentioned the many changes noted in one of the "stars", the Rev. Blair Bashore, and the City of Tecumseh. Hmm. Newcomers might be surprised to see the revealing of the truth of God's word as the project progressed "right here in River City." Pa and I are planning to take Mom to Monday Club Family Night and see again our Dads and a lot of other old timers who helped to thresh the "Kernels that grew from one cubic inch to 72,150 bushels in six years. We wouldn't miss it. I hope you don't. Happy Halloween.

Four Picked; Smith New Quarterback

Four players have been picked by Coach Tom Fagan as top Indians in Tecumseh's losing game to Blissfield Friday night.

This Friday evening the Indians will run up against the biggest team perhaps any Tecumseh club has faced. Carson will average between 220 and 230 on the line with three giants included: a 6'4" tackle, 270 pounds; 6'3" tackle, 250; and a guard at 240.

The Indians could be at full strength for the game with only Jim Parros and Jack Greenfield on the doubtful list.

A move which indicates the Indians will pass more is the likely starting of quarterback Craig Smith in the offensive team. Smith is regarded as an exceptional passer, although used little this season.

Big Scouts Have Fun

An educational two days were spent at Camp O' The Hills on Wamplers Lake Friday and Saturday, Oct. 25 and 26. The purpose of the outing was to intensify a knowledge of outdoor planning, activities, cookery and recreation for leaders and interested adult members of the Girl Scouting movement in the Jackson area.

Participating in the program was the co-ordinator, Mrs. Norma Leader and twenty adult members including from the Tecumseh area: Mrs. Lavon Retan, Mrs. Paul Henning, Mrs. Lloyd Slag, Mrs. Ted Todd, Mrs. Thomas Fagan and Mrs. Howard Kronberg.

The planned activities were a huge success and the opinion of participating was that it was worth their efforts to attend.

Each of the trainees will receive a certificate enabling her to take her scouts troop camping at Camp O' The Hills at any time, merely by placing a reservation with the Girl Scout Office in Jackson.

Leaders mentioned above have made arrangements for their troop camp out on November 14 and 15.

Indians Downed Again

One can't help but wonder what the Tecumseh Indians would do if they had an offense. Friday night at Blissfield, the Indians came out on the short end of a 6-0 score, and it was the same old story — no offense.

When the other club runs 63 plays to only 42 for your team, you can bet on who will win. If it were not for a pretty good defense — and the Indians have one although it was not as impresive as in the past — Tecumseh would be taking some pastings this fall.

A fumble in the backfield set up the Royals' lone TD Friday night when the Indians bobbled the ball on their own 25. Two passes ate up 20 of the 25 yards and then Joe Andrews bulled in for the game-winning score from the two.

The Indians' lone threat came late in the third quarter when Tecumseh moved from its 20 to the Blissfield 44, where the Royals picked off an Indian aerial. Four plays later the Indians had the ball back on Blissfields 43 and then moved to the 31.

However, on the next two plays, the Indians received consecutive five-yard penalties. A pass fell incomplete, a running play lost six yards and Tecumseh had to punt.

The winners picked on Tecumsehs main defensive weakness and took to the air early in the game. In the first quarter the Royals moved mainly through the air to Indians' nine, where the Indians took over.

In the second period, four passes pushed the Indians to their own seven, where tri-captain Rick Steele pounced on a Blissfield fumble.

In retrospect, Tecumseh's loss to Monroe CC may have aided Blisfield's somewhat surprising upset of the Indians. The local club appeared spiritless, and it was their worst performance of the season.

Statistically, the Royals picked up 13 first downs to the Indians' five, gained 116 yards rushing to Tecumseh's 76, and added 85 yards through the air to the Indians' 22.

It was the second straight shutout for the local team.

JVs Trip Royals

Tecumseh jumped off to a lead in the first quarter on a three yard touchdown run by Dave Gurtzweiler. In the second quarter Bob Merz snared a pass from Scott Dalton and took it 60 yards into the end zone to give Tecumseh a 12-0 lead. Blissfield scored later in the second period on a three yard run. The kick was good and the lead was narrowed to 12-7.

Tecumseh came back in the second quarter when Marv Maynard picked off a Dalton pass and went twenty yards for the TD. Gurtzweiler ran for the extra point and Tecumseh left the field at half-time leading 19-7.

Early in the third period Blissfield picked up six points on a five yard run. Dalton matched Blissfield later when he intercepted a pass and went 40 yards into the end zone to give Tecumseh a 25-13 lead at the end of three periods of play.

In the fourth quarter Gary Hannibal went over from the five, Dalton ran the extra point and Tecumseh led 32-13. Later on in the period Gordon McElroy rambled 20 yards for another Indian TD. Steve Hallenbeck ran the point and that was the way the score stood at the gun, Tecumseh 39, Blissfield 19.

Blissfield picked up their third tally on a two yard run late in the final stanza.

THE SHORB BROTHERS QUARTET

Give Sacred Concert

The Shorb Brothers Quartet will be in sacred concert at the Church of the Nazarene, 807 Sunset Drive Sunday, Nov. 3, at 3 p.m.

The Rev. Herbert Nation, pastor of the church, invited the public to come and hear them in person singing the old and the new . . . great hymns . . . "contemporary" sacred sounds.

Twenty-five hundred times since 1958, audiences of every size and nature have gathered in churches, concert halls, and auditoriums across the U.S. and Canada to hear the Shorb Brothers, Washington's ambassadors of sacred song.

The fellows have travelled nearly a half-million miles of highway, all by automobile, to meet their commitments.

The three original members of the ensemble are actually brothers. Wilbert Shorb, manager and baritone, writes many of the quartet's selections.

Youth Is Fined, Given Probation

Donald Braden, charged with assault and battery after he slugged a fellow student at Tecumseh High School, was fined $125 last week by Justice Ernie Oliver, given a 30-day suspended jail sentence, and placed on two years' probation.

Braden was expelled from the school shortly after the incident.

Classes being offered the adults will be auto mechanics, drafting and blueprint reading, clothing construction and design, machine shop, industrial math and data processing. A small fee will be charged to cover the cost of instruction.

All courses can be attended by any person regardless of past educational attainment. Credit toward high school graduation can be arranged by contacting James Brown, County Vocational Principal at the vocational office in Adrian.

All class areas are located in Adrian at the High School, Junior High School and the Auto Skill Center.

Rufner Qualifies For State Meet

Lamar Rufner, II, Tecumseh High School Senior, placed 17th in a field of approximately 100 participants at the Regional Cross Country meet held at Plymouth Saturday, Oct. 26, which qualified him for the state meet to be held in Ypsilanti Nov. 2.

Lamar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Rufner, Sr., 215 W. Pottawatamie.

Parents Night

Unless the Indians can generate some kind of an offense Friday night, visiting Gibraltar-Carlson could well hand Tecumseh its fourth loss of the season.

Last Friday evennig, Carlson was edged, 7-0, by a Monroe CC club which bombed the Indians in the late stages of the game, 24-0.

Parents' Night will be observed here in the finale, which will also be the last prep game on the local turf for 15 seniors.

Playing their final game here includes the tri-captains, Rick Steele, Jim Hunt and Larry Cote.

Their classmates are John Kennedy, Jim Collins, Dan Anderson, Denny Lewis, Joe Bagby, Jim Parros, Terral Ives, Carlo Mobley, Mark Travis, Gary Schmidt, Steve Dalton and Dave Laidlaw.

Musings

by Bill Sanford

An Empty Temple of Fame

In that glorious tempie of fame which modern man sets aside for the ethereal inhabitants of our world there is a niche to be found for rich dunces, importunate scoundrels, or successful butchers of the human race. Decidedly, each election takes on more significance and also more pain.

With a diabolical sense of direction the country flounders like that immortal ship without a rudder. We know directions only through personal emotions, not shared affection.

In wondering now to vote, I wonder about life and will this election have any bearing on what comes about in the next few years.

I do know one thing, Ernie Oliver deserves a chance at the legislature. Our present representative, Robert Stites, has shown no real promise in the first two years in office and I cant see any reason for him going back. The salary of the legislature is too high to pay for mediocrity.

* * *

Two weeks ago I came upon a story about some work M. M. Halley has been doing in Clinton township. A story published last week brought cries of "politics." It seems when people are faced with something that isn't quite explainable, they cry "politics," it helps sooths the wearied nerves, perhaps.

Halley is quite a guy. If the voters of Clinton and Macon do not send him to the board next Tuesday, a part of public conscience will be diminished.

Mr. Wegner at Clinton Schools didn't come right out and say it was politics and neither did Milton Porter, intermediate school superintendent, who was his usual joking self, hinting that others had called it politics, but Milton wouldn't.

If a question of constitutionality exists in Clinton it should be aired and solved, not swept under the carpet. Schools are just a part of the place where young people are molded into what will become the future of the human race.

Prove to them by actions unbecoming the idea of conscience and you can believe that that temple of fame will include many other butchers of the race.

Mr. Wegner accused yours truly of some sort of sensationalizing for good copy for the newspaper. I was not aware of being sensational, but as Mr. Wegner knows, it made good copy. That is the business. I only have one thing to say to the Clinton Superintendent, "This is a newspaper, we do not publish weekly to tell only of the good, but also of the right in the city or county. We publish to tell what is, not what it should be."

If a question involving the Constitution and taxpayers, by the way many of them are parents of children in Clinton Schools, occurs, the public has the right to dissent, to question and be satisfied in the answer.

The average taxpayer could not afford to challenge Clinton Schools' present set-up, the court costs would be too high. It should be considered, however, that present business in the community should be considered as well as future businesses which may wish to become a part of Clinton.

There is an answer to the problem and Martin Halley is seeking that answer. He could have kept his mouth shut and gone along with the crowd, Clinton schools would have liked him, but I'm afraid Martin Halley would not like himself.

He is an honest man and is an asset to the Board of Supervisors, in spite of the fact he uncovers "Tempests in Teapots." Perhaps Mr. Halley drinks coffee anyway.

* * *

I am a bachelor with no children, so perhaps I should keep quiet about education and kids and such, but whenever I try to, I think of James Barrie writing in 'Peter Pan,' "When the first baby laughed for the first time, the laugh broke into a million pieces, and they all went skipping about. That was the beginning of fairies." Children are not numbers in the school aid formula, but a million bits of laughter skipping about.

MISSION FESTIVAL WEEKEND — Members of the Grace English Evangelical Lutheran Church raised about $1800 for the general missionary work of the Wisconsin Synod last weekend at their annual Mission Festival using the theme, "Focus on Florida. It's expected that some of the money will be used for new congregations in the Florida area where Pastor Kenneth Strack came from to Tecumseh. About 750 attended the activities arranged by some 50 members of the congregation, represented left to right above by Mrs. Franklin Humble, Mrs. Edwin Gove, Mrs. Herbert Simons and Mrs. Jack Silberhorn. The setting, a miniature Cypres Garden, was displayed in the foyer of the church.

Frosh Win Seven In Row

The Tecumseh freshman football team ran its record for one year to 7-0 and in the process ended the longest freshman winning streak in Monroe County. The baby Tribe did it in convincing fashion, 20-0 over Monroe CC leaving no doubts in the partisan fans' minds just who was the best.

The Catholic Central frosh team had not lost a game in three years and had given up only six points in the past two. The Little Indians matched that before the first period was over.

After receiving a Monroe punt on their own 47, Tecumseh marched 53 yards in nine plays with Roger Ashenfelter scoring from the three. Key plays in the drive were a 17-yard pass from Dave Ryan to Dave Bird and a 11-yard pas from Rick Bunch to Sam Whitney.

The following kickoff was fumbled by CC and Sam Whitney recovered on the Monroe 23. The Indians scored six plays later with Ashenfelter again going in from the three. He also scored the extra point.

Tecumseh scored its third touchdown in the fourth quarter, following a Hugh Conklin pass interception. A Bunch to Whitney touchdown pass capped a 68-yard drive. Ashenfelter's running and the passing combination of Bunch to Dave Bird sparked the drive, Ashenfelter again scored the point.

Center Dave Whelan and tackles Bob McKee and Ken Brown led the Tecumseh offensive line. The defense was led by linebackers Mike Tilton and John Merz and end Tom Huber.

The Frosh end their season this Wednesday when they play South Lyon Junior Varsity on the Tecumseh Field at 7 p.m.

Happiness Is 350 Tiny Plants

What do you do with 350 tiny plants when icy winds are still blowing and the plants must be protected from the weather?

This was the happy problem of Mrs. David Woods as she tried her hand for the first time at starting seeds in a hothouse atmosphere.

Her experiences provided an encouraging and informative program for the October meeting of fellow members of the Little Garden Club of Tecumseh.

First step was selecting seeds. She noted that the newest developed strains of flowers and vegetables are available from catalogs, sometimes a year or more before nurseries begin to carry them.

By starting with seeds, a gardener can have a yard full of flowers at a small cost.

"Starting the seeds in a hotbed means at least a month earlier bloom than if plants are started outdoors. Soil conditions may make it almost impossible to start seeds where you want the plants to grow," she added.

She showed club members blooms of geraniums, chrysanthemums, gaillardia, gloriosa daisy and marigolds, all of which she started from seed.

Others which she grew included arctotis, cineraria and tomatoes, whose fruit the garden clubbers enjoyed on their luncheon plates at the September district meeting.

Nailing some used 12-inch boards together, she made a 6 x 3-foot box. A plywood bottom was covered with a layer of sand, and an old storm window made the top. The seed containers were put in this box on a porch, where an electric connection was available. The original heat cable proved inadequate in the midst of a seven-inch snowfall, so an electric light bulb was added.

As the seeds sprouted, however, she had to eliminate the light, so the plants would have the proper balance of light and dark.

A heavier electric cable and thermostat provided by a local hardwareman solved that problem.

As the seedlings grew, she transplanted them until she also had filled a 5 x 5-foot box.

The baby seedlings proved more confining than her own babies had been. She laughed, since she had to keep an almost constant watch to raise the glass lids when the sun shone — to keep the plants from getting too hot — then lower the lids when the sun hid behind clouds.

She believes her experience from last season will make this less of a chore next spring.

She noted the great satisfaction which comes from placing a seed in the ground, and seeing the glory of the flowers which appear.

During the business meeting, little Garden Club members voted to present a garden book to the garden center at Tecumseh Public Library in memory of Mrs. Archie Dunsmore, and a book to the library at Hidden Lake Gardens in appreciation of Jack Wikle's appearance at the district meeting.

Officers selected for the coming year include Mrs. Wilbur Andrews, president; Mrs. Howard Furry, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Gross, secretary; Mrs. Carson House, Jr., treasurer, and Mrs. Gordon Comfort, membership secretary.

They will take office in January.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Earl Mason and Mrs. Don Smith. Guests and prospective members welcomed were Mrs. Nelson C. Hinchee, Mrs. Roger Kapp, Mrs. Richard Carmine and Mrs. Charles Cook.

Mrs. William Adams was hostess, assisted by Mrs. George Stewart and Mrs. Comfort.

The Nov. 19 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Stewart, who will be assisted by Mrs. House and Mrs. William Holmes.

CEDAR WAXWINGS AND . . . . .

I did not really tell the whole story last week. True, there were many confusing birds in the back yard, they gave Gertie T. all sorts of troubles. On the other hand, though, there was one gang who cooperated quite well and after the barest minimum of teasing, let their true identity be known. They flitted through the treetops, hid in the dense foliage of the maple tree, but then came out in the open and gave Gertie T. a good look — topknots, eyemasks, yellow bands at the end of their tails. The cedar waxwings were visiting!

These are such nice birds — one of the most notable things when reading about them in the bird books is that everybody has nothing but good things to say. Pretty appearance, good disposition, no harmful habits, they are just nice birds.

Even orchard men, who could conceivably be upset by the waxwings' fondness for ripe cherries, bear no grudges and, in one instance at least, a fruit grower explained that, when wild food was available, the bird always ate it in preference to raiding the cultivated crops.

If I did not know that it simply is not the way things work, I could almost think that the waxwings disapproved of the way I kidded Gertie T. last week. I know they were not deliberately treating her and frustrating me.

It was merely that, with the food supply sufficient in the back yard there was no need for them to venture elsewhere. I am sure this is the explanation for all of her waxwing days and my non-waxwing days. Isn't it?

★

FINALLY, OF COURSE, I was let in on the fun. The lovely brownish-tan birds migrated. They moved from the north side of the house to the south side. The barberry clump by the driveway and Prettyman's ornamental crabapple were the most popular dining spots.

Both produced an unusually large crop of fruit this year and, even though the birds nibbled heavily, there is still much snacking material left.

The barberry clump is clearly visible from my south-facing window and through it I had marvelous looks at the exciting freeloaders. They are indeed handsome. A trifle smaller than a robin and yet larger than a sparrow, they have an amusing posture when sitting on a limb or branch.

Instead of sitting acrossed a perch as do most birds, the cedar waxwings sit up straight, their backs are almost ramrods. When going away, these birds show a decided bluish cast whereas their front sides are light, almost a yellowish color. As said before, they are lovely to see and great fun to have around.

★

OTHER VISITORS, who are neither lovely nor fun, are the starlings. Ugh. A large flock of them has invaded and we are most definitely not pleased. Their manners are as deplorable as ever but appearance-wise, the fall starlings are far different from the spring ones.

If they were not here in such numbers and if they did not behave so atrociously, I could almost call them attractive — attractive in a dissipated sort of way. They are a grey in color, completely covered with lighter spots, their bills are quite dark in contrast to the bright yellow of spring and summer, and they have dark circles around their eyes. They really do look like the morning after a rough night.

Enough of the starling talk. The most exciting news has just come over our 'gimmicked-up' telephone. Ella reports two evening grosbeaks! No further comment now, perhaps, though, all of us can keep our fingers crossed for a grosbeak winter.

So it is that of the three birds discussed today, one is nice and deserves every consideration, the second is miserable and hardly needs mentioning, and the third is so exciting that we darely risk jinxing its appearance by premature speculating — thus our title, Cedar Waxwings and . . . . . .

'Democracy is the best form of government, but the toughest to make work. It demands that each of us deal with our neighbors in a spirit of trust and fair play.

'We MUST provide justice, opportunity and dignity for everyone! Only under these conditions can we expect law and order. As a first step, we must guarantee every man a chance to work for wages adequate to support a family. We must provide training for new job skills. We must speed rehabilitation of run-down housing and increase the supply of homes available to low-income families. We must quickly clean up our polluted environment, in which 300 million Americans will be living in just a few short decades.

'To help pay the cost, we should cut funds for the multibillion dollar man-on-the-moon race. We must reduce the level of pork-barrel spending. We must reconsider the unwise decision to proceed on the exceedingly costly "anti-missile defense" system, for it cannot provide any real security. And we must close the huge tax loopholes, particularly the oil-depletion allowance, which drain off billions of dollars of our tax money.

'Finally, while our troops in Vietnam have performed in a dedicated and courageous manner, the objectives we have assigned them have proved unrealistic. While all of us hope that the peace negotiations will be successful, we must face the possibility that they will not. In that event, we must return the job of fighting to the South Vietnamese. I would urge that we begin to withdraw our forces deliberately and unilaterally from Vietnam. We should start by retracting our units from exposed positions, end all bombing of North Vietnam, consolidate in defensible areas, and cease operations except as required for our own defense.

'I need and ask for your support on Tuesday, November 5th!'

Let's get action! vote Vivian for U. S. Congress / democrat

The UNICEF collection has been made in this city for many years and last year $714 was collected," she concluded.

JIM SKELTON PLACED THE ROBE AROUND QUEEN JOANN HENNING.

Disappointing Loss

BRITTON — JoAnn Henning, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Henning of County Line Road, was crowned Homecoming Queen at the half-time ceremonies Friday night. Runners-up Nancy Vreeland and Vicki Reitz attended her.

Winners in the float judging were: first place, 10th grade float, "We Have Met the Enemy and They are Ours;" second place, 11th grade, "Give Us Victory — Give Them Defeat;" and third place, 9th grade, "Sink the Bobcats."

The football team didn't fare so well, coming out on the losing end of a 12-0 score.

Coach Paul Palka said, "Of course we were disappointed we didn't win the Homecoming game. We did have two outstanding players Friday night: Jim Skelton, who was great both offensively and defensively, and Rick Brown, whose punting kept the Tories out of trouble several times. He did a great job offensively at fullback."

The Tories' last game will be coming up Friday night against their traditional rivals, the Minutemen of Deerfield. Dad's Night will also be observed.

The Tories are 3-3 in league play, and 3-4 overall. They would like to get that last win to put them on top for the season.

It will be the last game of their high school careers for seniors Jim Skelton, Archie Miller, Doug Steinman, Bob Warren, Mark Vallie, Craig Reedy, John Rowe, Bob Rohn, Chuck Moore and Dave Filter.

Halloween Theme For Church Class

BRITTON — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson was fayly decorated for Halloween Sunday evening when they were hosts for the meeting of the Baraca Philathea Class of the Congregational Church.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Gerald Benedict on "Why I Believe the Bible is the Word of God," by Billy Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moore presented the program. Mrs. Moore gave several readings on "Friendship." Mr. Moore was master of ceremonies for four couples playing "The Newlywed Game," but the "Newlyweds" had all been married 40 years or more!

The next meeting of the class will be Nov. 24 with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cadmus.

After a program of skits by the girls, they hiked back to Britton, a little less enthusiastically. They picked many wild weeds for fall arrangements along the way.

Girls taking part were Lori Reitz, Julie Osterhout, Jane Bennett, Darlene Fairbanks, Lisa Dunbar, Tammy Gibbs, Tammy Maschino, Mary Beth Bigelow, Joyce Cabla, Yvonne Reynolds, Dawn Lidster, Paula Vallie and Kim Bruce. Leaders are Mrs. Robert Osterhout and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks.

Exercise In Friendship

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Because it was felt that others might be interested in hosting foreign students in their home if they knew what kind of people they are, a comprehensive report of the recent visitation in Clinton is reported in two parts.)

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — A visit by 21 foreign students of Wayne State University to homes in the community proved to be a stimulating experience for all who participated.

The visits were arranged by the Rev. William Lutz, of Ann Arbor, director of the Ecumenical Campus Center, through the cooperative effort of the Rev. David Liscomb of the United Methodist Church; the Rev. Charles Sturm of St. John's Episcopal Church; and the Rev. Joseph Noelke of St. Dominic's Catholic Church.

Friday evening, when the group of guests arrived at the Methodist Church, there were 28 volunteer host families on hand to greet them, and when only 21 visitors showed up, there were some disappointed folks. This was a key to the enthusiasm with which the whole project was received by the community.

For many of the young people this was their first visit to a home in America, even for those who had lived here as much as two years. For others it was the first trip outside Detroit.

A bus tour was arranged for Saturday afternoon through the Irish Hills, to Hidden Lake Gardens, and a tour was taken of the Thomas Carlton dairy farm and the Shamrock Egg plant. Vivian Powell and the Rev. Sturm and Rev. Liscomb accompanied the group.

Each host family had something of interest to report of their visitor, who come from such varied backgrounds in distant homelands, mostly Asian.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Meyers' guest was a young woman, Malati Barau of E. Pakistan, who is studying administrative nursing at WSU. She formerly attended college for two years in Utah City, Utah. Enchanted by the trees, Miss Barau took many snapshots of the colorful trees in the village.

She taught Mrs. Meyers how to make rice and curry, her native dish. Attired in her native sari at all times, she showed daughter Marcee Meyers how to tie on a sari, then insisted that Marcee keep the sari as a gift.

A visit to a cider mill proved most interesting for her. Apparently she loved seeing the animals in the countryside, Mrs. Meyers said.

★

A native of Ethiopia, Tesfaye Bahaire, spent the weekend with Mrs. Anna Mae Waterman and Fred Van DeMark. The 21-year-old student at WSU is working on his electrical engineering degree.

He has only been here in the United States for two months, and he "felt chilly" in Michigan's brisk autumn weather. He thought our country was "beautiful". He said his homeland has no time when it is not green, it is lighter in the summer and darker green in the winter. Interested in industry in this country, he said that many of his fellow students were interested in learning about raising beef.

Tesfaye had eaten a hamburger just once before coming to America, at a Peace Corps party, and he wanted Mrs. Waterman to show him how to make a good hamburger. She told him she would have him come back next summer and show him how an outdoor barbecue makes good hamburgers.

"How clean the air — and the people, too, here," he said of Clinton.

He's been invited back for Thanksgiving at the same home and promised to wear his native dress when he comes.

★

Mohammad Bafig of Pakistan spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Rex Winchell and family. Mr. Bafig is married and in his second year at WSU. His wife has returned to Pakistan. He teaches math at WSU part time and is studying for his doctor's degree in math.

Although a Moslem, Mr. Bafig attended Emmanuel United Church of Christ at Saturday with the Winchell family, and he promised to return there soon to address a confirmation class.

"Everyone rushes in America" and "Americans are spoiled with their abundance," were his comments.

Mr. Winchell took their guest on a tour of the rural area and to visit the campus of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

★

Naresh Kumar, a Hindu native of India, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. William Kroger. Mr. Kumar is in his second year at WSU studying metallurgy engineering.

Mr. Kroger and his guest, accompanied by Stanley Gibbard, tramped through the fields Saturday. Later a tour was taken of Budd Company.

The Krogers found they had many things in common with their visitor, who expressed an interest in politics, horseracing, bridge and many American customs.

★

The Steffens brought their guest along to a neighborhood euchre party Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Heimerdinger.

Mr. Gupta expressed concern about the crime in the streets of American cities, and especially in the area where he lives near Wayne State University. He mentioned having lived for four years in Calcutta, one of India's largest cities and never hearing of any street crimes. "People could sleep in the streets safely," he said.

★

Kameswaran V. of Bombay, India, was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Heimerdinger. Kameswaran spent last year at a private college in Milwaukee, Wis.

The winds off Lake Michigan and the temperatures down to 24 below zero made him decide to transfer to WSU where he hoped it would be warmer.

He attended the United Church of Christ with his hosts Sunday.

Mohammad Asaduddin of Hyderabad, India, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Proctor. Asaduddin has been in the United States two years and earned his masters degree at Oklahoma State University as an electrical engineer. He worked last year to finance is education. He is now working on his doctorate at WSU.

Saturday guests at the Proctor home included their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ricard Hilderly of Mason, and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Swift. Another guest was David Reichhardt, a teacher at Clinton High School, who taught in the Peace Corps in Asaduddin's home town.

"It looked like the United Nations at the Methodist Church Sunday," Mrs. Proctor said. A Moslem, Asaduddin accompanied them to church.

Theirs was the first home in the United States that he had visited, and the Proctors have invited him to come back for Thanksgiving.

★

It was the first time out of Detroit for Marianne Knoch, of Munich, Germany, a student of sociology for the past seven weeks at WSU.

She enjoyed bike riding with the Dixon children and attended her first football game Friday night.

Miss Knoch attended the United Methodist Church with her hosts and later was taken on a tour of the University of Michigan campus.

"Everyone in the United States has seemed to go out of the way to make us feel at home," she told her hosts.

★

Maira Rychtelska, 27 of Warsaw, Poland, was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gove and daughter, Beth, for the weekend.

Maria won a scholarship given by the W.H.O. of the United Nations, and is attending Wayne State University to further her education in nursing. After receiving her nursing diploma from the Nursing School in Warsaw, she taught in Teachers College for Nurses in Warsaw.

The Goves took their guest to visit the Adrian College campus and the scene of the drained Globe Mill pond in Tecumseh, and the new Michigan International Speedway at Cambridge Junction.

Perusing the World Book Encyclopedia with Beth Gove, Miss Rychtelska expressed surprise when she saw that Poland was described as a communist country. She laughed about this and said, "We have a democratic government in Poland."

She attended the St. Dominic's Catholic Church with neighbors of the Goves, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peters.

Miss Rychtelska has only been in the United States for six weeks.

Sunday Visitors

Greg Wicking spent the week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. John Hoelzer. Greg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wicking of Grosse Pointe Farms, came to visit Sunday and to take him home. Other visitors Sunday were Mrs. Hoelzer's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Green of Honor, who are on their way to spend the winter in Florida.

CLINTON — At a special meeting of the Clinton Village Council, recently, the bid of $35,716.37 from the Clintonian Construction Company for the exterior and interior of the Smith-Kimball Community Center was accepted.

Fire nearly destroyed the historic center building last February, and the contractor has said that it might take almost until February to restore it completely.

The roof has been rebuilt and the major exterior work is completed, and painted, with the exception of the replacement of the windows. Rewiring and furnace replacements are being made at this time.

Sermon Topic Is Question Of Candidates

"I Have a Candidate, Do You?" will be the message given by the Rev. Donald C. Porteous Sunday morning during the worship service of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

By challenging the thinking of the congregation on the privileges and obligations of each person as he selects the political candidate and platform of his choice, the sermon will then broaden the interpretation to the selection of a personal candidate in Christ.

District 1

TO: The Voters of Clinton-Macon County District 1

THESE ARE SOME OF THE MAJOR ISSUES WHICH WILL BE FACING YOUR NEW COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS:

1. THE NEW DISTRICT COURT SYSTEM BECOMES EFFECTIVE JAN. 1, 1969. WILL THE INTERESTS OF THE GROWING CLINTON-MACON AREA BE PROVIDED FOR?

2. "$27 MILLION DISPOSAL BILL FACES LENAWEE COUNTY". (DETROIT NEWS OCTOBER 27, 1968). IS THIS FACT OR FICTION OR ANOTHER STATE GOVERNMENT POWER PLAY?

3. TRAFFIC CONGESTION. WHY HAS LENAWEE COUNTY BEEN SO NEGLECTED IN REGARDS TO MAJOR TRUNK LINES THROUGHOUT THE AREA? OUR ECONOMIC GROWTH DEMANDS MORE ATTENTION AND CONSIDERATION. AN EFFECTIVE COUNTY SPOKESMAN CAN BECOME A BURR UNDER THE SADDLE OF THE STATE LEGISLATURE AND THE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT TO SEE THAT THE SITUATION IS CORRECTED.

4. CONSOLIDATED COUNTY GOVERNMENT IS A POPULAR TOPIC. IS THIS GOOD OR BAD FOR CLINTON-MACON?

5. EDUCATION. WHY ALL THE CONFUSION OVER THE TAX BASE AND WHAT IS THE SOURCE OF THIS CONFUSION.

6. COMMUNICATIONS. WHY MUST THE RESIDENTS OF LENAWEE COUNTY TOLERATE AN ARCHAIC TELEPHONE SYSTEM?

THESE ISSUES AND PROBLEMS DO NOT RECOGNIZE PARTY LINE. VOTE FOR THE MAN WHO WILL GET THE JOB DONE. VOTE FOR JOSEPH J. CONKLIN, COUNTY SUPERVISOR, DISTRICT 1, DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE.

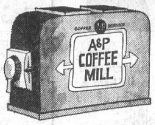
A&P It isn't easy to buy bean coffee!

Nowadays, very few stores offer you bean coffee.
Why does A&P still offer coffees in the bean?
Basically, because "We Care."
Specifically, because we know these facts:
The coffee bean is nature's seal that holds the flavor.
Once that seal is broken by grinding, flavor fades...
NO MATTER HOW IT'S PACKAGED.
The shorter the time between grinding the beans and brewing your coffee, the greater the flavor.



So if you want the finest cup of "The Think Drink" you've ever tasted, buy and brew one of A&P's three Bean Coffee blends... Eight O'Clock, Red Circle or Bokar.

Not every store can offer you custom-ground bean coffee. A&P can and does.
Shouldn't A&P be your store?

VOICE of THE HERALD

Progress Not Decay

A business corner in Tecumseh was doomed to be somewhat of an eyesore last week when Council rejected a petition from Michael Sarvan for a change in zoning.

The site, now occupied by the closed Top Hat Restaurant, is in a commercial zone but not exactly in the right category for a service station, as proposed by the Pure Oil Company.

According to city statutes, Council conducted a public hearing and it was a fair one. Several residents protested, and we certainly do not question their right to do so.

Perhaps, their objections to a service station were justified; but maybe they weren't! We've heard residents protest one year, and then in another year nothing from them over the same thing.

Protests were, according to the residents, based on the congestion and the amount of traffic on N. Evans St., and the east-west streets, Brown and Herrick Park Drive.

Now, how can a service station increase traffic on these streets? How can a service station increase or decrease congestion at the intersection? How can a service station emphasize a situation which already exists?

How can one service station detract from the neighborhood which already is zoned commercial and has another service station, a super market, a beauty salon, a dry cleaning-laundry establishment, a motel, an office for a physician and dentist, the United Savings Bank branch office, a second beauty salon, an insurance and real estate office, a chiropractor's office, some vacant lots, a church and a dwelling which used to be a grocery?

We'll admit there are some rather attractive buildings in the area, commercial and residential; and, we're not detracting from anything which currently exists.

Next, let's ask who is going to buy this property? Technically, it is zoned service and office. Who has some $70,000 or $80,000 for this site?

A doctor? Some pharmacy? A developer for an office building? A medical clinic? Who are we kidding?

Unless there is a change by Council, this corner is doomed for the next five or 10 years at the best. It will take someone with a lot of money, like Pure Oil Company, to fork over the cash that's necessary for the purchase.

We would much rather see an ultra-modern service station than a boarded up, closed restaurant. We would much rather see a better lighted intersection than what we have now. We would like to see some progress, rather than the stigma of decay.

Tecumseh's Chamber of Commerce has criticized Council's action, probably the first time such an organization has ever done so publicly. Maybe it has some merit.

We think it has.

Band Needs Are Explained

A public relations committee was named by Duane Bihlmeyer, president of the Tecumseh Band Boosters at a meeting Thursday evening at the school.

Members of the new committee are Mrs. Joseph Weigle, Mrs. Duane Bihlmeyer, Mrs. Gerald Creger and Mrs. William Flanders.

The resignation of Mrs. Norma Pence, secretary, was accepted with regret.

Mrs. William German was elected as the new secretary.

Band director Donald Johnson told members of the needs of the band for the coming year.

He reported that 10 new band uniforms are needed at an approximate cost of $100 each.

Several new instruments, estimated to cost about $3,000, are needed to complete the band needs.

Our Readers Write

October 28, 1968

Honorable Mayor, City Council and Taxpayers:

There's a lot of why's to be asked and answered concerning the recent actions of City Council.

For instance, why does a growing and usually progressive thinking community as ours even bother to take up the long hours of time given by our Planning Commission members, if their carefully prepared recommendations are completely ignored and over-ruled by City Council?

Is it possible that a few residents could so completely influence a Council as to reject a recommendation of rezoning that perhaps could benefit the whole city?

The time has come for we, as members of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, to voice our objection to Council's hasty decision to deny rezoning of the corner of N. Evans and Herrick Park Dr. for the purpose of erecting a new and modern Pure Oil Station.

The few excuses given for this decision, do not seem to hold any water. Number one being the present traffic congestion. We're sure the planning commission very carefully considered the plans of entrance and exits for the station plus the addition of a stop light at the intersection, to eliminate the present hazardous congestion.

And, why in the name of free enterprise, should one service station be allowed at an intersection and not a second, if the second feels he can build a successful business in fair competition there, and has the capital for building expenses and taxes.

A little keen competition never hurt any business; it only improves both sides.

Just how progressive are we as a community, if the City Council and Chamber of Commerce can't work together in promoting new businesses to locate here? Can we all, as taxpayers, afford to pass up the large sum of revenue available to the city in tax dollars, if this rezoning and business addition to our city is denied?

And, Oh! Yes, the esthetic beauty of another service station! Would it be less than what we've looked at on that corner for over a year now? We doubt that seriously, what with new and modern architecture and lighting. A good example is the Boron Station at the four corners in Clinton—a vast improvement.

Council states this site can be used for business offices, pharmacy, etc. This is fine if there is a need and a ready buyer of the property for this purpose. And last but not least would an office building, pharmacy or store make this corner any less congested, better lighted or more eye appealing?

Yours for Tecumseh's Progress,

TO THE EDITOR:

After reading last week's Herald, I just had to air my feelings in regard to the Hong Kong vaccine.

As a Chiropractor I am naturally against such shots, but, even if I weren't a Chiropractor, I certainly wouldn't allow my children to be guinea pigs.

They say there shouldn't be side effects, but how do they know. Our children are being asked to be the test tubes for their experiments. I believe they should leave the testing to the laboratory and not use a community of children.

This vaccine can't be over two months old, so you know there has not been time to safely see what side effects could arise. What happens if, after all the children have been inoculated, they find a flaw in the vaccine?

Fortunately you do have a choice in this matter, I hope that many parents will think twice before allowing their children to become a laboratory testing animal.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

I read the little article on no trick-or-treat for UNICEF in a recent edition of The Herald. The reason was because Tecumseh Products had been on strike.

If the citizens of Tecumseh have enough money to buy candy for trick or treaters, they should have enough money to give a quarter or so to UNICEF to help children who need it.

GROWS, GROWS, GROWS — Since coming here in 1947, Gambles has grown from an average size store of 1,540 square feet to the biggest retail outlet in Tecumseh with over 18,000 square feet. Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin, son-in-law, Jim Springer behind them, and D. J. and Sharon Martin are holding a grand opening for their recent expansion this Thursday through Saturday.

Record Vote of 2,812 Favors All Republican Candidates

By BILL SANFORD

The last hurrah echoed its way through the democratic process Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning. Winners were jubilant, losers sad and angry. At one o'clock Wednesday morning, the Republican Headquarters in Adrian was closed and by two, darkness came to the Democratic Party Headquarters.

Strewn on the floor of both headquarters were brochures and cards bearing the names of both the winners and the losers. Incongruity mixed with the heel marks across the faces of some, the losers most of all.

Here in Tecumseh, a record-breaking 2,818 of 3,359 registered voters went to the polls. And, as expected, the majority favored Republican candidates.

Precinct one voters numbered 714 of 831 registered; Precinct Two, 1,012 of 1,198 registered; and Precinct Three, 1,092 of 1,330. Nearly 84% of eligible voters here cast ballots.

The number of races and issues on the big ballot caused many headaches, first for the voters, some of whom waited in lines over an hour to reach the voting machines; and second, for the election workers.

Workers at Precinct Two didn't wrap up everything until just before 4 a.m. Wednesday morning. Precinct One and Three finished about 1:30 a.m.

Although most state races and issues were settled early, the presidential race was still in doubt until mid - Wednesday morning when most conceded that Richard Nixon had edged Hubert Humphrey for the country's top office.

Lenawee county's officials in the court house were re-elected. All ran unopposed with the exception of drain commissioner Donald Mitchell, who faced a challenge from Democrat Noel Osborne. Mitchell won easily.

Ernest Oliver, who staged one of the most active campaigns by a Democrat, faced Robert Stites, the incumbent, in what was one of the closest races in recent years for representation in the state legislature.

In the city of Tecumseh the vote for the 40th District house seat found Precinct 1 casting 352 votes for Stites and 302 for Oliver; Precinct 2 cast 539 for Stites and 336 for the local Justice. In Precinct 3 Oliver fared better, outpolling the incumbent, 538 to 495. Oliver trailed within the city by 144 votes.

Oliver came within less than Ian garnered a near 2-1 margin over Democrat Lasky. Final vote was: Whelan, 849; Lasky, 436.

In District 7 in the southern part of the city, Terrance Wagner overcame a contest from Wallace Whiting in the race for supervisor there. The Wagner-Whiting race was much closer than the across-town contest. Wagner pulled out a victory by 78 votes, 664 to 586.

The CBS Television network employed the votes from Precinct Two in the city for the vote analysis in the presidential contest.

In the race for supervisor in Clinton and Macon Townships, Martin Halley easily outdistanced Democrat Joseph Conklin, 839 to 449.

Ron Brown, Republican, also ran unopposed in Cambridge and Franklin Townships, also is the new supervisor. Brown, like Zilke, serves on the present board of supervisors.

Republicans will dominate the board, 18-3, in the coming session when organization will take place.

In the state issues before the electorate, the graduated income tax proposal was turned down.

The issue to allow legislators to hold other offices was defeated. Issues passed included funds for water pollution, recreation and daylight savings time.

In keeping with Michigan's five-year-old constitution, two new district judges were elected to replace justices of the peace 150 votes of taking Stites in the city of Adrian. Out-county, Oliver faced a stiffer challenge from the Manitou Beach lawmaker. The final tally stood at: Stites, 14,527; Oliver, 10,572.

In 1968, Stites easily defeated Hugh Flippo by a 7,000-vote majority. Oliver was expected, and did, give him a closer race.

Races for seats on the re-apportioned county board of supervisors, as was recently ordered by the State Supreme Court, saw the Democrats take three of the six seats in Adrian City. This appeared as a surprise to most observers on the local scene.

In area races, the Republicans maintained their superiority in electing local officials. Fay Whelan won the race in District 6 of the city. He was opposed by Frank Lasky. Republican Whelan and circuit court commissioners Kenneth B. Glaser, Jr., and Yale Leland Kerby were the victors in Tuesday's election.

The field of four candidates which included John Timms, Hudson attorney and Paul T. Betz, Adrian Municipal Judge, were separated in the final vote count by less than 1,000 votes.

Glaser polled the largest number of votes, 10,529; Kerby was second in the race with 10,209; John Timms garnered 9,624 and Judge Betz collected 9,659.

Kerby outpolled his opponents in the city of Tecumseh by receiving 885 votes, Betz was second in the count at 857, Timms third with 767 and Glaser cornered 704 of the city's vote.

Presbyterians Losing Rev. Julian Gresham

Presbyterian pastor, the Rev. Julian Gresham, has announced his resignation from the pastorate here and his intentions to continue his education.

He will officially leave his pastorate here on Jan. 22, one week after he begins classes at the University of Michigan.

Mr. Gresham succeeded the Rev. George Walworth here on Dec. 1, 1959, coming to Tecumseh from the Pleasant Run Presbyterian Church at Cincinnati, where he had been pastor for seven and a half years.

He will seek a master's degree in social work, and contemplates working with and counseling youth. His studies will take 18 months.

He holds a B.A. degree from Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., and a Bachelor of Divinity, McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago.

A congregational meeting has been called for this Sunday for the purpose of acting on his resignation. In the next few weeks, the congregation is expected to elect a pulpit committee for selecting a new pastor.

To many, his resignation came much as a surprise. His service to the local church is the third longest in the local church's 140-year history.

Mr. Gresham says he has always wanted to continue his education, and has become greatly interested in the social, economical and personal needs, particularly of our youth.

Mrs. Gresham is currently director of the Family Counseling Service of Lenawee County at Adrian.

The family will continue living in the church's manse until a new pastor has been selected and arrives here.

Big Gambles Store Set for Opening

Twenty-one years ago, Don Martin bought the Gamble store here from Don Goddard. The store in 1947, now occupied by the Mary Sanchez beauty salon, measured just 70 feet long and 22 feet wide.

Today, Gambles officially opens its new store and it now comprises some 18,500 square feet — about 15 times the size of the original store.

What a change in 21 years!

Tecumseh and area folks can now enjoy the largest retail store in the city, and this includes the big super markets.

Gambles is holding a grand opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday in celebration of a new 11,500-square-foot addition which was started in August and completed just recently.

Construction work also included remodeling of the older section which has been the store since 1960. This section, along with the Woolworth store, is the former C. O. Butler Ford agency.

The new addition has a large housewares department, automotive section, sporting goods department, displays of toys and general hardware lines. Every department is now larger and more complete than before.

In the older section, the upstairs furniture department has been brought downstairs, and like the housewares department, is completely carpeted. This section of the store also includes appliance and TV centers.

At the rear of the store, a large storage area — bigger than the 1947 store — has been built and includes a tire and battery service department.

Features that many customers also will notice include extra check-out counters, stereo music, air conditioning, improved lighting and wide aisles. Entries are now at the front and back.

Late this summer a brand new front was installed. It also included the Woolworth building, owned by Mr. Martin, who has been a Gamble operator for 30 years.

Before coming to Tecumseh in 1947, he operated a store in Chelsea and also at Milford. After assuming control here, he expanded five years later with a 50-foot addition. In 1955, Gambles expanded again, taking over what is now occupied by Bancroft Cleaners.

Earlier this year, the Martins bought the old Strand Theatre building. When the movie business folded, they decided to have it torn down for the 11,000-sq.-ft. addition.

Employment has kept pace with the expansions.

In 1960, Mr. and Mrs. Martin employed four full-time and two part-time sales people. Today the store has 15 working, sometimes more.

D. J. Martin, their son, became a partner in June, 1961, after three years' service with the Marines. During the past summer, Jim Springer, son-in-law, became a partner, moving here from Colorado with his wife, Janet, who will start teaching in the Tecumseh schools in January.

Clara's Book Selling Fast

Interest ran high here the first week that The Herald took orders for Clara Waldron's historical book, "100 Years — A Country Town."

Over 150 books were ordered, andd others informed the office that they would be in with orders soon. Book price is $4.95, plus 20c sales tax, for a total cost of $5.15. Remittance must accompany each order.

A limited number of the books is being printed, and they will be sold on a first come, first served basis. Each book, expected at The Herald office by Dec. 1, will be personally autographed by Miss Waldron.

An advertisement in the paper gives other details about the book, the contents, and how orders should be placed, especially for mailing.

Veteran's Day

In observance of Veterans' Day, the United Savings Bank, the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association and the Post Office will be closed Nov. 11.

Mail will be dispatched as usual and specials delivered.

No Hearing

A request for a second public hearing for a change in the zoning of the Top Hat restaurant site was denied by Council Monday night.

Donald Purkey, a partner with David Faling in Lenawee Fuels, Inc., local distributor for Pure Oil Company products here, sought a hearing from Council to present the company's plans.

He told city officials the reason that they were not present at the public hearing on Oct. 22 was due to a mix-up in communications between the realtor handling the sale, and company representatives. An apology was extended to Council for not attending.

After considerable discussion — mostly objections from residents who were present and verbal attacks on the Frank Lasky, 720 Seneca St., treated kids in his neighborhood at Halloween time. He posted a sign, "Free pumpkins to kids." One little guy came along and asked Frank to read the sign for him. "Well, I'm a kid," he concluded as he took off down the street. Promptly he was back with his wagon.

Collect For UNICEF

About 250 Tecumseh children collected coins and bills from householders in the city and country, in Tecumseh and Raisin townships, Sunday afternoon and Monday evening, bringing in the largest collection yet taken in. $714 was collected last year.

The First Methodist Church was headquarters for the collection.

When the children returned to the church, refreshments of donuts, cider and suckers were served by Mrs. Kenneth Blumerick and Mrs. Norman Jolliff, Monday and by Mrs. Vynard Close on Sunday. The table was centered with a large jack-o-lantern with suckers protruding from the top.

The children were taken on their routes by 50 drivers from the First United Methodist Church, Gloria Dei Lutheran, Grace Lutheran, St. Elizabeth Catholic, Presbyterian, First Baptist, St. Peter's Episcopal and Missionary Baptist churches.

Mrs. Carroll Sprague was general chairman and arranged routes and drivers.

Those assisting were:

Mrs. William McGrate of St. Elizabeth's.

Mrs. Fred Feight and Mrs. John Hobson of Presbyterian.

Mrs. Shelva Yury of Missionary Baptist.

Mrs. Richard Whelan of Grace Lutheran.

Mrs. Arthur Baaske of Gloria Dei Lutheran.

Mrs. Melvin Getz of Episcopal.

Mrs. Edward Kirkland of First Baptist.

Council

Chamber of Commerce and the local newspaper from Councilmen and residents — Councilman Gene Tuckey moved that a public hearing be scheduled for Dec. 2.

The motion failed for want of a second.

When Mr. Purkey first asked for a second public hearing, Councilman George McCombs charged that he and the company should have been at the scheduled hearing. He also said that the Chamber and the newspaper were unfair in their criticism, and it was not justified.

Councilman Ray Puffer said, "we should not be condemned entirely, perhaps we were wrong, but I don't think we were."

Don Sunderland, councilman, said the city should follow the Master Plan and re-zoning of the site is not advantageous, and should not be changed.

Dr. Carlton Cook, councilman, in reference to a section of the published Chamber letter, remarked that it was a "weak argument on part of the Chamber."

Other comments were voiced by residents in the neighborhood, Robert Gillespie, James Freckelton and William Davis.

Mr. Gillespie said that he had "no idea" that a station was planned for the corner when he objected at the Oct. 22 session. He chided the Chamber and the newspaper for not mentioning the saving of children's lives, and called the letter and editorial "rotten." He said an apology is due Council from the writer of the letter.

Mr. Freckelton asked Council "to wait for something better."

Mr. Davis said service stations are very noisy and referred to his experience as an attendant when he was going to college. In regards to the traffic and congestion, he suggested that the city employ a state safety engineer to inspect the area.

At the Oct. 22 public hearing, most of the residents objected on the basis of traffic and congestion. It was apparent Monday evening that their objections were against a service station.

Construction of a station on the Top Hat property would necessitate a change in zoning from office and service to local business. The city has considerable property zoned for office and service, but there is no property now vacant that is zoned for local business.

Many business folks, who supported the Chamber in its criticism of Council's decision, attended the meeting.

Choirs Prepare Christmas Sing

Three Tecumseh Church choirs will present the "Festival of the Carols" at Christmas time.

Rehearsals for the combined production of sacred music have begun under the direction of the three directors, Mrs. James E. Donforth, United Methodist Church, Mrs. Earl Mason, Gloria Dei Church and Nancy Poland of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

The choirs will practice separately for a time and then join for the last three rehearsals.

One Candle Was Lighted For Matthew

Matthew George Ruhl was honored on the occasion of his first birthday anniversary, Sunday, at a dinner party at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ruhl.

An elephant-shaped cake was a feature of the dinner.

Guests included the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Loran Forrester and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruhl, Matthew's aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller and daughters of Sand Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brown and son of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruhl, Jr., and children, and Harlon Ruhl and son of Clinton, Mrs. Mary Lou Fairbanks and children and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Robert and family.

The engagement of Roberta E. Hunt to Charles J. M. Anderson is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Hunt, 9849 Murphy Rd. Mr. Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Anderson of Ypsilanti. The bride-elect is a 1960 graduate of Tecumseh High School and holds both a bachelor of science degree and a masters degree from Eastern Michigan University. She is employed as teacher counselor for physically handicapped in the Washtenaw County Intermediate School District. Her fiance is a graduate of Saline High School and is employed as a detective in the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. The couple plan a Feb. 1 wedding in the Methodist Church in Ann Arbor.

Clinton Schools Face Tax Woes

Legal or illegal?

A question of taxation is posing somewhat of a problem for Clinton school officials, Martin Halley, township supervisor, and Earl Roe, supervisor-to-be.

Mr. Halley and Mr. Roe both question the legality and would like to have the problem clarified. Mr. Halley has received legal advice and believes the taxation of 18.02 mills in the Lenawee County portion of the school district is illegal.

This millage has been collected by the Clinton schools since 1965, and was assessed on the belief that the Washtenaw County millage limitation of 18 mills also applied in Lenawee County's portion of the school district.

A Clinton school official says the School Board and administration received legal advice from Lansing school attornies in 1965, and were told that since the Washtenaw County area of the school district was larger than the Lenawee portion, the district could assess the greater millage in Lenawee, even though these property owners would be taxed without choice or vote.

School officials have indicated favoring clarification but also point out that they would be unable to operate the schools properly if they lost the 3.02 mills, or approximately $60,000.

A school in St. Joseph's County is involved in a similar situation, and it's understood a test case may arise from action there.

Some of the larger property owners in Lenawee County have stated they will probably pay their Clinton School taxes under protest.

Squirrel Causes Power Failure

A squirrel in a Tecumseh substation was the cause of power failure here Wednesday morning between 9:40 and 10:10 a.m.

Lee Wetherby, of Consumers Power Company, said that it is not uncommon at this time of year for squirrels to get on the lines and short them out, but Wednesday one really caused trouble.

"He is no more," Mr. Wetherby said.

He got in the sub-station, controlling electricity to all of Tecumseh and the surrounding area, and caused a fuse to burn out.

Fund Starts Next Mon.

Stuart Costigan, industrial chairman, reports that the corporate gift and donations from Fisher Body plant, collected earlier, amounts to $11,854.00, a good start toward the Foundation's goal of $58,724.

At Tecumseh Products, employees will have the option of delaying their deductions until February, or have the choice of beginning now.

All other drives — professional, commercial and residential — will start on Nov. 18. Officials are hoping to complete the campaign and reach their goal by Nov. 30.

Main contributor in the past is the industrial division, amounting to 51% last year. Other contributors and their percentage of the 1967 goal were: corporate and special gifts, 28%; residential, 9%; business, 7%; professional, 2%; municipal, post office and hospital, 2%; and teachers, 1%.

Friday Is Deadline For MEDCAP Aid

Mrs. Ric Creswell reminds area residents that Friday is the deadline for submitting articles for the MEDCAP project for an orphanage in Vietnam that was brought to the attention of the Jaycee Auxiliary members by Russell Slick, a serviceman there.

She stated that two church groups have donated clothing and money for postage and several individuals have given baby clothing.

Mrs. Creswell, assisted by Mrs. Douglas Osworth, will get the items on their way to Slick as soon as they have collected enough money for postage.

Mrs. Osworth is also interested in the annual Christmas mailing for the servicemen themselves.

She said, "The Jaycee Auxiliary needs names, addresses and birth dates if we are to send Christmas packages and cards to Vietnam this year. Items needed are foot powder, canned Vienna sausage, Fiddle Faddle, tooth paste and tooth brushes, hard Christmas candy, pre-sweetened lemonade or ice tea.

"If our local area men are to have Christmas in Vietnam this year, let's all please share this responsibility. Time is drawing near but our Auxiliary cannot send packages and cards unless they have addresses and the articles to send. We also remember our men on their birth dates. Anyone wishing to donate cash for shipping or articles may call Mrs. Kenneth Beevers, 423-4549, or Mrs. Charles Robinson, 423-2246," she stated.

Mrs. William Hoehn, with assistance from The Tecumseh Herald, made a list of servicemen in Vietnam from news of them in past issues. This list is printed on page 0, Section ??, for the convenience of area people.

It is likely that there are area men "over there" whose names do not appear on this list. Mrs. Beevers would like to add these names if concerned relatives will give them to her.

The Auxiliary is conducting a number of community projects as well as assistance projects for the Jaycees.

Mrs. Kenneth Beevers represented the group at a meeting for parties for the Michigan Girls' Training School this week and is chairman of sending gifts and cards to local boys in Vietnam.

A baby sitting clinic and a scholarship fund in memory of Judy Fielder are also projects of the young women.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Council Fires Back

Last week City Council came under fire via a letter from the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and an editorial in The Herald.

Councilmen had their turn Monday night and let a packed council room know exactly how they felt. Both the Chamber and the paper were accused of being unfair and not justified in criticizing Council for denying a petition, which sought a zoning change at the Top Hat restaurant site on N. Evans St.

Before Council was through blasting its critics, several residents of the Top Hat area joined our city fathers in condemning the critics.

Somewhere during the tongue lashings, Council heard a plea for a second public hearing and reasoned such a hearing was not necessary. A motion to reschedule the hearing failed for a second.

It's just as well. A proposal to build an ultra-modern service station and investment of some $200,000 on the corner already had been killed. Next year, perhaps in another couple years, someone else will seek to invest there.

Let's hope his reception is a little better — and this includes both Council and residents of the area. We should judge a request on its merits, not entirely on the number of folks, organized to present their objections to Council.

As to the Chamber letter, it is the first real contact between Council and business in years. These officials should work closer together and cooperate for the development and progress of business in Tecumseh.

When the Chamber feels that Council is not acting in the best interests of business and the community, it should respond, and be critical if necessary. We know that we will.

It was apparent that some Councilmen had their feelings hurt by the criticism. Well?

Foreign Students Weekend Visit

Hilda Piirainen of Helsinki, Finland, and Maria Rugeles of Caracas, Venezuela were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bonner.

Their visit was sponsored by Church Women United of Lenawee County. Both young ladies are students at Ann Arbor, studying an intensive 15-week course in English.

In mid-December Hilda plans to go to Tokyo where she will study the Japanese language for two years, after which she will become a missionary for the Lutheran Church.

Maria plans to enter the University of Mexico, where she will continue her studies in law.

Saturday evening the Bonners and their guests attended "Hallelujah Baby" at the Fisher Theatre in Detroit.

Visiting Pastor Delivers Sermon

BRITTON — The Rev. Barto of the First Baptist Church of Brooklyn will deliver the message Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service at the Bethel Baptist Church. Pastor Duane McNeil is speaking in Brooklyn.

Holy Communion will be observed at the 7:30 p.m. service with pastor McNeil in charge.

'Ouch' Marks the Spot

An occasional "ouch" and a wince at the sight of a needle which appears much larger than its real size, were the response of nearly 3,000 youngsters in Tecumseh Schools this week. The University of Michigan gave immunization shots against Hong Kong flu to 97 percent of the area school children.

Tecumseh was selected for this because of a geographic overlapping of two separate research projects, combined with the peculiar nature of Hong Kong flu.

The one project here in Tecumseh, the Community Health Study which is headed by Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., is a years-long study of the entire population.

The second project here in Lenawee, called Echo, is the collection of health data from selected neighborhoods in Michigan for subsequent community health action programs. ECHO, which stands for Evidence for Community Health Organization, is sponsored by the State Health Department.

Lenawee County is the only area in Michigan where these projects overlap. The third factor in selecting Tecumseh is that there is little or no natural immunity to Hong Kong flu, anyone can get it if exposed. Doctors have stated that a worldwide pandemic is now underway.

Scientists at U-M, as well as in other areas of communicable disease, have long theorized that they could halt certain epidemics by immunizing children. Under their theory, youngsters may be the "mechanisms" whereby the disease spreads through a community. Their close associations at school and at play may be the key to transmitting the disease at epidemic levels.

Should this be true, the U of M scientists say, an epidemic could be blocked by immunizing the children.

Arrangements with the National Institutes of Health the first production lot of vaccine will be used here to immunize the Tecumseh children against the influenza. In weeks ahead, when the flu spreads across the country as expected, ECHO will measure its impact on Adrian and elsewhere in Michigan.

U-M's Tecumseh Project will measure the effect in Tecumseh. Statistical variations between the two are expected to reveal the truth or the falsity of the theory.

Spokesmen for U-M have expressed that they have an "ideal situation" for the test, due to the 10-mile proximity of the two health studies.

The move by the University was done in a hurried fashion, denoting that time was of the essence if the tests were to prove the theory which the doctors have concluded.

The Lenawee Health Department, headed by Dr. Thomas P. Hamilton, II, and the department's staff nurses will help to administer the vaccine. The department is also the collection point for data feeding into ECHO for Adrian and all of Lenawee County.

Any child who may have missed the inoculation because of absence from school for various reasons, cannot rejoice to loudly, for the staff will administer make-up shots to those children Friday from 4-8 p.m., at the Health Study Clinic on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. Saturday will also be make-up day from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Anyone who misses these opportunities will have further access to the immunization next week at the clinic any day from 2-7 p.m.

Advice from the staff is that parents should call the Health Study Clinic at 423-2171 for an appointment.

Two Cheers

Robert Cheers scored a second straight win in a Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot held by the Tecumseh Rifle and Pistol Club at the Community Center Range Monday.

Using the "Kicker handicap", Bob scored with a 898 total out of a 900 possible. The second place ham went to Bob Green with 892 and Don Withrow picked up the third place ham with 882.

After the contest, several of the shooters had the chance to shoot cap and ball pistols, provided by Jack Curtiss and Fred F. Dickinson.

Dickinson was chairman of the refreshment committee providing doughnuts and coffee.

Scouts Entertained by Moms

Mrs. August Breckel and her group of Scout Moms entertained both the Boy Scout Troop 32 and the Cub Scout Pack 32 at a Halloween party Tuesday night at the Conservation League Clubhouse.

The opening ceremony was carried out by a color guard of both Boy and Cub Scouts. Scoutmaster Dick James welcomed Stewart Schneider into the Troop as the newest Tenderfoot. First class rank was received by Kevin Skinner and Robert Frank. Canoeing Merit badges were awarded to Dennis James and Allen Breckel; Firemanship merit badge by Steve James, Carter Johnson, Henry Voss, and Doug Schneider; Soil and Water Conservation badge by Gary Griewahn.

Senior patrol leader patch was given to Steven Schneider and Assistant Senior Patrol leader to Gary Griewahn who recently both completed a special training session in the Pinckney Recreation area conducted by the Wolverine Council.

Cubmaster Chuck Skinner inducted five new boys into the pack and presented their Bobcat pins, they were: Dennis Dowling, Jimmy Snyder, Douglas DeJonghe, Steven Dillon and Kevin Yookum. Kerry Skinner earned the Outdoorsman and Aquanaut activity badge and Mike Scheuerman the Athletic and Outdoorsman; Chuck Eberline the Sportsman and Athletic; Tom Gordon, Sportsman and Karl Schamberger earned the Sportsman and Athletic badge, and 1 year pin. Richard and Chuck Eberline also earned 1 year pins.

Ed Schamberger attired in the colorful "Akela" Indian outfit, assisted with the induction of Todd Griewahn into the Webelos. Todd received his Bear badge in addition to the traditional hand-fashioned arrow and Scout handbook.

An extremely large crowd of parents and small children with the aid of their scout sons, roasted wieners at a large bonfire. Chips and cider were also served by the Scout Moms.

Pastor Home

The Rev. O. E. Priest returned to his Evans Lake home Sunday from Herrick Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Priest said he is coming along fine.

Coast Guard Cadet Serves at Academy

Four years ago Gerald L. Hale was a senior at Tecumseh High School, contemplating his future, his ambitions, and his goals with the rest of his senior class. He decided to apply and was accepted as a Cadet at the United States Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn. In just a few months he will realize the fruits of his decision.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hale.

Gerald was recently selected to the Dean's List for outstanding academic achievement.

Cadet Hale has done well at the Academy. He has participated in a wide variety of extra curricular activities in addition to maintaining a full academic schedule.

GERALD L. HALE

He has also taken part in the Academy's sports program as a member of the football, wrestling and basketball teams.

When he graduates next spring, he will have earned a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission in the Officer Corps of the Coast Guard. As such, he will be eligible for duty on a number of vessels and stations. The newly-commissioned Ensign is usually assigned to an ocean-going high endurance Cutter where he will serve as a division officer or department head with up to 50 men serving under him. He might be the Weapons Officer, First Lieutenant in charge of boats and deck equipment, Combat Information or Communications officer.

After that first assignment, graduates of the Coast Guard Academy are eligible for command as captains of 95-foot patrol boats, or duty ashore in Rescue Coordination Centers or in district offices.

The Early Bird Saves A Buck

Don Withrow, vice commander of the American Legion Post No. 34, announced Tuesday that Veterans' Day, Nov. 11, is the cut off date for early bird dues of $8 ($6 for World War I members).

He said that state dues will be increased by $1 after that date. They may be paid to Dick Hyatt, post adjutant, or to one of the active members.

Mr. Withrow invited all Legion members to the meeting Nov. 7 at 8 p.m.

Dinner, Family Style

More than 66 persons were seated for dinner in the Youth House of the First Baptist Church Monday evening for the annual family night of the Tecumseh Monday Club.

Mrs. Perry Hayden and son, Joe, presented the program, giving brief resumes of the film, "God Is My Landlord," before it was shown.

Many in the audience had participated in some way in the planting and harvesting of the Dynamic Kernels when the experiment was conducted in this area by the late Perry Hayden.

Mrs. Albert Todd gave a report of the color tour to Hell, taken by a number of the members recently.

Mrs. Walter Prill told of the girls home in Belleville on Edison Lake, called Loch Rio. It is entirely owned and operated by the Federation of Women's Clubs.

An invitation was read by Mrs. Lynn Hubbard to attend the Federation meeting Nov. 6 in Adrian when Sheriff Richard Germond spoke on "Services From the Sheriff's Department."

Arrangements of autumn flowers graced the tables for dinner.

Manchild of the Universe

Experience should have taught us to be most on our guard to protect liberty when the government's purposes are beneficent. The heralded word is never enough. The losers, the losers, who'll save the losers?

Last night the election was held. Most people were sad because their man never made the ballot. Some still weep at a bullet fired into the brain of a young senator from New York, some at the loss of a greying cynic from Minnesota. America and what it is among nations is not the cause of one man. A bullet or the loss of votes cannot diminish her standing.

We are new among the nations of the world, so new in fact, we shamelessly mock the Greeks of old, the same Greeks who gave the world wisdom and sold it for a few husks.

Through torment and dismay we have stood the eager children of the world of man. New in idea and thought. Still unschooled in survival, yet we survive.

With a naivette, among people, we consider ourselves indomitable. With caution we threaten ourselves. We bring problems to the world because of it. We give problems to other nations through it.

America is the manchild of the universe. We survive not because we are the better people, but because we are still young. The bitter sting of defeat has never whetted our appetite for the impossible.

America is among the youngsters of the world, we are no race, no religion, no creed. We are a nation of individuals struggling against an unseen enemy toward an unknown goal.

As a child armed with weapons he does not understand, we are to lead a leaderless world in a fashion not heard nor seen nor comprehended by man before.

We lead the nation in so many ways, we lead in ways to change relations among man and woman, mother and child, and all other fashions. We lead in all ways of contradiction. According to the great plan of the universe which history set forth millions of years ago, we should never have survived and yet we did.

We are quite a nation. We could elect a bumbling idiot to be President and still survive. America is not an office. No kingdom purveys these people. The kingdom is the blessed denial of all that has been done before and will never be done again because of us.

We need the man in the White House to be someone we can look up to, that innocence is our trust.

We are an epoch in the history of man unlike any other. We are original. However we dress or act or play, however we discover what we are and in what we believe, we do in different ways. We dream great dreams sitting in the midst of rubble. We pray when a bright sun plays upon our lives. Optimism, pessimism, what are they to us those foolish, foolhardy creatures known as Americans.

The truth is, we are all footsore Pilgrims, tired and weary at times, but always young. When one falls by the wayside of historical comment, another takes his place and then another. We fill our knapsacks with the treasures of children. We place them on rocks and try to carve our niche onto the Face of History.

We are a nation in the midst of tragedy who can still sit beneath trees filled with blossoms in spring, can sing and dance, we can still revel in the childhood game of watching the sun reflect on a piece of tin foil.

Student Election Held

By BILL WHITING

Campaign fever ran rampant through THS last week as the school prepared for a mock election Friday.

Organized by interested faculty and students, a general assembly was held prior to the vote in order to air the views of the three major candidates.

Voicing their support at the assembly were Dean Finnegan, Bob Belcher and Esther Wells representing Humphrey, Wallace and Nixon, respectively.

In addition to the presidential race, Congressional and state legislature candidates and proposals involving Daylight Savings Time and the 18-year-old vote were added to give an over-all projection of Tuesday's election.

The results announced on Monday were:

	Humphrey	Nixon	Wallace
9th grade	32%	36%	12%
10th grade	38%	51%	11%
11th grade	35%	47%	18%
12th grade	28%	59%	13%
Total	33%	53%	14%

Two out of three teachers were recorded as preferring Nixon to Humphrey. There were no votes for Wallace.

For State Representative, Robert Stites won over Ernest Oliver in a close vote of 465 to 457. The Congressional race was captured by Marvin Esch over Wes Vivian, 559-358.

Students voted to retain Daylight Savings Time, 520-414.

About two out of three students approved 18-year-olds voting by an overwhelming margin of 689-240.

There were 935 ballots tabulated.

AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE — Art Hall has plenty of room now at Gambles to wheel customers' cars inside for changing tires and batteries. Sto rage and service area in the new store amounts to nearly 3,000 square feet.

Favor Indians Over Maples

It isn't often that the Tecumseh Indians are favored in their final game of the season, but after the Indians' somewhat impressive win over Carlson here Friday night, Coach Tom Fagan's club should enter its battle against Adrian as a slight favorite.

Game time is 8 p.m., a half hour later than usual.

The Maples are winless in eight outings, and since early in the season, Coach Gary McNitt has relied mainly on sophomores and juniors — the same group of lads which has been past victims of the local Jayvee and Frosh squads.

After last year's pasting, Fagan should have no trouble of getting the Indians up — if there is such a problem when Tecumseh plays Adrian.

The Maples are a far cry from the 1967 squad, but still can't be taken lightly. McNitt's team should be sky-high for the game. It does have a chance to cop at least one victory, as Tecumseh, for certain, does not compare with some of the Maples' opponents.

For most, the Indians have been a disappointment. They've been tough on defense, and although they sparkled here on offense against Carlson, it could be the defense at Adrian if the Indians win.

On the line, Tecumseh is tough and if Adrian can run through it, the Maples will deserve a victory. On the other hand, Adrian's game plans would include an old nemesis — the pass.

The Indians are susceptible to the pass, and it has been Tecumseh's downfall on many occasions this season. The secondary has reacted poorly, or slowly, and allowed opposing backs to get behind it for easy touchdowns.

If the Maples pass, the line will have to pressure the passer and hope he's off line. Tecumseh's rush, however, is better than average and pursuit has been good.

Tecumseh can win the game with a repeat performance of the Carlson victory. The Indians moved on offense, for a change, despite two pass interceptions. Except for a letdown in the third quarter, it was Tecumseh's best all-around game this season.

Jack Greenfield, who suffered a cracked collarbone in practice several weeks ago, will be back and Tecumseh will have its entire varsity squad intact since early in the season.

Jim Parros, out several weeks with an ankle injury, returned against Carlson and played on the offensive line. Several players, such as Ken Pieh, who has been hampered with an ankle injury, are expected to be going at top speed.

Coach Fagan says there will be few if any changes from the offensive and defensive lineups which routed Carlson, 25-7.

The rivalry between the two schools has grown in the past 10 years and now ranks as tops for both clubs. The Maples once held a big edge in victories and in recent years, the Indians have more than held their own.

An Indian win could add some lustre to a rather disappointing campaign. Tecumseh's capable of winning — and it should. .

Frosh Undefeated On Gridiron

The Tecumseh Freshman football team completed an undefeated season last Wednesday with a 13-6 win over a good South Lyon JV team.

The Indians scored their first touchdown with 2:36 left in the opening quarter. After the running of Daye Ryan and Hugh Conklin had moved the ball to the South Lyon 9-yard line Rick Bunch tossed to Sam Whitney for the score. The same combination picked up the extra point.

South Lyon closed the gap on a 47-yard touchdown run in the second period. The extra point try failed and the Indians left the field at half-time with a 7-6 lead.

Tecumseh capped the scoring midway thru the third quarter when Bunch again hit Whitney with a scoring toss, this one good for 72 yards. Whitney caught the ball at midfield and out-raced the South Lyon secondary to the goal line.

The visitors threatened four times in the second half but the Frosh defense rose to the occasion and shut the door.

Fine defensive play was turned in by tackle Ken Brown, linebacker Mike Tilton, halfbacks Conklin and Ryan and ends Tom Huber and Bob McKee. Halfback Craig Brown starting only his second game intercepted a pass.

During the eight-game schedule the blocking of Dave Whelan, John Merz, Mike Tilton, Ken Brown and Hugh Conklin was outstanding. Other highlights were the running of Roger Ashenfelter, the passing and blocking of Rick Bunch, the punting of Sam Whitney and the kickoffs of Dave Bird.

Little Folks Win Halloween Contests

Wendy K. Carter, Julie Judd and Kenneth Berry were winners for the dressiest costumes in the Halloween contest for the city children at the Community Center last Thursday.

Other winners in the three age groups were:

Representatives of the Senior Citizens acted as judges, awarded the prizes and helped to serve cider and doughnuts to the 80 contestants and the grown-ups present.

TO THE EDITOR:

I believe that all property owners in Lenawee county will be interested in knowing that a substantial number (i.e. those property owners in the Clinton School District) will be required to pay taxes on their property which was voted into effect by electors in Washtenaw county.

Property owners in Lenawee county had no opportunity to vote on the question.

Article 2, Section 6 of the Michigan State Constitution, provides that when advalorem taxes are assessed, all property owners affected thereby shall be allowed to vote on the question.

By reference, Article 2, Section 6, is made a part of Article IX.

A paragraph in Section 6 of Article IX reads as follows: In any school district which extends into two or more counties, property taxes at the highest rate available in the county which contains the greatest part of the area of the district may be imposed and collected for school purposes throughout the district.

By virtue of a request from the Clinton school administration, and supported by the county school administration and coupled with the authority of Lenawee County Board of Supervisors, warrants have been issued directing township officials to collect the ad valorem taxes referred to above. Such action requires property owners in Clinton township to pay at a tax rate (18.02), which appears to be higher than the legal rate in either Washtenaw County or Lenawee County.

We have been advised that neither the people in the school administration nor the Board of Supervisors have acted illegally.

Several members of the Board of Supervisors indicated by their vote that, in their opinion, property owners in Lenawee County should not be required to pay property tax voted into effect by electors in an adjoining county.

It is permissible for property owners to pay their taxes under protest.

The above situation could have been avoided had the request for the highest rate not been made.

TO THE EDITOR:

Clara M. Waldron and Edith L. Ingersoll done a good thing when Edith asked Clara to write a book on the early days of Tecumseh. I spent my early days in Tecumseh, too, so I know Tecumseh well.

Edith was a cousin of mine. I have known Clara from a little boy and that has been a long time ago. Well, don't forget to mail me the book of 100 Years. Tecumseh really goes back to 1823, when the early-day people came from New York State. I have a little handbook of 1895 and it tells about the people that landed in what is known as Tecumseh. It was named after the old Shawnee Chief Tecumseh. It was the first village to be planted in Lenawee County and Tecumseh was the county seat until Adrian got it in 1835.

I remain,

Very truly yours,

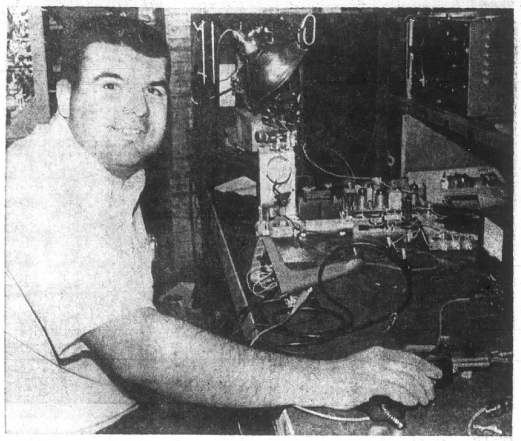
Gambles now covers 18,500 square feet

Gamble's staff grows almost annually — it has to, to keep up with the many expansions. Nine of the folks helping the Martins run the store are, from the left, Jerry Ziezert, Edith Rutherford, Sharon Buku, Pat Preston and Ida Helm; back row, Terry Butler, Ed Thornton, Bill Norris and Art Hall.



Ed Thornton, veteran electronics expert, joined Gambles earlier this year and gives the store authorized factory repair service on TVs, stereos and radios. His department, like the others, has been expanded.

A complete appliance department has been expanded to include more lines and more floor models. It's located in the old section of Gambles, next to the large furniture department. Don Martin, Gamble owner, shows Earl Mason, of the United Savings Bank, someof the store's ranges.

Jerry Ziezert shows Clarence Marvin the new and larger furniture department in the Gamble store. The entire furniture section has been carpeted and takes up 4,000 square feet of floor space. A complete selection of furniture, formerly located upstairs, is now displayed on the main floor in the older section of the store.

Exercise In Friendship

The second part of the report on the 21 foreign students from Wayne State University, who visited in Clinton homes Oct. 22-24 follows. Many of the families made lasting friendships with their young visitors and have invited them to return for holiday visits.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mapleton, natives of India, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winder. Mr. Stapleton has been here since February and his wife, Molly, arrived in September. Mrs. Stapleton is a student of radio and television at the University of Detroit.

Mr. Stapleton is working on his masters degree in education evenings at WSU, and daytimes he is employed at Harper Hospital as a physical therapist. He is on leave from the Northern Central Railroad Hospital, New Delhi, where he received his degree in physical therapy.

The couple are Roman Catholics. They attended the service at St. John's Episcopal Church with their hosts and were most interested in the baptism of an infant.

The visitors had their first taste of pancakes and Mrs. Stapleton was fascinated by everything that went on in the kitchen. They were given a basket of food to take back with them.

Family fun included preparing Halloween pumpkins for the Winder's young daughter, and an open house Saturday evening, gave them a chance to get acquainted with neighbors. Mrs. Stapleton wore her beautiful saris and her husband was attired in authentic Nehru jackets.

Mr. and Mrs. Winder have invited their guests to return for Christmas.

★

Sal Malik, 26, of Arabia, was a guest of Trooper and Mrs. Ronald Morgan.

Mr. Malik has studied at WSU for two years and spent last summer at his home.

He has taken courses in law and was greatly interested when taken on a tour of the Clinton State Police post by Trooper Morgan.

He tried his native headdress on the Morgan's young son, Tim, and presented his hosts with a gift tapestry made in his homeland.

Malik told his hosts he had come "just to relax" and he enjoyed just chatting. He told the Morgans, "Everyone seems so happy here in Clinton."

★

Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich Von Boetticher of Munich, Germany, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. William Nighswander.

Mr. Boetticher is a lawyer, studying law at WSU and his wife, Marion, is studying English full time at the university while teaching German there.

The Boettichers, who had grown up on farms, were interested in a visit to the home of Mrs. Nighswander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ruesink, near Adrian, where they watched the self-propelled combine, and picked tomatoes from the garden patch.

They weren't too much impressed by the Hidden Lake Gardens since they lived near the Alps until just one month ago.

The Boettichers are Lutheran and told their hosts, "no one but old people go to church in Germany." They said that since the government supports the churches there the people appear not to take interest in them.

They said they missed the good German black bread, but had learned to like pizza since so many Italian workers had come to Germany and brought the idea of pizza with them.

David Lam of Hong Kong, a nuclear physicist, has been in the United States for eight years. He attends night school and is employed at Uniroyal full time. He spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hawkins.

Mr. Lam, whose original first name was Fai-yau has changed it to David and is studying to become a citizen of this country.

He said this was the first American home that he has visited.

He is Baptist and attends a Chinese Church near the college. He attended the Methodist Church with his hosts Sunday.

★

Yek Wanma of Hong Kong spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. John Hoelzer.

He had only been in this country for two months and is just beginning a general course at WSU.

He promptly asked Mrs. Hoelzer what he might call her, and when told "Skipper," he said that was fine, and would she choose an American name for him. After several suggestions which didn't meet his approval he finally liked "Greg" and thus he was called all weekend.

Learning to use American cutlery was the most difficult problem faced by the newcomer, who had used chop sticks all his life.

Mr. Hoelzer took him on a visit to the General Motors Proving Grounds at Chelsea and on the way paid a visit to the Burgermeister dairy farm. By chance, a stray deer strolled out of the woods there, giving Mr. Wanma a treat.

This was his first visit to a home and his first trip out of Detroit. He couldn't quite understand how one family lived in such a big house, and asked to be shown all about. The well-filled fruit cellar surprised him, and he asked, "Do you sell it?" and was assured it was all for one family.

★

Rajendra K. Gupta of New Delhi, India, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Philo. He taught English and economics in college there, and has been in the United States for one year, teaching economics at Wayne State and studying at the same time.

A tour of the area included the Hubbard bee farm, the lake area and Tecumseh.

He wasn't interested in riding a bike, he told Mrs. Philo because he had done so all his life. He liked cars better now.

He was interested in factories since is father has a pipe fitting factory in India.

This is his first visit to an American home, although he had traveled to Washington, D.C., and Niagara Falls.

★

Tadarthy Muralidhara of Pepalle, India, as been studying at WSU since January, as a chemical engineer. He visited with Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Swift and family.

Saturday Mr. Swift took his guest on a tour of his plant, Ridgeway Metal Products, at Ridgeway. They were accompanied by David Reichhardt, a teacher at Clinton High School.

Although a Hindu, he has learned to like meat since he has been in America. He told his hosts he found it hard to get acquainted with Detroit.

He invited the Swifts to attend a movie of India's films in Detroit soon.

★

When the bus left Sunday afternoon there were more than a few tears shed. Most of the visitors were planning to return for another visit with their new-found friends in Clinton.

This experience may add another degree of understanding to the education these young people are receiving in America.

What's so great about it?

It's a Jane Parker Fruit Cake.
And we think it's great because of what goes into it.

You see, the best fruit cake has less cake...more fruits and nuts.
And Jane Parker Fruit Cake is OVER 2/3 FRUITS AND NUTS... with just enough delicious cake to hold the fruits and nuts in place.

It's literally bursting with imported and domestic cherries, pineapple from the Far East, sun-drenched raisins from California, citron from the Caribbean and pecans from the South.

What else can we tell you to convince you that Jane Parker Fruit Cake is great?
Well, we can tell you about the price.

What would you expect to pay for a fruit cake like this? $8, $7, $6, $5?

Ghosts, Goblins At Tipton School

TIPTON — About 225 children and adults attended the Halloween party held at the Tipton school on Halloween night. Several clubs in Tipton sponsored the party with individuals also donating money or refreshments.

Prizes for costumes were won in the pre-school through kindergarten group by Tammy Williams, Billy Vollmer and Fayette Starkey; the 1st through 3rd grade group were won by John McVay, Marie Griffin, Jim Bale and Bradley Becker; the 4th grade and up by Bradley Williams, Marsha Bale, Roxanna Cook, Brenda Ives and Pam Jones.

The judges were McKinley Spalding, Mrs. Bill Williams, Mrs. John Wisner, Mrs. Grover Swarts and Wallace Wilkin.

Ray Stockinger was the master of ceremonies for the evening.

Celebrate Halloween

TIPTON—Martha Osburn and Susan Ries entertained Halloween night with a party at the Robert Osburn home on Kemp Rd. The guests were greeted at the door by a ghost and led to the Chamber of Horrors which included cobwebs, briar patch, cave of winds, cave of monsters and the kiss of death.

In keeping with the Halloween theme the garage was decorated with a false ceiling, lighted pumpkins, and fluorescent skeletons provided an atmosphere of illusion.

The refreshment table was centered with a large pumpkin filled with potato chips, with smaller side pumpkins of candy and homemade donuts, along with other Halloween refreshments.

Dancing, games and a bonfire were enjoyed during the evening. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osburn, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ries, Lena Stevenson and Larry Ries. Guests were from Tecumseh, Adrian, Blissfield and Tipton.

Off The Top

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

As if life isn't frustrating enough already, I think there's a big conspiracy on the part of toy and game manufacturers to further confuse the American public with the current rash of so-called educational games on the market.

Educational? They'll put you out of your cotton-pickin' mind!

Especially those confounded puzzles you see everywhere. We had friends call the other night, and their teen-ager brought with him the latest puzzler called "Instant Insanity."

And well-named it is, too. It looks deceptively simple — just four plastic cubes, with different colors on each of the six sides. The trick is to arrange them so that there are four different colors in a line on each side.

Sound easy? Just try it once. Before long, everyone was in on the act, either trying their hand at solving it, or giving advice to some other tortured soul who was working on it.

Little kids, big kids, adults — no one could figure out the brain-teaser, no matter how the blocks were held or arranged. Television shows and polite conversation were forgotten, in the face of the challenge. Finally, we chucked the whole thing and turned to playing pinochle instead. At least we all knew how to do that!

Another puzzle which I bought recently for the youngest proved to be too tough for me, although she memorized one of the possible solutions in one evening. For a dollar, you get twelve angular pieces of flat plastic which, when fitted together correctly, form an oblong. I spent two hours one afternoon when I should have been doing the ironing, trying to figure out the darn thing, but somehow I always had one or two of the parts left which I couldn't fit in. It made me so nervous and was so shattering to my self-esteem that I was unable to prepare supper, and it cost Dad $5.76 to take us to the local restaurant that evening. The next day he took all the puzzles he could find around the house to work with him, so I couldn't spend my time on them, but I understand they gave everyone at the garage a complex, too.

I think I'd better go back to checkers and tic-tac-toe — they are more my speed. But first I'm going to call the F.B.I., and have them start an investigation. I think this is all part of a Communist plot to completely demoralize and confuse the American people!

Dalton Sparkles In JV Win

Scott Dalton scored four touchdowns, ran for two extra points and passed for a third to lead the Tecumseh JV's to their fifth win of the season. Dalton also passed 15 yards for another of the Tribe's scores in their 47-19 win over Gibraltar-Carlson.

Dalton scored on a 30-yard run to open the floodgates for the Indians, later in the first quarter he scored on a lateral from Dave Kelly after Kelly had snared a pass from Rich Schuyler. His third TD of the period came on a 40-yard pass interception. The fourth tally of the opening stanza of play, Dave Kelly grabbed a Dalton pass and scampered 15 yards into the end zone to give the JV's a comfortable 27-0 lead at the gun.

In the second quarter, Carlson came back with a pair of TD's to narrow the margin. Dave Gurtzweiler ripped through the Carlson defense in the same period to give Tecumseh a 34-13 half-time cushion.

In the third period the two teams matched scores with Carlson scoring on a 40-yarder and Dalton diving two yards into the end zone for his fourth TD of the night.

Marv Maynard joined the scoring parade in the fourth period when he rambled 15 yards to give Tecumseh their final margin of 47-19.

The top-sided win over Gibraltar-Carlson gave the Little Indians a season record of 5 wins and 3 losses, and potential talent for next year's version of the varsity.

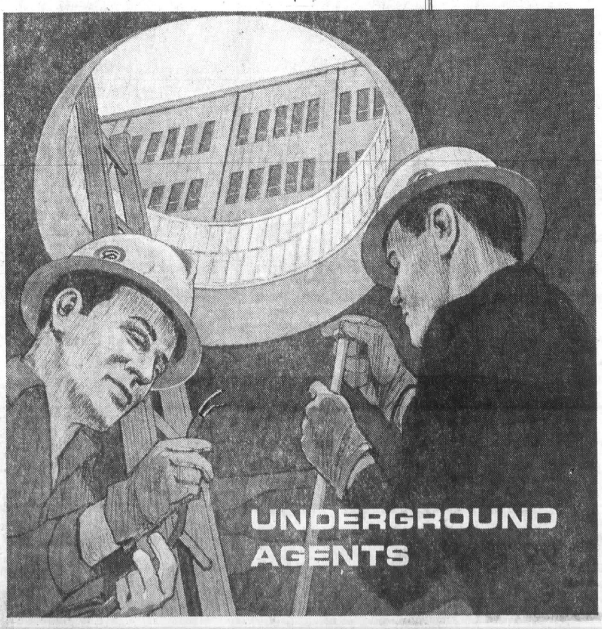
One of the many hats of Consumers Power — CONTINUING PROGRESS



Every time you see an open manhole, you can make a good guess. Consumers Power underground agents are at work. Agents of progress. Working on their cables and conduits, they are making more electricity available to homes, businesses, industries.

In small and big ways, underground and aboveground, Consumers Power people are constantly at work to provide abundant electricity for our increasing population and expanding economy. Right now, builders are at work on our 100-million dollar Palisades nuclear generating plant near South Haven; men are breaking ground for the new 250-million dollar pumped storage hydroelectric plant near Ludington; and engineers are drawing plans for a dual-purpose nuclear-steam plant to be built near Midland.

By using advanced technology and large-scale economies, Consumers Power planners are assuring plenty of low-cost electricity to meet power needs in the years to come.

Continuing progress. It's more than just a slogan at Consumers Power.

Russian Talk Heard by Club

Mrs. Milton Porter spoke and showed pictures of a recent trip behind the Iron Curtain at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Oct. 28, at Harry's Cafe.

Mrs. and Mrs. Porter were part of a group of 82 educators who went to Bulgaria, Afghanistan and Russia to gain information concerning education there in comparison to that in the United States.

Pictures presented the modes of living in those countries and one person said, "she was glad to live here."

There were 48 seated for the chicken dinner preceding the meeting conducted by President Naomi Sallows.

Mrs. Wilfrd Waldron and Ruth Kuder were chosen to attend the meeting of the Lenawee County Women's Federation Club Nov. 6, at the United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Porfer, Mrs. Paul Vollmer, Mrs. Jane Power and Mrs. Russell Cooper were guests.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Harry Beland, Mrs. Melvin Wegner, Mrs. Ward Perso and Mrs. Margaretta Brisbin.

LADYBUG, LADYBUG . . . . .

How many times have you overheard children at play sing-song, in their own particular way, "Ladybug, ladybug, fly away home?" Or, even more to the point, how often have you found yourself reciting the old familiar ditty? What version do you use — I always knew it as, "Ladybug, ladybug, fly away home, your house is on fire, your children will burn!"

In the current issue of "National Wildlife" they have a different last line, they quote the nursery rhyme as saying, "Your house is on fire, your children do roam." Actually, of course, I am not sure it makes any difference.

However, have you ever wondered as to the origin of these two lines? It apparently goes back many, many years to Europe, to the region in which hops are grown. For well over a century and a half, ladybugs have been used to control the aphids which infest hop vines. After the harvest, the hop plants are burned and thus the advice to 'fly away home, your house is on fire.'

Hop farmers — and no, I'm I'm not going to pun that a bit — anyway, these are not the only people who benefit from the ladybugs' horrendous appetites. These are incredibly useful bugs, almost everything they eat is destructive.

In fact, during the late nineteenth century, they saved the California citrus industry. The cottony-cushion scale had been allowed to accidentally enter the country, probably from Australia or New Zealand, and was rapidly destroying the orange groves.

Finally someone discovered that a species of ladybug showed a particular fondness for dining upon the pests. The little beetles were set loose in the citrus groves and within 18 months the scale epidemic was brought under control.

★

THERE ARE many different varieties of ladybugs; in fact, there are almost 4,000 known species throughout the world and over 70 of them may be found on this continent.

Although there is no hard and fast rule, the orange ladies generally seem to specialize in aphid-eating while the blackish ones dine on scale insects, mealybugs and white flies.

Potato growers rely on ladybugs to destroy the eggs of the potato beetle and what rose grower has not watched with delight as they rid a prize bush of pesky aphids.

So sought after are ladybugs that raising them is a regular business in some parts of the country. One west coast firm sells up to 5,000 gallons a year. This is a lot of ladybugs when one realizes that it takes 25,000 to make one gallon.

Orchard men, cotton and alfalfa growers, greenhouse people and just everyday gardeners are 'seeing the light' and realizing that these natural controllers are much better and a great deal safer than chemical insecticides.

★

A TIP OF THE hat to the late Rachel Carson. She tried to hard to warn us about and alert us to the great dangers of pollution and poisoning.

Perhaps there is time to save our environment — there is still much to be done to insure clean air, pure water and uncontaminated soil but certainly using ladybugs instead of the spray can is a tiny step in the right direction.

In addition to the profitable business of growing ladybugs, there is a flourishing business in collecting them. There are certain places in the mountains of the southwest where the beetles hibernate.

Uncountable numbers of them converge in these areas and, when the weather cools enough to induce dormancy, it is on easy matter to scoop them up. They can be kept in cold storage for long periods of time and shipped anywhere.

The ladybugs we know are not particularly noted as migrators. They merely 'hole up' whereever it is convenient, many even choose not to 'cool off' at all and, when the temperatures outside drop, find ways of getting into our warm houses.

Superstition follows ladybugs — many of us would not dream of killing one. I even know of one kindly lady who goes so far as to leave a leaf of lettuce on the window sill for her 'good luck' ladybug.

Regardless of specie, ladybugs are basically the same the world over. They look like little tanks. Their bodies are round on top and flat underneath, their heads small to the point of almost being unnoticeable and their legs and antennae ridiculously short. It is the glossy wings which fold over the back of the body that are noticeable and give the appearance of a hard shell of armor.

So it is that there is much more to these beneficial little insects than just the fun of the old nursery rhyme, "Ladybug, ladybug . . . . . "

Mother and Daughter

MACON — The first Mother and Daughter Tea of the Tecumseh Area Camp Fire Girls, was held Tuesday, Oct. 29, at the Macon United Methodist Church, with over 100 in attendance. They included: 11 members of the second grade Ridgeway Blue Birds, their mothers and leaders, Mrs. Dean Hamilton and Mrs. John Swanston; 12 members of the third grade Ridgeway Blue Birds, their mothers and leaders, Mrs. Jorge Galindo and Mrs. Roger Palmer.

The Clinton Blue Birds had 14 members present, with their mothers and leaders, Mrs. Howard Kime, Mrs. Grover Hainstock and Mrs. Bruce Winder. This was only the second meeting of the newly-organized Clinton group.

The Camp Fire Girls include 13 members of the fourth grade at Ridgeway, all of their mothers and leaders, Mrs. Paul Hover and Mrs. James Thomas; and nine members of the fifth and sixth grade, their leaders, Mrs. Russell Cadmus and Mrs. Robert Renka and their mothers.

Refreshments were served from attractively-decorated tables in the dining room. Place mats and name tags had been made by the girls. After the refreshments the group adjourned to the sanctuary, where Mrs. John W. Swanston, president of the Tecumseh Area Camp Fire Girls Association, introduced Mrs. Paul Hover, program chairman. She, in turn, introduced the various groups.

They explained The Blue Bird Wish, Camp Fire ranks, honor beads and the summer camps available. They used drawings, songs, demonstrations and public speaking.

The focal point of the program was the presentation of the new 50-star American flag to the girls by Mrs. Walter Mueller of the Tecumseh VFW Auxiliary. She was assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Hunter, who took pictures of the presentation.

The guard of honor receiving the flag, was made up of one girl elected from each group. Members of the honor guard were Kathy Wilt, Rose Marie Rebottaro, Jill Colson, Jayne Thomas and Kay Beal. After the salute to the flag, a demonstration of proper flag etiquette in folding the flag, was given by Mrs. James Thomas and her daughter, Judith.

The next activity of the girls will be the Annual Camp Fire Candy Sale, beginning Nov. 13 through Dec. 3.

In-Gathering

At the Nov. 11 meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan, there will be an in-gathering of refurbished and dress dolls along with miscellaneous gifts which will be sold at the Christmas Gift Shop Dec. 2.

Mrs. Ray Soreghy, executive director and staff will present a panel discussion about Goodwill and a tour of the Adrian plant will follow. President, Mrs. Harold Thielan, gives a cordial welcome for anyone to attend.

Gambles
The Friendly Store

GRAND OPENING

IN TECUMSEH

Thursday, Friday, Saturday

WELCOME

"Welcome to Gambles" may sound rather odd, but this is a new Gambles. One that is bigger, newer and more convenient for its patrons.

The new Gambles now spreads over some 18,500 square feet. The new section is 50% larger than the old — and you'll really believe it during your first visit. A convenience that many will certainly enjoy are the wider aisles; another, a departmentalizing plan which enables you to find your particular item with the greatest of ease and promptness.

Never again will you have to tromp upstairs to the furniture department. We have brought it downstairs, and we might add, expanded the lines and number of pieces for your selection. This area has been carpeted to add to its beauty.

Adjacent to the furniture department is the television, stereo and radio section and a larger department for appliances – ranges, refrigerators, washers, dryers, and sewing machines.

The housewares department also is completely carpeted — and like the other departments — it has been expanded to include practically any item a housewife might want or choose. This department, along with the automotive, paint, sporting goods and general hardware, is all in the new 11,500-square-foot addition.

Your particular comfort and pleasure also includes stereo music, air conditioning, improved lighting, extra check-out counters, and new entrances.

We've made every attempt to accommodate our customers and make their shopping here a pleasant one. We hope you like it.

All Sports Are Dropped

Boysville of Michigan, near Macon, has announced that as of June 1, 1969, it will no longer be a member of the River Raisin League. Lack of junior and senior student enrollments were given as the reason for the discontinuance of all high school athletics.

Brother Edward, principal of the school, said that he had informed the league that "projected enrollment shows we will not be able to field teams. We will not be able to participate in football, basketball, baseball or track."

Applications for enrollment at the school are primarily for the eighth and ninth grades. Brother Edward notified the league of the Boysville action Monday night.

Enrollment at the school is 165 with a capacity for 180, however, only 20 of those students will be in the junior or senior classrooms next year, and a smaller percentage of these will be candidates for the athletic teams.

Brother Edward went on to say that the action did not involve junior varsity sports. They will be continued, but not in the league. They will schedule games as independents.

The school principal indicated that he could not tell at the present if in the next few years the school would rejoin the league.

Ed Program Aid Slashed, Loan Needed

Financial troubles have hit the special education program in Lenawee County. State Aid to the program is as yet undetermined, however, estimations on the part of school administrators is that the cut in state aid will amount to 30 percent or more.

At present the state has been paying 75 percent of the cost of running special education programs throughout the state. A cut in appropriations this year by the legislature has resulted in a serious financial bind for Lenawee's project.

County taxpayers pay .5 of a mill for the program. This millage was passed in 1959.

According to county officials an undeterminate sum, between $50,000 and $80,000 will be borrowed to pay the department bills during the remainder of the year.

If no additional monies are forthcoming the 1969-70 special education program will be cut by some 60 to 70 percent.

Christmas Checks Total $137,611

Christmas Club checks, totaling $137,611, will be mailed to approximately 1,500 patrons of the United Savings Bank Thursday.

The amount saved during the past year is a 20% increase over the amount in 1968.

Randolphs Report $20 - $25 Stolen

A piggy bank, containing between $20 and $25 in change, was stolen Monday afternoon from the home of the Kenneth Randolphs, 701 Adrian St.

The theft occurred during the time that Mrs. Randolph went to the Tecumseh Products to pick up her husband and when they returned.

TIME FLIES — The Rev. Blair O. Bashore and his wife pose in front of the Baptist Church, at which he has served as pastor for the past 25 years. This Sunday he can reminisce and recall some of his wonderful experiences. Blair's record includes 203 weddings, 647 funerals, approximately 1,300 worship services and thousands of visitations to the sick. No other present Tecumseh pastor has served a congregation here so long.

Clara's Book Sales Are Nearing 300

After just two weeks taking orders for Clara Waldron's book, "100 Years — A Country Town," orders have totaled 299 or almost 150 books a week.

At this rate, orders could total between 500 and 600 by Dec. 1, when the books are due at The Herald office from the publisher. There will be limited press run of the books and only orders placed now can folks be assured of obtaining copies when the books arrive.

The Herald will inform the public when the books are ready for residents to pick them up.

A special feature for the hard-bound copies will be a dust jacket of an original oil painting of Chief Tecumseh by Russell Steinke, local artist. The artwork is in four colors.

The Herald is continuing to take orders for the books at $4.95 per copy, plus 20c tax, for total cost of $5.15. If books are to be mailed, there is an additional 30c charge.

Blair's an 'Old Timer' with 25-Year Record

By DOROTHY GRIGG

The Rev. and Mrs. Blair Bashore have served as pastor and wife of the First Baptist Church of Tecumseh for 25 years, coming here with their three children from Independence, Ia., on Nov. 20, 1943.

"Why, it doesn't seem like five," remarked the busy minister's wife Tuesday morning between appointments, when she was queried about the years of service she and her husband have given here.

"I know I haven't visited as many as I'd like, and I don't have time to do everything that I would like," continued the helpmate of the man of the cloth who has performed 208 weddings, officiated at 647 funerals and who has taken in 506 members at the church on the boulevard.

The Rev. Edward Escolme, long-time minister of the Tecumseh Friends Church, was one of the first to greet the Rev. Blair 25 years ago and who announced, "The Union Service Thanksgiving morning will be held in your church this year."

After his statement had had the proper effect, the native Englishman proved himself to be a good Friend. "I'll take charge of it since you're new," he said.

Just before Thanksgiving, 21 years ago, on Nov. 10, the Rev. Bashore began his ministry over radio station WABJ on Grange Day. He completed 1,094 broadcasts last Sunday.

"We have been interested in the civic as well as the moral aspect of the community," said the Rev. Bashore, referring to the many areas of community life in which he has taken a leading role.

He was chairman of a committee instrumental in promoting the Village of Tecumseh to a City and served on the first city council, and from there he served on the Board of Supervisors and then on the Welfare Board and back to the Supervisors. He also served as county chairman of Civil Defense.

As chairman of the Lenawee County Ministerial Association, he represented it on the United Charities, now disbanded, and promoted the Family Counseling Service for Protestant people, serving as the first president.

The Rev. Mr. Bashore helped to organize the Tecumseh Protective Service Program and still holds the presidency of the group, which is waiting to fill a need should it arise.

He is presently serving on the Red Cross Board.

Coaxed and challenged by the late Clare Camburn, Mr. Bashore helped the enthusiastic band director to found and promote the annual Lenawee County Band Festivals climaxed by the 22nd one this October.

Until 1967 he served as narrator for the bandorama, featuring high school marching bands from throughout Lenawee County.

In 1949, the native Pennsylvanian asked his congregation if it would allow him to serve as yoke pastor to the North Rome Church on a Sunday to Sunday basis until such time as it could obtain the services of a minister of their own. North Rome is still "looking" and Blair is still serving on the same basis, going early every Sunday, rain or shine, and entertaining the ladies and their

Burglars Take Four Chain Saws

A robbery, amounting to approximately $500, was reported to the Tecumseh Police Wednesday of last week when Charles Kempf, owner of Tecumseh Saw Shop, reported his store burglarized.

The theft included four chain saws, two of which were new and valued at $341. Other two saws were used.

Entry to the shop was gained through a rear window.

Faraday Adds New Clock, Program Lines

Faraday, Inc., entered into a tentative agreement with Minneapolis- Honeywell, Inc., Skokie, Ill., last Friday for the acquisition of the Honeywell clock and program product line.

Announcement of the Honeywell acquisition was made to Faraday employees here Monday by Fred J. Kluin, president.

Frank W. Flack, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, says finalization of the sale should be completed yet this month. Negotiations have been underway for the past six weeks.

Involved in the sale is equipment, inventory, drawings and patents and other related incidentals, including advisory assistance from Honeywell personnel.

Faraday hopes to be in production for the clock and program product line by the first of the year. Once equipment is set up here and organized for production, additional employment will be necessary, Mr. Flack states.

The acquisition will enable Faraday to get into the school business and supply schools with a complete package of clock and program systems, the timing and ringing of bells for changes of class hours and other school schedules.

Most of this business is currently being handled by a Faraday competitior.

Along with the sale from Honeywell, Faraday will sell back to the Illinois company the clock and program products which it used to produce.

The arrangement is similar to Faraday's supplying of Gray Manufacturing, which was here in Tecumseh until August when Mr. Flack and Mr. Kluin purchased the Faraday division of Gray.

Faraday is still producing and warehousing dictating equipment for Gray, and some Gray personnel still work at the plant on S. Maumee St.

DIRECTORS PLAN GIFT — A combined choir of 50 voices from three city churches will present a Festival of Carols at Christmas time. Rehearsals will begin Dec. 5 with Mrs. James Danforth (seated), of the United Methodist Church and Mrs. Earl Mason, (right standing), of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, sharing the directing and Nancy Poland of St. Peter's Episcopal Church presiding at the organ. The three directors have spent considerable time to insure this ecumenical project will be a musical treat for the public. No offering will be taken as the Festival is a gift to the community. It will be presented in the United Methodist Church with the three respective pastors reading from the scripture.

Strawberries in November? That's what Bill Schooley, Herald linotype operator came up with last Friday, several large berries, looking slightly the worse for wear (lack of wear, that is). The only thing is he wouldn't answer the question, what was he doing in the strawberry patch in November?

Mother Nature's a Go-Go again. Mrs. Roland Boyers, 500 Orchard Lane said that son, Richard, 15, proved his point that the forsythia bush was blooming for a second time this year by bringing her blossoms of the two or three dozen on the bush.

Poster winners in the recent contest for the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation are Douglas Jacobs, a fourth grader at Patterson School and Eddie Solarski, eighth grade. Each received $5 cash. The posters were judged by Pamela Creger and Bonnie Flanders, 1968 David Day Scholarship Scholars. Posters are on display in downtown store windows.

A report of the UNICEF collection in Tecumseh by local churches omitted the amount collected. The sum was $801, an increase from last year's $714.

Thursday, Nov. 14, is unofficially Lillian Service Day. As one of the original Camp Fire Girls in a group started here in 1913, Mrs. Service will be feted at luncheon Thursday at Don's Beef Buffet. She will be the guest of Mrs. Jerry Ford and Mrs. Alex Hanson of the Tuckabatchee Council. Mrs. Service will also be a guest on Betty Flander's Tecumseh Spotlight program at 10 a.m. that morning.

MRS. AURA M. CONDIT

Mrs. Condit Observes 90th Birthday Friday

An open house will be held Sunday, Nov. 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer House, 5701 Macon Hwy., honoring her mother, Mrs. Aura M. Condit, who will observe her 90th birthday anniversary Friday.

Mrs. Condit lives in a mobile home at the same address and has lived in this area for 66 years.

A family celebration was held Sunday at the Elmer House residence with dinner for the William Condits of Britton, the Eldon Condits and Mr. and Mrs. Orman House of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Condit was also the mother of another daughter, Eleanor, who died in 1930 at the age of 17.

Mrs. Condit is a busy woman. She made pillow cases this summer for Christmas gifts to her children and grandchildren and she makes aprons which she sells. Besides sewing a great deal, she reads, watches television and walks to the mail box twice each day.

Starvation In Biafra Stirs Effort

A "Food For Biafra" account has been set up at the United Savings Bank by the Tecumseh Area CROP Committee for the convenience of area groups and individuals who wish to contribute to this International effort to save Biafrans from extinction by starvation.

According to the latest estimate by Dr. William Clyne Shepherd, a 40-year-old Scottish Missionary Physician who is close to the situation, 25,000 will be dying every day by the month of December.

The Rev. Russell Cooper, a member of the committee, "Urges all groups at their next regular meeting to 'pass the hat' and contribute the proceeds to the 'Food For Biafra' account at the Bank."

This money will go through CROP to Church World Service which is working in Biafra with the World Council of Churches.

BLAIR'S AN "OLD TIMER"

husbands at an annual rice and curry supper each winter.

Miriam helps her husband in many of his efforts and operates a continuous telephone service at the parsonage, reminding members of the congregation of their obligations and mentioning the "little" things that keep people happy.

She may not have done all the visiting she would like, but she has baked more cookies, goodies and confections at holiday time for servicemen, shut-ins and hungry Tecumsehites, including The Tecumseh Herald staff, than most people can count.

Many a homesick youngster away at camp for the first time has received a cheery post card — or a letter — from the pastor's wife. She has taken the time to write to lonesome servicemen, just in case Mom forgot that week.

It is likely that one can count on one hand the rummage sales, dinners or other activities that the pastor's wife may have missed during the 25-year period that she and her husband have served this church and community.

Her willing hands made lighter the load for other members during the five-year period when the entire church took part in serving meals throughout the week at the Lenawee County Fair each year.

Monies from this project greatly aided toward the expense of the church's Youth House, dedicated in May of 1953.

Three years later in December dedication services for the remodeling of the sanctuary were held. The $130,000 in improvements were made over a 20-year period.

In the past five years, the former parsonage has been moved from the church grounds and sold to provide additional church parking space.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevenson on W. Pottawatamie St. was purchased and three years ago last March, the pastor and his wife moved into the new parsonage.

Six grandchildren now occasionally romp there, the offspring of the three Bashore "kids".

"She's a precious child," Gram Bashore says of little Faith, the one she sees most often and the daughter of Jim, who lives in Clinton.

Marcia, teacher at the Ypsilanti State Hospital and mother of two, lives in Saline, and Janet, a housewife and mother of three, lives in Arcadia, Calif.

Folks at the church are planning a cooperative supper to honor the Bashores on Sunday, Nov. 24, right after the worship service.

Diatribes on Modern Man

Disappointment is to the soul as a thunderstorm is to the air. This morning I woke up with something less than a grand desire to scale great heights. The people that you meet make up the sum and substance of your world, and sometimes it is a sad world.

I have lived these thirty odd years not knowing one iota about what love is. I have come to know that I will never in this world, understand it. I thought once I knew, but not anymore.

At one point in my life I thought of great designs, things didn't work out that way, so there it is.

In a way I would like to go back and live those years. But that is impossible. I'm in a play now at Siena Heights College in Adrian. I have many fond memories of the county's all girl school. I'd ought to, I fell in love for the first time there, and that's where it all started.

It is no wonder that the youth of today rebel, we adults haven't really hacked a faithful path through the wilderness for them to follow. What we have given them is the tools to destroy them; comfort, plenty and security. Out of these symptoms grow a bored and slothful cynicism, in which rebellion against the world as it is and myself as I am are submerged in listless, lifeless self-satisfaction. A dying people tolerates the present, rejects the future, lives in past greatness and half-remembered glory. When greatness recedes, so does that belief in greatness. A dying people will inevitably concede that poetry is dead and beauty withered away.

Mountains will no longer rise up as they once did against the sky, and girls are not as pretty. Ecstacy fades to toleration, agony subsides to a dull throbbing ache. Vision in onesself and what he is dims like the house lights in a theatre. Then the world is finished. As it is with an individual, so it is with a people.

We have not lost our way at all. Perhaps it is just that the roads of the past have merely come to an end and we have not yet discovered a path to the future. If so, we will find one.

I long for the day when life is valuable. Life is indeed cheap, and moreover it is becoming hateful. We act as though we truly hated one another, and silently approved the killing and removal of one of us.

The changes in the past 20 years have been enormous, but we have come finally to the entrenched core of rebellion, which must be removed before we can travel on into a livable future. No good people or society can grow if its roots are in sterile soil.

So I was young once and in love, just as countless others, no different in any way. One rainy night in New Orleans we parted with a handshake and no more.

The distribes on man and being in love have something to do with one another. Without love, filled with hate, Man is only an upright animal.

As I have said I never lived up to the great designs I set out. In short I am a failure, but like most other men, the sentence is Kafkaesque, what did I fail? I never put a price tag on a child or any other human being. And people have before, so it cannot be that.

And there was a long time ago I walked by the wrought iron fence in front of Siena with a dark haired, pug-nosed beauty and we dreamed of many things. We were in love, we were all sorts of things . . . but that was once upon a time, a long time ago. Good luck to all of you kids, I envy you your future, I envy you the world you just might build.

A GAS INCINERATOR TAKES THE FUN OUT OF LIFE!

NOTHING TO SNIFF— NOTHING TO SCATTER!

THEY SAY IT EVEN BURNS SCRAPS AND BONES!

From a pet's point-of-view a Gas Incinerator is no fun, but for people it's great! With a Gas Incinerator, you get rid of that insect-breeding garbage can that clutters up the view, get rid of smoldering rubbish that contaminates the air, cut out those daily rubbish-carrying dashes in the rain and snow. Nice thing about a Gas Incinerator—it's always at hand in your basement, garage or utility room. Burns everything burnable — no mess, no smoke, no odor . . . and costs only pennies a day to operate.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITOR:

The USS Pueblo was hijacked about 293 days ago. I read about our overseas Christmas mail to servicemen must go early, etc.

I am wondering if any group or organization has done anything in their behalf? Is there any way to locate the names of the crew with their home addresses? Would it be proper to provide the dependents of this group with some token to express the gratitude and appreciation of some Americans for their sacrifices?

If so, then can anything be done in a like manner for the 325 forgotten American soldiers whom the Korean War's "peace with honor" solution left in Chinese Communist prison camps?

As a result of the Korean Truce Agreement of July 26, 1953, the families of these men should know they, likewise, have not been forgotten, now 15 years later.

Any help on this situation would be appreciated.

Sincerely,
Lyle M. Grigg
R2, Brooklyn, Mich. 49230

TO THE EDITOR:

A state law requires that all pet owners furnish their pets with food, water and shelter.

With this in mind the Pet-watchers have asked that Raynor VanValkenburg, 7764 N. Adrian Hwy., 423-4035, sell small quantities of straw to dog owners. For 75c one can buy enough straw to keep his pet warm all winter provided the dog house is insulated and water-tight.

Straw does not retain water and is ideal for this situation.

I hope pet owners in Tecumseh will not let their dogs suffer during the cold winter months, for lack of proper housing.

Sincerely,
Ruby F. Caesar, president
Petwatchers of Tecumseh.

Navy Offers UDT Training

Chief Petty Officer Harry Cole of the Navy Recruiting Station, Adrian, revealed that the Navy has approved implementation of a "walk-in" program whereby Navy Recruiters can guarantee recruits that they will be accepted for Underwater Demolition Team training — if they can pass rigorous tests.

Formerly, volunteers for UDT training were filled from within the Navy. Now, however, qualified recruits can be told they have a chance to join what has been called the finest and toughest group of fighting men in the Navy.

Chief Cole said, "Approximately 700 new men are needed each year for UDT training. Recruits' Service Records would be "red flagged", he continued, "to indicate that these men were volunteers for UDT training and that they would, if found qualified, proceed to UDT training upon completion of recruit training or technical (Class A) schooling.

"He stressed, however, that he could guarantee only the chance to qualify, not that they would automatically become full-fledged UDT men."

Team members are known for their high morale; they experience unique assignments that do not exist elsewhere. But before they can become part of UDT, volunters must prove they can master the professional, mental and physical requirements.

The Child of Our Time

By BILL SANFORD

Stuffed animals clutter a young girl's bed; a pumpkin, left over from Halloween sets on the porch leading to the kitchen, on it are drawn faces and names and friendships. The door of another young girl has the name of a special friend spelled in white pompons.

In the room of one of the boys a crude painting of a dog hangs on one wall, a mountain scene on another. The beds are neat, the floors clean, the worn red, green and blue bedspreads pulled tightly over the mattresses on the iron beds.

These rooms could be the bedroom of any child, anywhere, but instead they are the rooms of the tenants at the Youth Center for Lenawee County. They are children who have been neglected too long, rebellious and "bad".

Paul Diller, Director of Court Services at the Youth Center, explained that while some of the children were called delinquent and some neglected, the difference was academic, a paper difference.

How does a child end up at the Youth Center for the hopes of a new beginning? Residency begins with an act against society, one outside of the childish pranks the average child employs as their statement of individuality. If they are caught they are taken to the Juvenile Division of Probate Court.

At the white house across from the court house in Adrian, they are given a hearing before a referee, usually Mrs. Vivian Brower, director of the Juvenile Division. If it is a first offense and it appears that the home life and the parents of the child can cope with problems, the youngster is released to his parents under probation.

The court maintains jurisdiction over the child until they prove that the offense was the exception and not the rule. Second offenders find their way to the Youth Center.

The center maintains two units to keep the children in while they are closely watched and worked with by the staff. In one building the children live openly. Some attend public schools, staying at the center to receive the necessary help in establishing some sort of equilibrum which they have lost or never had.

Another unit is the detention unit, with mesh screens on the windows, locks on the doors. The worst offenders, the most defiant of the youngsters are placed here for varying periods.

Mr. Diller commented at length on how impossible it was to determine an average time for children who must be detained at the center. Each has a different problem, a different frustration, a need unlike the other children around them.

In some of the children the need to be loved or wanted or cared for comes to the surface in different ways. Mr. Diller commented that the center did not like to give up on the youths, but sometimes it was necessary if he and his staff could not give the child the needed help.

The number of children at the center vary anywhere from 35 to 50 children at a time. At present the whole court system has under its protective wing 130 delinquents, 90 dependent and neglected children.

Sometimes the police will come upon children, one, two or three years of age who have been left alone on weekends by their parents. The children are taken to the center. There they are kept, fed and cared for. The children are kept only until the parents can be found or a foster home accepts them.

The Lenawee Youth Center is a strange marriage of private and governmental efforts. While the Probate Judge, Maurice Spear, is the main overseer of the center, a volunteer board of directors work as a sounding board for ideas and approaches to the problems of the youth in trouble.

Schooling is a part of the youth's life, or at least of those who are detained at the center. Mr. Diller explained the problem of being able to provide for the children their educational needs. While some are able to academically and emotionally accept public schooling, some are rebellious to the point they are kept at the center.

If the student is detained for a long period, Mr. Diller said, it is difficult to give him the courses necessary because of the teaching problem. The varying ages of the children at the center make it almost impossible to carry out a planned curriculum. In essence the teachings at the center are nearly like a tutoring service.

A complete auto shop and wood shop are available to the boys. Living rooms with record players, television sets, couches, give the boys and girls a place to meet as nearly like a normal life as possible.

In the detention building, when they are not attending classes or in the fenced exercise yards, the children watch television, set around staring at a society they don't understand, or read from the library. They set and wait for the day when they can leave, and the hopes of the staff go with them that they need not return, but some do.

It isn't the rule that the children come back again and again, but it happens. Little statistics are available as to whether or not after leaving the center the children grow to adults with a sense of responsibility or go on to bigger acts of rebellion.

The supervisors in the detention unit have been overpowered in the past by bigger, stronger youths, both boys and girls, some run away, some call and ask to be picked up and taken back. Taking a tour through the center it is realized that this isn't an easy job. The detention home is actually a jail for children, but necessarily so until more answers can be found.

The aim of the staff at the center is to give the child a sense of balance, to learn of the child and give he or she what they can receive at home. Some parents are unconcerned, some are unable to handle the children.

Referring to Mr. Diller's statement of the academic difference in neglected and delinquent children, the neglected ones who are still babies, too, soon become the delinquent child in detention. Practices of foster homes, help with the parents, counseling of the children are working to degrees.

To the child time is of the essence, but it takes time for them to regain balance. Years of neglect take their toll and it takes long months to regain their place in the world.

Perhaps they are in the youth center because they have had unequal opportunities with other children. A gap in love, compassion and human needs have forced them to equal their lives and manners through acts unacceptable to their peers, thus widening the breach. The purpose of the youth center is to bridge the needs of the child of our time through his desperate season, with understanding and compassion.

The pumpkin that set alone on the kitchen porch stood out as a vivid symbol of life at the Youth Center, one face was clown-like, tears rolling down its cheeks. In the room of one child was a sign with psychedelic overtones, on it was written, "Do Not Disturb."

Indians Topple Maples

A football victory over Adrian is pretty good assurance locally of a successful grid season. Arch rival Adrian has fallen.

Two touchdowns in the second quarter and one in the fourth gave Coach Tom Fagan's club a 19-0 win, and thereby taking some of the sting out of a pasting that the Maples rubbed in one year ago.

The loss kept Adrian's streak intact — nine consecutive defeats for a 0-9 record for '68. The victory pushed Tecumseh's mark to 6-3 for the season.

Friday night's game in Maple Stadium started out as many such games go for the Indians. Tecumseh kicked off and Adrian's Dennis Suydam rambled some 70 yards before being tripped up in a desperation dive by Dave Laidlaw.

Laidlaw may have caught Suydam in Adrian territory if an official had stayed out of the way. As it was, Suydam romped to the Tecumseh seven.

Three plays later the Maples bobbled the ball and the Indians came up with it on the three. Rest of the quarter proved dull, except the Maples fumbled again and gave evidence of why they're winless.

Early in the second period, Adrian was forced to punt from its 20. Adrian's Scott Sargent fumbled the center pass and then attempted to run it out. Tecumseh's Jack Baker slammed him down on the three.

On the second play, Craig Smith pushed over but the Indians were caught for illegal procedure and penalized to the seven. Ken Pieh picked up two to the five and Adrian was caught for an infraction, giving the Indians the ball on the three.

Smith then went over for good on the next play.

With less than a minute left in the first half, the Indians climaxed a 43-yard drive with Jim Hunt passing to end Paul Burns from the Adrian four. Hunt then turned the corner for the extra point.

The second half was all Tecumseh and a fine exhibition of ball control. Until some three minutes left in the game, the Maples had had the ball just twice and for only seven plays.

The last two quarters were not only all Tecumseh's, but also Hunt's.

The senior tailback ran like he had never run before, and was easily the offensive star for the game.

Starting from their own 25, the Indians' march for its final TD, covering the final 75 yards in 16 plays, 12 of which Hunt carried. He finally scooted in over right tackle from the four and went in standing up.

Of the Indians' 178 yards rushing, Hunt personally accounted for 124 in 30 carries.

The longest gainer, however, was turned in by Larry Cote, only to have it nullified by offsetting penalties. With the ball on Adrian's 42, Cote took the ball on a reverse and threaded his way to the Maples' 12. After the penalties on the next play, the Indians ran the same play only to the opposite side of the field. Cote picked up 13 yards to the 29. Eight plays later Hunt scored the game's final TD.

Fans from both sides could not help but feel the game was marred by frequent penalties, and usually personal fouls by the Maples, including one at the end of the game.

One Indian and two Adrian players were banished from the game as the temperature on the field was considerably hotter than in the cold stands.

Since 1957, Adrian still holds an edge over the Indians with seven victories. Tecumseh has four and one game ended in a 7-7 tie. The rivalry is one of the best — and hottest — in the area.

It should continue the same in the future. Tecumseh will have a nucleus of some fine players returning next year and could improve over the '68 season — a disappointing one for some who had figured the Indians could go all the way.

"One Nation" Observance

November is "One Nation Under God" Month in Exchange clubs throughout the nation. These words were inserted in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag by an Act of Congress in 1954.

When President Eisenhower signed the Act, he said, "In this way we reaffirm the transcendence of religious faith in America's heritage and future; in this way we constantly strengthen those spiritual weapons which forever will be our country's most powerful resource in peace and war."

Orville Bishop, program chairman for November, urges all leaders of groups including teachers to emphasize the spiritual aspect of the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag during the month of November.

The Rev. Father Robert Handley will be the speaker for a ladies night program of the Tecumseh Exchange Club on Monday, Nov. 25, at 6:30 p.m. at the Odd Fellow Hall. He will speak on the "One Nation Under God" theme of the Club.

George Choske presented a program Monday evening on the Job Corp in which he participated as a teacher during the summer of 1968. He said, "forty-five percent of these 16-22 year old school dropouts become self-supporting citizens following their experience in the Job Corp training program."

Sidney Adams, a guest from the Rotary Club, presented an invitation to the Club to attend a Safety Award Presentation Program to be held at the Tecumseh Country Club at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 26.

NEW CRUISERS — John Underwood, Clinton auto dealer, handed the keys of the city's new police cruisers to Police Chief Murell Clark the first of the month. The dark green Pontiacs have been completely readied for police work and are in use.

Action Line Responds To Request

"I had a phone call, I had a phone call," Mrs. Ric Creswell shouted excitedly into the phone Tuesday morning.

"Well,—" came the unenthusiastic reply from The Herald writer.

"But — it was from Action Line and they have 10,000 plastic measuring cups for us and they will contact some medical companies to see what else they can scare up for us to send to Russell Slick," she finally got her story out. (They could be used as drinking cups).

Depressed over the lack of response shown in the recent Jaycee Auxiliary project to help the Vietnam soldier to assist an orphanage over there, Mrs. Creswell called the Detroit Free Press some time ago and had about given up hope of hearing from them.

Another church group from Adrian has also offered their help and packing took place Tuesday evening in the Jaycee rooms.

Only obstacle now is the money for postage to send the clothing and other items. Anyone wishing to help is invited by Auxiliary members to send their check or call Mrs. Creswell, 423-3323.

More names have been added to the list of servicemen in Vietnam that the Auxiliary plan to send gifts at holiday time. They are printed here for benefit of readers who would care to remember the men, too. Mrs. Kenneth Beevers is chairman of this project.

Writer Speaks To Farm Bureau

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, minister of Marble Collegiate Church, New York City, will be the guest speaker at the Michigan Farm Bureaus 49th Annual meeting banquet November 19, at the Lansing Civic Center.

Dr. Peale has chosen the topic "Why Positive Thinkers Get Positive Results." Much of the beliefs expressed by Dr. Peale in his best selling book, "The Power of Positive Thinking' will be incorporated in his address and is expected it will apply to policies subscribed to by the Michigan Farm Bureau relating to citizenship responsibility, the idea that the individual is responsible for his own actions and the Christian's reaction to world affairs.

A radio program by Dr. Peale, "Live Confidently," is heard on a radio station throughout the country five days a week and a weekly column, "Confident Living" appears in nearly 200 newspapers.

Dr. Peale and his wife, Ruth Stoffard Peale, are co-editors of the inspirational monthly publication "Guideposts."

The public is invited to attend the banquet. Tickets may be purchased from the Information Department, Michigan Farm Bureau, 4000 N. Grand River Ave., Lansing.

"The Lark" At Siena

With a new concept of staging, the Drama Department of Siena Heights College will produce Jean Anouilh's sensitive, probing interpretation of the life of Joan of Arc. "The Lark," which in many ways parallels George Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan," is original in his approach to the martyred girl who led France against the English in the Seventeenth Century.

Joan is portrayed in the Siena Heights presentation by Michelle Bolger of Toledo, she is a sophomore at the college. Beauchamp, the Earl of Warwick, will be played by Craig Collicott of Jackson, also a student at Siena.

Other girls from the school in the production are Anne Ashby of Adrian, Maureen Cekay of Mundelein, Illinois, Donna Kelsch of Buffalo, New York, and Sylvia Swindlehurst of Detroit.

Several students from Boysville of Macon will be in the production as well as James Vanzo of Tecumseh, Joe Cherry, John Raymond and Mike Watts, all of Adrian. Collicott, Cherry, Vanzo and Raymond have all been active with the Tecumseh Players. Watts is making his local debut as an actor, forgoing one courtroom for another the weekend of Nov. 15, 16 and 18, the run of the play.

The play itself is the trial of Joan of Arc, flashbacks provide the insight into the boyish maiden who swept France into a frenzy to defend a nation's birthright.

The new technique in staging which will be used in Walsh Hall is that the scenery is projected onto the stage. Another interesting note in the play is that the college has rented from the actual Broadway production the costumes which were used by Julie Harris, Christopher Plummer, Theodore Bikel, and E. G. Marshall who performed in the Lillian Hellman adaptation of Anouilh's play during the fifties.
